THE ROGER WILLIAMS

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which insures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant it to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We call the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c., with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Queen Parlor Cook, Lady Washington, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. THOUGHTS ON CALIFORNIA.

A gentleman of Washington, who lately removed to California, addresses a letter to a friend, which is published in the Intelligencer. He says of the country:—

"Money commands three per cent. per month on the best of securities—State and City bonds and productive real estate. In the business part of the city there is very little improved property that does not pay eight per cent per month. Rents are therefore enormous, all buildings are hired by the month, in some instances with the privilege of a year. The landlords generally are amassing fortunes; a moderate sized two story brick store, 25 by 75, worth in the market $12,000 or $13,000, rents readily for $1000 per month and that, too, payable monthly in advance. Dwellings are scarce, i. e., good ones; a house such as you reside in at Washington would rent for about $600 per month. A very large amount of capital is now being invested in improvements; some builders estimate that $10,000,000 is now in use in this city for building purposes alone. Brick and lime are made in the greatest abundance, and of lumber and building materials there is no scarcity.

The State has within herself every resource, even to an extent surpassing some of the old States of the Union. Carpenters are paid $8 per day, bricklayers $8 to $10, and laborers $4 to $5. Of climate there is nearly every variety. From all that I can see and learn thus far, I cannot but conclude that if there is any one portion of our Union more blessed with the gifts of nature than another, it is the State of California. New discoveries of gold, specially in quartz, are almost daily being made, and a great amount of foreign capital is now employed and under negotiation to work them. Engines, machinery, apparatus, &c. are in course of erection and in operation throughout many of the mining districts, several of which are valued at from $250,000 to $500,000. For the ensuing year, the product of the mines, it is believed, will yield $8,000,000 per month for exportation, provided the mint for this State be not in operation within the period. A map of the mining regions is now in preparation here; when completed I will transmit you a copy.

The most wonderful subject in contemplation of California, is the absolute creation of nearly the whole of the business part of the city of San Francisco, which was snatched, as it were, from the very sea; where sixteen months ago were twenty feet of water, and ships unloading their cargoes, are now erected two and three story brick stores, with heavy stone foundations, and with walls generally twenty-two inches in thickness. The wharves, five in number, project out beyond these some 1500 feet, supported by thousands of red wood piles, costing $50 each pile, and planked with the heaviest lumber, at an average cost of $120 per thousand. I am informed by a very large landholder here, that eighty millions does not cover the outlay for lumber and materials in the creation of this portion of San Francisco. I send you a map of the city; on which you can trace the line of water-mark between Rincon and Clark's Points, and forming a semi-circular curve to the southwest.

With a small capital, say $8,000 or $10,000, a business man can do better here in San Francisco than he can possibly do elsewhere. Should he feel disposed to avoid the risks attendant upon speculation in merchandize, he could invest the money on undoubted security, and receive $3600 per annum income, simply from the interest, and paid him monthly. By building tenements, double the income might reasonably be expected for probably two years to come, when rents will fall, as the ground will be more covered. The fluctuations in prices of merchandize, provisions, &c., knows no parallel in any other place. When I arrived here, flour was held at $8, in four weeks thereafter it commanded $20, and is at this moment in demand at $26 per barrel. Turpentine was then $8 per gallon, it is now 90 cents. Pork is now selling at $43, and coal at $55. Three months ago, cargoes of coal could not be sold for over $6 per ton.

A LUCKY PRESENTIMENT.—A correspondent of the Alexandria (Va.) Gazette, speaking of his visit to England, says:—

"I had gone to Gravesend with the view of taking passage, but an accident prevented it. A white swan, worthy to perform his flight through the Milky Way, came near the vessel in which I was to sail, and her commander took his gun. The sequel we need not mention. The blood of the dead bird stained the river. We had just been fresh from reading the Ancient Mariner, in which the vessels encountered heavy calamities after the killing of an Albatross, and the circumstance determined me not to go with such a barbarian. You will smile at my superstition. You may even go through Lansanne and tell the incident, but don't forget to add that the vessel, from whose deck the bird was shot, has been missing from that time. She perished with all on board."

THE ROBBERS IN KURDISTAN.—The robbery of Dr. Bacon and Mr. Marsh, by a Kurdish chief named Malul Agha, has not been forgotten. Mr. Williams, one of our missionaries at Mosul, says in a letter dated August 30, 1852: "I have just received 4500 piasters from His Excellency Helmy Pacha, for the spoiling which the Kurds did your party a year since. Three cannon and 300 men were sent up there, and collected this money, refusing to take the articles, as the owners were in the United States, and the articles probably injured. The troops also brought back 70,000 piasters government arrearages, and secured 200,000 more, which is to come down after the rice harvest." Mr. Williams also writes that as soon as the 200,000 piasters still due to the government shall have been received at Mosul the robbers will be punished.

PORTSMOUTH:
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1852.

THE ELECTION.

General Scott is still Gen. Scott—and the Whig party is nowhere. Franklin Pierce of New Hampshire is elected President of the United States by the largest majority of electoral votes ever given in any case where there was any contest: (Washington and Monroe having unanimous votes.) The Democratic party to-day, are more completely triumphant than any party ever were since the Federal Constitution was adopted.

The successful candidate is comparatively a young man, and was to the country at large, unknown. He has however been acknowledged as a leader of the Democratic party in New Hampshire, has represented the State in Congress, and was a volunteer and General in the Mexican war. He has been a successful lawyer and ardent politician—but when first nominated in his own State for the presidency, he declined it in a good humored way, as not in accordance with his wishes or his taste—evidently viewing it as out of his reach and beyond his hopes.

Nevertheless, he was nominated—he is elected—and if he lives, he will enter the White House next March, carrying with him one of the best of women to be mistress of the national mansion, and to encounter a double share of the care and toil which usually fall to the lot of a president's wife.

He will go into the presidential chair supported by large majorities in both houses of Congress, and with the highest hopes and expectations entertained by his constituents of a prosperous administration.

It is quite possible, indeed, that these hopes and expectations may be raised so high as to be disappointed—for a president's power has its definite limits, and his ardent advocates may possibly have overrated him. Yet the circumstances under which he will enter on his high office must be considered favorable. The compromise which elected him, may be supposed to give him the good will of all the divisions of the party.

And he has now every motive which a man can have, to exhibit and maintain those moral, religious and political excellencies which have been ascribed to him during the canvass, by those who are now rejoicing in his elevation.

The new administration will have the rare good fortune to come into power without any organized opposition; for the Whig party is not only defeated, but dispersed.

Differences of opinion there are—differences in action there will be, as different measures are proposed. But the most important national questions likely now to be discussed in Congress must be settled on their merits—and not on prospects of president making.

FISHERMEN IN THE BAY.

The Gloucester Telegraph mentions numerous arrivals of fishing vessels, many of them with small fares. They all give about the same accounts of the transactions and annoyances from the British officers, and confirm the statements we have already given. The captain of the Devastation would sometimes be quite civil, while at others, and most generally, he was very cross and ungentlemanly, and appeared to be excited. One or two cases related to us will give some idea of his excitement. He boarded a vessel, demanded her papers, and notwithstanding he had been told the name of the vessel several times, and with the papers in his hand, would still keep inquiring what the name was! He boarded another vessel at Port Hood, while it was blowing a fresh breeze, and ordered the master to get under way in twenty minutes and go out. He seized an English vessel, because she had cotton duck sails, and an American bait mill on board! He boarded a small English boat which was lying at Port Hood, with sails unbent, employed in catching herring, and demanded their papers. When told that they hadn't them, he declared them to be pirates, and that he should treat them as such; and upon a little dog jumping up and barking at him, he declared he would have the dog hung the next morning! The English vessels which had been seized at Port Hood have been released, the captain of the Devastation having received a despatch from Halifax to let them go.

It further appears that our government have complained to the British government, against the conduct of the Devastation and Captain Campbell her commander, who gives such evidence of intemperance in his conduct. Campbell boarded the Mary Niles, Capt. Pool, early in the season, and Pool reported his conduct to our government. The other day he boarded her again, and told Capt. P. he had been complained of—but was remarkably civil, and guarded in all his expressions and actions. We ought to have a steamer and some cutters there in the Spring, the moment the season opens, with the best officers we have in the Navy. The fishing interest is as worthy of care as any other.

THE CATASTROPHE AT WINDSOR LOCKS. A passenger on the train which met with the accident on Saturday, at Windsor Locks, between Hartford and Springfield, described the scene to the editor of the Springfield Republican as follows:

"Immediately after the train stopped, he ran to the door, and looked for the car behind. In the brief space of half a minute, it had sunk half down, and both platforms were crowded with passengers, screaming for help, and their faces streaming with blood. Immediately, a hundred people of Windsor Locks were on the spot, and taking timber and plank from the lumber yard close by, built a bridge to the car, and proceeded to rescue those in danger. It is known twenty or thirty were saved from the car alive, but nearly all of them bruised.

Two men, returned Californians, were taken out dead. Holes were chopped through the roof of the car, and several other returned Californians and other passengers taken out alive. The whole was the work of a terribly brief space of time, for it could hardly have been two minutes before the car was sunk down to the roof. The passengers of the other cars were very efficient in rendering assistance.

The accident, it appears, was caused by a defect in the iron rail which broke, throwing the cars from the track. Windsor is about half way between Hartford and Springfield.

GREASE VS. BUTTER.—POOR SALT.—A very large share of the oleaginous product of milk when sent to market, is nothing but worthless rancid grease—it is not butter.—Why is it that two-thirds of the butter sent to New York from Ohio and other Western States, takes rank with the poorest of this article? Simply, in nine cases out of ten, because they use Kenhawa, Zanesville or Syracuse salt, which is often unfit for the purpose of making butter, and should not be used.—Plow.

All butter-makers and butter-eaters ought to know that salt which is made by fire-heat, in iron pans, will spoil butter, giving it a bitter taste, and rapidly turning it rancid. But salt which is made by the sun, in earthen or wooden pans, is free from this taste, and from its bad effect.

The sudden evaporation by fire, leaves the salt impure, and if it scorches in the least, it is bitter. Rock salt, when washed for butter, ought to be dried in the sun or wind, not on a stove.

PERU.—Extract of a letter dated Lima, Sept. 25:

"Mr. Webster's and Mr. Graham's letter of June and July, on the Lobos question, have made a deep impression here. The public feeling is wholly against the American government, and against Americans residing in this country. To such an extent has this been shown in the public papers, that Mr. Clay deemed it needful for our security here, to call on the government respecting them."

This was a badly managed piece of business, to say the least—but it cannot be helped now. It may be a warning, however, in future, to our executive officers, not to "go off at half-bent."

THREE CENT PIECES.—The Philadelphia Ledger says of the operations of the mint during the last month:—

"The Manufacture of three cent pieces has been immense—3,000,800 pieces were coined, representing in value $80,000. Last month, the coinage of this very convenient little piece was over a million and a half, and the amount then was thought to be immense. Large as this supply is it does not exceed the demand. The Treasurer has now but few on hand."

ARMY.—Galveston dates to 21st of Oct., state that Gen. Persifer Smith had left Galveston to establish his head quarters at Corpus Christi, in order to control the Indians.

NAVAL.—Capt. McIntosh has been assigned by the Secretary of the Navy to the command of Sackett's Harbor Navy Yard.

U. S. ship St. Mary was at Batavia Island on Java, on the 12th of July last, 38 days from Hong Kong.

Advices from Valparaiso to the 25th September state that an insurrection occurred at Santiago Sept. 11, and one of the barracks was taken possession of by an artillery company. The insurrection was confined to this one company and was immediately suppressed. The leader Manuel Soto, and two soldiers, Contardo and Vidal, were executed in the open yard at the barracks.

SAD ACCIDENT.—LeRoy Barney, aged 21, a respected citizen of Buffalo was killed on Monday evening at the Falls. The evening train had started for Buffalo, and he endeavored to catch it by running. He reached the front of the last car, and attempted to catch hold of the rails on each side of the steps, but caught only that nearest the carriage with his right hand, when he was swung violently round and the next second was hurled under the wheels, which passed over his head, crushing out his brains in the most frightful manner.

SINGULAR AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—On the 16th ult. Mary Jane, daughter of Emmor B. Steele, of Haverford township, Pa., stumbled and fell upon the stub of a corn stalk, which entering the side of her neck, and severing one of the main arteries, caused her death in 20 minutes.

The Brattleboro' Eagle learns that upwards of 10,000 sheep have been sold and driven from the town of Shoreham, Vt., at prices ranging from fifty cents to three dollars and a half. This unusual sale of stock is owing to the scarcity of food.

Madame Biscaccianti left San Francisco on the 20th September, on a tour in the San Joaquin mining districts. On her return she would proceed to South America.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

GAS MAKING.

The gas works of this city have now been in operation for more than a year, and the gas is used to an extent far greater than was generally expected. One day last week we visited the works, the operation of which was explained to us by the agent, Mr. Trundy: and we will attempt to do the same thing for our readers, on the supposition that some of them at least are unacquainted with the method.

The coal used in the manufacture of gas is the Bituminous, which is put into cast iron retorts, six of which are now used, where it is subjected to a powerful heat for four hours.—The gas which is evaporated is very impure at this point—containing large quantites of tar, sulphur and ammonia, which it is necessary to extract before burning. To do this it first passes up a perpendicular pipe into a horizontal passage, where a large portion of the tar is left by its own gravity. From thence the gas goes into a reservoir through which innumerable small streams of water are forced. Here another portion of the impurity is extracted. After leaving this reservoir it goes up and down through a series of fourteen pipes, at the bottom of each pair going through water. Here it also leaves more of its foreign matter, and is now fit for use, though very unpleasant to the sense of smell.

It now goes into the grand purifiers, which are three large iron vessels, divided into chambers by a number of sieves, which are covered with a thick coat of lime. In going from one of these iron vessels to another it is forced through a small gasometer, filled with water, the internal arrangement of which it is impossible to describe on paper, but yet is very simple when understood. The effect of the lime on the gas as a purifier, may be seen in its effect on a piece of white paper moistened with water. The gas from the first purifier will change the paper to a beautiful silver bronze; that from the last will not discolor it at all.

After leaving the last purifier it is conducted to the large meter, which marks the number of feet made, after which it passes into the gasometer which is connected with the service pipes, for its distribution to streets and houses for the purpose of illumination.

When the gas is all extracted from the coal, proper precaution being used against accident, the lids of the retorts are removed, and, after burning the gas at the mouth, the coke is then raked out, and in turn is used for the purposes of fuel. Forty per cent. of the yield is all that is required for coal distillation, leaving sixty per cent. to be sold for domestic uses.

Several of our economists, who have used this light and compared its cost with other means of light, have stated that the gas bills for lighting their stores and shops are no heavier than the expense used to be for oil at seventy cents per gallon—though they have three or four times as much light.

FREE EVENING SCHOOL.—This useful and benevolent institution opens its doors this evening, in the basement of the Universalist Church.

MASONIC.—The Centennial Celebration of George Washington's Initiation into the Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons, will take place this evening. Both the Lodges in this city engage in the celebration.

ANOTHER BOOK THEFT.—A thief entered the house of Wingate N. Ilsley agout 12 o'clock on Thursday last, and found his way into the parlor in the second story. No one was in the room at the time, and the thief probably hearing Mrs. Ilsley in the room adjoining, being afraid probably to explore farther, snatched four valuable books from the centre table, and fled.—Messenger.

NARROW ESCAPE.—On Friday last, in consequence of the great rush of passengers at the Old Colony Railroad from Marshfield, open cars had to be used, fitted up with rough seats and temporary railings. Messrs. W. D. Ticknor, bookseller, W. P. Fetridge, bookseller, and Mr. ——— Moore, among numerous others, got on board of one of them, occupying one of the back seats, and leaning against the railing, the latter suddenly gave way, letting all three down between the cars. Nothing saved them from instant death but the presence of mind of some of their fellow-passengers, who quickly grasped them by the legs and pulled them on board the platform of the cars.—Boston Chronicle.

Two men named Henry Hogan and George Davis, were arrested in New York on Monday, having in their possession two trunks filled with elegant wearing apparel, supposed to have been stolen property brought to that city from other places. In the trunks were also found a large bunch of skeleton keys, a package of counterfeit bank notes, a purse containing counterfeit sovereigns, a pair of false whiskers and other small articles.

Post Master General Hubbard has made a contract for the supply of stamped envelopes under the new law, at rates one third less than those previously paid for plain envelopes.—So says the correspondent of the Tribune.

There were fifty-one yellow fever and eleven cholera deaths in New Orleans the past week.

LATEST NEWS!

THE ELECTION.

The following table presents the estimated or ascertained pluralities in the several States. There is very little doubt that Pierce and King will receive 228 electoral votes, with a fair chance for 250.

	Pierce's Column.	Scott's Column.
Maine	12,000
New Hampshire	13,000
Vermont		10,000
Massachusetts		7,238
Rhode Island	1,071
Connecticut	3,000
New York	20,000
New Jersey	1,000
Pennsylvania	20,000
Maryland	6,000
Virginia	unknown.
North Carolina	do.
South Carolina	Legislature.
Georgia	no returns.
Kentucky		unknown.
Tennessee		do.
Ohio	12,000
Louisiana		small.
Mississippi	unknown.
Alabama	do.
Wisconsin	do.
Indiana	do.
Illinois	do.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.—We have returns from about 70 towns in this State, giving a net democratic gain of 3300 on the vote of last March. The Daily Patriot infers from this, that Pierce's plurality will be from 13,000 to 15,000.

We shall probably have returns from most of the State, in a tabular form, for to-morrow.

THE TREASURY AND THE SUB TREASURY.—From Washington we learn that, by the last weekly statement of balances in the treasury, not yet published, and which is brought up to the 18th inst., the deposit in coin and bullion amounted to $19,764,000. The week before they were $20,124,000. Gradually, the disbursing officers of the government are dispensing with the strict observance of the specie clause of the sub treasury act.

The Clerk of the House and Secretary of the Senate whose joint disbursements, from what is called the contingent fund, do not fall short of half a million of dollars a year, set the example of drawing the full amount of the appropriations from the treasury, at the earliest moment allowed by law, and depositing them in private and incorporated banks of their own selection.

THE GREAT BEAR CAUGHT AT LAST.—On the 10th of October, the inhabitants of Canaan were aroused by a neighbor discovering the track of the "Great Bear," to which they immediately gave chase with their dogs, guns, &c. Several shots were fired upon him without effect, dogs were handled by him without mercy, until finally the unerring rifle brought him down. He was borne to the village in triumph, amid the cheers and huzzas of the people, and to the gratification of the wool growers. The weight of "Old Bruin" was 440 ponds.—Montpelier, Vt., Watchman.

A POPULAR AUTHOR.—Mr. Hale's "To-Day" of last week opens its guns upon the Rev. Mr. Headley, whose writings have gained quite a currency among the admirers of the "intense" school. An amusing instance of the Rev. gentleman's legal knowledge is pointed out, where, in his recent biography of Andrew Jackson, he alludes to him as having "applied for a writ of habeas corpus, and, by means of it, to have thrown a recreant statesman into prison." The criticisms of "To-Day" are very able and independent.—Transcript.

SINGULAR FREAK.—At Northampton, Mass., a few days since, a hen took possession of a cat's domicil and commenced brooding and clucking over a fine litter of kittens. When grimalkin returned, she commenced a furious attack upon her unnatural enemy, but was fairly beaten off, and but for human interference the hen would have retained possession of her feline brood.

SINGULAR PREDICTION.—The Natchez Free Trader predicts that by the first of January, 1853, a revolution will be in successful progress in the states of Zacatecas, Tamaulipas, Chihuahua, and all the northern states of Mexico. The object will be to establish an independent confederated republic, similar to the United States. It will be under the lead of Americans, though nominally under that of Mexicans. It will be successful, and will have a material bearing on the destiny of the south, of the United States, and of this continent.

As a steamer from New Orleans for St. Louis was lately acending the Mississippi, having a large party of German emigrants on board, their attention was attracted to a quantity of castor oil beans which were on deck. Some of the party abstracted a handful of the beans, with which they made a "hasty plate of soup." The consequences were not serious.—Boston Post.

A BREAKFAST IN LONDON, DINNER IN FRANCE, AND SUPPER IN LONDON.—It is now perfectly easy to breakfast at a seasonable hour in London to judge of the skill of a French chef de cuisine at an early dinner in la Belle France and to be again in London in time for an evening party, all on one and the same day and with a little more fatigue than would be exqerienced after the ordinary twelve hours' avocations.

NOVEL FEAT WITH A GUN.—We see it stated in an English paper that a man in the vicinity of London undertook lately, for a bet of twenty five dollars, to lay a gun upon the ground, throw a potato up, turn heels over head, pick up the gun and hit the potato once out of five shots before it fell to the ground.—He afterwards actually performed this feat, winning his bet the first shot.

GREAT CROP OF WHEAT.—A farmer of the town of Riga, N. Y., harvested last summer a field of wheat containing twelve acres, yielding over six hundred bushels, or fifty bushels to an acre. Two acres and a half—part of this field—produced at the rate of fifty-three bushels and some pounds per acre.—He has cultivated the field in question for the last twenty-eight years, raising thereon a crop of wheat each alternate year. For the last four years the land had not been manured.—His mode of culture is to turn under a crop of clover, ploughing ten inches deep, and then keep the surface mellow and clear of weeds by the use of the cultivator. He ploughs but once for a crop. This soil is a gravelly loam, with a slight admixture of clay.—Rochester Advertiser.

HANDSOME PRESENT.—The Lowell News says that on Saturday evening about thirty of the hands of the Hamilton repair shop and others employed in those mills, sat down to an oyster supper given on the occasion of the retirement of Mr. Luke Whitney, as overseer of the shop. Mr. Whitney has been overseer of the Hamilton shop for the past eleven years, and is about removing to take charge of a shop in Ashland. His men and those of the mills who had been brought into contact with him, thinking some testimonial due him for his uniform courtesy and faithfulness during this long period, contributed to the purchase of a beautiful gold chronometer watch valued at about $95, and this occasion was taken for the presentation.

Garrit Smith, at the time of his father's death, came into possession of near a million acres of land. He has got rid of so much of it now, principally by giving it to the poor, that in a letter to a Mr. Hines, he says he would give all that remains for three good farms; and the homes ead he now occupies himself would not rent for seventy dollars a year!

THE ROGER WILLIAMS

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES. As there can be but one first kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements so far as all can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. It is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and by means of them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus: and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE now in market complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shades, Table Oil-cloths, &c., &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

Corner of State and Water streets,

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—copper boiler, &c., and warrant them 5 years; and any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation for the last year, four seasons, and have given perfect satisfaction. GOLDEN DREAMS.

Talk of golden dreams no longer. They were never so strange in the days of their greatest wildness, as are now the statements of actual wealth in California and Australia, especially in the latter. No lamp of Aladdin ever disclosed such wealth—no fabled cave of the forty thieves ever concealed a tithe of the treasure that is lying scattered broadcast over the surface of Britain's penal colony. It has been thought and sometimes said, that the accounts of these famous gold deposits are exaggerated. No doubt this has sometimes been the case—and many persons have gone to seek gold there, who might better have remained elsewhere. But the best possible evidence that can be given of the general correctness of the statements, is the high price of labor, &c.,—and this is furnished in abundance by the latest advices from Australia, being from Port Philip to July 17, and Sydney to July 20.

In each case they fully confirm the recent statements regarding the yield of gold in New South Wales and Victoria. As regards the Mount Alexander Mines, in the latter colony, it appears that the escort for the week ending the 3d July was expected to bring 100,000 ounces, leaving 40,000 ounces in the Commissioner's tent to be brought on the next occasion."

From the influence of these supplies the price had fallen to 60s. or 62s. per ounce, although the miners, being now rich, were generally indisposed to press sales. It was estimated that there was at least £1,000,000 of unemployed money in the hands of laborers. At the various mining localities of New South Wales the result continued to be increasingly satisfactory, although the reports from the sister colony caused everything like ordinary success to be treated with indifference. Several parties connected with the companies formed in London, had arrived at Sydney, and had proceeded to the Bathurst district.

The markets were cleared of most kinds of provisions as arrivals took place. Wheat was 8s 6d per bush., flour £23 per ton, and hay £6 per ton. Gold at Sydney was higher than at Port Philip, the quotation being 64s for the Turon gold, and 65s for that of Mount Alexander. The Port Philip accounts of the prospects of the wool crop are very unfavorable, and corroborate the remarks in a letter quoted a few days back. "Whole flocks," it is said, "will be driven to the diggings for slaughter, and the fleece and the fat will be burnt."

"On many stations next season no attempt to shear sheep will be made." In fact it seems that labor of any kind was almost wholly unprocurable. Among other curious circumstances connected with the state of the markets, it is mentioned that the price of bricks at Melbourne was £10 a thousand, and it was believed that both bricks and coals would be probably imported from England.

The editor of one of the local papers states that it only requires proper machinery to work the quartz, in order to develope the surpassing richness of this portion of the Australian gold fields. The total shipments of gold to the 26th July had been £1,759,745, reckoned at the price of 65s per oz. Gold was selling at 63s 6d to 65s, and the exchange against gold was 12 per cent discount. The Legislative Council was occupied with the New Duties Bill.

The letters from Adelaide, South Australia, are to the 26th of June, but they furnish little news of importance. The Adelaide, market was entirely drained of goods, and many articles fetched higher nominal prices than at Port Philip, owing to the forced circulation of the gold assayed in the colony.

FRENCH AND ENGLISH MARRIAGES.—In France marriages are conducted on a very different plan to those in England. On this side of the channel young ladies never choose for themselves, or if they do, their choice must be approved of by their parents or guardians, as the law absolutely prevents the possibility of any marriage without the written sanction of paternal authority. To marry without this, which cannot be done under the age of 25 years, requires legal proceedings and formalites, which are generally repugnant to a modest lady; few are to be found who sue their own father, and expose themselves to three months public notice, calling thus everybody to witness their impatience. I might here remark that elopements, or, as they might be termed in English, "trips to Gretna Green," are out of the question in France, because the young lady, in consequence of the above mentioned provision of the law, would perpetually remain under the imputation of having offended public decency. It must therefore be well understood, that no marriage can take place without the express consent of the parents. It may happen, and probably sometimes does, that parents abuse the power which the law has placed in their hands.—French paper.

"BRING IN THE APPLES."—The apple may be called the "staple fruit" of New England. It ranks among fruits as the potato among vegetables. A writer in the last number of the Knickerbocker says: "The apple is the companion of the winter evenings, associated with a cheerful room, a bright fire, a pleasing tale, Scott's novels or the Arabian Nights. Perhaps it is nearly bedtime. Your eyes grow dim. You are fatigued with study, with chess, with checkers, with books; you sigh, you yawn, you stretch your arms above your head. All of a sudden a thought strikes you. Bring in the apples! It is like magic. The foot lights go up and the scene brightens."

DAILY
Morning Chronicle.
PORTSMOUTH:
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1852.

POLITICAL HISTORY.

In yesterday morning's Chronicle we stated that the whig party was dispersed as well as defeated. We had not seen or heard the idea expressed elsewhere before writing it ourselves, and did not expect to see it brought out elsewhere, except it might be by some democratic papers. But we see it much more fully expressed elsewhere.

The Newburyport Herald of yesterday morning says:

"The whig party is in all probability disbanded in the nation, and it is doubtful if any attempt will be made for a new organization, as it has no leaders who are in a position to rally it. Some will join the free soilers, and some the democratic party, and many will withdraw from the political arena until new issues arise, requiring them to come forth."

After some words of exhortation to Massachusetts whigs to elect their candidates next Monday, if possible, the Herald adds:

"After that, if it is thought advisable, let every man who has stood by the party to the last, receive an honorable discharge from the war, and be left to enlist where he chooses, or stay at home if he so elects, until there is reason to believe that his country again calls for his services in some other field."

We have no hesitation in saying they will take their discharge without asking for any body's leave.

But we have higher authority still, if the following letter may be relied upon as truth. It was first published in the Philadelphia papers of Tuesday.

Messrs. Editors: Gentlemen—The Bulletin of this afternoon contains a card headed "Daniel Webster Libelled," in which a paragraph from this morning's Pennsylvanian, purporting to be the dying message from Daniel Webster to Rufus Choate, is denounced as an infamous slander, and my name is given as the author of the libel. My connection with the matter is easily stated. On my return from a visit to General Pierce, on Thursday last, I stopped for a day in the city of Boston, where I had the honor of an introduction to Peter Harvey, Esq., of that city, the intimate personal and political friend of the lamented Webster.

In the course of a conversation with a mutual friend and myself, Mr. Harvey said, in substance, the following: "Mr. Webster asked me, a short time before his death, whether Rufus Choate intended going for Scott. I answered, I did not know, but thought not.—"Well," said Mr. Webster, "tell him he has youth, talents and a bright future before him, and I hope he won't mar all by supporting Scott. And tell him, as my dying message to him, that after the 2d day of November next, the whig party, as a national party, will exist only in history."

The above is the substance of Mr. Harvey's statement—the words in italics being his exact words.

Mr. Harvey further stated that Gen. Pierce had behaved well towards Mr. Webster and was a noble fellow, and one for whom Mr. Webster had great affection.

I had no agency in the publication of any portion of this conversation in the Pennsylvanian or any other paper, but merely repeated it to some friends, Mr. Cummings of the Bulletin among others.

For the truth of the above, I would refer you and the public to Peter Harvey, Esq., and Daniel D. Brodhead, formerly Navy Agent of Boston.

Very respectfully, yours,
JOHN BRODHEAD,
155 Walnut street.
Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1852.

CHURCH AGITATION.

In the United States, this phrase means little more than the jostling of one sect against another, or some splitting of one sect into two, as in the case of the old and the New Schools of the Presbyterian, or the North and South of the Methodist. But in England it means much more, viz., endangering the foundations on which the whole fabric of civil and religious order rests.

The London Times says it is reported that the Ministry have resolved to advise the Queen to permit the Houses of Convocation of the Church, to sit for the despatch of business and the discussion of such matters as may come before them—a permission which has not been hitherto granted for a period of a hundred and forty-five years. The Times considers it a very dangerous measure, it being a concession to the wishes and efforts of the high church party, to which the great mass of the protestant feelings and principles of the nation are opposed. It considers it a measure fraught with danger to the institutions of the country, threatening to raise a storm which the ministry cannot allay, and it remarks that "the rashest schemes of radical innovation are not more crude and ill-timed than such false conservatism as this would prove." It deprecates the measure as mischievous to the church itself, and adds, "we deprecate it no less for the sake of the country at large, from the conviction that these discussions cannot be revived, without severing what we wish to unite, and weakening what we wish to consolidate."

BETTING ON ELECTIONS.—The Boston Post says, "We don't care how often it rains now—new hats enough on the election to last through ever so many showers."

George Copway the Indian, is attached to Perham's Seven Mile Mirror, in Philadelphia, and does up the explanation.

HORACE MANN ON THE HOURS OF LABOR.

The other day we criticised Mr. Mann, and set him down as not a wit. Nevertheless he is a man of good sense, which he has exhibited in a letter, written in reply to inquiries addressed to him by the committee of a ten hour convention. In this letter he says:

"That the future of the laboring classes is to be like their past, I can never believe without becoming an atheist. No Christian man, it seems to me, can come to such a conclusion, and remain a Christian. If such a question were now propounded to our capitalists and proprietors, I cannot believe that one in a hundred of them would answer it in the affirmative. The only remaining point, then, is, at what time the change shall be effected. In saying this, I fully recognize the necessity of labor. The civilization and christianization of the world cannot go on without it. To labor is one of the necessities of our existence. True, to make cloth is not "the chief end of man;" though cloth must be made, or we should be in a sad condition. The problem to be solved is, how to have all the necessary labor performed, not only without injury, but even with benefit to the moral and intellectual nature.

Of the three great departments of man—the moral, intellectual and physical—the soul, the intellect and the body—our Massachusetts laws and institutions have made ampler provision for the first two, than the laws and institutions of any other people that ever existed. Our means of religious instruction and of intellectual culture are more perfect and are worked with more vigor than anywhere else on the surface of the globe.

But in regard to Physical Education and an observance of the Laws of Health and Life we are yet most lamentably deficient. In this respect we are behind many communities where the claims of the intellectual and moral nature are scarcely recognized. Here is our great deficiency, which must be supplied if we are ever to produce a strong race of men and women. Our occupations have aggravated our difficulty. Such a great proportion of our population is engaged in indoor and sedentary employments, or those manufacturing occupations which exclude and debar from physical, exercise that we are in danger of consuming the vital forces of our men and women, of lessening their constitutional stamina, and of wearing out the vigor of the race, so that in the second or third generation, our laboring people will sink down into both mental and bodily dwarfishness and imbecility. The present generation is responsible for saving the coming ones from so appalling a fate.

But I need not enlarge. The above must suffice as a general presentation of my views. You will see that I do not treat the question as a party matter, for it is too momentous and solemn a theme to be adopted or opposed on party grounds."

VESSELS WANTED.—We are glad to see, as we do by the following extract, that vessels are in demand and freights good at one point, and they must be so at others. The Savannah Republican of the 29th says:

We desire to call the attention of Northern ship-owners, to the fact that there is at present an almost unexampled want of vessels in this port for freighting cotton, both foreign and coastwise. There are now 10,000 bales more of cotton here than at the same time last year. With 2000 tons more of shipping now in port than at the same time last year, freights to New York are 37-12 cents per 100 lbs, against 15 cents last year; to Liverpool, 7-16 to 1-2d this year, against 3-8d last year.

INITIALS AND HIEROGLYPHICS.— Some time ago the papers contained a little scrap about one Joseph Hole, who was a lazy fellow and a wag withal, who used to sign his name with a capital J., and then punch a hole through the paper.

Now we have something to match it, in a Queer Fish of a man at South Boston, a glass cutter by trade, named Z. Fish, who has on the front door of his residence at South Boston, an elaborately finished glass door-plate, bearing the letter Z. and the figure of a fish, instead of the word Fish, which attracts much attention.

"FIGURES WONT LIE."—This is an old quotation—but if not, they are often made to tell strange stories. Here is one instance of it, in a percgraph which is now going the rounds.

"The aggregate wealth of the United States amounts to $12,000,000,000, and the population is 24,000,000 of souls. The wealth divided by the population gives $400 to each person young and old, and counting five persons to each family, it would give the handsome little fortune of $2500 to every family of the republic, not excluding the slaves."

Quere, whether 4 times 24 make 120? also, whether 5 times 4 make 25? And one more question, who made the paragraph, or who knows any thing about it?

☞ Hon. Rufus Choate has been invited to deliver a eulogy on the death of Mr. Webster, before the faculty and students of Dartmouth College.

SIR JOHN FRANKLIN.—The recent news of "open water in Wellington Channel," just brought to England by the Prince Albert, seems to have animated every bosom with renewed hopes that the mystery which hangs over the fate of the missing navigators is at length likely to be removed. All eyes are now fixed upon Sir Edward Belcher, who, at last dates, was pushing up the channel, with every expectation of proceeding without interruption, when the Prince Albert left.

THE WAR COMMENCED!—We have already heard of three prominent candidates for the Custom House, and three for the Post Office, in this city, under Pierce's administration. But F. O. J. Smith says that not one of them can quite "come it!"—Portland Advertiser.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ We learn, on what we deem the best authority, that Gen. Pierce will take up his residence in this city. The reason for this step is understood to be, that the health of his wife is benefitted by the sea air.

CITY COUNCIL.—No business was done in either board last evening. It is reported that the Chairman of the Common Council recommended to his Honor the Mayor to send the City Marshal up Salt River after members enough to form a quorum.

☞ We understand a man named Benj. Watson, and a boy named Charles L. Cater, both belonging in this city, have been apprehended in Boston, attempting to sell broken silver ware which was stolen from the house of Miss Lord in this city.

DEATHS IN PORTSMOUTH. — There were but five deaths in this city during the month of September, all of whom were males—aged severally, 13, 35, 36, 46, 65.

TRUANT AND VAGRANT CHILDREN.—Many citizens of Portsmouth within a few days have signed a petition to our Legislature for the passage of a law restraining and trying to reform truant and vagrant children. Such persons as have not seen the petition may see it, and sign it if they please, at the Bookstore of Mr. J. H. Foster.

ALWAYS READY.

That is the posture in which Firemen and Fire-engines ought to be found when called for—but unfortunately in the case described in the following paragraph from the Hallowell Gazette, though the firemen were all right, the engines were not:

On Thursday night, at about half-past 11, fire was discovered issuing from the L of the house on Lincoln street, owned by widow Benjamin Dutton, and occupied by a Mr. Chas. Daily. On the arrival of the engines, which were promptly on hand, the fire had made good progress, and the prospect was good for saving the main house. The engines were placed, the hose unrolled, and the men at the brakes commenced with 'up and down,' when lo! it was discovered that both engines were unfit for use, and after repeated attempts to "make them go" without success, they were abandoned, and the vast crowd could do nothing but clear the house of furniture, and then stand idly and witness the progress of the devouring element. There was scarcely a breath of air stirring, and as the house was situated at some distance from any other building, there was no danger of the fire extending;—but had there been a high westerly wind, there would undoubtedly have been an extensive conflagration.

THE GUANO QUESTION.—It will be remembered that the ship Manlius, belonging to Messrs. Magoun & Son of Boston, having arrived off the Lobos for the purpose of loading with guano, was ordered off and left for Callao. A letter from Lima states that the government of Peru, on being made aware of this; sent orders to Callao to offer a charter party to her on her arrival, which has been done and accepted, to load at Chincha. It is also stated that the same course will be pursued with all the other Lobos vessels. This action of the Peruvian government shows a liberality and kindness that should not be forgotten in a final settlement of this unfortunate business.

SENTENCE COMMUTED.—The Governor General of Canada has commuted, to imprisonment for life, sentence of death recorded against Robinson and his wife, colored, for the murder of an Indian named Cornstalk.—The principal witness against them was their own son, who, the Toronto Colonist says, after sentence was passed, made an offer to the sheriff to carry it into execution with his own hands, for a new suit of clothes. The Governor General might well doubt the testimony of such a monster.

GOLD IN PERU.—Great excitement has been produced throughout Peru, owing to the discovery of gold in the mines of Huacho, some twenty miles north of Lima, on the seacoast. Large numbers of gold seekers have already gone to the diggings. A private letter speaks of the yield of metal as greatly exceeding that of California.

QUICK.—Mr. Webster died on Sunday morning, and the news of his death reached Boston at half-past six o'clock. Before noon of the same day, the New Orleans Picayune issued an extra containing over a thousand words, by telegraph, announcing the sad intelligence.

The identical pulpit in which George Whitfield delivered his powerful sermons in England, was brought over to this country a few days ago, and is now deposited at the Tract House, in the rooms of the City Tract Society, New York.

LARGE ROBBERY.—An extensive robbery occured on board the Forest City, at the mouth of the Wabash, on the night of the 17th inst. Mr. Fisk of New Orleans was robbed of his trunk and jewelry and money to the amount of $20, 000. His trunk was sitting in the ladies cabin, and the day previous to the disappearance of the trunk, Mr. Fisk was overhauling every thing in it so that any one could see his money, diamonds and jewelry. Some say the trunk was thrown into the river with a buoy attached. A general search was concluded, with no little disturbance. Pistols were drawn, and at one time a general fight seemed inevitable. Mr. Fisk despatched an agent to the place where the boat laid by the night of the robbery, and he proceeds to St. Louis to sue the boat for the loss. Mr. Fisk is reputed very wealthy.—Louisville Courier.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

New York, Nov. 4.—The steamer Africa, with four days later news from Europe, arrived about 9 o'clock this morning.

The Cotton market was firm at unchanged prices. The flour market was firm, with fair demand. Wheat in request, at full prices. Indian corn had again advanced, with a good business. Money more active, and rates firm. Freights advanced, owing to scarcity of vessels. American Stocks in good demand, with an upward tendency. The Coffee markets on the continent were generally firm. Pork quiet. Beef full and declining. Rice advanced 3d. Sugar 6d a 9d. Tea active at full prices. Tobacco brisk and firm. Wool do. The public sales of wool in London are going off with unabated spirit.

ENGLAND.—Preparations still continue on the most extensive scale for the funeral ceremonies of the Duke of Wellington. Lord Derby has been installed as Chancellor of the Oxford University.

The morning herald announces that the government has no intention of renewing the church controversy.

A letter has been received at the Admiralty from Inglefirn, commanding Lady Franklin's steamer Isabel, in which he states that no ships having been seen returning southward from Melville Bay, it is presumed that they have been successful in making an early northern passage.

Charles G. Wilcox, a clerk in the bureau of subsistance at Washington, was killed instantly on Friday last by the accidental discharge of a gun in his own hands.

BUILD NOT ON SAND.

BY ELIZA COOK.

'Tis well to woo, 'tis good to wed,
For so the world has done
Since myrtles grew and roses blew,
And morning brought the sun.

But have a care, ye young and fair,—
Be sure ye pledge with truth;
Be certain that your love will wear
Beyond the days of youth:

For if ye give not heart for heart,
As well as hand for hand,
You'll find you've played the "unwise part,"
And built upon the sand.

'Tis well to save, 'tis well to have
A goodly store of gold,
And hold enough of shining stuff—
For charity is cold:

But place not all your hopes and trust
In what the deep mine brings;
We cannot live on yellow dust,
Unmixed with purer things;

And he who piles up wealth alone,
Will often have to stand
Beside his coffer chest, and own
'Tis "built upon the sand."

'Tis good to speak in kindly guise,
And sooth where'er we can;
Fair speech should bind the human mind,
And love link love to man:

But stay not at the gentle words,
Let deeds with language dwell;
The who pities starving birds,
Can scatter crumbs as well.

The mercy that is warm and true
Must lend a helping hand,
For those who talk, yet fail to do,
But "build upon the sand."

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered on this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low

Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,
Corner of State and Water streets,
s27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscribers offer to the public their favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

DEATH, BURIAL AND GAMBLING.

A graphic writer in the Boston Post, sketches a scene on the Isthmus, in the following colors.

"One of the company, a man named Sylvanus Pearson, aged 42, died of inflammation of the stomach. He was sick just two days and a half, apparently, though the disease must have commenced before leaving Panama. He walked the whole of the difficult mule ride to Panama. Arriving there, he indulged too freely in fruits and liquors, exposing himself to the night air, &c., and was attacked by a violent diarrhœa. It seemed to be checked by some powerful remedies which he at once applied, and he went on board, to all appearance a well man. A sudden fainting fit seized him one morning, and he fell prostrate on the deck; that place he did not leave until taken to his grave. Towards night the usual signs of inflammation and cholera shew themselves, and the next day one-half of his body was literally dead. He lingered with difficulty a short time longer, and then life was entirely extinct.

At seven o'clock all hands were mustered by the solemn tolling of the ship's bell, and preparations were made for his consignment to the deep. It was a solemn and melancholy scene—there on the broad ocean, the sky clear and serene, and the water heaving listlessly and idly, to witness this sudden and terrible extermination of a man who at starting enjoyed the promise of a life as long and vigorous as any one of us. And as he lay covered with the American flag, the large group standing silently around him, all seemed bowed by the terrible reality of death and the frailty of the link that separates it from life. The Episcopal burial service was read over him by a companion and friend, and the body placed on a long, smooth plank, and was slid into the water so noiselessly and quick as hardly to create a wreath of foam over the spot.—The steamer held on its way and we left him far behind where he will never be disturbed or awakened until the final day which will unite mankind in one terrific tribunal. The circumstance, however, on board the boat, was quickly forgotten.

On the spot where he had suffered, now, an hour after his burial, a party of Jews were playing cards as reckless and forgetful of the entire incident as though it were a matter of course during a sea voyage. So goes the world—men die and are forgotten by their fellow-men as soon as the breath leaves them and they can be of no further interest or importance. Jews will play cards and make money, what else quien sabe?

FARMING IN OREGON.—A correspondent of the Ohio Statesman, writes from Astoria, August 16th.

The crops look well, but are limited. I doubt if we have enough either of grain or stock, to more than half supply the demand. The stock was nearly all driven to California last fall and winter, and the farmers put in but small crops of grain and vegetables—hence the scarcity. I send you a head of wheat, and if you can beat it in Ohio, I'd like to see what you have to do it with. It grew on a low stalk—only seven feet high, and about the size of a broomhandle. I have seen oats here this year, nine feet high, and they came without sowing. This is a fact.

AN AFFECTIONATE SPIRIT.—We sometimes meet with men who seem to think any indulgence in an affectionate feeling is weakness. They will return from a journey and greet their families with a distant dignity, and move among their children with the cold and lofty splendor of an iceberg, surrounded by its broken fragments. There is hardly a more unnatural sight on earth, than any one of these families without a hear.. A father had better extinguish his boy's eyes than to take away his heart. Who that has experienced the joys of friendship, and knows the worth of sympathy and affection, would not rather lose all that is beautiful in nature's scenery than to be robbed of the hidden treasures of his heart? Who would not rather bury his wife than bury his love for her? Who would not rather follow his wife to the grave than to entomb his parental affections?

Cherish then your heart's best affections.—Indulge in the warm and gushing emotions of filial, parental and fraternal love. Think it not a weakness. God is love: love everybody and everything that is lovely. Teach your children to love; to love the rose the robin; to love their parents; to love their God.—Let it be the studied object of their domestic culture to give them warm hearts, ardent affections. Bind your whole family together by these strong cords. You cannot make them too numerous. You cannot make them too strong. Religion is love—love to God—love to all men.

HOW CANADA OBTAINED ITS NAME.—The origin of the word Canada is curious enough. The Spaniards visited that country previous to the French, and made particular searches for gold and silver, and finding none, they often said among themselves 'Aca nada,' (there is nothing here). The Indians, who watched closely, learned this sentence and its meaning. After the departure of the Spaniards, the French arrived, and the Indians, who wanted none of their company, and supposed they also were Spaniards come on the same errand, were anxious to inform them that their labor was lost by tarrying in that country, and incessantly repeated to them the Spanish sentence, 'Aca nada.' The French, who knew as little of Spanish as the Indians, supposed this incessantly recurring sound was the name of the country, and gave it the name of Canada, which it has borne ever since.

DAILY Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1852.

CUBA AND THE UNITED STATES.

The latest advices from Havana say:

"The intelligence of the death of Mr. Webster has caused a deep sensation of grief here, with the strangers, as well as among his countrymen who are resident in Havana; and, politically speaking, the Spanish authorities consider that they have lost a firm friend, from the peculiar views of that statesman in relation to this dependency of Spain."

Now we suppose there is no doubt that Mr. Webster really desired and honestly tried to preserve the national faith with Spain, and carry out our treaty stipulation with her to the letter and in the spirit. This has been Mr. Fillmore's policy.

On the other hand it is certain that this policy, in both these gentlemen, and in the Whig party which they were supposed to represent, was condemned by the whole Fillibuster interest. Nobody needs to be told that so far as this interest is represented by votes, they have in the late election been cast for Pierce and King. The annexationists and manifest-destiny men all train in that company; and in the Democratic torchlight procession which paraded the streets of Portsmouth on the eve of Pierce's election, one banner bore the name of Cuba, and another of the Sandwich Islands.

It is not a little singular that while Mr. Webster really tried to check the fillibusters, and while Spain thinks so,—his very particular friends here should be voting to swell a triumph which the fillibusters claim as likely to bring fish into their net.

But (as the Boston Post says about another matter) we may let by-gones be by-gones about Cuba, and try to look ahead. The numerous class of men who seek to revolutionize Cuba by force and arms raised in this country, and whom for want of a better name we call Fillibusters, would have been no less busy for the year to come, if Scott had been elected, than they have been for a year past. It is too much to expect that they will remain quiet, now that the election has gone more in accordance with their wishes.

No one will pretend, we suppose, that the coming administration will adopt the policy of being more strict in preventing our citizens from aiming to attack a territory of Old Spain; but many will expect the new president and cabinet to be more indulgent than the old.

Another expedition may sail and fail, like the last—or it may succeed. In either case there is a fair chance for a difficulty with Spain, and by a little mismanagement, either accidental or designed, a "right smart chance" of a war. The immediate effect of such a war must be bad, generally; and to thousands of individuals in both countries (or rather in all three) it must be ruinous. We are of the opinion that Cuba will be independent of Spain before many years shall elapse—and of the further opinion that she ought to be. If there was any truth at all in the Declaration of Independence, to which our forefathers pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor—then such colonial dependence as Cuba suffers under, and such misgovernment as Spain inflicts, ought not to be endured for an hour. We do not here refer to the passage about all men being created equal, and endowed with the inalienable right of liberty, &c., &c.—for that would set Cuba in a worse uproar than a ship-load of fillibusters—and cool off all the zeal there is in this country about annexing the Island to our Union.

We do not regard the event of annexation as desirable in itself, but if we are to have it —and probably we must,—we desire to procure it, not as we did our piece of Mexico, by a quarrel, and a conquest, and lastly by a purchase, but by a treaty giving a liberal bonus to Spain, and saddling a debt on us, but not the disgrace of coveting our neighbors' domain.

LIQUOR LAW.

The citizens of New Hampshire, besides voting for President on Tuesday, gave an expression of opinion at the polls with regard to the acceptance of the Maine liquor law. But few returns have reached us.—Boston Courier.

Only a very small fraction of the citizens of this State gave any expression of opinion on the subject at the recent election. That opinion was expressed in part last spring—and may be heard again next March or next June.

The Courier mentions that six towns in Hillsboro' county voted—

	Yes.	No.		Yes.	No.
Amherst,	36	90	Lyndsboro',	5	61
Hancock,	7	85	Litchfield,	6	38
Hudson,	26	96	Nashua,	145	180

Total against the law 215.

To which we add Portsmouth, Ward 1, voted 32 yeas to 17 nays; and the other two wards postponed the subject indefinitely.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY.—President Sparks has resigned the office of President of Harvard University, the resignation to take effect at the close of the present Academic Term.

NEW PARTIES.

New coalitions have already been commenced. The Boston Post of Thursday says:

"The democratic party——not able, of themselves, to beat their opponents by such an overwhelming overthrow as they have given Scott; they were not able, of themselves, to roll up majorities for their ticket, in places commonly whig; not able to carry such cities as Boston and such States as Maryland. No; for this extra success, for so ultra democratic a victory, they are indebted to the support which the action of patriotic whigs, who do not mean to be abolitionized, gave them."

Then, speaking of democrats, the Post says:

"By-gones may be by-gones; but for the future, it will be useless for the democrats to stand on two stools. It will be more than a blunder, it will be a breach of faith with the country, to rally about local candidates—to send men to Congress—not only who have been free soilers in the past, but who mean to be free soilers to come; who live and move and breathe, politically, only by slavery agitation; who spit upon the democratic platform, harangue in favor of a repeal of the compromise measures, and still claim to be with the democratic party."

That is to say "patriotic whigs" and patriotic democrats are already acting together—but freesoil democrats shall be democrats no longer. This is not only said by the Post, an influential democratic paper, but is responded to by the Boston Courier, an eminent "patriotic whig" or Webster paper, in the following terms, viz.:

"We adopt, without reserve, the liberal and truly national remarks, with regard to the election of the new President, and those who honestly supported both him and the measures of which he is known to be an exponent, from the Boston Post."

The discerning reader can see in these extracts, the ease with which not only voters, but papers, can cross over what recently appeared to be a great impassable gulf.

It will not need a long argument to prove, that when the patriotic Post and Courier, with their respective friends and adherents, form a union, and "read out" the unpatriotic whigs and free soil democrats—it may be possible for these latter factions to coalesce also. We do not say that either of these things will happen—but only that they are possible—and that coalitions stranger than these are quite probable.

A YANKEE SLAVER.—By the Powhattan, from Havana, it appears that the bark Caribbee, built at Calais, in Maine, arrived out at Cardenas about the 1st of October, Capt. Morran, with a crew of sixteen men, which were discharged on arrival. She discharged no cargo, but took in rum, wine and water, and sailed for her ostensible destination, Buenos Ayres. Her crew consists of forty men, burthen 325 tons, cost of vessel $24,000, and is owned by a gentleman merchant of Matanzas, engaged in the Coast slave-traffic, for which she is destined, wearing the American colors and American register.

A GREAT SERENADE.—This evening, there will come off an extraordinary serenade, in Boston, in honor of Madame Henrietta Sontag, the celebrated singer, who will arrive there from New York. The German Singing Societies of Boston, numbering in all nearly 200 performers under the direction of Mr. Kreissman, have taken this matter in hand. The Orchestra of the Germania, under the direction of Mr. Suck, and the Germania Serenade Band, Mr. Schnapp leader, will also join in giving Madame Sontag a splendid serenade. Invitations have been extended to all the Musical Societies in the city to cooperate with the Germans in this serenade.

DISTURBANCE IN WILLIAMS COLLEGE.—Four of the students of Williams College, in a communication over their own signatures, give the following account of a difficulty which has occurred in the College.

"On Tuesday last the students, as is the usual custom, applied for permission to ascend Greylock, (as soon as the first snow appears upon its lofty summit, they have always given the students liberty to ascend and camp out.) This, to their surprise and indignation was peremptorily and harshly refused. It was then agreed, unanimously, to ascend without it; and at noon they ascended with but few exceptions. On their return, Wednesday, it was announced that forty-seven, supposed to be the ringleaders, were publicly expelled. A meeting of the students was immediately called, and it was decided to attend no recitations till this unjust, nay, outrageous sentence, was retracted, and so the matter stands—no recitations having been attended this week."

The above is dated October 30th. The Boston Courier of yesterday says:

Great excitement prevails, and over one hundred students, mostly seniors and juniors, have pledged themselves, if the faculty do not take the expelled men back, that they will leave for Yale or Union.

DAILY PATRIOT.—Butterfield & Hill, of Concord, propose to publish a Daily Patriot during the session of the legislature,—price 25 cents. We will receive and forward subscriptions.

IMPROVEMENTS ON BOSTON COMMON.—A large number of trees, fresh from the mountain sides of the country, are being placed upon the Common, west side, and also around the frog pond.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

CITY COUNCIL.

At the Special Meeting, last evening, the only busiuhss transacted in Board of Aldermen, besides concurring with the other board in several items mentioned below, was a vote to publish the Valuation of the City Property once in each paper provided the Council concur.

In the Council the report of the Committee appointed to appraise the City property was presented. The Real Estate was valued at $113,325; personal $12,549; unavailable $1,440. The committee reported several encroachments on the City Property. The report was accepted, and it was voted that the encroachments be removed and that suitable monuments be erected to prevent further encroachments.

Voted to approve the doings of the Mayor and Aldermen on the subject of widening Vaughan street.

The Collector was directed to enforce the payment of taxes now due according to law, issuing notices to delinquents on the 15th of this month.

The Committee to whom was referred the subject of a Mall, reported that they had examined the premises near the South pond, and have ascertained that but three acres are offered the city, and that to make it available would cost about $10,000. It was estimated that the annual cost of keeping the Mall in order would be $1000. They also examined a lot of fifteen acres, near the residence of James Rundlett, which can be obtained at $1000 per acre, ten acres could be used for the Mall, and the residue would make good house lots, and possibly might be made to return the cost.

An order was passed to remove obstructions in Ann street, near the corner of Islington street.

☞ Rev. Lemuel Willis, of Orange, Mass. will preach to-morrow at the Universalist Church in this city.

☞ Charles L. Cater was not apprehended in Boston, as we stated yesterday—our information proves to be incorrect in this particular.

POPE-NIGHT.—Last evening our ears were regaled with a serenade that beats Madame Sontag's all hollow—as much as a pumpkin lantern and a dinner-horn beat gas-lights and bugles. The best feature of the whole thing was—it was very short.

MECHANICS' ASSOCIATION.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.—At the meeting held on Tuesday evening last, arrangements were made for the Celebration to take place on Tuesday, Nov. 23d.

The following officers were on that evening, elected for the current year;

William Bodge, President.
Thomas Norton, Vice President.
Alfred T. Joy, Treasurer.
G. W. Plumer, C. J. Colcord, Trustees.
Samuel W. Moses, Secretary,
Aaron B. Mudge, Dept. Sec.
Benjamin M. Parker, Marshal.
William G. Nowell, Dept. Marshal.
Robert T. Mason, Standard Bearer.
C. W. Brewster, E. M. Brown, S. Kingsbury, Auditors.

Madame de Terenesy, one of the patriotic Hungarian ladies, and well known in Austria, Germany, and Hungary, as an attractive singer, intends making an artistic tour in America, and will give her first concert in Boston.

Hon. James Hoyt, Justice of the Supreme Court, in the State of New York, has resigned, and accepted the office of superintendent of the Buffalo and New York Railroad, at a salary of $4000.

The San Francisco correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce, writes that Drills have again become scarce at 11 a 12c; and the consumption of these goods for the purpose of making grain and flour bags is truly enormous. Sewing machines are used very generally, one of which can make about 400 bags per day, and the charge is four dollars per 100.

Among the other evils which have attended th Whig defeat, we notice the election to Congress from New York, of Mike Walsh, a brawling demagogue, and Gerrit Smith, an abolitionist of equal notoriety. The day of great men in Congress has, we fear, gone by, and their places are filled by ranting demagogues and selfish agitators.—Boston Journal.

Mr. Charles McGee, the contractor for building the new State Capitol of Texas, died at Bastrop on the 3d inst. He was married on his death bed a few days before his decease. He was a man of great wealth, and the purpose of his marriage was to secure a dower in his property to the lady who possessed his affections.

The Democratic pole, erected in Jamaica, L. I., was struck by lightning while the elections were going on in the hotel immediately in front of the pole. There were about two hundred persons assembled at the polls at the time, three or four of whom were injured, but none fatally so.

MACKEREL.—A fine school of mackerel made their appearance off Provincetown the first of the week, and a large number of people of that town have been out in pursuit of them. On Monday some vessels took from 60 to 80 wash-barrels each, about one mile from Long Point.—Yarmouth Register.

THE ELECTION.

STATES IN FULL.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—The Legislature of South Carolina cast 125 votes for Pierce and King electors. The Governor sent a message relative to the death of the late Henry Clay and Daniel Webster.

MASSACHUSETTS.—Every town is returned, and the grand footing is Scott 54,205; Pierce 47,018; Hale 29,008; Webster and Scattering 1870—Scott's plurality 7187.

RHODE ISLAND.—Pierce 8,586; Scott 7,515; Hale 640.

VOTE OF CONCORD.—Concord, the residence of General Pierce, gives him 229 majority over both Scott and Hale—a gain of 291 votes since last March.

NEW HAMPSHIRE RETURNS.

They have come in rather slowly—but we have now quite a list of them on hand, and intend to prepare as full a table as we can for the Chronicle of Monday morning.

WASHINGTON'S MONUMENT AND ANNIVERSARY.—Washington, Nov. 4.—The St. John's Lodge of Fredericksburg, in which Washington was initiated, held a grand centennial festival at Mount Vernon, to-day, in connection with large delegations from the lodges of this district, Alexandria and Richmond.

Cincinnati, Nov. 4.—The Free Masons of this city celebrated the centennial anniversary of George Washington's initiation to their body to-day. There was a very large attendance, at which $10,000 were collected for the Washington monument.

New York, Nov. 4.—The amount contributed to the Washington monument in New York city is about $1500.

Buffalo, Nov. 4.—$346.25 were subscribed in this city to the Washington monument.

IRISH BUTTER.—An extensive grocer in this city received by the Pacific an invoice of the very first quality of Irish rose butter, costing in Cork 80s. the hundred, and 84s. in Liverpool. Large orders, we learn, have gone out since then, and the prospect now is that Ireland will, during the current winter, make us some return for the relief so opportunely sent her in the days of her distress in 1847.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

This looks like carrying coals to New Castle. We annually export large quantities of butter to England.

FRANCE.—The Clerks in the Government offices are busied in arranging the petitions for the Empire; when completed, they will no doubt form the ground work of the Senatus Consulte, to be in turn followed by the Plebiscite. It is now confidently stated, that the Pope will come to Paris to consecrate the Emperor, but whether in December or May next, is not certain.

The Emperor's title is intended, it is supposed, to be, Emperor of the French, King of Algeria, and Protector of the Holy Places, which last, it is supposed, is intended to give him a pretext for meddling in the affairs of the East. The project of constituting Algeria a Vice Royalty is more than ever talked of, and as it seems, one of those on which the President is particularly tenacious. Prince Lucien Murat is again spoken of as the future Viceroy.

Four additional arrests have been made having connection with the Marseilles infernal machine.

Typus fever is raging with extraordinary virulence at Thiers, in the Puy de Dome. There are more than 800 persons, mostly women and children, lying ill with that terrible disease.

The French fleet in the Levant is henceforth to consist of steam vessels alone.

Abd-el-Kader will remain at the Chatean d' Ambroise until suitable preparations can be made for his removal. His liberation has been well received throughout France.

The Indicateur, of Bordeaux, states that the cultivation of rice in Landes is increasing to a noticeable extent. In 1847 one acre was cultivated, which produced this season 8000 hectolitres, in good condition.

MADAME SONTAG.—We see by the New York papers that this lady, in the kindest manner, volunteered to sing in a concert given by Mr. John Zundel, organist, in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Zundel, whilst in Europe, was the music teacher of Madame Sontag's children, and finds himself at present in reduced circumstances. As her family teacher, he won her respect and confidence. When they parted there was no thought that they would ever meet again, at least in the field of music; but Madame Sontag finding her old acquaintance in this country, offers him her gratuitous services, in acknowledgement of her appreciation of his former services to her family. The compliment is flattering, and doubtless highly profitable.

During the election in New York on Tuesday, a very "progressive" looking young woman, dressed in man's clothing, approached the 4th election district poll of the Nineteenth Ward, and attempted to vote the "regular democratic ticket." The vote of the fair stranger was challenged and so was her sex, but she tried to be a man. The Inspector requested her to take off her cap, which she refused to do, alleging that she had a "bad cold," when an officer took it off for her, disclosing a rich display of curls, which fell gracefully from their hiding place upon the collar of her coat. This disclosure seemed to give her no little mortification, and she went off apparently much disappointed.

PHILADELPHIA MORALS.—The whole number of criminal cases during the month of October was 755; of which 244 were fined for intoxication, 312 held for disorderly conduct, 57 for assault and battery, 35 for larceny, 66 for vagrancy, 2 for concealed weapons, 4 disorderly houses, 1 malicious mischief, 8 passing counterfeit money, 5 fugitives from justice, 7 riot, 11 misdemeanor.

THE HARVEST HYMN.

God of the rolling year! to Thee,
Our songs shall raise—whose bounty pours
In many a goodly gift, with free
And liberal hand, our autumn stores;
No firstlings of our flock we slay,
No soaring clouds of incense rise—
But on thy hallowed shrine we lay
Our grateful hearts in sacrifice.

Borne on thy breath, the lap of Spring
Was heaped with many a blooming flower;
And smiling summer joyed to bring
The sunshine and the gentle flower;
And autumn's rich luxuriance now,
The ripening seed, the bursting shell,
The golden sheaf and laden bough,
The fulness of Thy bounty tell.

No menial throng in princely dome,
Here wait a titled lord's behest,
But many a fair and peaceful home
Hath won thy peaceful dove a guest;
No groves of palm our fields adorn—
No myrtle shades or orange bowers;
But rustling meads of golden corn,
And fields of waving grain, are ours.

Safe in Thy care; the landscape o'er,
Our flocks and herds securely stray;
No tyrant master claims our store—
No rude robber rends away;
No fierce volcano's withering shower—
No fell simoom with poisonous breath;
No burning suns, with baleful power
Awake the fiery plagues of death.

Then here shall rise our song to Thee,
Where lengthened vales and pastures lie,
And streams so singing wild and free,
Beneath a blue and smiling sky,
Where ne'er was reared a mortal throne,
Where crowned oppression never trod,
Here—at the throne of Heaven alone,
Shall man in reverence bow to God.

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES. It is believed shat this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP stoves, which are offered low.

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus together, so that it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old Stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Queen of Science," "Yard of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. VOYAGE UP SALT RIVER.

☞Every political reader who can smile at a series of good jokes, which hit all round, will do well to read the following article from the Hartford, (Conn.) Courant. Any reader who cannot take jokes as well as give them, is respectfully requested not to read it, lest he lose his temper, and "speak unadvisedly with his lips."

As we have voyaged the whole length of Salt River, up to the "head of sloop navigation," we are quite desirous that our readers should know what a time we have had, and how we are satisfied with our "location."

We started in the grand old steamer Connecticut, Capt. Steady-Habits commander, with the rest of the large Whig fleet, on the evening of the 24 of November, on our cruise up the stream. As we entered the bay into which that famous river discharges its waters, there was an universal expression of grief throughout the whole fleet. The first ebullition being over, we had then an opportunity, "quiet though sad," to mark the rapid progress of our voyage, and the interesting objects before us. As we passed up the bay, there loomed up before us the low sandy point of Cape Harbor-improvement; we gave its obstructions a wide berth and sighed as we silently bade it adieu for years. The wrecks of steamers were strewed all along its yellow sands. Cape Protection then showed its headland. The long break-water, erected in 1842 against the dashing waves of the broad ocean, which rolled its billows from far England upon it, had been taken down and washed away; and foolishly, on the landward side of the point, another barrier had been built in '46, which only checked the current of the inland river.—As we passed it, it was enveloped in fog, which had settled in gloomy wreaths on the sides of Mount American-System that rose behind it.—"Farewell," we said, "old landmark! Thou wilt guide our fleet to victory no more! Thy whole stupendous mass is to be carted off and deposited in the deep ocean of Free Trade!—He who once stood proudly on thy top to cheer us on to the contest, sleeps the last long sleep of death, and his system has perished with him. It is marked on his tomb-stone, as the fruitless labor of one who would have established his country's prosperity, had faction permitted."

Soon after, we approached the hidden rocks of Slavery Extension. Here, a great debate sprung up in the different vessels of the fleet as to which side of the rocks we should pass. The contest grew exciting, when old Captain Consideration settled the difficulty by remarking that it made no difference when we were going up the river.

The old rocky shore of Point National Bank next presented itself. But the regular action of the current and tide had so tretted off the projecting rocks, that it was no longer dangerous. Here we passed the large Democratic fleet, coming down the bay, with streamers and pennons and flags flying; with bands of music playing, and the passengers shouting in the highest glee. What was rather strange, in all cases the British flag was flying above the American, and the shouts of "hurra for England's interests" rent the air, while the bands played "God Save the King." The New Hampshire, an old fashioned, slow sailing craft, led the van, looking as if her model was a century old. She was the flag ship, and bore aloft on her mizzen a flag with the inscription, "Virginia Resolutions of '98." Franklin Pierce stood at her prow, smiling as the morning, his eye fixed steadily on the distant view of the White House. The rest of the fleet seemed vexed at the little progress which was made under the "'98" flag.—The squadron of the West, under the command of Rear Admiral Douglas were evidently determined to sail faster, as soon as the bay widened. Douglas had shown his cunning by so constructing his ensign, that the side which turned towards the flag ship presented the motto of "the Virginia Resolutions," while on the other was faintly written—"River and Harbor Improvement." He declared to his men that as soon as there was room enough to pass the Commodore, he should lead off himself, haul down the Virginia flag and up with the black flag of piracy, with its skull and cross bones.

We passed very rapidly up the river, for the tide was setting strong in that direction. Gen. Scott examined with much curiosity both banks of the river as we sailed on. It was the very first time that he had been on the stream, and everything was new to him. "I am not disheartened," said the old veteran. "I have troops of friends around me, who have fallen with me. My life has been devoted to the Republic, and I bow to its decisions now. This vote cannot blot out the record of my services from my country's history. Posterity will do me justice."

As we neared the extremity of the stream, we passed many beautiful country residences. At one of the finest, in his large cabbage garden, stood Martin Van Buren. He had not yet recovered from his grief at seeing the Democratic fleet sail by without taking him on board.

"The buckwheat cake was in his mouth,
The tear was in his eye."

He inquired for the Prince, and found that he had followed the fleet in a small skiff, and there were many fears entertained for his safety.

A little farther up was Buchanan. Poor man! he looked haggard. The Democratic garment with which he covered up his principles so long, was growing thin, and the old Federal lining showed through in many places.

On the next turn of the river, we found Cass, wringing his hands in agony at the desertion of his friends. With his coat and hat off, he was exclaiming amid "the noise and confusion" of the surf around him, in the words of the Captive Knight:

"They are gone! they have all passed by!
They in whose wars I had borne a part,
They that I lov'd with a brother's heart,
They have left me here to die!
Sound again, clarion! Clarion, pour thy blast!
Sound! for the presidential dream of hope is past."

Soon after, we came to the place where the whole Free Soil party were disembarking. John P. Hale, in a very good natured frame of mind, was making preparations for a permanent residence, as he had no idea that four years would carry him down the stream again. Many of them were seated on the rocks, with long black poles, stirring up the mud of the stream, while certain inky looking fellows were calling upon them to "agitate, agitate!" Most of the Massachusetts members were sitting in their boats, expecting that the Democrats would charter the old steamboat Coalition and come up after them, next week.

We found our new residence a convenient one, and we are, upon the whole, "as well as could be expected." The air is salubrious and invigorating, if we may judge by the hungry looks of the Democrats, as they passed us. The soil is fruitful, and produces a fine crop of regrets and unavailing resolutions, but we are determined not to cultivate despair.

Soon after our arrival, a large public meeting was called, which assembled near Cape Turn-again. Hon. Stay-at-home Grumbler was appointed Chairman, and Job Doo-Little, Esq., Secretary. Hon. Mr. Facing-both-ways made some lacrymose remarks, which were promptly hissed down; when Mr. Stick-to-the-right Great-heart offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously passed:

Resolved, (1) That after mature deliberation, we come to the conclusion, that we are roused up Salt River.

Resolved, (2) That we are alarmed.

Resolved, (3) That every rooster of the settlement that crows once shall be immediately decapitated.

Resolved, (4) That in the investigation of the causes of our defeat, we do not think it is owing to Winfield Scott's splendid services, or to Franklin Pierce's littleness, but to the fact, that we had not votes enough.

Resolved, (5) That we stay here until we go down stream again.

Resolved, (6) That in the words of the poet, we say, "it will never do to give it up so, Mr. Brown."

PORTSMOUTH:
MONDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1852.

MR. WEBSTER'S EXECUTORS.

There are two sets of these; the literary executors, who are to publish his letters and look after his fame as an author—and the pecuniary executors, who are to carry out the provisions of his will, if they can, in regard to Marshfield and his family.

The former are Edward Everett, George Ticknor, Cornelius C. Felton and George T. Curtis. They find a rich legacy, and will find a superabandance of materiel. They have already advertised a request that all persons having original letters of Mr. Webster will send them in to be used in a forthcoming edition of his literary remains.

The latter, or pecuniary executors, find "an encumbered estate,"—so encumbered as to make the execution of his will impossible, without calling on the Merchants of Boston to make one more testimonial of their admiration of Mr. Webster, in the form of a large pecuniary donation. This call will be promptly answered—nay, such was their partiality for him while living, and their idolatrous veneration for him now, that they rather offer the aid required, than merely grant it.

They, not the executors, but a Sub-Committee of Finance on the Webster Testimonal, appointed by the Merchants and others, are making arrangements for a subscription to be raised mainly in Boston, in which "the subscribers promise to pay to the Treasurer of the Committee appointed at a meeting of citizens held at Faneuil Hall, October 27th, 1852, the sums set against their names respectively; first, for such a statue or other memorial of the services of DANIEL WEBSTER; and afterwards, for such a fulfilment of his testamentary wishes, as, by that committee, may be deemed due to themselves and to their country."

The funds with which they may be supplied, under this subscription, will be devoted, mainly and in the first instance, to the erection of a statue or some other memorial of Mr. Webster. If any surplus shall remain, it will be applied towards the fulfilment of Mr. Webster's testamentary wishes.

These wishes relate to the preservation of the Marshfield estate. Mr. Webster devised the estate, including the Mansion House, and the library, pictures, statuary, and numerous presents made to him by individuals and public bodies, in commemoration of his public services, to Trustees, to be preserved as they now are. The fulfilment of his wishes depends upon the removal of certain incumbrances and charges upon the property. The committee have believed that the people of Boston, and perhaps the people of other cities and towns in Massachusetts, will desire to have that estate preserved as Mr. Webster left it; and that while it must rank with Mt. Vernon, in the regards of every American, they will never suffer it to become another Mount Vernon in its condition and appearance.

The grave of Daniel Webster is within its limits: and within the house, where he so long dwelt, are contained all the striking memorials of his life, with which the affection and admiration of his contemporaries delighted to surround it. There is his noble library; there stands the magnificent vase presented to him by the people of Boston; there hang the pictures which commemorate the negotiation and execution of the Treaty of Washington. Everything in and around the house speaks eloquently and touchingly of him; and we are sure the committee are right, (says the Boston Conrier,) when they assume that the people of Boston will not allow those treasures to be dispersed.

We are not aware what sum the committee propose to raise. But as the monument to be erected in the city will of course be one worthy of Boston and of him who is to be commemorated, the sum must necessarily be a large one.

MASSACHUSETTS.

To-day is the annual State election in Massachusetts;—and we were about to say there was no great question at issue;—but on more mature consideration we can think of two or three. Coalition or No Coalition; Liquor Law or No Liquor Law; Convention to form a Constitution, or not, &c. &c.

What with the Coalitionists and Bolters among the Democrats, the Webster and Scott whigs, the free-soilers and the Anti-Liquor Law men, there are six parties. All these have not nominated separate tickets, but they all have presses,—and the music they make is indescribable. One good thing about it, now, is, that like the Pope-night serenade, it will be short—to-day is the election.

Dr. Hawkes has declined the Episcopate of Rhode Island.

NEW HAMPSHIRE RETURNS.

We give this morning the returns of votes from the Towns and Counties of New Hampshire, in part from the New Hampshire Patriot. It will be seen that Gen. Pierce has a larger majority now, by about 6000, than Gov. Martin had last spring,—and yet he has a smaller vote by about 1000. The free-soil party fell off 3000, and the whigs nearly 4000. This shows apathy in all the parties—especially in the two latter.

We have heard that some Webster Whigs voted for Gen. Pierce—and the papers before election said that a number of Free-soilars would do the same. If so, then the democratic party did not bring out its full strength, unless it has fallen off within the last six months.

THE NEW ERA.

There was already one paper with this title, a very interesting literary paper published in Washington City, the paper in which Mrs. Stowe published her famous story of Uncle Tom's Cabin. The Washington paper points to a new era of liberty from chattel slavery. But the New Era now opened before us comes from Boston, and "will be (says its editor) a medium for the higher order of Spiritual Communications." The editor is an old friend of ours, S. Crosby Hewitt, who informs his readers that his paper "will be published one year without fail, as the funds are already provided by the extra subscriptions of some noble friends of the spiritual movement. There is one thing very clear: the spirits that publish papers are not only very tasteful, and get up beautiful vignette heads, and finely printed papers—but they are good financiers also, and get together enough of this world's dirt to hire a printer for one year before they begin. Commend us to the spirits, we say, if they manage their affairs in this way.

There are two articles in the paper from the spirits of Napoleon Bonaparte, one from Josephine, and one from B. Franklin.

Some of the articles are characteristic. For example, we give the following advice of old Ben Franklin to all greenhorns who have any idea of launching a boat editorial on the troubled sea of public patronage. Hear him. He says:

"Upon starting a new paper, an editor should first clearly define, in his own mind, that the wants and interests of the community demand such an experiment: that being decided, he should be fully satisfied that he can meet those wants, or he may suffer the mortification of a failure."

But besides the disembodied spirits, there are some others in the body, who contribute their aid to carry on this good work. Among these is Adin Ballou of Hopedale, a man as full of good feeling as he is of odd ideas;—and he warns the giddy-minded, irreverent and rowdyish, not to make use of these manifestations for amusement or sport. He says:

"I was told the other day, on good authority, that a whole room full of sport-makers and scorners were frightened out of it, by the strange and violent demonstrations made in response to their demand.

The occurrence took place in the boarding house of a Manufacturing Village, in R. I. The Medium and company were just of a character, or at least in a state of mind, to attract low spirits. Presently one came, and spelled out, "evil spirit;" whereupon there was a demand from an irreverent and daring mind, backed by several other kindred minds—"If you are an evil spirit, just show us what you can do for once." Immediately the Medium was jerked about and thrown down, a child two or three years old commenced springing from the floor towards the ceiling, lighting like a cat with projected claws on the shoulders of adults standing near, and the large table rocked to and fro with almost destructive violence.

The company fled with screams and pallor from the room. A single spectator, a calm, religious woman remained. She was herself a good Medium, but had no fellowship with the persons concerned in challenging this announced evil spirit. Neither was she alarmed. She stood at the door of the room, a quiet beholder of what transpired. She testifies that the table continued its strange rockings, for more than an hour after the company had fled; no one except herself being near it, and she standing several feet distant in the doorway during the whole time.

Job had plenty of friends as long as his money lasted, but as soon as that was gone, and he became as poor as his own cat, his friends left, and even Mrs. Job deserted him.

This is a libel on Mrs. Job and the friends. They did not leave at all, but staid and comforted him after their fashion.

FUGITIVE SLAVE CASE. — Philadelphia, Nov. 5th.—A further hearing was had this afternoon, before Commissioner Ingraham, in the case of George Bradley, claimed as a fugitive slave of Andrew Pierce of Cecil county, Maryland. There is ample evidence before him. The hearing will commence to-morrow.

PLYMOUTH FISHERMEN.—The fleet of fishing vessels which sailed from Plymouth, Mass. this season, have all returned, with the exception of the schooner Argo, about the safety of which some apprehension is felt. She fitted out for the Straits. Every "Banker," 55 in number, has returned in safety.

MURDER.—Levi Q. Morton was shot, and so much injured that he cannot recover, at the house of a Mr. Sargent in Portland, on Tuesday evening. The assailant was William H. Howard, who is said to hail from Boston.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

OUR CLAIMS.

The editor of the Manchester American claims an office from the new Democratic Administration, for services rendered by writing a complimentary notice of Gen. Pierce, at the opening of the campaign. He thinks he should be satisfied with a foreign Consulship.

We think we have some slight claim to a reward for services rendered three years ago. The first flag ever spread to the breeze in this State in honor of the successful candidate, was hoisted by us when he was received in Concord after his return from Mexico. The flag was hoisted on the N. H. Patriot office, in the midst of a storm of snow and rain. JR.

SAD ACCIDENT.—On Saturday evening between six and seven o'clock, Mr. Joseph Cutts of Kittery, walked off the head of the Pier wharf in this city, and was drowned. Mr. Cutts was a man of intemperate habits, and probably mistook the wharf for a street. With the exception above named, he was one of the best men among us, industrious, honest, kind, hospitable and pleasant. He was not far from 70 years of age.

THE BLACK WALNUT.—This is a valuable shade tree, easily raised in this climate, very hardy, and yet not common in this place.—We learn that Dr. Baker has distributed a bushel of the nuts to such persons as wished to raise the trees; and has another bushel on hand for others who are inclined to use them in the same way.

MR. MOSES' CONCERT.

Of course everybody will go to see the most beautiful concert hall ever seen in Portsmouth, and to enjoy a rich treat by the most able and successful concert giver ever resident here—to-morrow evening at the Cameneum.

ROYAL ROAD TO WEALTH.—We take the following almost incredible story from a New York paper:

"A short time ago, a young man, a clerk in a house in San Francisco, having $5000 to spare sent it to China and invested it in rice. He sold the cargo (to arrive) at 22 cents per pound, and made the handsome sum of $37,000 by the operation. The purchaser was a Chinaman, and it so happened that the cargo arrived the very day after it was purchased; the Chinaman made $65,000 on his bargain. The large sum of $102,000, therefore, has been cleared on an investment of $5000.

An Inventor of a patent life-preserver, tested its efficacy a few days since, in the presence of a large crowd. With it girded to his body, he jumped into the Ohio, not far from Walnut street. Some of the gearing became displaced, and, instead of the inventor's head remaining at the top of the water, his position was reversed—the head down, and the feet up. It was with much difficulty the assembled crowd saved the gentleman from drowning.—Cincinnati Commercial.

THE OIL MARKET.—Within a few days some six thousand barrels of sperm oil have changed hands in the market, at $1.20 per gallon. Yesterday rising two thousand barrels of sperm oil were sold for the same as stated above. A large lot of whale oil was also disposed of yesterday at 70 cents per gallon. A lively demand has sprung up for sperm, and prices tend upwards.—New Bedford Standard.

The largest single transaction of wool ever made in this market is noted this week, and we doubt whether it has often been exceeded by any city in the United States. The quantity sold was 280,000 pounds, amounting in the aggregate to $125,000 cash. A. D. Bullock, Esq., was the purchaser. The prices realized show a very large advance on the rates at which the market opened.—Cincinnati Gazette, Oct. 28.

SINGULAR.—On Wednesday, the City Marshal received an envelope through the post office, containing a one dollar bill, but no writing to indicate whence it came. It was post marked Philadelphia and Baltimore Railroad. On the same day, the President of the Atlantic Bank, received an envelope with the same post mark, containing a $5 bill, but no writing.—Portland Advertiser.

EFFECTS OF WEARING TIGHT BOOTS.—Thomas Lippencot, a young man now lying at the Commercial Hospital, Cincinnati, has injured one of his feet to such an extent, by the practice of wearing tight boots, that it is necessary to have it amputated.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—A boy about twelve years of age named Michael Daley, who was walking upon the track of the Boston and Providence Railroad at Hogg Bridge, was run over by a train, on Wednesday evening, and killed.

P. T Barnum and H. D. Beach have formed a special partnership with a cash capital of $40,000, for the publication in New York of an illustrated weekly newspaper intended to be the best in the world. Gleason must look to his laurels.

It is estimated that forty thousand persons, eight hundred wagons and sixty thousand cattle have crossed the plains, going to California, this year, and it is said that parts of the route are strewed with graves and human bones.

Rev. C. C. Foote acknowledges in the Worcester Spy, the donation of $450,60 by the people of that city for securing homes and education for the fugitives in Canada.

The Washington House at Nashua, was sold at auction, on Thursday last, for $6400, subject to the widow's right of dower. The purchaser was Col. L. W. Noyes.

A MAN KILLED BY A SNAKE.—One of the under-keepers of the Zoological Garden at London was recently killed by the bite of a cobra. It appears from the testimony of one of his companions that the unfortunate man was playing with the reptiles, without heeding the remonstrances of the witness. He first took the "bocco" snake from its case, which he handled with impunity. He then put it back and took out the cobra, put it under his waistcoat at the right side, and it crawled round and came out at the left side. He drew it out, and was holding it between the head and the middle of the body, when it darted at his face and bit his nose, the fangs drawing blood. His face soon became livid and his respiration imperfect. This lividity continued extending until death, which soon occurred. There were ten small punctures or wounds on the nose, four on the right and six on the left side.

A provisional announcement has appeared of the "London, Liverpool, and North American Screw Stamship Company." The steamers of the Company will leave London and Liverpool alternately, throughout the year; for Canada and Newfoundland from March to October; and during the remainder of the year will call at Portland, Me. The Company is at present provisionally registered under the Joint Stock Companies act; but a charter has been applied for, and will in all probability be readily secured. The capital is fixed at £600,000 in £20 shares, and the Commitee includes some very influential firms connected with American trade.

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES. As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, and a fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever offered before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one fuel as the other. We furnish with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons looking to purchase a stove, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the South," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WAR IN A DRY GOODS STORE.

The following rich affair is reported in one of the Philadelphia papers as having come off in that city a few days ago. The incident of the day was an assault on a distinguished dry goods man in Second street by Mrs. Dorothy Owen, a lady who sells country produce in High street market.

Mrs. Owen, with a basket full of eggs on her arm, went to Mr. ———'s store to buy three quarters of a yard of pink sarsenet. The store-keeper misunderstanding her, gave her three yards and a quarter of silk instead of the quantity required. Mrs. O. laid down a half eagle, and Mr. ———, of course, took payment for three yards and a quarter. Mrs. Owen protested that she had called for only three quarters of a yard. Mr. ——— boldly asserted that the quantity demanded was three yards and a quarter. Mrs. Owen now fired up, and let Mr. ——— know that she had always entertained a suspicion that he was a rogue, but now suspicion was changed to certainty. Some other hards words passed between them, and as hard words often lead to something harder, Mrs. Owen made a punch at Mr. ———'s 'bread basket.'

Then Mr. ——— made a masterly retreat to an elevated perch where his desk is fixed, and there, like the indignant baron in his turreted tower, bade defiance to his furious assailant. But Mr. ——— in his imaginary security forgot that the improvements of modern warfare made the defence of castellated holds a very precarious undertaking; he forgot, in short, that the science of projectiles has been added to military tactics, and that cannon balls and shells do tremendous execution at a great distance. He was soon reminded of this fact, or something like, when Mrs. Owen bethought herself of her basket of eggs, an expensive ammunition at the present time, being very scarce and costly in proportion. Mrs. Owen considered that offensive war cannot be carried on without a pecuniary sacrifice, and submitting to the necessities of the case, she began to bombard the tower or lofty fort in which Mr. ——— had entrenched himself.

The first missile aimed at Mr. ———'s face, was avoided by a timely dodge, but it took effect on the face of the clock, which was placed just behind the desk, and a fragment of the shattered glass cut off a small slice of the storekeeper's ear, leaving enough of the organ, however, for any use or ornament. The next two or three discharges were highly creditable to Mrs. Owen's skill in gunnery. One of the rockets hit Mr. ——— in the middle of the forehead, and bursting there, poured its unsavory contents downwards over his nose and mouth. Another, exploding on his black satin vest, left an orange colored line that appeared to be a burlesque imitation of a gold guard chain.

The clerks perceiving in what extremity their employer was placed, hastily endeavored to erect on the counter a breastwork parapet composed of bolts of Osnaburg, Russia duck, and brown shirtings to cover the besieged fortress. But Mrs. Owen was not to be balked by any such engineering. She mounted on a chair, and thence attained the elevation of the counter, and having thus surrounded the enemy's works, she poured in her fire with such overwhelming effect that the besieged party capitulated, begging a cessation of hostilities, and promised to 'make all right.' This surrender however, was only a stratagem of war; for Mr. ——— had secretly despatched one of his clerks for a reinforcement, which came from the police office, and Mrs. Owen yielding to superior numbers was made prisoner.

GOVERNOR OF THE MORMONS.—A letter from Salt Lake City, to the Cleveland Herald, has ventured the following description of the Mormon Governor:

"The residence of Gov. Brigham Young would be called a splendid residence, in any place in the States, as would also the Court House be considered an elegant building.—The former is finished on the outside with white lime, that gives it a beautiful color, while the architecture is after the most approved modern style. It is on the North side of the city near the Temple block, and has a commanding view of the whole city before the eminence upon which it stands. His yards, outbuildings, trees and shrubbery all show that the Governor of the Territory and President of the Mormon Church is preparing himself a permanent place to enjoy forever what he fancies to be the divine pleasure of Omnipotence. He is a man of about forty-six years of age, low in stature, thick set, light brown hair, light complexion, with an active temperament and considerable talents."

GUANO.—The following communication, dated the 4th of September, has been received with regard to the guano of Patagonia:

"With respect to the islands on the coast of Patagonia, I give it as my opinion that they do not contain in all 200 tons of guano of best quality, as formerly shipped, and many of these islands are inaccessible. I speak of the islands I know, from 43 deg. to 53 deg. south. If any guano island has escaped my notice, it must be of small extent. Toba Island contains a large quantity of guano, but of indifferent quality. Leones, or ship Island, may probably have 100,000 tons, but the quality is not approved of, and will not pay parties engaged as speculators, even free of charges. If the authorities of Buenos Ayres leave the parties alone, they will find they will soon abandon the coast. The guano from Leonos resembles very much that from Lobos, on the coast of Peru; indeed, I scarcely observe any difference, except that the latter does not contain the fibres of roots and vegetable elements. London Times.

DAILY Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1852.

HAYTI.

Rev. W. L. Judd, who has spent several years in Hayti, in a letter to the Boston Traveller, thus speaks of the character of the people, and the security for life and property among them:

"I hesitate not to say, that I believe there has been, the past six years, less murder, less robbery, and less incendiarism, at Port-au-Prince, than in any city of the same size, and during the same period, in the United States. During this whole period, and even longer, there has been but one fire in that city of thirty thousand inhabitants! Where can a parallel case be found in the United States? I have travelled in the country at all hours of the day and night,—'o'er mountain heights, and in valleys low," in lonely forests and amid cultivated fields, and have never been treated with disrespect by the coarsest peasant or the rudest mountaineer. In these journeys, I have never been refused a night's lodging at the poorest cabin, where from necessity or convenience, I chose to stop; and when I have called for the bill, I am almost universally answered by the expression, "Just what you choose to give." (Ce que vous voulez me donner, or in the simple patois of the paysan, ce ou voulez baille moi.) And though it is the land of the old buccaneers, and where the example of foreigners has exhibited more of violence and fraud than of gentleness and honesty; still, from Tiburon to Samana, and from Jacmel to Cape Haytien, I know of not a single cove where a ship may not enter, nor a single mountain fastness where a traveller may not pass with safety from robbers."

This is honorable testimony from a competent witness—albeit the facts in the case are not in accordance with many statements that have been published in regard to Hayti.

PITCAIRN'S ISLAND.

Rear Admiral Moresby, of H. B. M. Pacific fleet, communicates to the Admirality an interesting account of a visit made to Pitcairn's Island, in August of the present year, from which it would appear that the population of this Island is beginning to exceed its capacity for supplying sustenance. He says:

"It is impossible to do justice to the spirit of order and decency that animates the whole community, whose number amounts to 170, strictly brought up in the Protestant faith, according to the Established Church of England, by Mr. Nobbs, their pastor and surgeon, who has for 24 years zealously and successfully by precept and example, raised them to a state of the highest moral conduct and feeling.

Of fruits and edible roots they have at present abundance, which they exchange with the whalers for clothing, oil, medicine, and other necessaries; but the crops on the tillage ground begin to deteriorate, landslips occur with each succeeding storm, and the declivities of the hills, when denuded, are bare by the periodical rains. Their diet consists of yams, sweet potatoes, and bread fruit; a small quantity of fish is occasionly caught; their pigs supply annually upon an average about 50 lbs of meat to each individual; and they have a few goats and fowls. Their want of clothing and other absolute necessaries is very pressing, and I am satisfied that the time has arrived when preparations, at least, must be made for the future, seven or eight years being the utmost that can be looked forward to for a continuance of their present means of support. The summary of the year 1851 gives—births 12; deaths 2; marriages 3. On their return from Tahiti they numbered about 60, of whom there were married 13 couple; the rest from the age of 16 to infancy.

Admiral Moresby furnished the islanders with some supplies, which were gratefully received. He adds in his letter that "the Adeline Gibbs, American whaler, Mr Weeks master, was there during our visit. Mr. and Mrs. Weeks were living on shore. It would be a happy circumstance if a person like her could be found to reside among them."

SLAVES TAKEN.—A Mr. Leming shipped nine slaves from Richmond to New York last week, consisting of two women and some children, intending to forward them to Texas. They were locked up in New York, but their situation became known, and they were brought before a justice. No person appeared to oppose their discharge, but the Court thought it right to give time for the owner to appear, if he chose to do so, and they were committed for the present, to the care of the officer.—Boston Courier.

"If the Court, or justice, knew one speck of law, they would be discharged forthwith. There must be some error in the statement.

NOT DEAD BUT ALIVE.—We said the other day, that the Whig party was dispersed: somebody else said it was dead. But the Portland Advertiser, an able Whig paper, is of the contrary opinion. It says:

"We can assure them that the Whig party "yet lives," and that the administration of Franklin Pierce will unquestionably and immediately bring up political issues of more than ordinary interest. Things are now in a sort of "crysalis state" politically. Some will come out millers and others butterflies before the next Presidential campaign."

MADAME SONTAG arrived at the Revere House in Boston on Saturday evening, and was serenaded by 200 musicians, but was so tired with her journey as to be unable to appear, and thanked the serenaders by proxy. She is to sing this evening, and the tickets go off like hot cakes.

The Empire Club of New York have voted to give Horace Greeley a new white coat, hat, &c.

A MISER.

Of all the poor pursuits in human life, the poorest is the pursuit of wealth for its own sake, regardless of what it will buy. Yet there always have been a few misers: and the race is probably not yet extinct, though one of them has just died.

The Boston Daily Advertiser and Chronicle give us the following account of JOHN CROFTS COLFIELD, who died in that city on the 28th ult., aged 70 years.

He had his residence in Ann street, where he had for several years lived in a penurious and retired manner. It was believed that by his penurious habits he had saved a small sum of money, earned at his trade, cobbling boots and shoes, but great was the surprise of his friends and others, on overhauling the old boots in the corner of his room, soon after his death, to find some of them literally crammed with old wallets well filled with money. It is impossible at present to tell the amount of fortune he has left, but we have heard it estimated at so large a sum as to seem incredible, $200,000, and what makes it more interesting to the parties concerned, he has left a will well and faithfully executed, in which he decrees that his estate shall be kept in trust for twenty years before the heirs, with one exception, can receive any benefit therefrom.

For the last thirty years, this eccentric man has not laid in a bed, except when travelling, he being too miserly to indulge in such "extravagance," as he termed it. He has made his lodgings on trunks and boards, and finally died, lying upon a large trunk. Three days preceding his death, he purchased a burial lot in Mount Auburn. He lived, if living it could be called, in a small shop off from the street. He lived a bachelor, not being willing to marry on account of the expenses incident upon a married life, and dragged out his existence as solitary as an oyster. His meals cost him on the average six and a quarter cents, and in payment he generally tendered a crossed fourpence. He had not probably taken off his clothes for a year. Avarice shone from his cold, glassy eye; he loved no one, and no one probably loved him. The late Dr. Parkman was his friend, and was selected as his executor. He was one of the most eccentric and avaricious of mortals.

MRS. SMITH'S KILN DRIED YEAST.—This article, which has been advertised in our columns, is highly recommended by many who have used it. We received a sample as short time since, which was referred to the breadmakers for trial, with orders to report, and the result was very gratifying. The bread produced by the use of this yeast is very light, and the article very convenient, being in a dry state, and moistened with warm water when required. D. D. Garland, Concord, is the agent, and will supply any quantity.

WHITFIELD AND THE DAIRYMAN'S DAUGHTER.—Several days ago we mentioned that the Old Pulpit in which George Whitfield used to preach in England, is now at the American Tract Society Rooms in New York city. It was a portable pulpit, capable of being taken down and put up in a short time, in the fields or elsewhere. The Tract Society have also the Arm Chair in which the Dairyman's Daughter, and afterwards the Dairyman himself, used to sit.

TRUE PHILOSOPHY.—The New York Times takes the following liberal and sensible view of the defeat of the whig party.

"We are not among those who consider the welfare of the country, for all coming time, as irretrievably bound up in the result of any one election. While we think its best interest would have been promoted by the election of Gen. Scott, we readily concede that all the advantages are not upon one side, and that the country, ten years hence, may possibly be better off for the election of Gen. Pierce. In the long run, we believe the substantial interests of the country will vindicate themselves;—that if protection to our industry be indispensable to our prosperity, it will force itself in due time upon the government; and that it is not in the power of any administration greatly to check our advancement in that high career of social prosperity and of notional greatness upon which we have entered. And in all our judgements of parties and of men,—of administrations and of officers,—we shall look to the permanent good of the country, rather than to the considerations of temporary and party advantage."

APPROPRIATE PRESENT.—Some gentlemen boarders and guests, lately presented a hotelkeeper in Massachusetts, with a splendid carving knife and fork.

A TOBACCO STORY.—The Amherst, Mass. Express, says:

Deacon Ebenezer Rice, of Rowe, aged 71 years, mowed on the 22d day of last August, (it being his 71st birth day,) two acres of stout grass, beginning one hour after sunrise and finishing before 12 o'clock. The Deacon about one year ago left off entirely the use of tobacco, having been a most inveterate smoker for 40 years. He says he has paid out nearly three hundred dollars for tobacco. Since quitting the pipe he has greatly improved in health and bodily and mental vigor. He weighs over twenty pounds more than he did one year ago, and says he feels twenty years younger than 70. These are interesting facts and speak volumes against the use of tobacco.

The Custom House authorities of England have decided that dead rabbits are poultry. It may be so, but we don't believe it; they don't taste like chickens any how.—Boston Chronicle.

A new remedy for hydrophobia has been found. The wound must be washed with warm vinegar, or tepid water, and well dried. Then a few drops of muriatic acid must be poured on the bitten part.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

FANCY SHIP NEWS.—A fishing schooner was lately fitted out for fall fishing on the coast—but owing to bad weather, or some other cause, she made a harbor below, where she laid for about ten days, and until her owners, seeing no prospect of fish or fishing, interposed and took the vessel away from the crew, who were eating, drinking and making merry, regardless of to-morrow or a hard winter.

MR. MOSES, with his well-drilled and efficient choir of select Misses, will give one of his best Concerts this evening in the Cameneum, which he has fitted up at much cost, and in delightful taste. The programme is rich in beauty—and the performances will unquestionably be fine.

BENJ. WATSON.—The Boston papers say:—"The continued case of Benjamin Watson, charged with the larceny of seven silver spoons from some person unknown to the complainant, came up again. Mr. Allen, the complainant, asked for the government a further continuance. He exhibited to the Court a letter received from an officer at Portsmouth, N. H., who believed the property to have been stolen from the dwelling of Miss Elizabeth Lord, which was broken into some nights since.—Watson was shown the letter, and then at once objected to a further continuance; claimed his discharge, as nothing was shown against him. But the Court chose to hold him in $150 to again appear on Saturday next. He is a "nice young man," and says it is not possible for him to have taken them dishonestly.

SERIOUS TICKLING.—A young man has been arrested in Philadelphia, for endangering the life of a lad, by tickling him whenever he had an opportunity of doing so, holding him tightly between his legs while performing the operation. The last time, however, the lad, in struggling to get away, wrenched the leader of his leg at the knee, and since then he has been confined to his bed, and it is now the expressed opinion of the surgeons attending him that mortification will ensue, and that the only hope for the sufferer's life is a resort to amputation.

A new diving boat is now exhibiting at Cherbourg, in France. Dr Payerne is the inventor, and he has discovered means to descend to the bottom of the sea, and remain there with a body of operatives as long as he pleases, replacing by chemical means the oxygen absorbed. He has also found a mode of directing the boat under water, by steam, as if it were on the surface. He engages to reach the English coast from any harbour in France. This invention is promised the patronage of the Prince President.

TOO GOOD TO LOSE.—Our friend Smith, the Jeweler, two doors north of the Journal Office—who by the way is one of your ultra, indomitable, good-natured free-soilers — remarked to us yesterday morning, that the few free-soilers who were induced to be hitched on to the tail of the Whig Party, reminded him of the Irishman that tied his ram to the hind end of the last car of the train, the conductor having refused him an inside passage, and at the end of his journey, to his utter surprise, found nothing was left of the animal but the horns. Biddeford Journal.

BUST OF PRESIDENT FILLMORE.—The Transcript says that, as an appropriate mark of respect for the President of the United States, a number of gentlemen—Senators, Member of Congress, Judges of the Supreme Court, and citizens of both political parties—have employed Mr. D. Stone of Washington City, to execute a bust, in pure Italian marble, of Mr. Fillmore, with the design of having it placed permanently in the Presidental mansion, as an appropriate testimonial to the character of one who has so greatly adorned and dignified his high position.

VANITY.—Powerful telescopes have brought to light the fact that the heavenly old codger, Saturn, who has always been accused of wearing two enormous rings, has now provided himself with a third. Perhaps this last one is a California specimen, presented to him by Jupiter or Venus, or some other of his cronies in the solar system—most probably the Earth.—Charlestown Adv.

HOAX.—Some of the papers were hoaxed a few days ago, by a rather large draft on their credulity in a story of the expulsion of 47 students of Williams College, for going upon Greylock mountain without leave, on the advent of the first snow storm, and the unanimous resolution of the rest of the college to secede unless their comrades were restored.—Boston Daily Adv.

Rev. George Trask asserts that sleeping with a tobacco consumer actually affects the health of a person who does not use the article. The Boston Medical and Surgical Journal so far endorses his opinion as to say, "This has not before occurred to us, but on examination of the facts, there appears some reason in the statement."

"PROGRESS."—"And now that we have elected Frank Pierce, won't we have Cuba?"—said one of the "progressive" to ano.her.—"Yes, indeed," said Pat, "and then we'll just put him in another four years, and have the island of Great Britain, too!"—Portland Adv.

A prudent master advised his servant to put by his money for a rainy day. In a few weeks the master inquired how much of his wages he had saved. "None at all," said he; "I did as you bid me; it rained yesterday, and it all went."

The Colonial fishermen have suffered a good deal of annoyance from the close scrutiny of the squadron to detect foreign vessels under the British flag.

The man who travelled the "most direct route" to Blue Licks, lost his way and wandered up Salt River.

THE LAST OF THE PUNKAPOG INDIANS. Mary Burr, the last of the Punkapog Indians, died at Canton, Mass., on Monday last, aged 101 years. There are many half and quarter bloods of that tribe, but none of full blood. The deceased many years since married with a colored man named Semore Burr, and many of their children and grand-children are living in the State. At the time of her death, she drew a pension from the United States government, in consequence of services rendered by her husband in the revolutionary war. Eliza Williams, a sister of hers, died at Stoughton, four years since, aged 101 years and 1 month. Another sister Hannah Nuff, died at Canton a few years since, aged 99 years.—Herald.

A NEW ENGLAND CUSTOM.—According to universal custom, in the town of Marshfield, on the sabbath of Mr. Webster's death, between the hours of seven and eight in the morning, the bell of the parish church was rung violently, to announce to the startled inhabitants within hearing, that a death had occurred among them. Then it was struck three times three as a signal, that a male person had died. Next, the bell was struck slowly and deliberately seventy strokes, to denote the age of the dead; and then there went up a mournful voice from every house, "it must be that Daniel Webster is dead."

LATEST NEWS!

BY TELEGRAPH,

TO THE MORNING CHRONICLE.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.

A very large vote was thrown in the State to-day.

Boston gives Clifford, whig, 7488; Bishop, dem., 2469; Mann, free soil, 2023. Clifford's majority, 2897. About thirty-five towns now heard from show that there will be no choice of Governor by the people.

Messrs. Appleton and Walley, Whigs, are elected to Congress.

The State Senators and Representatives are all in doubt—five or six different tickets in the field.

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.—Baltimore, Nov. 7.—We have returns from 37 counties in North Carolina. The vote stands, Scott 11,951, Pierce 15,541—showing a Whig gain thus far, as compared with the August election, of 2878. The result in the whole State is in considerable doubt. The contest has been a close one.

RETURNS FROM TENNESSE AND KENTUCKY.—East Tennessee shows a Whig gain of nearly 200 over the last Governor's vote.

The democrats now concede that Tennessee and Kentucky have both given a small majority for Scott.

Baltimore, Nov. 7.—Three prisoners named Wm. Gault, John Dailey, and Joseph Conner, escaped from Baltimore jail this morning. Dailey and Conner were arrested to-day.—Gault is still at large. He was confined on the charge of murdering a German named Rasch, whom he had shot at mid-day.

Cincinnati, Nov. 6.—Dr. Daniel, the oldest physician and one of the first settlers in this city, died last night.

We have had some very heavy rains within the last four days, in consequence of which the Ohio River is rising very rapidly. There is now eight feet of water in the channel.

The returns from 40 counties indicate that Pierce's majority will be about 12,000.

FROM DEMERARA AND BARBADOES.—Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Advices from Georgetown, Demerara, to Oct. 11, report the yellow fever abating. The gold digging mania was on the increase. American Provisions were plenty. Mackerel and Lumber much wanted.

Dates from Bridgetown, Barbadoes, to the 15th ult., announce the yellow fever as still raging terribly. Thousands of the inhabitants had been swept off. The supply of produce was large.

SHIPWRECK AND SAD LOSS OF LIFE.—Erie, Nov. 8th.—The barque Rochester, bound from Cleveland to Buffalo with a cargo of 600 tons coal for Messrs. Mobie & Camplin, is now ashore about seven miles above this place. She lies on her beam ends, and will no doubt prove a complete wreck. Her crew, consisting of ten persons, are all supposed to have been lost, except the captain and one boy. The mate at last accounts was lashed to the rigging. The U. S. steamer Michigan has left for the scene of distress.

EARTHQUAKE IN VIRGINIA.—The Richmond Despatch states, that a severe shock of an earthquake was felt in that city on Tuesday evening, between 6 and 7 o'clock. In many places the "noise and confusion" produced by it, gave much alarm to families. The "oldest inhabitants" declared that it was the severest shock ever experienced. It was preceded, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, by a violent storm of wind, which lasted but a few minutes. Chimneys, trees, sign-boards, fences, &c., were in various places prostrated. On the farm of Mr. Richard Hill, about 5 miles below the city, a cabin, containing four servent men belonging to Mr. H., was blown down, burying the men in the ruins, but fortunately they were rescued with sligh injuries. The Petersburgh Express says that the shock was felt sensibly in that city also.

CHOLERA AT NASHAU, N. P.—Capt. Burnham, of bark Yuba, at Boston Saturday, from Nassau, N. P., Oct. 25, reports that when he sailed the cholera was raging to an alarming extent, there being 20 to 30 deaths a day.

MINOR RESUTS.—When a man's head is taken off by a cannon ball, it is no great matter whether he has or has not two or three bullets in his legs or arms. We are so badly beaten throughout the Union on President, that we have not chosen to waste the morning hours in making up tables of Members of Congress and Assembly probably elected.—N. Y. Trib.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Democrats of Nottingham were making preparations yesterday, to celebrate their victory, and for this purpose brought into requisition an old cannon which had been lying about the river bank since the Revolutionary war. They were trying the cannon, in order to have it ready for the evening meeting. At the third explosion it burst and killed William Dansberry. A fragment of the gun struck him, and knocked him a distance of 10 or 12 feet, killing him instantly.—Newark Adv., Friday.

The Buffalo and Rochester Railroad Company has formally transferred to the Buffalo and New York city road, that portion of the road purchased by the latter, and for which they paid on Monday last $292,000 in cash. The remainder of the purchase money, $30,000, is to be paid on the 28th instant. The track will be widened, and is expected to be completed by about the 20th inst.

GERRIT SMITH.—It is somewhat singular that Gerrit Smith is chosen to Congress in a district which gives Pierce 700 majority.—Fred. Douglass has been upon the stump for Smith, and the result may be attributable to his exertions.

TUSCANY.—It will be recollected the Tuscan government recently condemned Francisco Madiai, and Rosa his wife, to upwards of four years of brutal and infamous punishment in the prisons of forced labor of Volterra and the Ergastolo, or female galleys, at Lucca, for the offence of possessing and reading the Holy Scriptures and the English Book of Common Prayer. This monstrous sentence, which was first pronounced by the Corte Regia of Florence on the 4th June, after a preliminary detention of ten months in the common jail of that city, has since been confirmed by the court of cassation. This outrage on humanity and religion has drawn forth earnest remonstrances from the King of Prussia and other high personages in Europe, who have brought this case under the distinct personal knowledge of the Grand Duke of Tuscany. But that prince adheres with the implacable bigotry of a fanatic to a sentence that degrades himself far more than it can injure the victims of his cruelty, since it gives fresh force and truth to the worst charges ever brought against the authority he represents and the church to which he belongs.

WELLINGTON.—As a boy he went to Eton with his brothers, but remained there only a short time. His mother, Lady Mornington, then took him abroad; but, finding him troublesome in the carriage, dropped him at Douay. Here, luckily, there was an artillery school and arsenal, and, as the town is fortified and protected by a fort on the Scharpe, and was also taken by Marlborough: these circumstances may in some measure account for his early military studies. Lady Mornington did not see him for two years after this separation, and when he returned to England, recognized him at the Haymarket theatre, saying: "I do believe that there is my ugly boy Arthur."

PRIDE.—We all "look down" on somebody. The man of bullion on the shopkeeper, the shopkeeper on his clerks; the clerks turn up their noses at mechanics, while the mechanics are above associating with hod carriers; the seamstress won't speak to radish pedlars, while the radish girls think it low and vulgar to speak to the little huxzies who keep the crossings clean. Who the latter look down upon we have not learned, although there is no doubt they consider themselves far above somebody. Queer, isn't it?

COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES. As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed shat this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in an ordinary Stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the State," "Bay State," "Angelo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, called the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shade, Table Oil-cloths, &c., &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE is offered to the public by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and SHOP STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy the BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

THE FASHIONS FOR 1852-53.

Mrs. Bloomer—who must be the best authority in the world—publishes the following important information relative to the Bloomer fashions for the season, in the last number of the Lily, a very pretty litt'e monthly quarto, edited and published by her at Seneca Falls :—

We have several letters of inquiry about the style of making the short dress, and also what style of hat is to be worn the coming winter.

It is a little perplexing to us to answer such questions, for we know very little about fashions, and we do not wish to set ourself up as a pattern for others. We are not aware that there is any particular style for making the short dress, or any new fashions for it. At least we have none, but make ours just to suit our own fancy and comfort, and we hope others will do the same. We believe our dress does not differ materially from those worn by others, except in the length of the skirt and boddice, and in giving ourself room to breathe freely, depending on our muscles instead of whalebone, for support. And this we consider all important, whether the skirt be long or short. Another important consideration which we urge upon our ladies is, the supporting of under skirts by elastic suspenders (the same as those worn by men, and worn in the same manner,) instead of letting them rest upon the hips. They are perfectly easy, and far preferable to "straps." We are happy to know that they are now worn to a considerable extent, and they will be generally adopted when their advantages become known.

The prettiest style of cloak for the short dress is a full circle, or Spanish cloak. The Sacque looks well, and is very convenient, as it leaves the arms free.

Both bonnets and hats are worn. If a hat, the beaver is preferable, though they may be made of silk or velvet. The trousers are made mostly straight and plain, or with "spring bottoms," though some still prefer them full, and confined at the ankle.

The large number of ladies who attended the meeting here on the 14th ult. dressed in short skirts and trousers proved the falsity of the statements made by some of the papers that this style of dress has become extinct; the number present on that occasion was by different persons estimated as high as fifty, and they came from different sections of the State. Lucy Stone, whom all so much admired, we are happy to see still adheres to this style of dress.

THE MAN THAT DON'T READ THE PAPERS. The following incident actually occurred in this city yesterday :

A young man about 25 years old, from Columbia, in Morris Co., was at the corner of Green and Liberty streets, with a load of potatoes, which he was selling. Some of the bystanders were remarking upon the whig defeat and the election generally, when their conversation caught the ear of the countryman, and he inquired with earnestness what had been going on. He was informed that an election had taken place, and Gen. Pierce had been chosen President.

"Why," said the youth, "what did they do that for? I thought we had a President now."

The amusement created by the guileless ignorance of the uninformed youth may be imagined.—Newark Daily Adv.

LONGEVITY IN CANADA.— The Montreal Herald mentions some singular instances of longevity which were brought to light by the late census. It says :

"We understand that more than twenty persons are to be returned, whose ages are said to exceed one hundred years. The most venerable Patriarch of these, if we make no mistake, resides in the township of Grey, Simcoe County, aged 115 years. Ninety-five years ago he scaled the cliffs of Quebec with Gen. Wolf, so that his residence in Canada is coincident with British rule in the Province. He has attached himself to the Indians, and lives, in all respect like them. This veteran is named is named Abraham Miller. Gallantry will not permit us to omit honorable mention of an equally distinguished person of the other sex. Helen Maguire is one hundred and six years of age. She still dresses without help, and walks out for air and exercise whenever the weather is sufficiently fine to tempt her from the chimney corner. She still has all her faculties, and threads a needle without spectacles."

SUICIDE IN NEW YORK.—An inquest was held on Thursday on the body of Mary Verplank, a young lady 15 years of age, who committed suicide by taking arsenic. The deceased, who was the daughter of Mr. Verplank, pilot on board the steamboat Francis Skiddy, had been living for some time in Albany with her mother, and while there became acquainted with a young man, who professed a devoted attachment to her, and obtained a promise of marriage. Shortly after this pledge was given, the young men in question came into the possession of a considerable amount of property, and money willed to him by a rich relative, when his matrimonial views were soon materially altered, and he sent word to Mary to think no more of him ; he could not think of fulfilling his engagement.

This heartless act on his part preyed deeply on the young lady's mind, and before leaving Troy to come to New York on Monday, the 1st inst., she purchased a quantity of arsenic and swallowed a portion of it before getting on board the Francis Skiddy. Her father observed that she was sick, and had her removed to a state room where she confessed that she had taken poison, and gave the above reason for the act. She was attended on board by a physician, and lived until she reached New York. She died in her father's arms on being conveyed to her residence in a carriage. The Coroner's Jury rendered the usual verdict.

PORTSMOUTH:
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1852.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.

The State Election which took place in Massachusetts on Monday, in its general results may be briefly summed up as follows:—There is no choice of Governor by the people, though Clifford has made a much better run than Scott did last week. The election of Gov'r accordingly rests with the Legislature. It will be impossible to form an opinion of the character of the House until after the elections of the fourth Monday, as a large number of towns have made as yet no choice. As far as heard from the members are about the same as last year.

In the Senate the Whigs have 6 members from Suffolk, 2 from Hampshire, and 2 from Barnstable. The coalition have chosen in Worcester 5, Plymouth 2 and Berkshire 2.—The others no choice.

The people have voted to call a Convention to revise the constitution, by a majority of about 5000. The vote is less full than that for Governor.

In Boston, for Representatives there were eight tickets run.

The result for Members of Congress, is the choice of three whigs—Walley, Scudder and Appleton—and no choice in eight districts.

MANSLAUGHTER. — We learn from the Ellsworth (Me.) Herald that Jefferson Frasier was tried at Ellsworth last week on the charge of manslaughter, in causing the death of Almira Townsend in August last, by running against her in reckless driving. The cause was heard before his Honor Judge Appleton. Amo Wiswell, County Attorney, appeared for the State, and Thomas Richardson for the prisoner. He was convicted, and sentenced to six months imprisonment in the county jail. The sentence, though light, is sufficient perhaps to teach "fast drivers" that human beings are more valuable than horse-flesh.

The sentence is altogether too light. There was a recklessness about the young man's conduct, as published when the death occurred, that should equitably have called for a longer imprisonment. He was probably not sober at the time.

BROWN'S ALMANAC for 1853, with Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, is out in season, well printed, on the best of writing paper. This is the 16th year of its publication—and it has had and deserved, a large sale. It is published in Charlestown, by McKim & Cutter—and sold in this city by J. H. Foster.

LOUIS NAPOLEON IN NEW YORK CITY. The Brooklyn Daily Advertiser, moralizing upon the rapid ascent of Louis Napoleon up the ladder of his ambition, from positive poverty, to superlative grandeur and power, recalls some reminiscenses of his sojourn in New York many years ago. The Editor says:—

"What strange events have occurred within a few years in reference to that man! We knew him whilst he was residing in New York, at a lodging house in Reade street, then kept by a gentleman who now occupies a high official position under the French Government. At that time he was very poor and very dissipated. Notoriously profligate in his habits, and without the pecuniary ability to indulge to the full bent of his inclination the culpable propensities which characterized him, he was frequently expelled from certian places in which he obtruded himself, and more than a dozen times was the occupant of a cell at the old Jail in the Park, long since torn down.

Not long prior to his leaving the United States, he was arrested for a misdemeanor committed by him at the disreputable house of a woman whose establishment he often visited, and, the writer of this article was employed professionally by him to save him from the thratened consequences of his recklessness and indiscretion. We little supposed at that time that the thoughtless young man who was then our client, (and who is still indebted to us for counsel fees and disbursements) would become Emperor of France. Such, however, is now his 'manifest destiny.'

BITTEN BY A DOG.—About eight o'clock this morning a lad named Charles G. Moore, son of A. Moore, Esq., was very badly bitten by a watch dog belonging to Messrs. Newell Harding & Co. Young Moore opened the door of the shop where the dog was, for the purpose of ascertaining the time of day, and was in the act of leaving, and had the door partly closed, when the dog rushed out, and following Moore a very short distance sprang upon him from behind, and bit him through the back part of the thigh. Losing his hold the dog next sprang for the boy's throat but was knocked off, and immediately seized him through the fleshy part of the thigh, and clung to him untill he was torn off by force, lacerating the flesh most shockingly. The injured boy was immediately conveyed to his home, where medical aid was called, and his wounds, eight in number, properly dressed. No serious results are anticipated from the injuries, and the boy is as comfortable as could be expected under the circumstances. It is but a short time since the same animal attacked and badly wounded a man.—Boston Journal.

☞ The Hutchinson family have written home that their journey in California, in one year, has furnished more solid gold profit than a lifetime would in the States.

A MAD RIDE.

On Saturday last, in Commercial street in Boston, a pedlar got off his cart for a moment, leaving his gentle but spirited horse, as he thought, safe enough. But when he had finished his errand in a store, and went out to take his seat again, it was gone,—horse, carriage and all—out of sight. After much anxiety and a long search about the city, he found his horse well tired out, goods safe, carriage not broken—but the whip was gone.

It appeared that one Margaret Hewes, a crazy woman, had jumped upon the cart, and drove about the city four hours, then leaving the team, but carrying off the whip. The owner attempted on Monday in the City Court to get up a complaint against her for stealing the horse and wagon, but failing in that, had her arrested for stealing the whip. On being brought up for examination, there did not appear to be any evidence of stealing, and she was discharged. She left the court room just as the polls were closing, for the election, exclaiming, "Thank your honor," "God save the commonwealth."

We regret to learn that the Hon. Myron Lawrence died at his residence at Belchertown, Mass., on Sunday evening. He was fifty-three years of age.

ELECTION IN LOUISIANA.—New Orleans, Oct. 8.—Pierce's majority is probably from 1200 to 1500.

GO IT BOOTS.—In a University in Virginia some years ago the students' boots were proscribed, from the fact that they sent them to be tapped so often. It was found that they were sent with a bottle in them, and required tapping oftener than the interests of the institution allowed.

FUN OF THE ELECTION.

HORRIBLE ABUSE OF THE FRANKING PRIVILEGE BY GEN. FRANK PIERCE.—On Tuesday last the President elect frank'd the entire whig party up Salt river, making them all dead heads.

A whig paper says the election returns come in rather slowly. No States of any particular importance have been heard from except Vermont and Massachusetts.

LAYING IN A STOCK OF HATS.—A democrat in Providence bet twenty-one hats upon the general result of the election, and upon different States, every one of which, of course, he has won.

AN INCIDENT AT THE POLLS.—On Tuesday a patriotic Irishman, a little under the influence of "old rye," after depositing his vote, espied the contribution box for the Washington monument; and in the generosity of his heart, took out the contents of his pocket-book, $45, and deposited the whole amount in the box. His wife came to the polls a few hours afterwards, and made such representation of her circumstances, that the judges of the election humanely returned her $40 of the money deposited by her over-generous husband.—Cincinnati Gazette.

A whig in Boston received a letter from a brother whig in New York, saying that he had just learnt that the democrats had an election this week, and forgot to notify the whigs.

"Scott leads the column" sure. Any information as to the whereabouts of that 'column' will be thankfully rewarded.

MORE FUN OF THE ELECTION.

We have given several scraps of fun of this kind, collected by the New York Herald, and now make a selection from the Lowell Courier, a whig paper. The first item is in the form of an advertisement, which the editor heads "Locofoco papers for sale," and he lets it run on thus:

For the last month or two we have kept a file of some of the principal locofoco papers, (New Hampshire Patriot, Boston Times, &c.,) for the purposes of comparing their predictions in regard to Pierce's prospects with the result, and copying them with "capitals,"&c., upon Scott's election, to show how abominably they deceived themselves! "Circumstances" not calling for their use—they will be sold at a bargain. Whig papers containing predictions, thrown in to match.

Next he copies the "Voyage up Salt River," and praises it highly, adding:

"There seems to be only one thing wanting in the description, and that is, the voyager neglects to inform us whether Gen. Scott, in the course of his trip up to the head of navigation, made any enquiries touching a "site for a hospital."

Lastly, he notices the "Presidential Equinox," on which he discourses thus:

"There has been rather a stiff blow on the whole—a very smart shower indeed, for the season, accompanied by very sharp thunder and lightning. Every tree in the garden is postrated, except several magnificent oaks—but then there are acorns enough on the ground to raise up a tremendous forest!—"Keep a stiff upper lip," as the man said to the innocent fellow whose teeth he had knocked out—"Only keep it stiff, and you'll get over it, when the swelling goes down."

GOLD IN DEMARARA.—Late accounts from Georgetown, Dem., state that gold to the amount of $485,000 has been found on the confines of the colony towards Venezuela.—Gold increases in abundance as the search is prosecuted.

Eight missionaries, with their families, twenty-two in all, sail from New York during the present week for California, in the clipper ship Trade Wind, under the auspices of the American Home Missionary Society.

We learn from the N. Y. Evangelist that the Rev. Dr. Edward Robinson has just arrived home from Palestine, after an absence of more than a year.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

For the Chronicle.

THE PORTSMOUTH BATH HOUSE.

Messrs. Editors:—I saw by a late paper that the Portsmouth Bath House, with its furniture and lot, is to be sold at auction. No doubt the Directors have good reasons for this measure, at least such as are satisfactory to their own minds, although the public have not been informed of them. One cannot however, help regretting the necessity (if there be any) of selling off an establishment which for nearly half a century has largely contributed to the cleanliness and consequent health of the inhabitants of Portsmouth. It had its origin, as is well known, in the prudent forethought and benevolent enterprise of the late Daniel Austin, Esq., who as early as 1803 or 1804, wrote to Boston, Philadelphia, &c., for information on the subject of a Bath House, and succeeded at length in interesting Dr. Lyman Spaulding, the two Drs. Cutter, and several influential individuals, and obtaining their concurrent aid for the project. A lot was purchased of the late Mrs. Mary Champney, and such a building erected upon it as comported with the inferior ability of the times.—That it has been a benefit to this community no one will doubt; and the hope is warmly cherished by many that the corporation will continue to exist, and erect a better edifice in a still better location. An increasing population requires such an establishment now more than ever. We owe it to ourselves to sustain the present or to have one of a superior character. It is thought moreover to be due to the memory of the man, who besides being in other respects a most useful citizen, caused to be built the first three storied store in this town, introduced among us with much exertion and cost the Rumford apparatus, and procured for us the blessing of a Bath House. X.

The whole Bath House establishment is valuable in thought to those who love to connect together the past, the present and the future. The man who keeps it now, has been its keeper for more than half its long existence—and the regulations and directions, which were printed when it was first opened, are now pasted on its walls, never having been superseded or essentially altered. These directions state that tickets are to be sold by traders whom the present generation knows not, and in places that now know them no more.

We are happy now to be informed, that some friends of the old Bath House, and especially of its old keeper, Mr. Moses, hope to avoid the necessity of a sale, and thus to keep him in his place, and the house in its usual order. One thing is very clear; we must either keep this house or have a better, viz.: a Salt Water Bath, to be at once a bathing house and swimming school. To this complexion we must come at last—and we shall come to it in due time. We hope to keep the old faithful servant in this place till the other is ready, and in one or the other as long as he lives.

GEN. PIERCE NOT COMING TO PORTSMOUTH.—The Concord Capital Reporter says:

"We have the very best authority for saying that Gen. Pierce has no intention to "take up his residence in Portsmouth" or any other place than Concord, until he removes to the White House at Washington."

This may be deemed official and conclusive, as "the very best" can be no other than the General himself.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

Rev. Mr. HOLMES, pastor, will preach in the Pleasant Street Church to-morrow, at the usual hour in the morning—when he will endeavor to show, from the Old and New Testaments, whether there is or is not any thing therein contained, that sanctions involuntary servitude.

Rev. Mr. WILLIS will preach in the Universalist Church, to-morrow.

Rev. Mr. DWIGHT will preach in the North Church, to-morrow.

☞ The Liquor Law has not yet got along this way, as the reader will see by looking at the great auction sale of liquors of many names and ages, doubtless all very fine in their way—but not being in our line we cannot vouch for them.

Some of the names are odd enough, as "Creme de Bousy" and "Lachrima Christi."

☞ Mr. Moses' Concert, last evening, at the Cameneum, was beautifully designed and executed. It was the first performance of any kind in the Camenecum, since its interior has been renovated and decorated. The room is now one of the most pleasant and comfortable for a select concert, lyceum, or genteel assemblage of any description.

GEN. SCOTT.—The Washington Telegraph says the statement that General Scott was to leave that city on Tuesday morning last is untrue, and adds that on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday he has been constant in his attention to the business of his office, civil, cheerful and quiet; and no man not acquainted with the facts could believe it possible that he had any more interest in the great events passing in the country than the plainest citizen in our midst. By sunrise each morning he has been seen upon Pennsylvania avenue, taking his accustomed walk, and exchanging salutations with the friends whom he encounters. The Telegraph also predicts that if, during Gen. Pierce's administration, any emergency should arise calling for General Scott's counsels, the existence of a most friendly and agreeable intimacy would be found between him and President Pierce.

"The Quadroon balls at New Orleans," says an English writer, "take place in a large saloon; at the entrance, where you pay half a dollar, you are requested to leave your implements, by which is meant your bowie-knives and revolvers; and you leave them as you would your overcoat on going into the opera, and get a ticket with their number, and on your way out they are returned to you. You hear the pistol and bowie-knife keeper in the arms-room call out, "No. 45—a six-barrelled repeater." "No. 100—one eight-barrelled revolver, and bowie-knife with a death's head and cross-bones cut on the handle." "No. 95—a brace of double-barrels." All this is done as naturally as possible."

A striking illustration of historic justice is seen in the elevation of Louis Napoleon.—Napoleon divorced Josephine that he might have a son of his own to wear his crown after him. That divorce was his ruin, and his child sleeps in an Austrian grave. And now this grandson of Josephine, but bastard Bonaparte—in whose veins there runs notoriously no drop of Bonaparte blood—sits upon the throne from which she was repudiated. Thus does time pour contempt upon the name and fame of the Conqueror, and bitterly avenge the wrongs of the Woman. It is a fact to which those who speculate on the symbolic meaning of events may easily attach a universal significance.

LATEST NEWS!

LATEST FROM HAVANA.

By a despatch from New Orleans, it appears that the steamer Crescent City arrived there on the 6th, from Havana 3d inst.

It is certain that the Crescent City difficulty is not settled, nor has any progress been made toward it.

"As she was about approaching the port on her passage from New York, a pilot came alongside and inquired if either Lieut. Porter, or Wm. Smith, the Purser, was on board.—He was told that Lieut. Porter was not on board, but that Mr. Smith was. He then declined taking the ship into port. Capt. Davenport, who was in command of the vessel, however, paid no attention to his remarks, and taking the responsibility upon himself, soon brought his ship to her anchorage.

The captain of the port shortly after came alongside, and on being informed that Purser Smith was on board, stated that no communication with the shore would be allowed until he had had an interview with the Captain General, and returned to the vessel. On his return he told Capt. Davenport that the orders of the Capt. General were that the mails and regular passengers for Havana would be allowed to land, but no one else would be permitted to come ashore.

Capt. Davenport thereupon exhibited to the Captain of the Port a paper which he stated he had just received from the American Consul, in which assurance was given him that the late difficulty had been fully settled between Judge Conklin, the American Minister, and the Captain General,—the former having notified the American Consul to that effect,—excepting that Lieut. Porter or Purser Smith would not be permitted to come ashore.

The captain of the port said this statement was a mistake—the difficulty had not been settled, but the mails and passengers would this time be allowed to land. Should Purser Smith, however, return in the vessel, on her way from New Orleans to New York, she would in no case be allowed to communicate with the shore. The captain of the port further stated that the Spanish Minister at Washington had written to the Captain General, informing him, on the authority of the American Secretary of State, that Smith should positively not be permitted to go out in the steamer again to Havana.

After much more controversy, and after some passengers had landed, the Crescent City took her departure.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE STAR OF THE WEST.

The steamer Star of the West arrived at New York on Monday evening. She brings 300 passengers and $500,000 in specie. She left San Juan on the 31st Oct., with the passengers from the steamer which arrived at San Juan del Sud from San Francisco the day previous.

The dates are from California to the 14th October. The political excitement was running high. Pierce and Scott processions were marching through the streets every night. An attempt to get up a Free Soil meeting proved an entire failure.

The corner stone of the French theatre has been laid.

Capt. Waterman, late of the ship Challenge, had been appointed Port Warden of San Francisco.

Steamer John P. Flint was wrecked on the 22d of September.

The news from the gold diggings is cheering.

Great distress exists among the overland emigrants.

Ship Lydia, from Philadelphia, during the voyage, had her cargo broken into, and a considerable portion stolen by the crew. It was found secreted between decks, and on the arrival in port the crew were arrested and committed.

The order from the Treasury Department in Washington, prohibiting the receipt of the $50 ingots issued in the Assay Office, in payment of custom-house dues in New York creates great excitement among the business men of San Francisco. A meeting of the merchants was called, and the Exchange room was filled by all the first business men of the place. After a protracted discussion, a committee of five was appointed to make suitable provision for the exigency. They subsequently submitted a report, accepting in effect the voluntary proposition made by Mr. King, namely, to continue receiving ingots as usual, provided the importers would enter into a bond to indemnify him for any pecuniary loss which he might sustain in consequence. The report was accepted, and a memorial praying the Secretary of the Treasury to approve the course proposed by Mr. King was unanimously adopted.

The Pavilion Hotel, Brighton, near Sacramento, together with its outhouses, has been destroyed by fire. Loss $30,000. Occupied by Charles Denman.

Governor Gaines has made a requisition upon the Commandant of Vancouver for government stores and the means for immediate transportation to relieve the distressed emigrants, pledging the faith of the territory to hold that officer harmless for all consequences of said action.

IMPORTANT DECISION IN A SLAVE CASE.

A case of considerable importance has been pending for some time in the U. S. Circuit Court in Philadelphia, involving a decision of what the Fugitive Slave Law means by harboring and concealing slaves. Cecil Oliver and others, of Maryland, brought an action against Daniel Kauffman and others of Pennsylvania, for harboring and concealing thirteen runaway slaves. A verdict of $2800 against Kauffman, and of acquittal of the others, has at length been rendered. Judge Grier, in his charge to the jury, took the ground that the Fugitive Slave Act did not contemplate making mere acts of charity and kindness to the fugitive a crime; but that the "harboring" contemplated as criminal, must include the idea of encouraging the slave in his escape from his master, and impeding and frustrating the attempts of the master to reclaim.

ANOTHER OXFORD BEAR CAPTURED.—Mr. Edward S. Manes, of Fryeburg Academy Grant, in this county, has had his cornfield infested by Bears, and much damage done this season. On the night of the 21st ult., after having discovered the beats or paths by which the field was entered, he set a trap in one, and three guns, well charged with balls, in as many of the other beats, determined to give Bruin a hug or a warm reception on his next visits. Each gun covered the path or beat, and had a cord attached to the trigger and running across the beat, so that Bruin was pretty sure to "catch it," if he entered in either of his accustomed paths. The next morning he was found "done for." One of the guns had been discharged, the contents taking effect in the flank of the left side and passing, in its course, through the bowels, liver and lungs, and lodging in the right shoulder. He struggled to regain his native wilds, but only succeeded in getting about thirty rods, and "give out."

He girthed five feet three inches, and weighed when dressed, three hundred and sixty lbs., and over sixty pounds of "leaf" or "rough fat," was taken out of him. He is supposed to have been an old offender, against whom the farmers of that section have often made war, for his ungovernable propensity to seize and take forcible possession of mutton and various other of their goods and chattels, as he had the marks and scars of quite a number of bullets on different parts of his body.—The whole region is rejoiced that he has at length met with justice, for he has been a great scourge and thief.—Norway (Me.) Advertiser.

SINGULAR.—A gentleman of our acquaintance, living in Boston, has been of late sadly puzzled at the unaccountable failure of an excellent cow of his, to give her usual quantity of milk. But one morning this week, on going to the yard where the cow was kept he found his dog, (a two year old terrier) busily engaged in extricating from the readily yielding cow the milk that belonged to his master.

We have before heard of black snakes interfering with the rights of the dairy, but this is the first instance that has been brought to our knowledge of such interference by the canine species. A waggish friend of ours suggests that however the aforesaid terrier may be valued as a watch-dog, he is evidently a cow (hjerd! But it is our opinion that he is a "reg'lar suck."—Chelsea Telegraph.

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale N sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed what this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past two years.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The fires are large, which insures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a Stove, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

A BELLE OF A NEW COLOR.

Mr. N. P. Willis, in his last letter home from the island of Martinique, gives a description of a fashionable belle—one of the "upper ten"—of Port Royal. She talks French with great elegance, and is esteemed one of the most accomplished girls on the island. We quote a portion of the description—Mr. Grinnell and Mr. Willis having been favored with a presentation to her:

"M'lle Julictte is of the blood that does not thin with the climate, as do the whites. She is about nineteen, and as plump as Hebe—her original model from Nature apparently just perfected. Her skin, though as black a one as I ever saw, is fine-grained and lustrous, and her shoulders, (there was no denying,) quite beautiful. The gorgeous colored Madras turban covered her forehead to the eyebrows, and, with a long sweep of twisted fold over the cheek, concealed the hair—the lace hem of her snowy chemise being the next downward interruption to the lines of ebony. Her features are strictly African—the lips full, and the nose of that degree of flatness which is only affectionate, and which I take to be the highest expression of this shape in contradistinction to the more repelling aqualine.

Her eyes would have been beautiful if there had been anything white in the neighborhood with which to contrast them—but black eyes on so black a ground were "coals to Newcastle." They had one fine quality, however; they had never been contracted with a suspicion, or a withdrawal of confidence, or an attempt to understand anything that did not speak for itself; and they were, consequently, as tranquilly open as the cups of two waterlilies.

Her smile was of the same never-startled confidingness—coming and going with the ease of a shadow—and her teeth were only too white and perfect for any piquancy of expression. No jeweller could have cut them more evenly out of pearl. Her little fat black hands were daintily tapered, and looked lady-like. She wore large rings, and these with her heaps of gold chains and the enormous gold ear-rings, which they call cinq-clous, made a sort of barbaric glitter, with her lively gestures and expressive motions of the head, which seemed to me very picturesque."

A DIVISION OF TEXAS has been in agitation in that State for more than two years past. At the present time the advocates for division are mainly in Eastern Texas, where several newspapers are enlisted in the cause.—We are informed by the Houston Telegraph, that the scheme is rapidly gaining favor, and that it is even proposed to hold an extra session of the Legislature upon the subject.—The Telegraph strenuously opposes it, urging that, if there should be a division of the State, as proposed, into Eastern and Western Texas, there would be great danger of the western section becoming a free State, which the Telegraph thinks would much depreciate the value of slave property in Eastern Texas. It is stated that the success attending the culture of sugar in Texas has been such that the country between the Trinity and Guadalupe rivers is rapidly filling up with planters, and if the State remains united for some years longer, it will be pretty well peopled with a slaveholding population.—Philadelphia North American.

CARPET PANTALOONS.—Under the head of "Novel Exchange," the New York Home Journal fairly hits off the monstrous pantaloonery of the present fashion.

"Carpets have risen, apparently, not in price that we know of, but risen from the floors which they used to cover, to envelope the persons of the rapid youth of this metropolis. It is said—and who that walks Broadway can doubt it?—that the ingenuity of the makers of pantaloon stuffs, having been put to such exceedingly severe tests during the last ten years, gave out a few months since.—In his despair, one of the leading men in that branch of business sat ruminating—so the story goes—with his eyes fixed gloomily on the CARPET, which chanced to be of a vociferous pattern, a very noisy pattern, indeed; "loud," in short, or "stunning," as the English say. An idea seized him. He rushed to the counting-room of a large carpet manufactory near by, and borrowed a little library of old pattern books. From that hour all was well. He sat up half the night examining, admiring, selecting. In the morning the requisite orders were given, and all hands were set at work. The result he who runs may see. Carpets have risen, and now perambulate the streets. Accelerated young gentlemen wear their blushing honors thick, very thick, and very broad upon them."

The New York Herald gives a long account of an attempt made a few weeks since to destroy the life of Bennett, its editor, by means of an infernal machine which was sent to that office. It did not, however, kill him, as he is known to have left for Europe soon after. The package was left at the Herald office by a hackman, was directed to Jas. Gordon Bennett, and was marked on the outside to contain "silver and copper ore from the Cuba mountains;" but on the inside a label was affixed which stated that the package contained important papers from Cuba. It was found very difficult to open the box, and a hole was cut in the lid, when a substance resembling powder was found. A full description is given of the contents of the box, from which it appears that there were explosive compounds enough in it to have caused the death of all near it on explosion. About a dozen hard paper pellets were found among the powder, designed to have acted as bullets.

DAILY
PORTSMOUTH:
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1852.

CUBA AND ST. DOMINGO.

The news from Havana, which we gave in the Chronicle yesterday morning, shows very clearly that the Spanish authorities in Cuba are dreadfully jealous of every American citizen who has opinions about Cuba and publishes them in the newspapers, or who communicates intelligence through the same channel which may be deemed unfavorable to Spanish supremacy in that Island.

This would be a matter of little consequence, if the same authorities did not go beyond proper national bounds in quarreling against real or supposed offenders against their peace and safety—and if there was not a set of men in this country watching every opportunity to pounce upon Cuba as their prey, and seising upon every pretext to inflame our excitable populace against Spanish rule in Cuba.

But with these circumstances, and with others to be here described, it is no easy task for our own national executive to keep our own fillibusters in check, and at the same time to keep old Spanish insolence from becoming intolerable in the Island of Cuba.

The other circumstances referred to are described by the Turks Island Gazette, in an article published more than two months ago, speaking the two enterprises as combined in one object, viz: an invasion of St. Domingo first, with a view to a subsequent invasion of Cuba. The project is thus described in that article:—

"A powerful expedition is fitting out in the United States, under the pretext of availing themselves of the emigration decree just passed by the Dominican Congress, which certainly Senor Buez did not intend for the Americans, but for the French. It has opened the door to the American adventurers, who project the establishment of a foothold in St. Domingo, where the expeditions might assemble, and thence concert their attacks more conveniently upon Cuba.

"Their intentions are to land as immigrants under the protection of the law, with assumed professions also of assisting the Dominicans against Soulouque." The drift of the object contemplated is to subjugate both the Dominicans and Haytiens, to compel all the blacks to labor according to the code rural, and ultimately to flood the country with a white population. Cuba is to be treated in the same manner, and the Americans hope thereby to establish a monopoly of all tropical products, such as they now enjoy of the article of cotton.

The immigrants, it is said, will be accompanied by four or five thousand Texans, Kentuckians, &c., to protect the "settlers" against the attacks of the Emperor Soulouque, who seems determined upon an invasion."

The New York Enquirer, professing to understand the subject, says, instead of thousands enlisted in the expedition organized for St. Domingo, it is of hundreds only, and adds:

What the ultimate object of the emigrants is, is known to nobody, probably not even to themselves. Most certain it is, that if there is any Filibusterism in these proceedings, it is entirely disconnected with the Cuban movement. That there is an expedition, a formidable expedition in which thousands of men are enlisted, now prepared to sail for Cuba whenever the signal shall be given by the leaders is also a fixed fact. But the object of these men is solely the disruption of Cuba from the Spanish government. They have not the least connection with the St. Domingo affair.

The Enquirer then goes on to state that,

"It is in a forward state of preparation, and it is represented that the utmost care has been taken by the leaders not to violate the neutrality laws of the United States. All the arms and ammunition required have been procured abroad in large quantities, and are now deposited without the bounds of the United States, in a depot known only to a few of the leading spirits. Not even a pop-gun has been procured in the United States."

The men, as we have before stated, are to go out, unarmed, and thus proclamations, revenue cutters and steamers of the U. S. will be rendered of no avail against the expedition.

This, it must be confessed, gives the whole fillibuster movement a great degree of importance; and this movement will be an element of great power in disturbing the fancied peace and quiet into which sundry politicians have represented the country as settling.

We have now before us half a dozen papers, whig and democratic, which represent the late election of Mr. Pierce for president, as a great decision in favor of the Union, by which they must mean to be understood that it would have been in some danger if Scott had been chosen. One of them, a paper of no mean standing, and almost whig in its politics, goes so far as to express its strong convictions, almost certainty, that the coming administration, while it would properly resent every insult of Spain or its colony toward us, would at the same time preserve our treaty with Spain inviolate, and frown on the fillibusters generally.

Now this may all turn out so—but we cannot pin our faith to it. We have some recollections of the movements and counter-movements about Texas and Mexico, years ago.—We remember Gen. Jackson's proclamation against fitting out armed expeditions against a Mexican province. And yet they were fitted out—every man, and every gun, and every horse, going across our line.

Now we hope the paper referred to will not pretend that Gen. Pierce is either a better patriot or a stronger man than Gen. Jackson. And if he is not, then the Cubaneers may be as successful now, as the Texans were in the days of Gen. Jackson.

We expect to see this subject coming up again and again, in various shapes, and in various places,—before Congress, and before the people. And it will require all the wisdom we have among us to keep this matter right side up, and keep our Union in its proper place.

We do not deem the dissolution of the Union to be half so likely as its indefinite expansion, by the absorption of neighboring territory. We deem the election, now just past, as confirming the policy of annexation.

The next question is, how shall we annex? the most cheaply, and the most beneficially?

THANKSGIVING.

This is the only general festival of New England. Christmas, (more's the pity) is observed by only a few sects,—but Thanksgiving is every body's day in all the land of the Pilgrims; and we are happy to say that the custom of keeping it is extending through the country. It is, to be sure, less a religious festival than it used to be—that is, less religious in the matter of Church-going. But the family feature in its observance is scarcely less important than the religious or worshipping observance. Love to man whom we have seen, is the best evidence we can give of our love to the unseen Deity—and the re-union of families, parents, children and grandchildren, round the ample and well-filled board, is calculated to prompt some of the most pleasant as well as profitable reflections.

Some persons have desired to have a simultaneous thanksgiving throughout New England—but it is better, on account of families, to have it on different days. Every family must of course be composed of members from at least two others, and where Thanksgivings are held on different days in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts, families intermarried and connected across State lines, can easily make two or more pleasant family gatherings.

The occasions for Thanksgiving among us this year, are abundant and various; a fruitful season; general health; national peace; personal freedom; religious liberty—life and the means of happiness. No nation has enjoyed more—few so much as we have, of the bounty of Heaven.

MASSACHUSETTS LIQUOR LAW.

In the election last Monday, the new liquor law was made quite an element of agitation.—A press, (the Boston Chronicle) costly and talented, was got up to advocate its repeal—Messrs. Smith and Lovejoy have been sent out as missionaries to promote the same object—and no stone has been left unturned which promised any favorable result.

The Chronicle is greatly pleased with the election, and says:

"If the Repealers did not elect quite as many Representatives as they could desire' they so used their power as to defeat the election of many Maine Law Fanatics, and defeat here is a clear victory to Repeal. * * Of the 98 persons elected to the House of Representatives, and claimed as Whigs, some 60 or 65 of them are known to be opponents of the Maine Law, and will vote to repeal it. Of the 58 classed as opposition, we have no means of judging, but in all probability a fair proportion of them are opposed to the Maine Law. But this is not all. There were, on Monday night, vacancies in two hundred a d fifty-five towns. And how was this result, almost unprecedented in the history of Massachusetts, brought about? Almost solely through the exertions of the Union—the Liberal—the Repeal men."

On the other hand the Times says:

"The only things that men seem to agree were decided at our last Monday's election, were, first, the calling of a Constitutional Convention, and, secondly, the sustaining of the Maine Law. The latter measure is booked to be put through. Whatever may be the result of the elections, the Maine law will be neither repealed nor modified. The force of the law has never yet been felt by those who are most interested in having it repealed. The ultra friends of the law have hitherto been afraid to press it to the full, fearing that their action would make it unpopular, and lead to its repeal, a fear that they no longer entertain."

We do not know which is right. We give them as we find them.

DEATH OF NATHANIEL DEARBORN.—Nathaniel Dearborn, the well known engraver and author, died at his residence in South Reading on the 7th inst. Mr. Dearborn was one of the first to introduce wood engraving into Boston. Among his literary remains are the "Text Book of Letters," "Book of Boston Notions, and Guide," and "Guide to Mount Auburn."

The wages of a footman in livery, in London is about $7 50 per month, not more than an Irish chambermaid gets in New York. A foot boy gets about $40 a year. Here he expects $144.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ A fellow named JOHN W. NUTE, belonging to Barrington, was in this city yesterday and the day before, drinking himself drunk, and amusing himself by accosting and insulting such women as came in his way.—Finally he assaulted a lady whose husband happened to be in sight or within hearing, and soon came to the rescue, begining the exercises by knocking the man down, and closing the services by handing him over to the Police Court, where he was fined $5 and costs.

MAGIC.—M. Bird, the Magician and Ventriloquist, will give an Entertainment this Afternoon and Evening, at the Temple, which he will exhibit his Ventriloquial powers, and display his magic arts. He had full houses in this city on the Fourth of July last, for three performances.

NEW ENGLAND'S FESTIVAL.—As all hands connected with the Chronicle establishment, are very particular about observing Governor Martin's recommendation respecting the 11th of November, no paper will be issued from this office to-morrow.

☞ The Portsmouth & Concord Railroad Co. have procured a new and splendid Locomotive to run upon their road. It arrived yesterday from the Taunton Co.'s manufactory, Taunton, Mass. The engine has eight wheels, and weighs about 23 tons; the cylenders are 14 inches in diameter, with 20 inches stroke. It is called the "Portsmouth."

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.—Returns from all the towns but six, state the votes for Governor thus:—Clifford 61,222, Bishop 38,626, Mann 35,880, scattering 453. Representatives 92 whigs, 77 others.

The N. Y. Tribune's Washington correspondent says, I have been informed by one who is himself inside the ring, that an expedition has been planned and will be fitted out against Cuba in less than six months.

FOR CALIFORNIA.—Maine has already furnished her full quota of emigrants to follow the "star of empire"—but the tide is not yet run out. The bark Gold Hunter, with passengers only, sailed from Bangor on Wednesday last, for San Francisco. The passenger list numbers one hundred and eleven, many ladies, married and single, among them.

THE NEW PRESIDENT'S LADY.—It is now said that Mrs. Franklin Pierce regretted exceedingly the nomination of her husband to the Presidency. Ill health will prevent her from doing the honors of the White House, and a floating on-dit states that one of Boston's fairest daughters will be the lady who will preside at the receptions.—Boston Commonwealth.

COWS WORTH HAVING. Mr. D. E. Billings, at Le Grange, has two cows which have given a sufficient quantity of milk to furnish his family with milk and butter, besides which, he has sold in six months and six days, 209 pounds of butter, amounting to $89. The cows have no other food than pasture. Such cows would bring down the price of butter so that printers might indulge occasionally.—Poughkeepsie Eagle.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.—Mr. Chas. Mitchell, of Claremont, N. H., a very respectable citizen, and wealthy farmer, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor in his shed on Friday morning last. He had been in a melancholy state of mind for some time. This said affair falls heavily upon a large circle of relatives. He was 57 years of age.

THE MONUMENT TO COLONEL RICHARD M. JOHNSON.—The Cleveland Plaindealer states that on the 26th ult., there were brought to that port fourteen boxes of marble and four boxes of granite, intended to be erected as a monument over the remains of the late Colonel Richard M. Johnson, in Kentucky. One of the boxes contains four cannon, and another an eagle, sculptured in marble.

TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—A most terrible railroad accident occurred on the Albany and Schenectady Railroad early on Saturday morning. It appears that one Mr. Stanford had some twenty head of cattle pasturing on his lot, some three miles from this city, near the railroad, and during the night they had broken down the fence nearest the track, and were all lying upon the track, scattered along for near a quarter of a mile. As the freight train from Buffalo came along, the locomotive was under such headway that it passed over the whole, some eighteen or twenty, killing every one of them, and throwing the locomotive off the track. The tender, however, broke the couplings and passed on, but was thrown off a short distance further and made its way into a sand bank. The force of the train was such that the tender was nearly embedded in the sand-bank before its headway was stopped.

So great was the shock when the tender ran into the bank that a load of butter in firkins forced the end of a car out, and was thrown around in great confusion. A number of the cars were loaded with cattle, who forced their way out and wandered off in all directions.—Strange to say neither the engineer or fireman was hurt, although the locomotive was knocked into a cocked hat, not a wheel or any of the machinery being left whole. The engineer and fireman were so closely cornered in one corner of the locomotive that it took the strength of four others to extricate them. A brakeman named Reed was somewhat bruised. The scene that now presents itself to the beholder is horrible. The carcasses of the cattle lying round, most horribly mutilated, is indeed sickening.—Albany Knickerbocker, 8th.

GUANO ON LOBOS ISLANDS—ITS QUALITY AND WORTH.—According to a communication just sent into The London Times, the Lobos Islands have a value attached to them, in comparison with which the richness of California are of small account. In his opinion the quantity of guano on the three Lobos Islands amounts to two hundred and forty millions of tons.

To exhaust this pile of undeveloped food, taking a million of tons a year, would take two hundred and fifty years, and to transport which would employ for two hundred and fifty years, one thousand ships of a thousand tons each. The value of this amount of manure treasure at two cents per pound, (which is below the mark,) will amount to $10,000,000,000.—Ten billions of dollars, what a bank that would make, and here it is, all founded on three small islands by the fowls of the sea. How many years did it take these fowls to deposit such an abundance of matter for the enrichment of the barren fields of England and the United States?

This deposit of guano is certainly worth making a noise about, but it may be a matter of doubt, whether it would be well for Uncle Sam to beat his younger South America brother almost to death for the sake of removing the deposits.

Mrs. Partington says her minister preached about "the parody of the prophet's son."

LATEST NEWS!

TENNESSEE.—In four counties in this State, from which we have returns, the vote is nearly the same as last year, when Campbell, Whig, was elected Governor over Trousdale, by a majority of 1660.

ACCIDENT ON THE VERMONT CENTRAL RAILROAD.—West Lebanon, Nov. 9.—A cattle train ran off the track this morning, between South Royalton and Sharon, killing several cattle, and breaking cars. No persons injured. The accident is supposed to have been caused by a brick dropping under the wheels.

KENTUCKY.—Returns from twenty-five counties in the Louisville papers of Thursday last, give a majority to the Scott electoral ticket of 3541. This is a gain of 1338 since the last election, and leaves little doubt of the success of that ticket.

ELECTIONS IN NEW YORK. One of the most remarkable results is the election of Geo. W. Chase, Whig from the strong district of Otsego and Delaware. His majority is 1500—Pierce in same counties 1800.

HONORS TO WELLINGTON.—New York, Nov. 9.—The Rev. Dr. Hawkes having tendered the use of Calvary Church, for the purpose of paying honors to the memory of the late Duke of Wellington, a meeting will be held at the British Consul's residence tomorrow afternoon, for the purpose of deciding upon the requisite arrangements for the occasion. It is reported that the use of Trinity Church for the same purpose, had been refused, on the ground that it might establish an inconvenient precedent.

FROM CENTRAL AMERICA.—Advices from Costa Rica to the 13th Oct., notice considerable agitation in Nicaragua, and fears of an insurrection are strongly manifested. Don J. Lawreano Pined issued a proclamation, urging the people to remain quiet and resist all intrigues of the revolutionists. A dispute has arisen between Honduras and San Salvador—the latter complaining of a calumnious publication issued by the former.

A private letter from San Juan reiterates the account received previously, relative to the discovery of iron, coal and gold in great abundance in Central America, also diamonds, pearls and other precious stones.

Business at San Juan is very dull; money scarce.

The city is represented as being at present very healthy.

FROM THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—From the Sandwich Islands advices have been received to the 11th of September.

The National Exchequer appears to have been in a deplorable condition; the necessity of a government loan was generally spoken of. The government organ thinks that the current year will close with a debt augmented $100,000, at 12 per cent. interest.

The U. S. frigate St. Lawrence was at Hilo at last accounts. There had been a seizure of a California vessel loaded with liquors, for an infringement of the Honolulu revenue laws.

EXCITING INTELLIGENCE FROM AUSTRALIA.—From Australia we have files of Sydney papers to July 7. The gold discoveries are reported to extend in surface, and increase in richness of deposit. Fortunes are being made with great facility. Hundreds of English emigrants are arriving daily from all parts of the world. Business was brisk, and provisions generally high. The amount of dust and ingots shipped to England on the 26th and 27th of June was 25,044 ounces.

The rains had been heavy, and a village, Gundaigar, on the North bend of the Murrambridge, was destroyed by a freshet on the 29th of June, and between 60 and 80 lives lost. The town has been completely ruined.

ROAD FROM VERA CRUL TO ACAPULCO. A letter from Acapulco gives some information relative to the movements of the surveying party sent out from New York. According to the statements of the surveyors there will be no difficulty in constructing a road from Vera Cruz to Acapulco, over which the mails can be carried in three days. What is likewise of considerable importance, actual observation has rendered it certain that the Mescala can be made navigable for a very trifling outlay.

We find the following in an essay of Proctor Barry Conwall:—

"There is something inexpressibly touching in an anecdote which I have heard of a foreign artist. He was an American, and had come hither (he and his young wife) to paint for fame and—a subsistance. They were strangers in England; they had to fight against prejudice and poverty; but their affection for each other solaced them under every privation, every frown of fortune. They could think, at least, all the way over the great Atlantic; and their fancy (little cherished here) had leisure to be busy among the friends and and scenes they had left behind.

Gentleman who had not seen them for some time, went one day to the artist's painting-room, and observing him pale and worn, inquired about his health, and afterwards regarding his wife. He answered only, "She has left me," and proceeded in a hurried way with his work. She was dead!—and he was left alone to toil, and get money, and mourn. The heart in which he had hoarced all his secrets, all his hopes, was cold; and fame itself was but a shadow.

The Register, of South Bend, Indiana, gives the following account of a terrible deed:

"The barn of Elliott Tutt, adjacent to his tannery, was consumed by fire night before last, and the next morning our citizens were shocked by the discovery of the bodies of two boys in the ruins. One of them is a son of Charles Bertland, who is now in California, and the other a boy by the name of Crahen, from Niles. They had both recently left the Catholic College, where they had been attending school; and had probably lodged in the barn for a night or two previous to its burning."

MASON vs. ANTI-MASON.—A few days ago, two bricklayers, while refreshing the "inner-man," at noon, at the place where they were at work, got into a discussion upon the merits of Free-Masonry. Neither of them were members of the ancient fraternity, but both thought they knew considerable about it. While they were warmly expressing their opinions, one of them noticed that their hod-carrier, a genuine specimen of Ethiopia's race, who was sitting near them, appeared very much interested in the discussion, so much so, indeed, that his corn bread and pickled pork lay upon the scaffolding untouched.

"Well," says he to his brother laborer, "it is foolish in us to be discussing so warmly something we know so little about. If either were a Mason, there would be more sense in it.

"I know more about the Masons than you think I do," responded the other.

"Pshaw! that's nonsense. There's Jack, the hod-carrier listening very attentively; and I should not be a bit surprised if he knows more about them than both of us. Jack," he cried to the colored individual.

"Sar?"

"Do you know the difference between a Mason and an Anti-Mason?"

"Yes, sar I believ I does."

"Well, what is it?"

"If my brain tell de truf—an' it neber fail, a Mason is de man what lays de mortar, an' de Anti-Mason de man what carries de hod!"—Cincinnati Times.

FASHION IN MUSIC.—Periodically we must have a song which every target excursion band must play as it passes through the streets, and which every body is to whistle, hum and drum for the benefit of his neighbor. It is no longer a luxury, but one of the necessities of our city life—just as the omnibuses are. The "Old Folks at Home" is decidedly old. "Poor Uncle Tom" has had his day, and departed. "Katie Darling" reigns in the realms of song at the present writing as a company passing our office most melodiously informs us.—New York Mirror.

MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.—According to the Mechanics' Magazine for February, 1852, there are already, in the United States and Canada, more than 12,000 miles of wire, involving a capital of more than $3,000,000. To work these lines costs annually seven hundred and twenty tons of zinc, worth $57,600, more than a million pounds of nitric acid, worth $117,800, and $27,000, worth of mercury, bes des a considerable value in sulphuric acid, etc.

Miss Shannon, while in the act of closing the window shutters in the fourth story of her residence in Philadelphia, fell to the pavement, dashing her br ins out, and causing almost instant death.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Portsmouth, Sept. 9th, 1852.

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvement that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, all loose parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the State," "Rising Sun," "Sisters," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Vesta, Pelican and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

HIGH PRICE OF PROVISIONS.

This complaint is very general, but the cause arises from the exorbitant profits exacted by hucksters and retail grocers, rather than from the actual dearness of provisions when brought to market. It is this that oppresses the poor man, while he who is able to purchase in considerable quantities, escapes in a measure, the taxation,—another illustration of the expense of poverty. We were at the trouble the other day, through motives of self-interest, to compare prices at the retail grocery and at the dock where provisions are landed, with this result:—At the grocery, potatoes, 18 shillings per barrel,—on the boats, from 10 to 12 shillings. Fall pippins, from 16 to 18 shillings at the grocery,—on the wharves, 12 shillings. Hams, at the grocery, eighteen cents per lb.,—at the wholesale provision store, fourteen cents. Many other examples might be cited. Butter now brings, at retail, the enormous price of thirty-four cents per lb. Situated in the heart of one of the most productive countries in the world, with the best possible means of transporiation, it is hard to conceive why such prices should prevail. If farmers could obtain immediate access to the consumers, they would accumulate fortunes.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

The price of provisions is very high in this city. Notwithstanding the immense quantities of beef and mutton sent to market, there appears to be no decrease in the price.—Boston Courier.

This state of things is the natural result of men's living in great cities. The larger the city, and the greater its general wealth, the more certain are its retail prices to be burdensome to the poor. And yet, as the same poor get employment and cash pay, they crowd into the cities.

CANDLES AND SOAP.—When the cemetery of the Innocents at Paris was removed outside of the barriers, the buried corpses which had accumulated to the depth of sixty feet, were found to a great extent, apparently converted into fat. The substance of the skin, cellular tissues and tendons, all the soft parts, and even the bones had disappeared, leaving only the fat, which, resisting longest the influence of decay, (oxygen) remained in the form of margaric acid. This human fat was employed to the extent of many tons by the soap boilers and tallow chandlers of Paris, for the manufacture of soap and candles. The French are a people of fine sentiment, and they certainly carried the quality to a charming point of reflection in receiving light from candles made out of the bodies of their fathers.

PAPER MADE FROM LEATHER SCRAPS—We have received another sample of beautiful drab colored paper, made by R. & H. H. Forbes, of Galt, C. W., from scraps of leather, straw, and rags. It is sent to us by Mr. D. Toland, of that place, an old subscriber to the Scientific American. This may be the kind of paper which the editor of the London Artizan mentions as having been received by him, wrapped around some parcels from America, and which he states is the strongest sample, considering its thinness, he ever met with.—Scientific American.

REVOLT ON SHIPBOARD.—New York, Nov. 9.—Six of the crew belonging to the packet ship New York, were arrested this morning on board that vessel, charged with attempting to create a revolt, while she was preparing to go to sea. The whole of the crew refused to work, but when the deputy Marshal and officers Lyons and Miller made their appearance, they all, with the exception of the six prisoners, consented to do duty, giving as a reason for their conduct, the insufficiency of hands on board the ship to work her, and that they would not be able to endure the hard labor.

A great ship weakly manned, is at once toilsome to the men and dangerous to owners and underwriters. The latter should look to it, and be sure that no ship on which they take a policy, goes to sea without a competent crew. If proper attention were paid to this matter by insurance companies, it would correct the evil. Many years ago, several ships and other vessels were coming on this coast for this and neighboring ports, in the winter, and by severe westerly gales and very cold weather were nearly all driven off to sea again. In a report for the newspapers, it was stated that they were all blown off: but there was one exception. Her captain, as good a ship-master and merchant as ever sailed, said, "The —— —— was not blown off, but held on, and got in without putting away before the wind—but I could never have accomplished this purpose, if I had not had a well found ship and an excellent crew. I furnished my ship with every thing that was wanted, and I had a full complement of the best of sailors."

SCROFULA AND PORK.—The Journal of Organic and Medical Chemistry is out against pork, and defies all hog-eaters, chemists and physiologists to prove that hogs' flesh is a healthy article of diet.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1852.

PROPERTY IN LETTERS.

We were somewhat surprised several days ago, at a card, signed by the literary executors of Mr. Webster, in which they express a hope, "that it is quite unnecessary to say to those, who have been honored by his correspondence, that the legal right to publish the letters of a deceased person belongs only to those who represent him."

A letter, once sent away from our hand, we supposed, was like a word spoken—gone out of our power forever. But it seems such is not the law.

"Sigma," a correspondent of the Boston Daily Advertiser, remarks, that,

"It is very questionable, if many persons have any adequate notions of their rights and duties, in this particular respect. The common impression, I believe, of the receiver is, that he has a sort of fee simple or absolute estate in the letter he receives, and may do with it pretty much what he pleases; and that the writer has parted with his interest entirely, and neither he nor his legal representatives have any control or restrictive power, in the premises.

Such notions are altogether false; and it was certainly wise, on the part of Mr. Webster's literary executors, to press this consideration upon the public mind, at the present moment; for nothing can be more earnestly deprecated, by the friends of this great man, than a hasty and surreptitious edition of his literary correspondence, or of any part of it."

Sigma then makes the following statements and quotations from English legal decisions on this subject:—

After the death of Lord Dudley, the Bishop of Llandaff prepared for the press Lord Dudley's letters, written to the Bishop himself. The executors of Lord Dudley forbade their publication; the Bishop took legal counsel, and desisted, though, doubtless, greatly surprised to find, that he had no legal right to print letters, which he thought were exclusively his own. By agreement, the letters were finally published, and, in the preface he says, "I received, to my great surprise, an official notice, that the executors objected to the publication; upon which, having taken advice, and being informed that if application were made by the executors to the Court of Chancery, an injunction would probably be granted, I signified my acquiescence in their private injunction, and abandoned the design.

The first case, I believe, involving the question of right in private letters, was that of Pope and Curl, in 1741. Pope's letters to Swift had been printed in Dublin. Curl bought the publisher's supposed right, and claimed the right to reprint them. Even from this he was restrained by Lord Hardwicke, who said,—"The receiver of a letter has only a joint property with the writer."

In 1744, Eugenia Stanhope, widow of Lord Chesterfield's natural son, agreed with Dodsley to publish a series of letters on education, written to the son by the father. The executors of Lord Chesterfield obtained an injunction, which, after full hearing, was confirmed by the Lord Chancellor Apsley.

No person has any right to publish a letter, by him received, even in justification of himself unless in the regular course of justice. "For the purposes of public justice, publickly administered, according to the established institutions of the country," says Lord Eldon, "the letters must always be produced; I do not say that of justice, administered by private hands."

These foreign decisions have been fully sustained in this country, by Judge Story, who, in his commentaries on equity jurisprudence, observes:

"Fortunately for public and private peace and morals, the learned doubts on this subject have been overruled, and it is now held, that there is no distinction between private letters of one nature, and private letters of another. For the purposes of public justice, publicly administered, according to the established institutions of the country, in the ordinary modes of proceeding, private letters may be required to be produced and published. But it by no means follows, that private persons have a right to make such publications, on other occasions, upon their own notions of taking the administration of justice into their own hands, or for the purpose of vindicating their own conduct, or gratifying their own enmity, or indulging a gross and diseased public curiosity, by the circulation of private anecdotes or family or personal concerns."

The Boston Transcript says,

"We think this settles the question in regard to the legal right of Mr. Webster's executors to make the claim they do."

Perhaps it does: but if any man holding a letter chooses to keep it, we do not see exactly how the claim is to be enforced. Perhaps the law may be sufficiently laid down against the publication of letters; but if half a dozen of them should get loose among the newspapers and telegraphs, some swift injunctions would be requisite in order to stop them. An action for damages would lie against any publisher who should trespass in this way—but juries made up of men who read penny papers, would be apt to set the damage at a low figure.

It is justly held to be dishonorable for the receiver of a confidential letter to betray that confidence by publishing the letter or suffering another to do it. But why or how any letter not confidential, (in its nature, or by special request,) should differ from words spoken, and remain the writer's property, we cannot see. But there are many kinks in the law—and this is one of them.

ENGLISH VIEWS ON CUBA.

We have given our views pretty freely:—now for those of others. In the latest news from Europe, it appears that the position of affairs between the United States and Cuba is viewed with ill-disguised jealousy by the English press of all shades.

The Times has a leading article on the subject, in which it defends the conduct of the Captain General of Cuba; talks of the rashness of democracy, and prophecies that Spain will ruin the commerce of America by letters of marque; and that France will side with Spain in her encounter. The article concludes as follows:

"However this may be, the firm and collected resolution of the maritime powers of Europe is to oppose the agressive policy of the United States, when it extends its area beyond the North American Continent to Cuba and the Sandwich Islands, as the safeguard of a peace which might otherwise be sacrificed to the outcry of an indignation meeting."

The other papers, little and big, hold forth in the same strain.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.

Revised returns in Massachusetts, show that Scudder, whig, in District No. 1, is not elected, as was stated. Present appearances indicate the success of the Coalition, which would place Horace Mann in the Governor's chair, or make him a Senator in Congress for six years.

This state of things will give interest to next Monday's election. It arises partly out of the liquor law, and considerably out of the Webster movement; to which Mr. Mann's elevation would be a singular finale!

A careful revision of all the returns which have been received for Representatives, in Massachusetts, shows that the Whigs have elected 100, to 98 opposition;—but 11 of the latter are said to be anti-coalitionist.—Jour.

The Boston Commonwealth of yesterday states the Representatives chosen at 100 whigs, 100 opposition—and claims the State of Massachusetts for the coalition.

A PROPHET HONORED IN HIS OWN COUNTRY.—We have already mentioned that Gerrit Smith was elected to Congress from a District which gave Pierce a large majority for President. It now appears that he has nearly 1,800 majority in his own County (Madison, N. Y.) carrying every town but one. In his own town (Smithfield,) he has 242 votes to 25 for Ten Eyck, Whig, and 24 for Hough, Democrat.

☞ In Newburyport, on Wednesday, a house in the sixth ward took fire, in a chamber where clothing was being smoked to purify it from small pox infection—a case of which had recently existed in the house. The house was so far destroyed as to be not worth repair—at a loss of $500 or $600.

MRS. PIERCE.—The Lowell News, after copying a paragraph of ours, says:

"We can "endorse" Mrs. P. with a hearty good will from our own personal knowledge, whatever may be our politics. As a kind, affable and unostentatious woman, Mrs. P. has few equals. She has all that intelligence, dignity and purity so necessary to make up the wife of an American President, and will shine at the White House not a whit less brightly than any of those who have preceded her."

WHAT IS TO BECOME OF THE PRESIDENT? Scarcely had the Concord Reporter got the President elect fixed in Concord for the winter,—when the Philadelphians hold a public meeting, and arrange matters for a grand reception of Gen. Pierce as he passes through the city on his way to Virginia, to spend the winter.

DEATH OF REV. FRANCIS PARKMAN.—Rev. Francis Parkman, D. D., deceased yesterday morning at his house in Bowdin Square, Boston, of apoplexy, after a few days of previous illness. He was in the sixty-fifth year of his age, and was formerly pastor of the New North (Unitarian) Church.

CHILD BURNT TO DEATH.—A child aged about four months was left in Nantucket one day last week, tied into a chair, and during the absence of the family from the room its clothes took fire, and before they were extinguished it was burnt so badly as to cause death.

PERSONAL.—Gen. Franklin Pierce arrived in Boston on Wednesday evening, and took his old quarters at the Tremont House.

PRETTY GOOD.—The Madison County, N. Y., Whig, accounts for Gen. Scott's defeat in the fact that his "military career disqualified him from running!" He had never run, and couldn't learn how.

Rev. W. C. Pond of Bangor, sails as missionary to California this week, in the clipper ship Trade Wind from New York.

A gentleman in Cincinnati, worth $10,000, lost every cent of it by betting on the late Presidential election, besides a few hundred dollars that he borrowed.

It is estimated that $12,000,000 will be expended in the construction of railroads in the State of New York this year.

It is stated that a thousand pounds of opium are sold by retail every week in New York, and that the practice of opium-eating is increasing very rapidly.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

The train of cars from Portland, on Thursday evening about five o'clock, ran over an ox in Eliot, about three and a half miles from this city, throwing part of the wheels of two passenger cars off the track. The engine remained upon the track, and the train proceeded about forty rods at its usual speed, the engineer not being aware of the accident, until apprised of it by the conductor's bell. Luckily the train was stopped in season to prevent any serious accident, though the passengers received a comfortable "shaking up" for a moment or two, which time the imagination lengthened to about a quarter of an hour.—One in three or four of the sleepers were broken off the whole distance from where the ox lay to the place of the stoppage of the cars. Every body was thankful—the passengers were huddled into the mail and baggage cars, and arrived in Portsmouth only half an hour late. Much credit is due to Mr. Akerman, the conductor, for his presence of mind and efficient action on the occasion.

DANGEROUS SITUATION.—The steamer G. H. Devereaux left Salem on Tuesday, 9th inst., for Cherryfield, Me. On Thursday night when off Gloucester, she became unmanageable by reason of the heavy sea, which, making a complete breach over her, put out her fire, and rendered her rudder useless. While in this helpless situation she was fallen in with by the schr. Matilda of Lubec, and towed into this port, where she arrived about noon yesterday.

☞ Rev. Mr. Willis will preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

☞ Rev. Mr. Dwight, will preach in the North Church, to-morrow.

REV. MASSENA GOODRICH.—The Boston Trumpet of this week, says of our former townsman:

Br. Massena Goodrich, late of East Cambridge, has accepted an invitation to remove to Lewiston Falls, Me., and take charge of the Universalist Society at that place.

Br. Goodrich has left a very large circle of friends behind him. He was beloved in East Cambridge; not only there, however; but through this whole vicinity. We say in truth, that no one of our clergy could have been called from this vicinity, whose loss would have been more deeply felt by us all. He is talented, learned, prudent, affectionate, unassuming—sound in faith—and has a wonderful faculty of obtaining the regard of discerning and intelligent men. We hope the time is not distant, when he will return to the vicinity of Boston. We are in danger of the sin of envy; for we surely shall wish him back.

MR. FURBER'S CONCERT.—Mr. Furber, who is no stranger to our concert-going people, announces an entertainment of Music and Dancing to take place next Wednesday evening, at the Temple. He had good houses when he was here last, and would be pleased with more of the same sort.

☞ For sales of Furniture, Boots and Shoes, Flowering Plants, &c. &c., to-day, see Auction column.

WELL BESTOWED.—Mayor Toppan presented twenty-five dollars for an extra dinner to the 80 inmates of the alms house on thanksgiving day.—Portsmouth Journal.

POTATOES.—Potatoes of excellent quality are brought to this city in large quantities, through the Western and Northern Canals.—Many of them come from Washington and Essex counties, in this State. Potatoes of the "Carter" variety, of good size, are brought on the boats for $1 50 or $1 56 per barrel. A barrel is equal to about two and a half bushels. We hear of no "rot," of consequence this year. Some of the country dealers are apprehensive of the potatoe business being over done, so many are pressing into it.—N. Y. Jour. Com.

DROWNED.—The carpenter of the ship Hungarian, in this harbor, jumped overboard on Wednesday in a fit of derangement, and notwithstanding the exertions of the mate to save him, was drowned. He is a foreigner by birth, and those whom we have called upon, who were acquainted with him, only knew him as "the carpenter." It is supposed that he had quite a sum of money in his pockets; his body has not been found. The mate came near losing his life in his exertions to save him.—Portland Advertiser.

John Peckham, of Dorville, R. I., on Monday fell into a kettle of hot dye, from the effects of which he died next day.

On Wednesday, a young man, named John Sweeney, fell into a dye kettle at Fox's woolen factory, Worcester, by which he was so much scalded that he cannot recover.

SKILFUL MANAGEMENT.—In the late gale at Prince Edward Island, 24 fishing vessels were at anchor in the harbour of Souris, which is exposed to the full force of the sea, sweeping over a long space of unbroken ocean. So violent was the gale, that 23 of of them were driven on shore, and nearly all totally wrecked. The other one, the sch. Atlas, of Newburyport, was only saved, by the master, Thomas Bailey, Jr., getting his vessel under way during the gale, and beating out of the harbor under single reefed sails—splitting all his sails and losing the waistboards. While making the successful effort to escape shipwreck, the vessel was almost buried under water—the men working on deck up to their middle in water. The attempt to beat out of this harbor in a gale, was never before made, and was viewed with astonishment by the dwellers on the shore. Such an example of skill and energy in rescuing a vessel, is deserving the notice of the underwriters.—Newburyport Herald.

LATEST FROM MEXICO.—A New Orleans despatch of the 11th inst., mentions the arrival of a steamer from Galveston, bringing news of recent battle in Mexico, between the Revolutionists and Government troops, near Metamoras. 600 of the National Guard defeated an army of 1500 men under Gen. Canales.

THE MAINE LAW IN RHODE ISLAND.—In the R. I. House of Representatives a few days since, Hon. R. B. Cranston moved the repeal of the Maine Law of that state. The proposition was quashed by the decisive vote of forty nine to fourteen.

A proposition by Mr. C. A. Barstow (Mayor of Providence) to make the Law more stringent in the matter of searching houses, wherein liquor was suffered to be sold, passed the House by a vote of 30 to 23, but received the 'go-by' in the Senate.

BISHOP OF NEW YORK.—The recently elected Provisional Bishop of the Diocese of New York, Rev. Jonathan M. Wainwright, was consecrated on Wednesday, in Trinity Church, in the presence of a large number of the clergy and leading members of the Episcopal Church and a vast concourse of ladies. Dr. Wainwright is the fifth Protestant Bishop of New York—his predecessors having been Bishop Provost, Bishop Moore, Bishop Hobart, and Bishop Onderdonk.

IMPORTANT ARREST.—George Best was arrested on Monday evening, by officers Johnson and Manning, charged with committing a rape and an assault and battery. He was found on board a vessel which had recently arrived here. Best is said to be one of a gang of ten who brutally ravished a girl near Hudson some time since. Some of them were arrested and lodged in jail at that place, from which they subsequently made their escape. The girl has since died. He was taken to Hudson in charge of an officer belonging to that place.—Albany Argus.

MAIL ROBBER ARRESTED.—On Thursday, at Baltimore, a mail-robber was arrested and imprisoned.

The prisoner is John W. Comegys, and has been employed as the conductor of an express train on the Baltimore railroad, who cut open the pouches on different times at Baltimore, and took possession of drafts after destroying the letters. He had obtained the cash upon drafts remitted by various New York banks to southern correspondents, but payable in N. Y. by opening an account in a bank in Baltimore and depositing the drafts with forged endorsements. When arrested he had $7570 in bills of the Bank of North America in his possession, being the proceeds of the stolen drafts.

Comegys had opportunities to commit robberies, there being no mail agents to express trains. The prisoner confesses his crime, and acknowledges having destroyed many drafts that he knew could not be converted into money. The first discovery of the robbery was from a rifled pouch in a sink attached to the United States Hotel, Baltimore. The prisoner is connected with a most respectable family in that city.

A LARGE FACTORY.—A factory is going up at Saltaire, near Shipley, England, where the area appropriated to the buildings is computed at six acres, while the several floors in the mills, warehouses and sheds, form a superficies of 55,000 yards, 11 1-2 acres. It is owned by one man, Mr. Titus Salt, and employs 4500 hands.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.—As the Eastern train from Portland approached West Lynn, Wednesday evening, a bullet fired by some one unknown, passed through one of the cars, and carried away a part of a lady's tippet, which was closely wrapped about her neck.—A variation of two inches would have sent the ball straight through her head.

Some liquor which had been seized at Northhampton, from an Irish woman, and deposited in the office of the Justice before whom the case was tried, for safe keeping, until the hour of its destruction should arrive, on Monday last, was re-seized by some spiritually inclined individual, to the Justice unknown, and carried away.

Edward Boughton has been sentenced by the County Court of Litchfield, Conn., to six years' imprisonment in the State Prison, for placing obstructions upon the track of the Naugatuck Railroad, Plymouth.

There is now living at La Horgue, Canton of Aumont, (Ardenois,) France, a woman named Lantenoy, surnamed "La Duchesse," who has just entered her 110th year. She walks a long distance every day, and picks up wood for her fire about the fields.

The Montreal Courier hints that some incendiaries have lately attempted to burn the remainder of the city of Montreal, and it therefore warns the citizens to be prepared with loaded arms, and if they detect the ruffians, to "finish them at once."

A SCHOOLMASTER IN TROUBLE.—Mr. Isaac Coffin, teacher of the Winthrop School Charlestown, was tried before Paul Willard, Esq., Justice of the Peace, yesterday, on complaint of inhumanly punishing a boy named E. H. Miskelly. It appeared in evidence that the boy having been absent from school brought a written excuse from his father, and the teacher not deeming this sufficient, or for some other cause took the boy by the hair and pulled him into the recitation room, where he punished him severely with a rattan for twenty-five minutes, badly tearing the boy's clothes. He was bound over in the sum of $200 to appear at the Criminal Court, at Cambridge, in February next.

SOLEMN VOICES.

BY T. B. READ.

I heard from out the dreary realms of Sorrow
The various tongues of Woe:—
One said, "Is there a hope in the to-morrow?"
And many answered "No!"

And they arose and mingled their loud voices,
And cried in bitter breath,
"In all our joys the Past alone rejoices—
There is no joy but Death.

"Oh! dreadful Past, beyond thy midnight portal,
Thou hast usurped our peace;
And if the angel memory be immortal,
When shall this anguish cease?"

And suddenly within the darkened distance
The solemn Past replied,
"In my domains your joys have no existence,
Your hopes, they have not died!

"Nought comes to me except those ghosts detested
Phantoms of Woe and Pain;
But whatsoe'er Affection hath invested,
Th' eternal years retain.

"Then stand no more with looks and souls dejected,
To woo and win despair,
The joys ye mourn the Future hath collected,
Your hopes are gathered there.

"And as the dew which leaves the morning flowers
Augments the after rain—
And as the blooms which fall from summer bowers,
Are multiplied again—

"So shall the joys the Future holds in keeping,
Augment your after peace;
So shall your hopes, which now are only sleeping,
Return with large increase."

AMUSING SCHOOL SCENE.—It was examination day in our school—we had "read and spelt"—to'd the sounds of all the letters that had any sound—said the "breviations" and "mortification table" without missing a word—and then we were ranged on the floor in front of the "visitors" to be looked at and to answer such questions as they or the teacher saw fit to ask. "Where was John Rogers burnt to death?" said the teacher to me, in a commanding voice. I couldn't tell—"the next" no answer—"Joshua knows," said a little girl at the foot of the class. "Well," said the teacher, "if Joshua knows he may tell." "In the fi-er," said Joshua, looking very solemn and wise. That was the last question. We had liberty to make all the noise we pleased for five minutes, and then go home.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Portsmouth, Sept. 9th, 1852.

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed shat this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and as by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. It is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if the operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine this one. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE to be superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Freedom," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF US.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 1, 1852.

The U. S. Navy Yard at Kittery, Maine, is on an Island opposite Portsmouth, on the Piscataqua river. The scenery from all points is beautiful; and as a residence for officers it has no equal in Navydom. It is clean, quiet, secluded. Three fine ship-houses stand out prominently. In one is the frigate Santee; in another the Alabama 74; and under the shears is the old Franklin 74, whose proportions are being reduced to a frigate. Less than one hundred men are employed at this Yard.—Samuel Hartt, the veteran Constructor, is here. What an able and amiable gentleman he is! His long service, and the interesting fact that one half of the present U. S. Naval Constructors graduated under him—his apprentices—entitle him to a station at Headquarters. He raised the two Delanos, Pook, and S. T. Hartt.

Commodore Smoot took command of the Yard to-day, and was duly honored by a salute of 13 guns from Capt. Wyman, detached, who left this afternoon for Boston. The new Commandant possesses all those excellent traits of character—genial, generous, and hospitable—that will make him highly acceptable here. We are glad to inaugurate him at this pleasant station, and to wish him and his very interesting family the choicest blessings of the next four years. It is said that the Bureau intends to demolish the present dwelling house of the Commandant for the purpose of erecting a new one. As one of the sovereigns, and a tax-payer, we protest against the expenditure. We have thoroughly inspected the Commodore's house from parlor to garret, from bed-room to kitchen, and pronounce it a good, capacious, comfortable dwelling—most complete in every convenience, and with 20 years fitness yet in it.

Commander Van Brunt and Major Marston of the Marines we also meet here. I hear daily complaints every where at all the stations of the thinness of the Marine Guard. Congress must increase the Corps at the next session. The demand is imperative for their services are indispensable.

The Floating Dry Dock and Railway of Gilbert & Secor is to be seen here. It is to be regarded as the perfection of Docking. A vessel is lifted high and dry—exposed in glaring light to the inspection and skill of the workmen; and not, as in the stone dry dock, down in a deep, dark, damp cavern, where there is scarcely light or ventilation. Besides, you can take up any sized ship, from a dozen schooners to larger than the "Pennsylvania." There is no limit to its usefulness.

An old gunner has been here twenty years, who lost his right leg on the decks of the Constitution, in her fight with the Gurriere.—Com. Morris's "gunpowder investment" on the same occasion pays him better in fame and fortune.

The beautiful family residence of the late Levi Woodbury is here. We met here to-day the son of that distinguished Jurist, Statesman, and Democrat, Charles L. Woodbury, Esq., a successful lawyer of the Boston bar. Mr. W. has been one of the most untiring laborers in the cause of Pierce and King; and has done great service in New England. He is a "chip of the old block," physically and mentally.

What old places—what slow towns—are all Portsmouths! Can there be any thing in a name? Portsmouth, in Virginia, Portsmouth, in New Hampshire, Portsmouth, in England—all anti-progressive! Vacant lots, old fences, many unpainted houses, and a generally dilapidated appearance characterize the three namesakes. We have hopes, however, for our Virginia Portsmouth in which, with all its slowness, we prefer to live.

Mr. Webster's Narrow Escapes.—Mr. Barstow, the Mayor of Providence, in some remarks on the death of Mr. Webster, made the following interesting statements:

"He also recognised God in His Providence. Who does not remember, after the sad catastrophe of the steamer Atlantic, of his rising in his seat in the American Senate, and recording there three providential deliverances from impending death. The first I have forgotten.

The second was on occasion of the loss of the Lexington. He was in New York, and had engaged his passage home in her, and if I mistake not, went to the boat, but was led, for some cause which then appeared slight, to change his mind. He went back to his hotel, and his life was saved.

The third was on that fatal Thanksgiving eve when the Atlantic was lost. He was on his way to Washington, and had taken passage in her at Norwich. When the boat touched at New London he deemed it unwise to proceed in such a gale. But it was replied that the boat is new and staunch and never has stopped for wind or weather—"it is the storm line." He went on shore, and in half an hour an event occurred which left that strong boat to the mercy of the winds and waves and sent mourning through the land.

He did not ascribe these deliverances to accident, luck, fortune, chance; but to the good Providence of God, who suffers not the sparrow to fall to the ground without his notice."

Which is the Happiest Season?—At a festival party the question was asked—"Which season of life is the most happy?"—After being freely discussed, it was referred for answer to the host, upon whom was the burden of four score years. He asked if they had noticed a grove of trees, before the dwelling, and said; "When the spring comes, and the buds are breaking on the trees, and they are covered with blossoms, I think, How beautiful is spring! And when the summer comes, and covers the trees with its heavy foliage, and singing birds are among its branches, I think, How beautiful is summer! When autumn loads them with yellow fruit, and their leaves bear the gorgeous tints of frost, I think, How beautiful is autumn! And when it is sere winter, and there is neither foliage nor fruit, then I look through the leafless branches, as I never could until now, and see the stars shine."—Sharp's Magazine.

DAILY

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1852.

MR. WEBSTER'S RELIGION.

A well informed correspondent of the Boston Transcript says that Mr. W. in a conversation with him,

"Expressed a strong faith in the doctrines and duties of Christianity. He expressed his admiration for Christ's sermon upon the Mount, and wished that ministers would preach more upon it. He quoted that which seems to have been a favorite text with him, "Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief."

On the subject of moral evil, he said, we know not but what it has entered other worlds inhabited by intelligent and moral agents, and that moral, but fallen beings, in those worlds, are saved by Christ, as on earth. I cannot give his precise words, but only the general ideas. He remarked that, "this world is only as the point of a pin to the universe of God's works." In the same conversation, he expressed his love for the universal church, and regard for all true Christians, quoting in connection the divine words, "One Lord, one faith, one baptism," in Greek, showing that he was in the habit of reading the New Testament in Greek, as well as in English.

From what I know with my own knowledge, I should say that Mr. Webster's religious views were more exactly represented by those of the Orthodox Congregationalists than by any denomination of Christians. From all I can gather from reading and conversation, it appears that he joined the Orthodox Congregational Church in his native town of Salisbury when a young man, and was a member of that church when he died; that while at Portsmouth he worshipped with a church of the same religious order; that when he removed to this city, in 1816, he attended the Brattle Street Church, at that time termed Congregational, as the Unitarians were not then known as a denomination; that when he removed to Marshfield, about 1829, he connected himself with a parish of his own original faith; and that, for some portions of his residence at Washington, he attended upon the Episcopal service, his wife being a communicant of that church. Mr. Webster, then, lived and died in the faith of the church where he was baptized, and with which he originally became connected."

The above statements come nearer to the truth than most others on the same subject.—It is certain (contrary to our original impression) that he joined the old church in Salisbury. It is also certain that he communed with the North Church in this place, but did not become a regular member of it. He was chosen on a committee for supplying the pulpit of the North Parish, in the interregnum between Dr. Buckminster and Rev. Mr. Putnam. He voted on the orthodox side, with the church, in the meetings of the parish at that time; but soon went to Boston, where he attended Brattle Street Church. Mr. Webster's general respect for religious institutions is indisputable, as is also, his great interest in good preaching. But his creed, (like Dr. Bushnell's,) was rather eclectic and comprehensive. The author of the above quotations, in common with some of the professors at Andover and Dartmouth, can vouch for his assent to orthodox opinions. But if any will look at the close of his admirable eulogy on Adams and Jefferson, they will see him sending them to Heaven as Patriots, in rather too certain a tone for the holder of such opinions as are above ascribed to him. And among his published writings are some passages which indicate his belief in "restitution" or restorationist doctrines. The Congregationalists, as they were fifty years ago, may claim him as a member by regular subscription and communication—but his associations, as above described, show him to have been Catholic as to his worship—and he certainly was neither a [illegible] nor a bigot in his faith and life. We had no idea that he was a church member; and so stated our belief in the brief notice we gave of his life and death—but careful inquiry here, with the numerous errors and corrections we have seen elsewhere, induces us to rely on the general accuracy of the statements above quoted from the Transcript, and to give them to our readers with a few notes of our own.

☞ A Yankee, who jots down what he sees, and publishes his jottings in the Boston Courier, writes from Montreal, that the streets are very dirty; that if so much were in Boston, and the authorities did not remove it, the people would,—and would remove the authorities also. He saw eight hundred red coats, and thought if the wearers of them would act as temporary scavengers, they would be better employed than in idling.

Old Songs.—Besides a whole portfolio of New Songs, Madame Sontag sings "Sweet Home" and "the Last Rose of Summer" in most splendid style. Let singers learn wisdom from this mistress of this art, and sing the grand old songs.

Cotton.—The Newport (Fa.) Times of the 27th ult., says that the weather since the gale of the 9th ult., has been remarkably fine and favorable for the picking of cotton, and that much of the cotton which was blown on the ground has been saved.

A severe frost is reported to have occurred in South Carolina and Georgia, on Monday last.

Red Men in Africa.—A late Traveller named Tugger, travelling in the interior of Africa, near the Mountains of the Moon, says:

"Beyond the circle of Sakat begins, so to speak, a new world: the people have a red color, of whom a part are herdsmen, possessing innumerable herds of camels and flocks of sheep, the remainder are husbandmen.—One travels some two months upon the territory, and then comes to a great salt lake called Sebkat Schenakths. This lake loses itself in the sands of a boundless desert, in which one finds no trace of vegetation. Across this desert, the passage of which occupies five weeks, dwell nations of a red color, living in tents made of buffalo skins, and subsisting on dates and camel's milk. Then comes a second waste, which can be crossed in fifteen days; after which occur the first oasis, which belong to the Mountains of the Moon, and are inhabited by red men."

This is all credible enough—but it may be all moonshine—for we really know not much more about the Mountains of the Moon than we do about the Moon itself. Some time ago, an officer in our Navy sought permission from government to go up some the of African rivers from the Atlantic, and explore the streams and country. We hope he may be sent on such a mission.

GERRIT SMITH'S PLATFORM.

He will be obliged to stand on it alone, we think. No one else can get near enough to spit on it. The Boston Daily Advertiser says:

"He has published a letter to the voters of his district announcing his intention of going to Washington despite his original reluctance, and declaring his "platform," which may be summarily stated as follows: (1) No slavery can exist even by state laws or constitutions; (2) the right to the soil is as natural, absolute and equal as light and air; (3) political rights are natural and inhere in all, male, female, black and white; (4) free trade is necessary, and restrictions on commerce are sinful and unnatural; (5) war is as brutal, barbarous and unnecessary as murder; (6) the province of government is simply to protect, and does not include care of schools, railroads, &c. (7) that as far as practicable, every officer, from the highest to the lowest, including especially the President and Postmaster, should be elected directly by the people.

Gerrit Smith, according to a correspondent of the Washington Republic, is not so poor as he is supposed to be. His benevolence, so far from having stripped him of his possessions, is stated to have only rid him of his waste lands; and it is averred that he still owns 2,000,000 acres of land. His real estate in Oswego county, N. Y., alone, is estimated to be worth $400,000.

We have never seen an intimation of his poverty. We supposed him to be rich and liberal. But he has not so much real estate as is here mentioned.

Building Saved by the Fire Annihilator.—A fire broke out in the lower story of a large store called Leavenworth Block, in College Street, Burlington, Vt., last week, which broke through into the book store of Mr. Goodrich above, but was extinguished by the instrumentality of one of Phillips's fire annihilators. The Free Press says:

The universal opinion (as our readers will see by the cards of Mr. Leavenworth and Mr. Goodrich) was that the building would have been utterly destroyed bat for the Annihilator. While the fire companies were transferring their hose from one locality to another, the annihilator was applied by Mr. Barnum, and saved the building. In regard to this there are not two opinions.

Every man in Denmark has been taught to read and write—but it is not unfrequently found that the value of this instruction is not recognized, and that the knowledge is wholly forgotten from disuse.

If there were cheap newspapers in Denmark, this could not happen. There is no danger of such an event in New England, or any of the Free States.

The Ann Street Misee, Again.—A correspondent of the Boston Bee states the following in relation to John Crofts Coffield:

It has long been supposed that he must have accumulated a large property, and it was generally supposed that he had no relatives that he cared for. He was constantly surrounded by a gang of harpies, who pretended to take a great interest in him, and each considered himself a favorite of the "old man." They flattered themselves that a rich harvest awaited them. But alas! they were all disappointed. A few years ago he purchased a house at the lower part of Hanover street, (where he died) of the late George Parkman, and paid the amount ($4000) all in small silver change. As to the story of finding the old boots filled with wallets, crammed full of the "root of all evil," that is all a hoax; nothing of the kind took place; not a dollar was thus found. The whole amount of the property will not much, if any, exceed, $12,000. He leaves sisters and nieces, to whom he bequeathed annuities, but the principal of the property is secured for the benefit of his grand-nephews and nieces.

Political Apathy.—The general feeling of indifference as to the result of the recent Presidential election has been a subject of frequent remark. One of the most remarkable instances of this indifference is mentioned by the Savannah Republican, which says that in one precinct in Georgia it was agreed not to open the polls, and all hands engaged in a general fishing frolic on the election day.

What it Costs.—It is computed that a presidential election including all expenditures, legitimate and illegitimate, from the nomination to the inauguration, costs not less than half a million of dollars per State.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

CITY MISSION.

The Annual Meeting of the Portsmouth City Mission Society, was held last evening, in the North Church, which was crowded with an attentive audience. The introductory prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Holmes; and the Report was read by the Secretary, William Tuckerman, Esq. After these exercises, and the presentation of the Treasurer's account by Dea. Knowlton, the Annual Sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Lamson. It was beautifully written, and read in a manner perfectly easy and natural. It essayed to answer three questions, viz.: Is this city mission necessary? What good do we expect it to accomplish? and whose duty (or privilege) is it to sustain it? These questions were ably answered—and the whole exercises, including the music, were of a very satisfactory character.

Sagamore Mill Sold.—The Mill, machinery and real estate belonging to the Sagamore Company, in this city, was sold on Saturday for $15,000, to a company from Massachusetts. The whole cost of the property was $70,000. The mill has been in operation about six years, most of the time making spool cotton. Since the commencement of operations, the holders of the preferred stock—about one-third of the whole—have received two dividends—one of 6 and one of 10 per cent.; on the balance but one small dividend has been paid. The Mill will be put in operation immediately, and will make skein cotton.

The Fisheries.—The Picton (N. S.) Chronicle complains bitterly of the conduct of Commander Campbell, of H. M. steamer Devastation, and says that "a service intended to benefit colonists has been turned into gross oppression, and the British service and flag has thus been made the subject of hatred, ridicule and contempt on the part of those who would otherwise cherish and respect it." Among the arbitrary acts which the Chronicle charges upon this doughty defender of the fisheries, is the detention of a half decked boat belonging to some poor shore fishermen, who, by the navigation laws, did not require a certificate of registry, or any papers whatever. Com. Campbell informed the astounded and terrified skipper that he and his crew were pirates—going to sea without papers! He has also ordered a schooner from Halifax to desist from landing her cargo at Port Hood, for what reason is not stated, and threatened to fire upon her if the captain persisted. The cargo was landed nevertheless, Campbell not daring to carry out his threat.

Many of our own nshermen have cause to remember this officer, and will subscribe to the remark of the Chronicle that his proceedings are "of such a character as to lay that officer open to charges of gross misconduct and high handed oppression."

Steeple Finished.—The last stone of the tall spire of the Pearl Street Congregational Church was put in its place, precisely at twelve o'clock, yesterday. The spire is 212 feet from the level of the side walk, and is one of the best proportioned steeples we have ever seen. It must be an object of congratulation, that no accident has taken place during its erection. We are informed that one of the workmen, employed to turn a windlass on one of the elevated platforms, looking up and seeing the clouds flying over him, thought the steeple was moving, dropt the windlass and would have fallen from the scaffold, had not some one caught hold of him.

Just before the last stone was laid, Andrew Conner, one of the stone masons, mounted the top of the stone work and standing erect, made a handsome bow, at the same time taking off his hat—then placing his hands on his hips turned completely around. The place on which he stood was only about a foot in diameter, and two hundred and ten from the ground!—Hartford Courant, 11th.

A Monster Schooner.—The N. Y. Herald states that the schooner Indianola, six hundred and thirty-three tons, is to be launched at Perth Amboy on Saturday, by Mr. Chas. Keene. It is the largest schooner ever launched, was built for Capt. Isaac Cathcart, formerly of the three mast schooner Spray, and will be employed in the Matagorda trade. She is 130 feet keel, 29 feet beam, 16 feet hold and 6 1-2 feet between decks, built of best Jersey white oak, of beautiful model, with sharp bows and clean run. Her floor is very flat, and carried well forward, so that with a full cargo she will not draw over 11 feet water. She has three masts, with the largest sail on the mizzen mast, a peculiar rig which is said to have proved very successful under Capt. C's. management.

Won't Sell.—The Charleston Courier says of the literary works of the lamented Calhoun,—"but little interest or demand is manifested for the work; and the edition for the most part lies quietly reposing on the booksellers' shelves." What else could be expected, says the N. Y. Evening Post, of a book published in Charleston, and of which, we suppose, not a single copy has been sent for notice in any journal, or a single advertisement of it made?

A Streak of Luck.—We learn that an actor named Paul Jones, engaged at one of our theatres, will soon come in possession of a large fortune willed to him by a distant relative in England. The necessary steps to prove the claim were taken yesterday.—Boston Times, 12.

The New York Herald says that Gen. Pierce has accepted the invitation of the democratic republican general committee to visit New York at some future day.

The Douche.—Gov. Hunt, of New York, in descanting upon State Prison punishments, says: "This punishment by shower bath is inhuman, and should be abandoned.

Florida.—The full returns of the election for Governor and Congress have been received. Broome's (Dem.) majority over Wood for Governor, 292. Maxwell (Dem.) over Cabell for Congress 60.

Michigan.—The entire Democratic delegation in Congress is chosen, being a gain of three Representatives.

Illinois.—"Long John" Wentworth is elected to Congress from the Chicago District, but the Whigs claim to have carried all the rest of the northern districts, and to have elected four members.

Delaware.—Riddle, Democrat, is elected to Congress by a majority of 32. For the Legislature there is a Whig majority, on joint ballot, of four. The Legislature will have to elect a United States Senator. The Whigs have also carried a majority of the constitutional convention.

IMPORTANT SLAVE CASE DECISION.—New York, Nov. 13.—Judge Paine, in the Superior Court, delivered his opinion this morning in the case of the eight colored persons, claimed as slaves and brought to this city on their way from Virginia to Texas. The Judge's opinion concludes that by the laws of this State, slaves brought into it by the voluntary act of the owner, become free. He therefore ordered their discharge.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE ILLINOIS.

The steamship Illinois arrived at New York, on Friday, 12th inst., with dates from San Francisco to the 20th ult., and from Panama to the 4th inst. The Illinois brings 308 passengers and $2,000,000 in gold dust on freight, and the mails.

The steamer Cortes left San Francisco on the 20th ult. bringing one paper of that date, but no intermediate ones. The Golden Gate arrived at San Francisco on the 19th, in 13 days. The Northerner was to leave on the 30th, and the California on the 1st of November. No general news of particular interest is received from the Isthmus.

The steamer Oregon which arrived at Panama on the 1st of November brought down 300 passengers and $24,000 in specie.

A rediscovery had been made in the province of Chiriqui, of the gold mines that were worked in the times of the Spaniards, and which were said to be as productive as any in South America.

The Panama Star, of the 4th, contains a proclamation from Commodore McAuley of the Raritan, dated at the Lobos Islands, Oct. 20th, in which he informs all citizens of the United States that he is instructed to absent from protecting them in forcibly resisting the laws of Peru.

Among the passengers is Lieut. Gillis, bearer of despatches from Mr. Clay, U. S. Charge at Lima, in relation to the final settlement of the guano question. He also reports from Com. McAuley, who arrived at Callao on the 13th ult. from Valparaiso, who states that on the afternoon of the 2nd, Valparaiso was visited by a severe earthquake. The amount of damage has not been ascertained, but is supposed to be very great, as the shock was severely felt on board the United States frigate Raritan.

A gang of 30 robbers was brought into Panama on the 29th. They were captured on Chagres River and in the vicinity of Aspinwall and Gorgona, by a force sent expressly against them.

The British steamer Santiago, from Valparaiso, arrived at Panama on the 3d inst. She brought no news of importance. Business was unusually dull. Flour light; freights dull at $15 to San Francisco or the United States. For Guano to England £3 2s. Vessels with passengers had sailed from there for Australia.

San Francisco Markets.—The numerous arrivals from the United States have produced considerable effect on the market, of a favorable nature. Markets are unsettled.

The contract for building a State Prison in San Francisco, had been awarded to Ferdinand Vassault, for $1,200,000.

By steamship Illinois we have Sydney papers to 14th August. The yield of gold continues abundant. Various ships are leaving for London with large quantities on board, amongst others the Fatima sailed on the 11th with 18,500 ounces, valued at £65,000. An escort from Mount Alexander mines had arrived at Melbourne on the 5th of August with 1800 ounces.

In Sydney markets, flour was selling at £23 per ton; wheat 6 a 6s 6d per bushel.

The steamer Oregon, which sailed on the 16th October, had, as freight $2,406,712 in gold dust—being the largest shipment which ever left San Francisco in one vessel.

NEWFOUNDLAND.—The Newfoundlander says: "With every fair allowance for exaggerated reports, we know there are localities, north and west particularly, where the Fishery has almost completely failed; and the Potato blight has spread from one end to the other. These two concurrent causes must manifestly produce a vast amount of distress.

The Patriot says that the nomination of candidates for the General Election was to come off on the 10th inst.

A severe storm of thunder and lightning accompanied by torrents of rain had passed over Harbor Grace and the vicinity on the night of the 1st inst.

The Pilot is happy to learn that most of the Newfoundland fishermen, who were absent during the past season, at the Labrador fishery,had returned with good saving voyages.—Halifax Sun, 10th.

ITALY.—The pope, in a speech made in the consistory, 27th September, complains of the ingratitude of New Grenada in curbing the power of the church. It threatens with his highest displeasure all prelates who obey the civil law respecting parochial examinations, and he lauds the conduct of the archbishop of Sante Fe Bogota. Meantime the miuister of New Grenada has struck his flag and left Rome.

DOUGLAS JERROLD'S IDEA OF CONSERVATIVES.—"There's a sort of men in the world that can't bear any progress. I wonder they ever walk, unless they walk backwards! I wonder they don't refuse to go out when there's a new moon—and all out of love and respect for that "ancient institution," the old one. But there were always such people, and always will be. When lucifers first came in, how many old women, staunch old souls—any of them worthy to be members of Parliament stood by their matches and tinder boxes, and cried out, "no surrender!" And how many of these old women, disguised in male attire, go about at public meetings, professing every day to be ready to die for any tinder box question that may come up!—Yes, ready, quite ready to die for it; all the readier, perhaps, because dying for anything of the sort's gone out of fashion.

EXTRAORDINARY, IF TRUE.—According to some Italian journals, a new organized being has been discovered in the interior of Africa, which seems to form an immediate link between vegetable and animal life. This singular production of nature has the shape of a spotted serpent. It drags itself along on the ground; instead of a head has a flower shaped like a bell, which contains a viscid liquid. Flies and other insects attracted by the smell of the juice enter into the flower, where they are caught by the adhesive matter. The flower then closes and remains shut until the prisoners are bruised and transformed into chyle. The indigestible matter such as the head and wings, are thrown out by aspiral openings.—The vegetable serpent has a skin resembling leaves, a white and soft flesh, and instead of a bony skeleton a cartilagious frame filled with yellow marrow. The natives consider it a delicious food.

"Gentlemen and ladies," said the showman, "here you have a magnificent painting of Daniel in the lion's den. Daniel can be easily distinguished from the lions by the green cotton umbrella under his left arm."

Bless the man who first invented laughing, if any man did. It relieves a vexed spirit mightily. The Whigs have lately tried it with success! So says the American Telegraph.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the fire enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Portsmouth, Sept. 9th, 1852.

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES. As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed shat this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,
No. 18 Daniel st., Sign of the Big Coffee Pot

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Coal Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shade, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

QUITE A BUSINESS OPERATOR.

A German Jew calling himself Eugene Muir, has recently been engaged in swindling transactions at some of the large houses in this city. He appeared about a month ago. He represented himself as being connected with large mercantile houses in California, which had been used up by fire, and his purpose was to replenish the stocks by purchases here. He was possessed of a most persuasive tongue, and exhibited in his dealings a most thorough knowledge of trade.

Muir, as we are informed, some time since made his appearance at the store of one of our largest wholesale clothing firms, and made a bargain for one thousand pair of pantaloons of a peculiar texture, requiring on the part of the firm the purchase of considerable cloth, which they proceeded to make up into the required garments. In the meantime Muir requested an introduction to some dry goods firm, as he had some purchases to make in that line. The request of so extensive a customer was readily acceded to, and we next find Mr. Eugine Muir selecting about $2500 worth of goods, which he was to take and pay for the following week.

The next move of Muir was his appearance at the dry goods store, having in his hand a small pasteboard box, perhaps four or five inches long, two wide, and two deep. This box was enclosed in white paper, tied with cord, and sealed in about a dozen places with red wax. This box, Muir stated, contained bank bills and other valuables to a large amount, which he did not consider safe at his hotel, and therefore requested the proprietor to place it in his safe until the time arrived to make payment for his purchases, when the box would be opened.

Muir next appears in a wholesale store in Milk sreet where he makes similar representations, and finally purchases, for cash, $118 worth of gloves, which he requests to be sent to the dry goods store and he would call and pay for them. The firm sent a boy to the dry goods store for information, who returns with the story that Muir has purchased there a large bill of goods, and that he is without doubt a desirable customer. The goods were therefore sent to the dry goods store where Muir calls for them and takes them away. In another store he laid out goods to the amount of $3000 and in another to the amount of $800, under similar statements, but did not obtain them.

Hours and days flew by, and as the purchaser of the gloves did not make his appearance, the firm began to be uneasy about their $118. They sent to the dry goods store and were quieted for a while by the stay of the valuable deposit. But the patience of a trader for the payment of a promised debt is not of long continuance, and besides, the non-appearance of Muir began to look suspicious.—The firm applied to a lawyer, and a writ was issued for the arrest of Muir. This writ was placed in the hands of a constable, who proceeded to the hotel, where Muir stated that he boarded. The hotel keeper said that Muir had boarded there, but that he disappeared about four days previous without paying his bill, and further, that he had victimized another hotel keeper in a similar manner.

The next move of the officer was for the valuable box of which he had been duly informed by his employers. He proceeded to the dry goods store, showed his writ, and requested the production of the box. After some demur, the box was produced from the safe, the numerous seals were broken, and its valuable contents found to be three folded newspapers.—Boston Times.

MR. WEBSTER AND THE FARMER.—The N. Y. Times relates the following anecdote of Mr. Webster:

Some years since, Mr. Webster started off from Marshfield on a trouting expedition to Sandwich, a neighboring town on Cape Cod. On approaching a fine stream he alighted from his wagon, and just then met the owner of the farm which the stream ran through.

"Good morning," says Webster; "is there any trout here?"

"Well," says the farmer, "some people fish here, but I don't know what they do get."

"I'll throw my line in," says Webster, "and see what there is."

Webster walked the banks of the stream, trying his luck, and the old farmer followed him. Soon Webster remarked, "You have some bog on your farm."

"Yes," he replied, "and that ain't the worst of it."

Webster still kept on throwing his line into the deep pools, and then said, "You have plenty of briars here."

"Yes," says the farmer, "and that ain't the worst of it."

Mr. Webster getting somewhat discouraged, in a hot August day, bitten by mosquitoes, scratched by briars, and not raising a single fish, dropped his rod and said, "he didn't believe there was any trout here."

"And that ain't the worst of it," says the farmer.

"Well," says Mr. Webster, "I would like to know what the worst of it is?"

"There never was any here," says the farmer.

Mr. Webster enjoyed the joke, and often told it to his particular friends."

CHAMPAGNE.—The average quantity of genuine champagne annually produced is said to exceed fifty millions of bottles, a quantity, however, quite insufficient to meet the public demand, as the great number of establishments for the production of spurious champagne attest. It is stated on good authority, that in one establishment alone upward of 500,000 bottles of so-called champagne, made principally from the stalk of rhubarb are annually sold. Some idea may be formed of the relative consumption of real champagne by different countries from the following return of the sales in 1843 of the Department of the Marne. The total quantity amounted to 2,689,000 bottles, which were thus distributed: England and British India, 467,000; Russia and Poland, 502,000; Germany, incuding Prussia and the Austrian dominions, 439,000; United States of America and the West Indies, 400,000; Italy, 60,000; Belgium, 56,000; Holland, 30,000; Sewden and Denmark, 30,000; Switzerland, 30,000; South America, 30,000; Spain and Portugal, 20,000; Turkey, 5,000; and France, 620,000 bottles.—London Literary Gazette.

PORTSMOUTH:
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1852.

COL. BENTON ON GOVERNMENT REFORM.—Col. Benton made a speech on the 30th ult., in Missouri, which is abridged in the Boston Transcript. In the speech, Mr. Benton promises to make war on all the corruptions at Washington. He promises reform in all departments of the government. He asserts that Washington has become a den of thieves—that influence and votes are bought and sold—that hundreds of thousands of dollars are expended every year, in warping the judgment and the action of Congress; and that by these means the good of the country has been sacrificed to private rapacity, and millions of the public money have been squandered upon individuals.

All this, he declares, must be broken up.—He goes to Washington to make war upon it. He promises to lay bare the corruption and infamy which are degrading and ruining the country, to hold up the agents in them to public scorn, and to arouse a whirlwind which shall sweep the polluted courts of government with the besom of popular wrath. He demands a system of roads to connect the West with California—he demands a new territory between the Western States and New Mexico and Utah—and he demands measures which shall bring the public lands into speedy cultivation and settlement, and terminate the ownership of them by the general government.

After predicting Pierce's election, as he is about to close, he says:

"And then, after the third day of March next, all the departments of the government, executive and legislative, will be in the hands of the democracy. And what then? deliver ourselves up to the joys of victory—do as King Pyrrhus proposed to do after he should have conquered the world, eat, drink and be merry? No! but work! hard work! gravity and labor is to be our portion, and the fulfilment of great promises. We have complained of abuses; it is our duty to correct them.

We have complained of extravagance; it is our duty to reduce it. We have reproached the Whigs with latitudinous constructions of the Constitution: it will be our duty to stick to strict constructions. In all these complaints and reproaches we have promised amendment—given our bond to correct what we condemn, and to avoid what we reproach."

To all this we heartily respond amen! It looks well on paper, and must have sounded well in a speech—but we would like to see him do what he promises, and accomplish what he purposes!

STEAMBOAT BUCKEYE BELLE burst her boilers not far from Cincinnati on the 12th, killing 16 persons outright, and wounding as many more. The boat was completely torn to pieces. Every flue in one boiler collapsed, and the other boiler cannot be found. The accident is attributable to the gross carelessness of the Engineers, one of whom at the time of the explosion was standing on the safety valve. The carpenter of the boat says he told the engineer there was too much steam on five minutes before the explosion took place. The Buckeye Belle was a mail packet.

THE MINER'S ADVOCATE.—A friend has sent us No. 3 of the Miner's Advocate, printed at Coloma, El Dorado County, California.—It is of medium size, printed once a week, and the price is $8 a year, $5 for six months, and $3 for three months. Advertising $3 for 100 words, one insertion; $1.50 for every subsequent insertion, "being the rate charged throughout the State."

One of the principal articles is a speech in favor of a Railroad from the Bay of San Francisco to the Atlantic States! and one of the advertisements, dated Oct. 9, offers 10 miners $200 for one month, payable on the day when Gen. Scott is elected President of the United States.

SHIPPING APPLES.—The U. S. Mail steamer Arctic, which sailed from New York on Saturday for Liverpool, took out as freight, twenty-five hundred barrels of apples. Her predecessor in the same line took out two thousand barrels, and the Pacific, on a late trip, had a large number, which brought in Liverpool 28s per bbl. They were the best Newtown pippins, costing here about $5 per bbl. The freight charges are $1.20 per bbl.,—leaving a handsome profit for the owner.—The expedition with which perishable merchandise of this description can now be delivered in England, ensuring its good order, has given rise this season to quite an extensive trafic between the two countries.

A SLANDER RETRACTED.—A New York despatch of Sunday, says, Capt. McLane in his defence yesterday before the Court Martial, admitted that he was mistaken with regard to the insult said to have been offered to General Pierce in Mexico, and expressed regret that he had given currency to the story.

SNOW.—A slight sprinkling of snow fell in this city on Sunday, and also in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

LEGAL DECISION.

Yesterday's Chronicle contained a telegraphic despatch announcing that on Saturday Judge Paine delivered his opinion in the habeas corpus case in the Superior Court at New York, which has excited considerable interest. The opinion occupies about two printed columns, and is thus abridged in the Boston Daily Advertiser.

The facts of the case appear to have been these: Mrs. Lemmon of Virginia, having occasion to go to Texas with eight of her slaves, embarked with them on board the "City of Richmond" steamer, which landed them in New York. While awaiting a passage hence to some port in Texas, a writ of habeas corpus was issued against Mr. Lemmon, requiring him to show by what right the slaves were retained, their case being conducted by a Mr. Louis Napolcon, a colored gentleman. His reply was that the persons in question were held by him as slaves in Virginia, a State whose Constitution and laws allow slavery, and were in transitu to another State whose institutions were similar; and that the stoppage in New York was incidental.

The Judge after considering three similar cases which have heretofore been decided, one each in Massachusetts, Illinois and Indiana, and pointing out the differences, comes to the conclusion that the subject is embraced simply under the law of nations and the general principles of common law; and while the principle that a stranger may carry his property through a foreign state is established, yet as the Constitution of New York does not recognize slaves as property, but says that they shall not be brought into the state, and that if they are "they shall be free," he ordered the release of the slaves. An attempt to try the case again before a higher tribunal appears to have failed. The slaves consist of two women, two lads 17 and 12 years of age, twin boys aged 7 years, and two infants.—They are represented as in a state of great destitution. Mr. Louis Napoleon put them in carriages and drove off amid much cheering. The owners seemed to be depressed not only on account of tears or the well-being of the slaves, but of their own loss.

NEW CRYSTAL PALACE.

A grand Crystal Palace is now in actual progress of preparation at Sydenham in England, which the proprietors hope to open for exhibition on the 1st day of May. It is to stand in the centre of ornamental gardens one hundred acres in extent—and, the architecture of the building may be imagined, when we mentioned that at each end will stand a tower ten stories high.

This new Crystal Palace is to contain ancient and modern works of art from all nations, in regard to which the London Times says:

"We shall be able to feast our eyes upon the chief masterpieces of by-gone ages, from the times of the Assyrian empire downwards, through the Egyptian, Greek, Roman, Byzantine, Norman, Mediæval, Renaissance, Elizabethian, French, Flemish, Italian, and all revived classical styles. As an example of the manner in which the succession of courts dedicated to this purpose are to be fitted up, it may not be out of place to describe the proposed decorations of the Assyrian Hall, under the superintendence of Dr. Layard and Mr. Fergusson. The grand facade of this hall, which will be about 100 feet by 26 feet, will be a restoration of one of the principal entrances of the palace of Khorsabad, and on either side of its chief portals will stand a colossal bull, 19 feet high, with a human head and wings. On either side of the advanced pylous will be placed, back to back, two bulls resembling the others, and 15 feet high. At one end of the hall will be a door-way entering into a nave, with casks of two colossal human-headed and winged lions, 16 feet high, which Layard brought from Nimroud. On the side-walks, between the pylous and the end of the facade, will be bas-reliefs of Assyrian deities and kings, and ministering priests about ten feet high. The walls of the interior, to about half their height, will be covered with scenes representing battles, sieges, and triumphs, religious ceremonies and the chase.—These will be cast from the most interesting Assyrian sculptures in the British Museum and the Louvre, or modelled from the works of Dr. Layard and M. Botta, and will portray many of the most remarkable events in the reigns of Shalmaneser Sennacherib and other great kings."

MADAME SONTAG.—Ever so many of the Boston clergy have published a card praising Madame Sontag's rehearsal, and acknowledging her liberality. She will give another rehearsal on Wednesday, for the press and clergy, with their families—free.

☞ The editor of the Biddeford Journal desires to say something severe against hogs going at large in the streets of his city—but having the fear of a libel suit before his eyes—he dares not handle the animals without gloves.

LARGE CARGO.—The clipper ship Trade Wind sailed on Saturday from New York for San Francisco with probably the largest cargo ever sent from that port. She stowed, under deck, 34,988 packages of general merchandise, measuring some 3400 tons. She also takes out 46 first class cabin passengers.

BOSTON POLICE COURT.—On Saturday, Benj. Watson, who has been in custody on the charge of stealing silver spoons, was discharged, there being no proof that the spoons were stolen, but the officers retained the property.

At a sale of wines in Baltimore recently, one of them brought as high as $30 per gall, and others $16 per bottle, equal to $80 per gallon or $1 25 per wine glass.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

TOO QUICK DESPATCH.—While Jackson & Co.'s Express wagon was being unloaded at Towle's Sales Room, yesterday morning, a trunk fell from the cart, striking the spirited horse on the back. The frightened animal made a sudden start for the opposite side of the street, and ran on the sidewalk from Mr. Washington Freeman's to the City Hotel yard—striking the post as he went in, and pitching one of the trunks through the glass and sash of Mr. Andrew Lowd's window.—The shock broke the front axle, the whiffletree, a shaft and a spring, and the horse, clearing himself, left the wagon and its load of trunks, &c., in a pile at the entrance.

DEMOCRATIC CELEBRATION.—On Thursday evening, the Democrats of Portsmouth will celebrate their political victory with a Torch light Procession, Free Collation, Fireworks, &c. The Procession will be formed at half past 6 o'clock, in front of the Democratic Head Quarters, Daniel street, and accompanied by music, march through the principal streets to Jefferson Hall, where the Collation will be served. Rockets and other Fireworks will be let off at different points during the progress of the Procession.

CONCORD EXPRESS.—An Advertisement in this day's paper informs the public that an Express, in responsible hands, is running daily between Concord and Portsmouth.—Business men in the towns on the route will be glad to avail themselves of the facility here afforded.

GOOD INK.—We write this paragraph with the last of a bottle of very fine black ink, manufactured by our neighbor, Dr. Gilbert, Exchange Buildings. The label says it will not corrode the steel pens as common ink does. About this we are not positive, as we have not observed closely—but it has not corroded them badly if at all; and it is certainly both black and clear, flowing well from the pen, and looking black from the first.

☞ Steamer G. H. Devereux has been libelled in the U. S. District Court, for salvage; bonds have been given, and she will proceed on her voyage.

☞ We understand that orders have been recived at the Navy Yard to place the old ship Franklin in the Dry Dock.

ACCIDENTS BY FIRE.—The alarm of fire, Saturday evening, was occasioned by a serious accident at a house in Boardman street.—A young girl about sixteen years of age, while putting a stick of wood in the stove, set her apron on fire, and instead of lying down and endeavoring to extinguish the flame in the speediest manner, ran out into the open air. The consequence was that her dress about the breast and shoulders was almost immediately on fire and she was terribly and probably fatally burned.

The same evening, while a clerk in a store, in State street, was engaged in lighting a gas burner, the flame caught some light goods which were displayed in the window, setting several pieces on fire and damaging others.—Herald.

FILLIBUSTERS.—The New York Tribune publishes letters from Washington implicating Senator Douglas in the fillibuster movements, and says that the expedition is to sail as soon as the present national administration goes out of power. This statement of the Tribune is worth about as much as its other statements generally are about political opponents.—Boston Post.

[We shall see. Time is the test of truth.]

PRESIDENT'S CARRIAGE.—The Boston Post says:

"We are gratified to learn that a number of the patriotic citizens of Boston and vicinity are getting up a complimentary testimonial of their personal esteem for the President elect, in the shape of a "model" carriage, together with horses and equipage complete, all of New England production, for the occasion of his inauguration in March next.

PLUNDER RECOVERED.—On Friday last, $2000 worth of watches which were stolen from the store of George Heaton, Pottsville, were recovered at Baltimore. A. B. Brown, the robber, was arrested Thursday. His wife was captured in Baltimore on applying at Adams's express office for two trunks containing the plunder which the police had ascertained was there, subject to her order.

SCHOOL-MASTER DISMISSED.—"We have been informed," says the Charlestown City Advertiser, "that the Sub-Committee of the Winthrop Grammar School have sent the teacher, Isaac Coffin, who whipped the boy, E. H. Miskelley, a circular requesting him to resign the charge over that school. Such prompt measures on the part of the committee give us the best knowledge of the sentiment of the public in this aggravated case."

The Boot and Shoe trade, as usual at this season of the year, is inactive. The sales of the week have been confined to a few orders from the South and West, and a moderate demand from the New England trade. Prices are well sustained, and stock of all kinds of goods on hand very small. Manufacturers are now employed on spring pork, but owing to the high prices of all kinds of stock are very reluctant to manufacture largely.—Boston Shipping List.

Rev. James Calvert, on Sunday week, while reading from the 15th chapter of St. Luke, "I will arise and go to my ——," suddenly fell down and expired before completing the sentence, at Norton, Cattaraugus county, N. Y.

The gales along the coast of Britain at the end of the past week were very destructive to shipping and life. Over twenty vessels were wrecked, and the larger portion of the crews perished. There were no American vessels reported among them. One ship had a cargo valued at £300,000, which was fallen on and plundered by the people along the coast. Several other ships were plundered in like manner.

Abdel Kader had an audience of the President of France at St. Cloud on Friday, by whom he was warmly embraced, when the ex-Emir renewed the oath he had taken, never to return to Algeria. Crowds of people surrounded his carriage, and paid him every respectful attention, and seemed rejoiced that he had been released from captivity. He had received an invitation to dine with the Minister of War on Wednesday.

Letters from Paris state that Prince Callimajo, the Turkish Ambassador, had received his letters of recall.

The steamship Cresent City has been libelled at New Orleans by the owners of the ship Ocean Queen, for injuries sustained by the latter in a collision with the steamer, coming up the river on the 5th inst. The libel alleges that the accident was owing entirely to the negligence of those in charge of the Cresent City, and damages are laid at $25,000.

ACCIDENT.—Last evening, as the large audience which attended Mr. Fowler's lecture on temperance, were passing from Casco Street Church, the platform in front of the church gave way, precipitating the persons upon it, numbering some eighty or a hundred, a distance of about six feet. We have not heard of any serious injury to any of the parties, with the exception of a severe fright.—Portland Advertiser.

SARDINES.—The editor of the Manchester Mirror says from personal knowledge, that the bay of Monterey, California, is literally filled with this delicious fish. They are said to be found there in greater abundance than in any other part of the world. They are found not only at Monterey, but in all the still waters on the coast from Panama to Oregon.

LOVE AND SUICIDE.—At Harrison township, Warren County, Ohio, on the evening of the 25th ult., Jeremiah Eskridge shot Mary Spangler, and immediately after shot himself through the heart. He died in a few minutes, but the girl will recover. The cause of the sad affair was her refusal to marry him.

Oliver Graves, aged 92, Justin Morton, aged 91, and Consider Morton, brother of Justin aged 94, of Whately, in Massachusetts, were born in the same house, voted for Gen. Washington, and have voted at every Presidential election since, including that of the 2d instant.

Rev. Daniel Stickney, a Universalist clergyman, of Lee, Maine, has obtained a verdict of $100 damages and cost of suit, aginst Joseph H. Perkins, of the same place, fer a libel in the Portland Inquirer, of the 19th June, 1851.

A fine young horse was won by a gentleman of this city, from its owner on the banks of the Kennebec. A note was given for the horse for $750, payable when Gen. Scott should be elected. The horse is worth $300, and has since been sold for that sum.—Portland Argus.

In Texas they can hire Mexican 'peons' for twelve cents a day; while a slave, wear and tear, costs the planter full 60 cents a day! Slavery won't be a popular institution long, if it twists the planter's pocket-book in that way.

HOME AND A WIFE ON SATURDAY NIGHT.—Happy is the man who has a little home and a little angel in it of a Saturday night.—A house, no matter how little, provided it will hold two or so—no matter how humbly furnished, provided there is hope in it—let the winds blow—closa the curtains!

What if they are calico, or plain white without border, tassel, or any such thing? Let the rain come down—heap up the fire. No matter if you havn't a candle to bless yourself with, for what a beautiful light glowing coal makes, reddening, clouding, shedding a sunset through the little room; just enough to talk by—not loud as in the highways; not rapid as in the hurrying world, but softly, whisperingly, with pauses between, for the storm without and the thoughts within to fill up.

Then wheel the sofa round before the fire—no matter if the sofa is a settee, uncushioned at that, if it be just long enough for two, or say two and a half, with the two, or two and a half in it.

Under such circumstances, and at such a time, one can get at least sixty-nine and a half statute miles nearer the "kingdom come," than any other point in this world laid down in the "Malte Brun."

Whiskereets is the name of the "little John bean-catchers" that the ladies wear on their cheeks in the place

"Where the whiskers ought to grow"

They are formed by drawing down a tuft of hair from the temple, and curling it up in the shape of a ram's horn, or a pig's tail with an extra kink in it.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.—"Will you please permit a lady to occupy this seat?" said a gentleman to another, the other day, in a railroad car. "Is she an advocate of women's rights?" asked the gentleman who was invited to "vacate." "She is," replied he who was standing." "Well, then, let her take the benefit of her doctrines, and stand up."

A Sydney letter says that immediately when an emigrant ship comes in sight, proposals are made to every young lady on board with a speaking trumpet! There's a "settler" for her!

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Portsmouth, Sept. 9th, 1852.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS

COOKING STOVE.

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES. As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved by the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed what this stove combines of the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

Terms Cash, invariably. E. CHAPMAN,
No. 18 Daniel st., Sign of the Big Coffee Po

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash or Approved Credit.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make it the most complete, simple, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels warranted in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any store in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with a very best pipe mounting, and altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a stove, or exchange the old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the South," "Queen of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Step, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION.

In different parts of Europe it is said there are four hundred Agricultural Schools, open to the public. While, therefore, we are ahead of all other nations in the general diffusion of the ability to read and write, and in the disposition to read newspapers and write letters—we are at the same time rather behind-hand in specific and particular education, for the pursuits in which we are to spend our days, and by which we are to secure so much as we may of temporal comfort. We do not here refer to deficiencies in medical or legal or theological schools, or in the colleges where the candidates for the learned professions receive their preparatory training; though they have their defects. But we refer to the fact that we have few schools if any where a good education can be attained for a small sum of money, and where that education is exactly adapted to aid the scholar in his future business of farming, manufacturing or trading.

Some of the new States have felt the want of such schools as are here hinted at, and public spirited individuals are endeavoring to supply the deficiency by establishing them by subscription in part.

Perhaps similar plans might succeed in building up similar institutions at the North. With this view we copy the following from the Chicago Democrat.

PLAN OF UNIVERSITY.

A law shall be passed, granting the College and Seminary Funds, on conditions.

The chartered subscribers to the "Illinois Industrial University" (not less than 500 to begin with) shall pay into the treasury thereof an annual member fee of $3.00, to be increased to six or diminished to one, as the exigencies of the institution or expediency shall direct.

Fifty dollars, in one payment, to constitute a perpetual transferable membership.

The subscribers to elect one Trustee or Regent, for each Congressional District in the State; and the Legislature, as near as may be one half as many.

The State funds to be handed over to the Board, with permission to sink $49,678 of the capital, in the purchase of farm and stock, and in erecting suitable, but economical buildings, collecting a Library, Cabinet, Apparatus, &c.

A like amount arising from subscriptions, donations, &c., may be used for the same purpose, it being thought that $100,000 judiciously expended, will prove amply sufficient for the purpose.

No man eligible as a member of the Board, unless practically engaged in commerce, or some pursuit of productive industry. Persons in any way connected, officially, with sects, or existing institutions, or holding office in the State or county government or legislation, ineligible.

The Board to locate the Institution, and appoint the faculty and the pupils, except such portion as the State may appoint, pro rata, through the legislative bodies of the several counties.

Both sexes to be admitted, but no pupil under 14 years of age; and must also have a good Common School education. The principle of labor to be recognized, and to be equal, according to the physical ability of each pupil; but not to be so constant, or considerable as to interfere with a due amount of study, and heartfelt recreation. The laboring more for the practical instruction of the pupil, than a matter of benefit to the institution, though it shall be so conducted, as to insure the most profit, consistent with the main aim—the instruction of the pupils.

The institution to be open to all, on some just basis of representation and contribution, and the instruction free. The productive labor of each pupil to be credited to his boarding and incidental expenses. Nothing but the useful and practical to be taught, and the dignity of labor and moral worth, to take precedence of old custom, and barren learning.

Literature to be encouraged, but practical science to take the highest graduating honors. The Normal and Agricultural departments, to be opened at once; and, including President, six resident, and as many term Professors, or teachers, to be appointed as occasion permits, or necessity requires.

The annual sum of $6,000, arising from the $100,000 reserved funds, will support the institution when first opened, with the aid of money drawn from subscriptions. But it is believed, that in less than 4 or 5 years, which may be required to complete the buildings, a fund may be gathered, and annual subscriptions assured sufficient to warrant the appointment of the entire faculty, and the yearly graduation, thereafter, of one or two hundred pupils; for which, my estimate is only $12,000 per annum,—the figures of which I will give at another time. But the facts on which they are based, have been drawn from consultation with practical scientific teachers.

OFFICE HUNTING IMPUDENCE.—We find the following in the Philadelphia Ledger, a few days since:—"General Pierce has already been assailed by politicians in quest of the spoils, who cannot wait till his inauguration to make known their great merits and special claims to his consideration for office under his administration. One of the leaders from this quarter visited him a few days ago, and was about to lay before him a budget of overwhelming testimony in favor of a particular friend, who is a candidate for executive favor, when he was told by the President elect that he was very glad to see him, but that he had made up his mind not to speak on political subjects for at least three months to come. The rebuke was fully appreciated by the applicant, who returned to this city entirely satisfied that in politics, at least, and among the intelligent, it is not always "the early bird that catches the worm," but haste may sometimes be injudicious as well as indecent." This story is true. A member of the bar in this city is the person alluded to. He deserves the rebuke he recieved.

TEMPERANCE IN BOSTON.

It is well known that the State of Massachusetts has passed a law "for the suppression of drinking-houses and tippling-shops,"—and equally well known that the City authorities of Boston licensed a number of drinking-houses just before the law passed, whose licenses are legal and now in force. It is generally known that there is a large and costly newspaper established in Boston, on purpose to oppose, and if possible to break down the law. The conductors of the paper claim to be the real friends of temperance, and resent being called the rum organ; and they maintain the position that the traffic should be regulated, by licenses granted to respectable dealers for the public good, so as to make it a blessing.

The liquor law, pro and con, has affected and is affecting the elections—and a great struggle, moral, social and political, is going on in relation to it. In the midst of conflicting theories, arguments and pleas, we come to some stubborn facts, which we copy from the Boston papers.

The City Council in their visit to the new Jail on Saturday last, found 120 prisoners confined there, and but few free from the hab it of using intoxicating drinks. There were 123 persons committed to jail last week, 60 of whom were intoxicated, and many common drunkards. Some nights from 30 to 40 are put in the lock up, and generally a majority of them are foreigners.

"These are appaling facts," remarks the Journal, "claiming the serious notice of our city government—with hundreds of unlicensed groggeries in our midst, absolutely nothing has been done by a government which has undertaken to regulate the traffic in ardent spirits, to check the growing evil."

GENERAL SESSION.—The adjourned session commences at Concord this day. The two houses are to count the Votes returned for Presidential Electors, consider and fix the apportionment of Taxes—pass or refuse to pass the liquor law—re-district the State for the choice of Representatives, or refuse or neglect to do it—and (it is said) pass a resolution to take the sense of the people on the question of calling a Convention to expunge the Protestant test from the Constitution.

Last, but not least, they are to choose a Senator to represent New Hampshire in Congress, for the next six years. The Boston Post recommends Mr. Atherton.

We wish they would introduce the Secret Ballot law, as the Coalition have done in Massachusetts, and pass a law regulating the hours of voting in town-meetings, as in Maine.

SOUTH AMERICAN COTTON.—The cotton plant grows wild in some parts of South America. Recent arrivals from England inform us that some samples of cotton of a good and useful quality, from La Plata, were exhibited the past week on the Manchester Exchange. Five bales of it had been transmitted from Buenos Ayres to a Liverpool house, with advices that it was a sample of cotton growing wild on the west bank of the Parana, in the district of Tucumana. It is said that any quantity may be had for the gathering; but nothing is said at present of any steps being taken to secure future consignments.

THE GENEVA'S CARGO OF FLOUR.—The cargo of flour of ship Geneva, at San Francisco, was sold at $22 to a merchant some weeks before her arrival, provided she arrived before a certain day. Not arriving in season, the bargain was at end. It is said that the cargo was again sold to arrive, at $25 per bbl., and that the ship arrived only three days before the expiration of the contract. The value of flour in San Francisco at last accounts was $33.

A VETERAN.—Conrad Heyer, of Waldoboro', aged one hundred and three years the tenth of April last, notwithstanding the severity of the storm, travelled six miles, and was at the polls as usual, and cast his vote for Gen. Scott. Mr. Heyer has voted at every Presidential election, and has always been a whig. He served three years in the war of the revolution.—Portland Advertiser.

The emperor of Austria has caused it to be notified in Milan, that all officers of government, of whatever grade, must remove their beards—that they can henceforth wear no hair upon the chin or under lip. The angles of the mouth are to be the most southerly points upon which its growth may be encouraged. An invitation to conform to these directions is also to be extended to schoolmasters, and officers in benevolent institutions.

THE POPULATION OF THE GLOBE is supposed to be less than one thousand million—937,000,000. A French writer, alluding to the subject, says: If all mankind were collected in one place, every four individuals occupying a square metre, the whole might be contained in a field ten miles square.

Mr. Parvis, the distinguished architect, who is building the St. Charles Hotel, at New Orleans, fell from the scaffolding and was terribly mangled. It is feared that he cannot recover.

Uncle Tom's Cabin has been dramatized and produced at Boston Museum with new and magnificent scenery.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Report of the Portsmouth City Mission,

PRESENTED IN THE NORTH CHURCH,

Sunday evening, Nov. 14, 1852.

The City Missionary Society, which we represent this evening, was organized Nov. 28, 1851. The Constitution requires the Secretary to read a Report of its doings at the Annual Meeting, on which account he appears before you this evening to perform this duty.

For several years past it was known that Portsmouth afforded a large field of missionary labor, presenting to our view the temporal and spiritual wants of the destitute, and of those beyond the limits of the several pastors; but all attempts for successful and permanent operations, proved ineffectual, and were abandoned. The visit to this place last fall of our present Missionary, Mr. Abbott, who had labored twelve years in India and also much at home, with other favorable circumstances combined, inspired the friends of the enterprise with new hopes. The liberal pecuniary offers of individuals, and the encouragement from some of our best citizens, without regard to sect or denomination, (among whom was the much esteemed late Deacon Foster,) led to an organization of this society, whose object has been to take measures for establishing a permanent mission in this place, so that the Gospel, the great remedy of evil, might have its salutary effects on such of the poor who are seldom where they can feel its saving influence; that physical suffering of the neglected might be lessened or mitigated; that consolation might be given to the sick and dying, and that means might be used to diminish idleness, street begging, disorder and vice in the community, especially among the young.

It is believed that your Missionary has been assiduous to help carry out these objects, and with much success. By his affectionate invitations several have been induced to attend church, and where they would not or could not go from various reasons, he has imparted religious instruction to them at their homes. By the interest manifested for their temporal wants, he has gained access to many hearts, and in dispensing relief, has exhibited a course of systematic benevolence, united with discretion. His numerous visits from house to house, occupying most of his time on week days, have been gratefully received, and the blessing of the afflicted has often been pronounced upon him. Nor has the education of the ignorant been forgotten; places have been found for many children in Sabbath and other schools.

The Missionary soon after his engagement with this Society, found that his presence at the Alms House was desired, and during the latter part of the winter and in the spring, conducted the religious services there. These have since been sustained by the different pastors, to be resumed again by our Missionary the coming winter. That it is well to have religious services every Sabbath at this place, cannot be doubted by those who feel interested for this class of persons. The different clergymen, on account of other labors, are unable to do all in this department, but with additional aid this work can be carried out fully.

In the month of February religious services were commenced at the Old South Church, on Sabbath afternoons, beginning soon after four o'clock, in which the several pastors took part. They were suspended in July for the want of interest on the part of those they were more especially designed to benefit.—This movement it is presumed has been beneficial. It has tended to influence some to attend religious worship at other places, and taken away the plea sometimes offered that "they would go if they did not live so far from church." Young men who were rude, taking great liberties at the commencement of these meetings, were taught to be considerate—to have more respect for themselves, and good order was finally established.

In a destitute part of the city a prayer meeting held weekly was sustained throughout the winter, which we have reasons to believe resulted in good to the families that availed themselves of its privileges.

The number of sick who have been visited is about sixty; of these nineteen have died, while it has been the aim of the Missionary to alleviate the sufferings of their last moments, and encourage them to cherish immortal hopes through a Divine Redeemer.

During his visits to about four hundred families, Bibles and Testaments have been furnished to the destitute, and tracts have also been distributed. On the Sabbath, when not otherwise employed, the Missionary has circulated them on board of vessels, to those who were upon the wharves, and around the corners of the streets, and with a single exception, they have been respectfully received.

Efforts have been made to find places in the country towns for children of poor parents, but not with much success. Against this plan there seems to be too much prejudice on the part of parents, and in a greater degree among the Irish population—professing to employ them in summer months, away from school, in picking up chips, going errands and begging. Good places however, have been found for eight or ten children, who so far as is known, are doing well. It is proposed to petition for a law by which a more universal attendance of children of suitable age will be secured at school, making absence a penal offence when it occurs without sufficient reasons.

During the winter months there is much destitution found in our city occasioned by want of employment, and especially with the fishermen and day laborers. When destitute cases were known to the Missionary he had them brought to the notice of the "Howard Benevolent Society," to the "Overseers of the Poor," or to some benevolent individuals.—In this manner many have been relieved; but much more could have been done, had the means been more abundant. We would avail ourselves of this opportunity to say that several ladies by their generous and persevering efforts have done much towards sustaining this Mission.

It is estimated that there are about three hundred families who will need special attention the coming season, and among them will be found many real objects of charity. Their claims will be strong upon the more fortunate and prosperous, and we indulge the hope that they will be more fully responded to. The virtuous poor demand our warmest interest and should not suffer from neglect, neither should the sympathy of their friends be cut off by a too abundant supply of their wants at any one time. Those who have made themselves poor by intemperance or other vices, should not be so assisted as to encourage them in their wrong doing.

The custom of street begging must be discouraged, as it is most demoralizing in its effects. Experience shows that the little boys thus employed, are promising candidates for our jails and prisons, and little girls are preparing for a life of infamy. Street beggars, by resorting to all manner of deception, not only harden their own hearts, but chill and destroy the charitable feelings of the community toward those who are really deserving. A plan for relieving those who are truly worthy, and of preventing the frauds and impositions of beggars, has been submitted the board of directors, which meets their approbation. It has proved successful in a neighboring city, and calls for a hearty co-operation of the friends of this Society and the community at large.—Thus—tickets are sold for small sums to those who are disposed to render assistance to the needy. When persons come to the door for alms these tickets may be given them which they are to carry to the Missionary, whose duty will be to visit their homes and ascertain if the applicant is a proper subject for relief. If he thinks it judicious, help will be afforded. It is the intention that all proper inquiries be made into the circumstances of this class of persons so that charities will not be given in vain.

The board of Directors consists of the clergymen, deacons, and sabbath-school superintendants of all the religious Societies who are willing to cooperate. At the meetings the board have held during the past year it was felt that our Missionary operations had an important bearing upon the welfare of the city. The details given were of a very interesting character, impressing us deeply that much may yet be done by united faith in the enterprise, and well directed efforts. These details and many others which the Missionary might furnish, would give a far more correct idea of the good accomplished, and the need of sustaining such operations, and perhaps be highly interesting to the audience, but the Missionary feels that such a course would be a breach of that confidence that is virtually reposed in him by those who receive his visits.

The treasurer, Mr. Knowlton, will present his account this evening, by which you will be informed of the amount of funds received and expended during the past year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. TUCKERMAN,

of which $500 were paid to the City Missionary, and the balance remains in the Treasury.

FEMALE BEGGARS.—Two or three females have been begging from house to house in this city, within a week—all doubtless under false pretences. One of them is a woman not above 30 years old, wearing a fur tippet. Any persons who are visited by them, would promote the public good by referring them to the City Missionary, who can relieve them if they are worthy, and probably expose them if they are not. In the City Mission's Report, a plan may be seen for diminishing or breaking up the evil of street beggary.

ACCIDENT ON SHIPBOARD.—A singular accident occurred yesterday on board the new ship Red Rover, which is fitting for sea, as fast as possible. The workmen were getting up the masts; the mizzen-top-mast was pointed and hoisted partly to its place, and the mast-rope was belayed and seized. A rigger was standing on the top at work, when a laborer on deck, by some unaccountable blunder, cast off the rope and topmast came down by the run, bruising and splitting a deck beam, and doing other mischief, and then fell over the rail, breaking off just outside it. The rigger on the top stood in mute astonishment to see his "vocation gone," and the hands below wondered what would come next, and why nobody happened to be hurt.

ORDINATION AT NORTH HAMPTON.—Tomorrow is the day appointed for the ordination of Mr. Dinsmoor in place of Rev. Dr. French. The public exercises will take place in the afternoon, probably at 1 o'clock, so that visiters from Portsmouth can go out in the 10 3-4 train, and return at 5 or 7 in the evening.

FURBER'S MINSTRELS.—Their performance comes off at the Temple this evening,—and will not fail to draw a good house,—as they have been here before and were general favorites.

THE PRICE OF WAR.—The New York Express reminds us that during the short period of the last war with Great Britain, New York lost 25,000 of her population, and property fell 40 per cent.

THE PARDON OF GEN. MILLER.—The Pardoning Committee, we learn, have unanimously agreed to pardon Gen. George Miller, now in the State Prison for an alleged forgery. He will probably be released to-day or to-morrow—as soon as the requisite papers can be made out.—Boston Herald.

A BEAUTIFUL MISS IN MALE ATTIRE.—About a week since, a smart looking lad, in appearance, entered the extensive clothing warehouse of Simmons & Co., Water street, and applied for employment. The intelligent, honest look of the applicant instantly procured a favorable answer, and the supposed lad was set to work folding and packing goods, filling papers, &c., and remained in such employment, boarding at a "quiet" house at the north end, until yesterday, when the pretty lad acknowledged herself a last of eighteen. She is the daughter of an official, an excellent gentleman of New York city, and was induced to leave her father's house by one whom she loved but who has since abandoned her. Being left alone, she sought employment as above.—Boston Post.

RUNAWAY LADS CAUGHT.—Three youths, eleven, twelve and thirteen years of age, left the residence of their parents, in Portland, one day last week, declaring that they were going west. The father of each started in pursuit, and overtook the trio in this city. Just as the elders were preparing to return with the captured party, two of the boys made their escape again, and were not heard of until Sunday, by telegraph from Albany, where they arrived Saturday, and were taken into custody by officers. The third returned to Portland with his father. They were provided with money by one of the boys who obtained his father's check for five dollars. He ingeniously wrote the words "one hundred and sixty" and received for the paper at the bank $165. The lads, on arriving at Boston, armed themselves with revolvers, dirk knives and other instruments of a similar nature.—Boston Post.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—About 2 o'clock yesterday morning, as the night freight train from Worcester was approaching the Brighton depot, a brakeman named John A. Hayward, who was on top of one of the cars arranging the signal rope, was struck by a bridge, and knocked off, falling between two cars and killed him instantly. The engineer stopped the train and brought the body to this city, where Coroner Smith held an inquest upon it this forenoon. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.—Deceased was 22 years old and belonged to Gardiner, Me. He has been employed on the road but a short time.

LATEST NEWS!

BALTIMORE, NOV. 16.—The New Orleans papers of the 10th, report the ship Caroline and Mary Clark, Capt. Emerson, from Havre, with passengers and freight, as badly ashore on South Point; assistance had been sent. At last accounts she was in 8 feet water.

CURIOUS PROCEEDINGS.—Belize, Honduras, October 20, 1852,—In my last, I informed you of the brig "Lothera" on Cozumel. Her hull and cargo were sold to John L. Priest Co., of this place and Boston. Mr. Robertson, the partner of Mr. Priest, took possession of the wreck, and was quietly proceeding to save the cargo, and had worked three or four days, when they were driven away by about three hundred armed "Spaniards," assisted by an American wrecking schooner from Key West, or some part of Florda.

THE FOUNDERED STEAMER ON LAKE ERIE.—Buffalo, Nov. 16.—It was the propeller Princeton that is supposed to have foundered during the recent gale, and not the Powhatan, as reported. There is no doubt all on board perished. Large quantities of flour have drifted ashore near Dunkirk.

SENTENCE OF A POST OFFICE ROBBER.—Charleston, Nov. 15.—The jury in the case of Dr. Hines, charged with robbery in the post office at Savannah, have rendered a verdict of guilty. He was threfore sentenced to pay a fine of $100, and be imprisoned six months.

DESTRUCTIVE GALES.

The gale on Thursday and Friday last was extremely destructive on Lake Erie, both in life and property. The New York Herald says:

"Among the vessels injured were the propellers Samson and Globe, both of which will prove total wrecks. The former had on board fifteen hundred barrels of flour, all of which is lost. In the gale on the Sunday previous the same boat was obliged to throw over five hundred barrels. The steamer St. Louis, loaded with cattle, hogs, and two thousand barrels of flour, was also wrecked, together with a large number of sailing vessels of all sizes. In consequence of the stinging frost on Friday night, it is feared that the crews of the disabled vessels suffered dreadfully. One curious circumstance connected with this gale is the fact, that a great number of human bodies have been seen floating near where the steamer Atlantic was sunk, some weeks ago. It is supposed that the surgings of the lake have upheaved these bodies from their watery graves."

There has also been some bad weather since that time. A Buffalo despatch of the 15th gives the following particulars.

AWFUL CALAMITY!—LOSS OF STEAMER POWHATAN—MANY LIVES LOST!—Buffalo, Nov. 15.—Private advices from Dunkirk report that the Propeller Powhatan has foundered in Lake Erie, and that every soul on board at the time has perished. She had a number of passengers; no list given. Books and papers belonging to the ill fated vessel have drifted ashore. Nothing authentic has yet been obtained, but it is feared that the information will prove unfortunately but too true.

A vessel is ashore at Fairport, bottom up, name unknown—crew supposed to be lost. At the mouth of the Detroit River, there are ten or twelve vessels ashore, most of which will be got off with but slight damage. The schooner Eagle is a total wreck at the mouth of the Welland Canal—cargo lost, 8000 bushels of wheat; one lad was drowned, and the rest of the crew escaped after much suffering—several partially frozen.

Canadian schooners Sovereign and Lady Bagot, are ashore at Lake Huron, the former is a total wreck.

The propeller Ohio went ashore last night, but by discharging cargo got off and arrived here.

There is a report in circulation that a steamer was seen on fire off the north shore of Cleveland last night—no reliable particulars. Snow fell pretty freely last night.

GALES IN THE BRITISH CHANNELS.—About the last of October, the gales along the East coast of England were very destructive to shipping and life. Among others, two ships were lost whose names are unknown.—Lost near the mouth of the Tyne and the Wear:—Brig Amulet of Rochester, all hands; St. Hilda, Shields, all hands; Acorn, Shields, all hands; a Lubeck galliot, all hands; a schooner, all hands; a ship, all hands; brig Wensleydale, all but two. A large number were wrecked, part of the crews of each being saved.

BOLD ROBBERY IN RANDOLPH, MASS.—On Sunday afternoon, three young men entered the dwelling house of Thomas Littlefield, in Randolph, and asked of Mr. Littlefield's son for a bite of something to eat. Young Littlefield went to the larder, and on returning the three strangers were gone. Soon after it appeared they, in his absence, went into the parlor, opened a desk, and stolen therefrom a pocket-book containing $700 in bank bills. A gold watch laid beside the pocket-book, they did not take. Immediate pursuit was undertaken, and it was ascertained that the same young men had, before going to the house, put up a white horse and chaise at the house of Mr. John Long, about one mile this side of Littlefield's, and had now started with the team towards Boston. The parties were then traced in over the Mill Dam to this city, where they managed to avoid further direct pursuit. —Boston Times.

The story that a ball was shot into the cars lately at Lyun, is all a hoax. A small stone was thrown through the window, doing no injury.

RIGHT.—The agents of the cotton mills at Amesbury have consented to close the factories on Thursday evening, in order to give the operatives an opportunity of attending the lectures of the Lyceum in that place.

Hon. Wm. R. King, the Vice-President elect, is at his residence in Alabama, and said to be in a bad state of health.

A witty contributor to the Gateshead Observer announces the discovery of a new property of the circle. It is many years since Wilson, the American runner, began his practice on a circle, of which he gradually diminished the diameter, increasing his own speed at the same time, until, as is well known, he was at length successful in catching a sight of his own back! Latterly, however, "with increased practice in the art, he has attained greater speed on a similar circle, and the sight of his own back in advance has become familiar to him. But what will our readers think when we say, that in his recent performances at Liverpool he succeeded in hitting it with a stick!!! He says that it ran for some seconds afterwards with a visibly accelerated speed!"

AGE OF THE MEN OF THE TIME.—President Fillmore is 52 years old, having been born in 1800, in Cayuga Co., N. Y. Macaulay, the historian, is 52 years; and so is Bancroft, the author of the History of America. Abbott Lawrence, the late popular and able Minister to the Court of St. James, was born in Groton, Mass. in 1792, and is now consequently about 60 years of age. Edward Everett, the new Secretary of State, was born in Dorchester, Mass., in 1794, and is now 58 years old. Washington Irving was born in New York, in 1783, and is therefore not far from the mature age of 70. Louis Napoleon Bonaparte, President of the French Repuplic, was born at the Tuileries in 1808, and is therefore in his forty-fourth year.—Boston Transcript.

Mr. Macaulay, who has been reported in extremis, is in London, whence he has written to his friends in Edinburgh, that he would be there to address his friends and electors, in compliance with his promise after his election in August, on the 1st and 2d inst., when he would return so as to take his seat in the House of Commons on the 4th. He says, "My kind friends must not expect from me more than one address, and that, I hope, I shall be able to get through pretty well. I am better certainly than in August I expected ever again to be."

In Pekin, China, a newspaper of extraordinary size is published weekly on silk. It is said to have been started more than a thousand years ago—somewhat earlier than the one under the patronage of the "Good Queen Bess." An anecdote is related to the effect, that in 1827 a public officer caused some intelligence to be inserted in this newspaper, for which he was put to death. Several numbers of the paper are preserved in the Royal Library at Paris They are each ten and a quarter yards long.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Portsmouth, Sept. 9th, 1852.

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL INVALID COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed shat this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with flue smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very large OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We also furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

TOO MUCH READING.

To the Editor of the N. Y. Tribune:—I like your paper, but I shall have to stop it.—I have to work for my living, and I can't find time to read half your sheet. Column after column of Foreign Intelligence, News from the Pacific, Correspondence from all parts of the world, Court Proceedings, Reports of Meetings, &c., I am obliged to leave unread, not from lack of inclination to peruse them, but from sheer want of time; still I do contrive to worry through the greater part of your regular sheet, by staying at home evenings, when I should otherwise be looking about town; but every now and then you double the dose by an extra sheet or supplement, and that quite does me up. I can't begin to read it. I think, therefore, I shall have to discontinue the Tribune.

Yours, &c., JOHN H. SMITH.

Response.

DEAR JOHN—Your case is distressing, but it is by no means so peculiar as you seem to imagine. It is not in the Tribune alone, nor even in reading generally, that people labor under a difficulty akin to yours. For instance, your brother, Baxter Smith, came down here from the country the other day, and stopped at the Astor House, but had to quit it—the living was too much for him. The food was very good and abundant—in fact too much so—and that did him up. He didn't eat more than half way down the bill of fare, while he saw others on every side who had got very near the bottom of it, and were still working away when he left the dinner-table, so full that he could hardly stand or walk. He had a touch of the Cholera the second day, and was threatened with Apoplexy—so he had to quit the Astor abruptly and take board at a chop-house, where he only ate what he called and paid for, plate by plate. Had he stayed, the coffin-maker would have taken his measure before this time.

Then there was your cousin, John Z. Smith, who came down and bought a ticket to Barnum's Museum, and found it a regular gouge. He thought he was going to see every curious object in the world, and perhaps he might have done so; but, after looking his eyes almost out of his head, for nine or ten hours, and giving himself a torturing headache, he had to give up, leaving half the objects unseen, because the attendants began to blow out the lights, and told him it was time to shut up and go home.

And then your nephew, John Wilkins Smith, who came down with a sloop-load of turnips, sold them satisfactorily, and thereupon resolved to treat himself to a salt-water bath, which he did; but, staying in two hours in order to get the full worth of his money, he came out with an ague, and is now suffering severely from rheumatic debility. His case is even harder than yours; for you can stop the Tribune, and he has been trying to stop the ague, but can't.

There are more such cases, but let them pass. We will stop your paper very cheerfully, but we can't stop putting in more than any one patron will be likely to peruse. In fact, we can't give each reader what he wants of the news of the day without giving his neighbor a great deal that he don't want. Nor can we give any one what he needs to-day without inserting many things that he probably would not want to-morrow. Good bye, John.—Ed. Tribune.

BODY FOUND.—The body of a young man about 21 years of age, was found on Sunday in the woods near Hog Bridge, Roxbury. Close to the body was found a pistol, with which he had shot himself through the mouth. He had on a pair of black German doeskin pants, handsome gaiter boots, and was otherwise genteely clad. Coroner Adams will hold an inquest upon the body. The deceased is supposed to be a German.

Nathaniel Bowker, of Royalston, Mass., recently had some liquor seized and taken from his cellar, under the new liquor law, but the complaint was dismissed and the liquor returned to him. Mr. Bowker then sued the officer and recovered damages. Complainant ought to foot the bill.

A Haytien ship is at present at Marseilles with Haytien produce; the crew are all colored.

ENGLISH TAXES, NOT LIGHTENED, BUT SHIFTED.—The Nottingham Journal professes to be aware that the Chancellor of the Exchequer's financial scheme is to repeal the malt tax, and the duty of 3 1-2d per pound on farmers rental. To reduce the tax on incomes from 7d per pound to 2d, but to impose it on all incomes and wages above £50, ($250) per annum, and to charge 5 per cent. tax on all incomes of whatever amounts arising from property.

The funds are to be taxed for pauper maintenance and: the tax on carriages, horses and dogs (certainly not poor men's luxuries) are to be abolished; the effect of these changes is not regarded as favorable to the working classes, being, in fact, equivalent to—first, a reduction in the price of beer, already abundant enough; second, a tax of over one twentieth of their entire income on the thousands of annuitants whose whole substance is a pittance in the funds; third, a reduction of two thirds in the income taxes, now paid by the wealthy classes, and fourth, the privilege of owners of equipages to ride in them untaxed.

The tax on railways will be well recieved by the public, provided the railroad companies do not, as they likely would, raise the rates of transportation. The sum to be demanded from Parliament for the expenses of the Wellington funeral is placed as high as £100,000.

A correspondent of the Keene Sentinel gives an account of a valuable plumbago mine, in Nelson, N. H., discovered in 1848, and now yeilding a large supply of this valuable mineral. He states that the business has been increasing every year up to the present time. Last year there was eighty-five tons taken from the mine; this season from April 1st to October 1st, one hundred tons.

The cars were thrown off the track near Fredericksburg, Va., Saturday, and one man killed and several wounded.

PORTSMOUTH:
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1852.

WELLINGTON'S FUNERAL.

To-day comes off in London, the grand imposing funeral pageant of Arthur Wellesley, Duke of Wellington. The funeral procession is to be led off by six battalions of infantry, of 600 men each, eight squadrons of cavalry, a detachment of foot artillery with 17 guns, and a detachment of horse artillery with nine pounder batteries.

After this grand army has passed, we read the programme of an immense procession, of Marshalmen, Chelsea pensioners, trumpets and kettle drums, standards, Merchant Tailor's Company, East India Company, civil officers, military and naval officers, Lord Mayor, Judges, Dignitaries of the Church—all the batons, given to the deceased: his spurs, helmet and crest, sword and target, and surcoat, all borne by heralds; the field marshal's baton in a coach on a velvet cushion, by the Marquis of Anglesea; and the coronet carried in the same way.

Then the body of the deceased, in a metallic coffin, on a funeral car, which is 27 feet long and 11 wide, with six wheels cast in solid bronze, and drawn by twelve horses, three abreast.

After the body come the pall bearers, eight general officers in mourning coaches; garter principal king at arms in a mourning coach; the chief mourner in a long mourning cloak, his train borne by the assistants—relations and friends—the Duke's horse, led by a groom—officers and men from every regiment in the service, with bands representing every such regiment—carriages of the Queen and royal family—and lastly, troops to close the procession.

This is a real funeral—not a sham—and the mourning also is real and not feigned. The English nation regard Wellington both as a hero and a statesman—and the nobility, gentry and dignitaries generally, who compose the funeral train, were the admirers, almost the worshippers of the Iron Duke. True he was an old man of eighty; and every body might have been expecting him to die, but they did not: for they seemed to think him immortal, and their grief partakes of surprise—though he had arrived at fourscore years. He was closely connected with all the military glory of the present and past generation of Englishmen—and seemed to them a living, moving part of it—a monument, which made all other monuments more valuable. The unlettered could point him out to their children as the Vanquisher of Napoleon, the Hero of Waterloo;—the elegant and refined could converse with him; and the whole people were proud of him! But his honors outlive him—his body is retained above ground, lying in state long enough for news to cross and recross the Atlantic two or three times, in order to have his burial on the grandest possible scale,—and his monument, if it does not say, will mean,

"Here lies the Great"—

Yet the reply will be pertinent—

"False marble! where!
Nothing but poor and sordid dust lies here."

The same burial service will be read over him as was read over the last beggar who died in his parish—and he falls asleep only in the same sure and certain hope of a resurrection unto life. This dust is honored,—but it is only dust!

THE WEBSTER OBSEQUIES.

The funeral ceremonies of the deceased statesman in New York on Tuesday, brought together one of the most imposing displays ever got up in that city. The procession was estimated at nearly two miles in length. The appearance of the military was exceedingly fine. The streets along the line of march were densely crowded, and scarcely a house was without being cashrouded with mourning. The Astor house, Stewart's marble palace, the American hotel, the Museum, and the Broadway house, were appropriately decorated, as were also many stores and private dwellings. No disturbance or accident, so far as is known, occurred during the ceremony. The ceremonies were concluded by a eulogy by James T. Brady Esq., at the Metropolitan Hall, before a crowded audience. The discourse occupied an hour and a half in delivery, and was listened to with the silent attention befitting the occasion, and was a warm tribute to the character and services of Mr. Webster.

COMPLEMENT TO AN M. D.—The surviving patients of Dr. Wm. C. Whittredge of New Bedford have presented to him a tea service of silver plate, as a memorial of esteem and personal respect, by many families of that city, with gratitude, his faithful services as a physician and friend.

A SUDDEN DEATH.—Capt. John D. Edmands, a venerable citizen of Charlestown, retired on Monday evening, enjoying his usual health,—but in the night aroused his wife, and almost instantly died of bleeding at the lungs. He was 70 years old.

EXPLORATION OF AFRICA.

We copy the two items following, from two Boston papers, to notice two seemingly conflicting reports which after all are founded on the same facts, in which main facts we rejoice, viz. that Lt. Lynch is determined to explore Africa, and that other governments will help him if ours does not. We wish him health and success in his perilous undertaking.

NEW EXPEDITION PROJECTED.—We learn from the Philadelphia Inquirer that Lieut. Lynch, of the U. S. Navy, whose name is familiar to the country, in consequence of his having headed the Exploring Expedition to the Dead Sea, left New York on Saturday last, in the steamer "Arctic" for Liverpool, charged with the highly important mission of visiting the Western coast of Africa, to make inquiries and arrange preliminaries, with reference to an Exploring Expedition to that coast and adjoining country. This is a measure of the deepest interest, and the task could not have been confided to more capable hands. The Republic of Liberia is located on that coast, and the prospect of an extensive settlement—one indeed that will form the nucleus of a great empire, was never more encouraging than at the present time.

It may not be generally known that President Roberts of Liberia, during his late visit to Louis Napoleon, who received him in the kindest manner, presented him with a vessel of war, and offered him any ammunition, ordnance or military clothing that he might stand in need of. The British Government also, some time since, presented him with a small vessel of war—and both Powers have formally recognized the independence of the Republic of Liberia. Liberia is destined to be the germ of great results.—Boston Transcript.

It is stated by the New York Herald, that Commander Lynch has been detailed on an exploring expedition to Central Africa, for the purpose, as is stated, of finding a healthy location at some distance inland, fitted for the purposes of colonization. This may be so, but it seems extremely improbable, and the authority on which it is stated does not add to its plausibility. No appropriation has been made for such an object by Congress, and is not likely that the administration would undertake so important an enterprise without authority.—Boston Journal.

THE JAPAN EXPEDITION.—The long talked of expedition by the United States government, to open the ports of Japan to the commerce of the country, is at last about to start for Jeddo, under the command of Commodore M. C. Perry. We have received positive information from an authentic and reliable source, that the squadron detailed for the expedition will sail on or about the 1st of December proximo. We have also received from the same source the following exhibit of the effective force of the squadron:

Vessels.	Tons.	Guns.	Men.
Mississippi, steam-frigate,	1700	–	875
Susquehannah, "	2500	–	850
Princeton, "	1200	–	190
Alleghany, "	1000	–	190
Saratoga, sloop-of-war, first class,		22	190
St. Mary's, " "		22	190
Vincennes, " "		22	190
Razee frigate Macedonian		22	450
Brig-of-war Porpoise,		10	120
Storeship Southampton, 32-lb guns		4	–
" Lexington, " "		4	–
" Talbot. " "		4	–
Total number of men			3945

To the above total of the ships' companies, are to be added 700 marines, which, with the complement of the storeships, officers, scientific corps, and others attached to the expedition, will make an effective force of 4000 men, and above 320 guns, mostly heavy ordnance. The steamers are each to mount a couple of Paixhan guns of the largest calibre, and placed on revolving trucks, so as to sweep the horizon. These guns are intended to be used for the discharge of shells of 68 and 121 lbs. each, and long 42's, making 22 guns to each steamer. Each ship is provided with two brass 24 lb. field-pieces, to be used for shells or canister shot.—N. Y. Herald.

NEW CHURCH IN SOUTH BOSTON.—The Boston Courier says, we have seen Mr. Fairchild's subscription list, for building a new church, and it is filling up rapidly. We see the names of many of our first merchants and most respectable citizens of all professions and occupations, and, of all denominations in religion as well as politics. Some of them have been his neighbors, and intimately acquainted with him for nearly a quarter of a century. Others have been familiar with the merits of his case, and watched it critically from the beginning.

A strong sympathy for him has been created by a recent movement against him, on the strength of which a new meeting house will probably be built.

SPAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.—The New York Express says that the Spanish minister has communicated to the department of state notice that the Crescent City will be fired into if she again enters Havana within the prohibited hours. The Spanish minister has in his possession a deposition sworn to by purser Smith, that he had never written any thing derogatory to the government of Cuba, nor communicated any information calculated to injure the government. In short, that he is guiltless of all the charges against him.

A BET.—The following bet was made a few days before the Presidential election, between a whig and democrat, boarding in Arch street, Philadelphia:—

The loser to purchase, saw, and carry into the chamber of the winner, a half cord of good hickory wood—sawing to commence at three o'clock, P. M., in front of the house.

The stamped envelopes which the new postage law requires the department to place in the hands of the postmasters for sale, will be ready in January.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

NEW MATCH MANUFACTORY.—Messrs. G. Furber & Co., have set up the business of making a new kind of matches, in this city, occupying for this purpose the premises on Christian Shore, formerly occupied by Mr. Alonzo K. Warren, Dearborn street. They manufacture block matches, and use a small steam engine. As the business is strictly private, we can give no further particulars.

NEW ENGINE HOUSE.—At the Eastern Railroad Station the Company are driving piles in the rear of their present Engine House, for the erection of a larger and more commodious house, to be 100 feet long by 60 wide, one story high, built of wood.

A NEW CAUSE FOR WAR.—The New York and Washington papers, explain the zeal of certain noted individuals at New York, to get up a large expedition to Cuba. It is stated that these people have stored at New York 141,333 muskets, which were purchased last year, of the government, having been superseded by those of improved construction.—They cost the purchasers only about $2 each, and if they could be sold to Cuba invaders at $10 each, the speculators would make considerably more than a million of dollars on them. Kossuth talked of buying these muskets at one time, at $7 each, if he could raise funds sufficient

So it seems a revolution must be effected somewhere, and hundreds or thousands of lives sacrificed, to make a market for these old muskets.—Newburyport Herald.

On Saturday morning last, while the lady of Benjamin Davies, Esq., M. P. P. for Queen's County, was engaged in superintending the baking of cake over the kitchen fire of her own residence—her servant being employed in another part of the house—and while in the act of lifting it from the fire, her back being partly turned to the blazing logs, a light gown that she wore came in contact with the fire, which so rapidly ignited as to rended her own efforts to extinguish it ineffectual. She lingered in great agony until about eight o'clock this morning, when she was relieved of her sufferings by death.—Charlottetown, P. E. I. Gazette.

EAGLE HOTEL, CONCORD, N. H.—The new Eagle Hotel was opened on Saturday, with a grand dinner to the proprietors and mechanics engaged in erecting it. It is one of the finest hotels in the country, and will be kept in a style equal to the first class Boston hotels. The landlords are John Gibson & Son. Gen. Pierce has engaged a suite of rooms at the Eagle, and will make it his permanent abiding place till his removal to the White House.—Lowell News.

LIQUOR SEIZURE.—Seven or eight barrels of bad liquors were seized at Bangor on Sunday, upon steamer Bangor, on her arrival from Boston. Some spectators who volunteered to assist the marshal, were badly handled, and some of the barrels were rolled off the wharf and rescued, or their heads were knocked in.

Pig Iron was sold in Pittsburg, on Wednesday, for $40 per ton. A few months ago, it could be bought for $22. The Pitsburg Gazette attributes this great rise to the scarcity of the article, many furnaces being out of blast. This rise will soon set them in operation again. The late rise in England has also given metal a start in this country.

NEW GRENADA—THE POPE.—The Pope and his advisers are disposed to stretch their power in the cause of reaction to the Republic of New Grenada, where the swarms of English and Americans crossing the Isthmus of Panama, have for a long time fostered a heretical degree of progress.

At a secret consistory, on the 27th of September, his Holiness denounced the Government of that state for tolerating the open exercise of all religious persuasions on the part of the many immigrants constantly arriving, and also on account of their having passed a law analagous to the celebrated Siccardi law in Sardinia, by which the clergy are rendered amenable in civil matters to the ordinary tribunals. The Pontiff concluded by declaring all the measures of the New Grenadian Legislature and Government that are not approved by the Church to be null and void, and by warning the authors of them that nothing but repentence and recantation can save them from her severest penalties.

These severest penalties are excommunication, accompanied with all the ecclesiastical curses and anathemas which the church can pile up on the head of a heretic. Our protestant readers may smile at all this as a mere brutum fulmen, or as the bellowing of a bull without horns;—but to a good catholic, who believes that his church has control in the unseen future world, nothing can be more terrible. Perhaps His Holiness will relax the stringency of his rule—but if not, the country may be lost to his spiritual dominion. It will become Americanized, unquestionably—and free toleration of all sects must follow.

LIBERAL BENEVOLENCE.—We have heard of two instances in St. Louis which will compare favorably with anything which has been done for benevolent objects by rich men.—Colonel John O'Fallon, a distinguished citizen of that place, has this year given over $20,000 to the Medical College for the erection of a dispensary for the poor, and $1000 and fifteen acres of land (worth $15,000) to the Widow's Home. This with other donations of his, will swell his contributions for benevolent objects this year, to nearly $40,000.

Mr. H. D. Bacon of St. Louis, a young man of thirty-five, of the house of Page & Bacon, and a native of Hampshire county, Mass., has contributed this year to the stock of the Mercantile Library Association, $20,000; to a college which is about to be established near St. Louis, $2000; to the Widow's Home, $1000; to the poor, $500; and to the church of which he is a member, $10,000.—Various other contributions of his would, it is believed, bring the amount contributed by him this year to benevolent objects, up to nearly $40,000.

HIGH PRICE OF OIL.—The Boston Courier states that the contract for supplying the government with 11,827 gallons of winter, and 9253 gallons of spring sperm, bids for which were received in Boston on the 28th Oct., has at length been decided in favor of Edward M. Robinson of New Bedford, at 119 cents for spring and 124½ for winter.

THE FUR TRADE.—The furriers are beginning to do a pretty brisk Fall business, and furs will be very generally worn during the coming winter. Some of the best descriptions bring extravagant prices—$150 or $200 not being unfrequently given for a set. A large proportion of the most valuable imported furs go East—the Boston ladies paying high prices rather more readily than New Yorkers. The stock of furs now in this market is supposed to be worth not far from $2,000,000. The largest traders have stocks on hand ranging from $50,000 to $100,000. While American ladies cannot be suit with anything found this side of Hudson's Bay, Greece, or Germany, European ladies are equally anxious to get furs from the United States, and the rough skins of the fox, fisher, or mink, form the interior lining of the garments of the Russian nobility.

That is it, exactly—according to the old saying, "Far brought, and dear bought, fit for ladies."

"MUTUAL IMPROVEMENT."—Eight members of the Washington Athenæum, a society of young people of this city, for the avowed object of mutual improvement, have been married within one year. We suppose their creed goes for improvement mentally, mutually and matrimonially.—Lowell News.

LATEST NEWS!

LATE FROM HAVANA.

New York, Nov. 17.

THE CRESCENT CITY DIFFICULTY.—The Steamer Black Warrior from Mobile and Havana arrived this morning. She left Mobile 9th, arrived at Havana on the 11th, and sailed for New York 12th with 35 passengers—has a large freight of cotton, tobacco and cigars.

The Purser represents the Crescent City difficulty as revived: the Captain General affirming that his agreement with Mr. Conklin had reference only to one voyage. Our informant thinks this is the effect of representations from some of the old Spanish, who have persuaded the Captain General that concession on his part would have the appearance of cowardice, but there is no evidence of of such influence having been used.

A war steamer was cruising off the Moro to prevent the Crescent City entering the port of Havana.

Every attention is paid to all other American vessels. As an instance of the civility, the American steamer Antelope, belonging to the Nicaragua Company, had put into Havana for coal and water without a clean bill of health, which is well known to be contrary to the quarantine regulations of the porte.—Nevertheless, every facility was afforded, and having obtained the necessary supplies she sailed on the morning of the 12th for San Juan.

The British steam frigate Highflyer and two sloops-of-war, with several French vessels of war were in the harbor, but no vessel of the United States Navy.

Havana was healthy, but business dull.

DEATH OF CAPT. UPSHUR.—Washington, Nov 16th.—News of the death of Capt. Upshur, of the U. S. ship Levant, is recieved. He died at Spezzia last month.

FIRE AT FITCHBURG.—Worcester, Nov. 16. This morning a large three-story woolen mill, in West Fitchburg, owned by Col. Ivers Phillips, was entirely destroyed by fire, with its contents. The machinery was owned by William Bickford and Henry Goulding, of Worcester. The building was occupied by Henry S. Fraser, of Worcester, for a manufactory. Loss, $10,000 to $15,000. Covered by insurance. Messrs. Bickford and Goulding were insured at Fitchburg Mutual, Franklin, New York, and office in Hartford.

DR. VAN HORN, of Philadelphia, at present attached to the U. S. sloop-of-war Albany, has been for the last week confined to his room at the National House, Charlestown, from the effects of a severe inflammatory affection of his left leg. He was removed to the Naval Hospital, Chelsea, on Friday last and it is thought he will not be able to join the Albany on her next cruise.—Boston Daily Advertiser.

ATTEMPTED ESCAPE OF A MURDERER.—James Clough, who is in jail at Taunton, Mass., on a charge of murdering Constable Manchester of Fall River, very nearly succeeded last week in his second attempt to escape. He had sawed off two bars of his window, when a discovery was made.

At New London, Sunday forenoon, the extensive works of Phillips' fire annihilator were burned to the ground. A woman in the building lost her life. The cause of fire was supposed to be from a defective flue. There were one thousand charges of the "annihilator" in the building, and it is asked, naturally enough, why they did not put out the fire.

POISONING POULTRY.—This week a man was mulcted in the sum of eighty-odd dollars and costs, in Middlesex County, for poisoning a dozen hens belonging to a neighbor. A similiar case came off in Norfolk County a year or two since, when the man on coming into court found he would receive a sentence for a term of years in our State Prison; was glad to settle the case as best he could. This offence, it should be understood, is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the State Prison.—New England Cultivator.

The Postmaster General has decided that there is nothing either in the laws or regulations of the Post Office Department which prevents the sending of periodicals or papers to "actual or bona fide subscribers" by agents or dealers, the same as if they were mailed directly from the office of publication.

LOCOMOTIVES FOR THE PANAMA RAILROAD.—Three locomotives have just been turned out, at the Portland works, for the Panama Railroad. The tenders are covered with a handsome roof, as a protection against the deluging Isthmian rains.

DISCOVERY OF STOLEN PROPERTY.—At Woburn, Mass., last week, in a closet of an unoccupied building several trunks were found, containing stolen property, embracing sundry pieces of silks, &c. Some of the goods have been identified by shop-keepers of Boston. The building in which the property was found was formerly used as a hotel. The closet door was nailed, and it was with much difficulty that it was forced open.

FRANCONI, the proprietor of the French Hippodrome, is about to start for America with his entire establishment, horses, ostriches, reindeer, &c. A building twelve hundred feet in circumference will have to be erected for the exhibition. He says such a building must be had in New York, even if the suburbs have to be resorted to for a site. The intended fair at the New York Crystal Palace, is the inducement for this journey.

THANKSGIVING.—This annual festival will be generally held this year through the Union on the same day, the 25th of November. The only exceptions, so far as we know, are Mississippi, which kept Thanksgiving Oct. 14; South Carolina, Oct. 29; and New Hampshire, Nov. 11. The following States celebrate Thanksgiving on the 25th inst.: Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, New York, New Jersey, Kentucky, Indiana, Rhode Island, District Columbia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, Georgia, Florida, Wisconsin, North Carolina, Vermont, and Delaware.

ENCORES.—We commend the following paragraph from the Boston Evening Gazette, to the attention of every one who attends concerts. There is no more reason in compelling an artist to repeat a performance, than for obliging a laborer to do a piece of work twice, just because the employer is pleased with the job:

Encores at Concerts. The vigor with which our Boston audiences insist upon a repetition of performances by vocalists, is becoming highly disgraceful. Not content with hearing all that is promised in the programme, and all that they have a right to expect, they want a second concert thrown in. We only wish that they who are not content with the acknowledgement of a bow, but insist on a repetition, could hear the opinion expressed of their want of breeding by the artiste, who, after exhausting strength and voice to give a piece with full effect, is obliged to do it over again. One might as well demand the payment of a note a second time, to express the reciever's approbation of the beauty of the bank bills with which it was first taken up, as to force vocalists to repeat the effort. "John," said a father to his son as he was setting out on a summer tour, "don't give the servants at the hotel, more than ninepence for brushing your hat, if you do, they'll think you don't travel much;" and he might have added, "Don't encore a vocalist more than twice during a concert, for they'll think you don't go to concerts often."

MANNERS.—"I've always taught my children to say Yes sir and No sir," remarked Mr. Fidget. "There's nothing like manners in children. Here Tommy," he continued, "would you like to go and live with this gentleman?" "No what!" "No, sir-ee!"

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable, the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS

COOKING STOVE,

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling Apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operation more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c., with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WAR OR PEACE.

The events of the last forty years, show us that wars are made easily—that it does not require great talents nor great efforts, to involve two or more nations in a deadly struggle which ought to have been avoided. Great Britain this year has had a drunken and tyrannical officer on the eastern fishing grounds—and we could easily have had a quarrel if we had sent an officer there of a similar character.

Republicans as we are, we may look at the sovereigns in Europe, and decide them to be feeble, commonplace men—small men, perhaps—but they are not too small to make wars and do mischief, if they once set about it.

A late article in the Newburyport Herald speculates a little on the prospects of peace and war in Europe—rather leaning to the prospect of peace; and then turns to this country, holding the following language:

"With regard to our country, we do not anticipate any danger of embroilment, either as regards the annexation of the Sandwich Islands, the remainder of Mexico, or the whole of Central America—which events are probably not many years distant. England and France—particularly the former—will bluster about this, but they will not resort to war to prevent it, and will acquiesce in what they cannot prevent, when they come to consider that the possession of these regions by the United States, will enure much to the benefit of their commerce and manufactures, by greatly increasing the markets for their products, under the stimulus of American enterprise, diffused over the territory now occupied by feeble and imbecile races.

As to Cuba, there is much more danger.—With the indomitable pride and obstinacy of the Spaniard, Yankee policy and calculations have little prospect of success. To Spanish vengeance, we offer the richest commerce the world ever saw, while that nation has nothing beyond Cuba and Porto Rico, upon which we can retaliate. Then, too, England, France and the northern nations of Europe, will be rejoiced to see Spain commence a war with us, and will do all they can, to stimulate her to the reprisal upon the first excuse for such a line of policy. In such an event the whole carrying trade of the United States would fall into their hands, for upon the first announcement of hostilities, the rate of insurance on American vessels will rise so high that our ships will necessarily be hauled up in port, and the whole export and import trade of the country must be done in foreign vessels.

We see by the last arrivals that the English papers, of all parties, are busily engaged in taking the side of Spain in regard to our controversies with the authorities of Cuba, and we may depend upon their earnest efforts to stimulate hostilities between Spain and the United States. Such an event would afford a harvest profitable beyond all precedent, to the British commercial interest."

"DOING" A SHARK.

I rose and went forward—the sea was like molten lead, and rippled along the hull of the schooner with a quiet and trickling sound; while the sails which had shone so brightly during the day, had assumed the color of night, and flapped supinely against the masts and cordage like funeral palls. There is nothing so imposing, and withal so soothing, as night on the ocean. In that wild solitude every object assumes a shadowy and spectral character, and impresses the sailor with a feeling of awe that is seldom otherwise excited. All the objects on the shores were indistinct, except the fire-flies, with their topaz-colored lights, that were travelling across the gulf, like those floating lamps which the Hindoo girls launch into the Ganges to discover the fate of their affections.

I looked over the bulwarks, and as Anderson had told me, there was the watchful monster winding lazily backward and forward like a long meteor, sometimes rising till its nose disturbed the surface, and a gushing sound, like a deep breath, rose through the breaker; at others resting motionless on the water as if listening to the sound of our voices and thirsting for our blood. As we were watching the motions of the monster, Prince the cook, a lively little negro, suggested the possibility of destroying it. Anderson uttered an incredulous "humph!" and I laughed and asked Prince if he meant to engage him in single combat with his bush-knife, as the old Jamaica negro did the famous Port Royal Tom.

Prince laughed and shook his head—"No, no, skipper, me give um a hot bellyful—make a brick hot in the stove and give um for nyam"—(eat.) I consented, and Prince forthwith commenced his culinary operations. They were simply to heat a fire-brick in the stove, wrap it hastily up in some old greasy clothes, as a sort of disguise, and then to heave it overboard. This was the work of a few minutes, and the effect was triumphant. The monster followed its hissing prey—we saw it dart after the brick like a flash of lightning, and gorge it instanter. Prince whooped and laughed with exultation, and hurrying up to the surly Spaniards, who took no sort of interest in the circumstance, congratulated them with a kind of sarcastic raillery on the prospect of "fresh fish for supper"

The shark rose almost immediately, and his uneasy movements soon betrayed the success of our manœuvre. His agonies became terrible. The waters appeared as if disturbed by a violent squall, and the spray was driven over the taffrail, where we were standing, while the gleaming body of the fish repeatedly burst through the dark waves, as if writhing with fierce and terrible convulsions. Sometimes, also, we thought we heard a shrill, bellowing cry, as if indicative of anguish and rage, rising through the gurgling of the waters. His fury, however, was soon exhausted. In a short time the sounds broke away into distance, and the agitation of the sea subsided. The shark had given himself up to the tides, as if unable to struggle against the approach of death, and they were carrying his swollen body unresistingly to the beach.—Anonymous.

MR. WEBSTER IN PORTSMOUTH.

Within a few days the New York Journal of Commerce has published a letter from a worthy clergymen of the Presbyterian Church, the material part of which, we copy below with some slight corrections. This clergyman, who speaks of having been a student in Mr. Webster's office, must be the Rev. Rufus William Bailey, who pursued his ministerial studies for a time with Rev. Mr. Abbott, of Greenland; and the general accuracy of his statements is confirmed by Rev. Mr. Putnam, the pastor therein alluded to, who has recently visited this place.

"I was a student in Mr. Webster's office in Portsmouth, during his second term in the lower House of Congress. Mr. Webster was then a communicant in the Congregational Church, of which Rev. Israel W. Putnam was pastor. My own mind was there deeply awakened to the subject of religion. I united with the same church, and went for the first time to the communion table in company with my esteemed preceptor. These important events in my own life led me to frequent conversations with Mr. Webster on the subject of religion, as well as of law, the study of which I exchanged, with his approval and advice, for the study of theology.

Mr. Webster was a man of deep religious feeling. He united with the church of the Rev. Thomas Worcester, in Salisbury, his native town, early after he entered on the practice of law, and Mr. Worcester has told me that he then gave pleasing evidence of the sincerity and reality of his piety. During my residence in his office, the controversy was in progress between Doctors Worcester and Channing on the subject of the Trinity. The pamphlets of these distinguished theologians were received as they successively issued from the press, and were read by us together. Mr. Webster said that Dr. Worcester had "not only the truth, but the argument."

Mr. Webster was a Bible student, and a thorough theologian. His doctrinal views were those which naturally result from taking the sovereignty and infinite perfections of God as a stand point, and investigating truth under the instructions of the Bible, implicitly received as a divine revelation to instruct our ignorance and enlighten our darkness. I never heard him conduct an argument on religious doctrine. I have often heard him state his convictions, and leave others to dispute.—He was tolerant toward those who differed from him, and expressed little preference for forms of worship or church order. Abstruse reasonings in the pulpit always gave him uneasiness—but plain, pungent preaching, which arraigned the sinner as guilty before a holy God and a holy law, always gained his commendation. His closing scene of life was such as I always expected. After a long life of unsurpassed labor in his profession and in politics, as he felt she end approaching, he first disposed of his official business, then minutely dictated his will, and then fell back on his religious hopes, giving his last hours to religion, as to a familiar subject, long cherished. He was a patriot—he was so to the last. He was a father—he blessed his family. But these and all other subjects were opportunely disposed of, and his closing thoughts were, as we should have wished them to be, as we shall wish ours to be, of God in Christ, and of immortality."

A gentleman, who has always been connected with St. John's Church in this city, informs us that Mr. Webster was among the subscribers to the stock raised to erect the present beautiful church edifice; and that one of the pews in the church now stands as it has always stood, in the name of Daniel Webster—belonging, of course, to some of his heirs.

THE NEW YORK SLAVE CASE.—Mr. Jonathan Lemmon, the owner of the eight slaves who were recently released in New York, while on their passage from Virginia to Texas, has published a statement of the circumstances of the case, from which it appears that his detention in New York was affected by means of fraud. He had already paid $181 for passage for himself, family and slaves in the steamer Memphis, which sailed from New York directly after his arrival, and he took carriages from one wharf for the other, but was driven to another part of the city, where against his will he was left. Meanwhile the steamer sailed with his furniture, and his slaves were seized and carried to Court. He represents that they were worth $5000, and were all his property.—Boston Daily Adv.

Doubtless his case is a hard one—but the case of slaves rendered back into bondage "against their will" is quite as hard. It is bad to lose $5000, especially when it is all the property a man has—and this the writer knows by experience. But it is worse to lose one's self, or not to own one's own body. It is very bad to be cheated out of a voyage, and out of property—but it is worse to be cheated out of liberty. The operation of the law this time happens to be against the master, who was detained by a false pretence, as he says,—and almost every fugitive thus far apprehended, has been taken up on some false charge. When the bondmen suffer "rendition," there seems to be no remedy. We cannot see any in the present case. Sometimes a subscription is got up to ransom a slave—now it would be a deed of charity to subscribe for the relief of the poor helpless master and mistress. We hope the benevolent New Yorkers will make up a purse.

LUCK.—Mr. Anthony Cogger informs the Newburyport Union that an Irish lad in his family, who ran away from Ireland a year or two since, received a letter a day or two since from some official personage at home, informing him that he has fallen heir to £10,000, besides the annual income of £1000. The boy is about sixteen years old, and came over here entirely destitute of means.

There was a slight fall of snow at Richmond, Va., on Sunday, and a killing frost in Charleston on Sunday night. The water was covered with ice. All danger from yellow fever has, of course, vanished.

☞ Rev. T. S. King has received a unanimous invitation to become the pastor of the Chauncy Place Church, Boston.

A number of the Newburyport bay-fishermen have been recently fitted out for Pollock fishing on the clam grounds. The catch for the past few weeks has been remunerating.

D., over the Congregational Church and Society in North Hampton, N. H., where the senior Pastor has lived and labored in the ministry for the unbroken term of fifty-one years in active service.

New Hampshire Legislature—1852.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 17.

SENATE.—Forenoon.—The Legislature of New Hampshire this day convened at the Capitol, agreeably to adjournment at their late June Session.

The committee appointed for that purpose reported that the Governor would meet both branches in the Representatives' Hall at half past eleven o'clock; at which time the Senate met the House in Convention.

Afternoon.—On motion, all bills and resolutions postponed from the last session, lying on the table, were referred to the committee on unfinished business.

A message was received from the House, requesting to be furnished with a copy of the opinion of the Justices of the Superior Court on the constitutionality of the Liquor Bill, as submitted to the people. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House was called to order at 10, at which time there was no quorum; at 11 the required number were present, and business proceeded. After preliminary business, a committee was appointed to wait upon the Governor to inform him of the organization of the Legislature.

Mr. J. H. Wiggins of Dover asked leave to present resolutions in connection with the recent public bereavement consequent on the death of the Hon. Daniel Webster. Leave being unanimously granted, Mr. Wiggins offered resolutions to the effect that the Legislature ought to notice in some appropriate way the death of the late Secretary of State of the United States; and that a committee of five be appointed to take the matter into consideration and report what is proper and necessary to commemorate his public life and services, in a way honorable to his native State. Referred to a select committee, of which Hon. I. Bartlett of Portsmouth, and J. H. Wiggin of Dover, are members.

IN CONVENTION.—The Senate and House met in convention at half past 11 o'clock.—At 20 minutes to 12, His Excellency Governor Martin, accompanied by the Hon. Secretary of State and the Council, entered the Representatives' Hall, where he delivered the following ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the Senate
and of the House of Representatives:

In conformity to the provisions of the present law of this State in relation to the choice of Electors of President and Vice President of the United States, you have again assembled to resume your legislative functions. The circumstances which surround us, both State and national, are of a peculiarly satisfying character. Freedom, enterprise and prosperity at home, peace and honorable commercial relations with all civilized nations abroad, are conditions and blessings for which we should be grateful as becomes a great and a free people. The husbandman, since your adjournment, has gathered in the fruits of the field, and stored for his sustenance and enjoyment the happy results of his well-directed labor. We are blessed in the continuation of general health, in the unabridged enjoyment of our civil and religious rights, and in the harmonious and uninterrupted operation of all the departments of government. Individual rights are clearly understood and respected, while the delegated powers of the government are exercised with special reference to the good of the whole. Our religious and moral guides are unremitting in their labors and teachings, and the aspect of society attests the success of their efforts. Our common schools are disseminating, with increased energy and effect, the rudiments of primary education; our higher seminaries of learning are performing their obligations to the public with unfaltering fidelity, while that ancient home of science, morals and literature, Dartmouth College, is flourishing in pristine vigor, serene maturity and unsurpassed usefulness. Mind bears sway over matter, and society holds its onward progress in approximation of its ultimate destiny. A new aid has sprung into existence in the field of learning, which promises to be a powerful agent in the pursuit of practical acquirements. The Chandler School recently organized at Hanover in connection with Dartmouth College, and amply endowed by liberality of the good and estimable man whose name it bears, cannot fail of being a source of incalculable benefit to the mechanical and practical departments of industry. The agricultural, mercantile and mechanical sciences will there find expounders of no ordinary zeal or capacity, and their labors will add immensely to the effective force of husbandry, merchandry and mechanics. I trust our young men will duly appreciate this new avenue to practical learning, and fail not to cherish that noble and manly ambition which alone can guide, through intelligence and rectitude, to useful, honorable and great achievements.

The constitutional requirement, that a new valuation of the estates, within the State, shall be taken every five years, or oftener, to guide in forming the basis of an equal and just apportionment of the taxes requisite to meet the necessary expenses of government, is founded in wisdom and justice. Everything that pertains to taxation, and especially that of a direct character, is watched with jealous care by the tax payer; and well it may be, for it takes from the hard earnings of the producer, a portion of his individual accumulations, and applies it for the public use in which he has but a common interest. The questions of utility and necessity in the public expenditures, and of equality in the assessment, in the economy in the collection and disbursement, of the public revenue, are suggested by the mere idea of taxation. Taxes to be just, must be equal, each man paying in proportion to his means, and all in proportion to their property. Under the circumstances in an intelligent and moral commonwealth like ours, should be so light as scarcely to be felt, and so equitable and just as to excite no murmur or complaint.—Those to whom is delegated the power to regulate the public expenses, and provide the necessary revenue, cannot be too circumspect in all matters which will tend to augment the former, or render oppressive the latter. Our constituents, though liberally disposed to encourage public expenditures, and leaning distinctly to the side of reasonable economy, are ever actuated by liberal impulses when utility or humanity makes the appeal.

I am advised that the public lands of the State are continually depleted upon, by the cutting and destroying of the timber upon them, and chiefly by irresponsible persons. They are of sufficient importance, in point of extent and value, to require the careful supervision of the government, and their value must be increasing as the ease of communication between the seaboard and the interior becomes more and more intimate. The lands belonging to the State, as nearly as I can ascertain, are located mostly in the towns of Pittsburg, and amount to nearly 93,000 acres, of which 58,000 acres are surveyed and divided into lots of from 150 to 200 acres each. The average value of the lands cannot be less than seventy-five cents per acre, which aggregate an aggregate of nearly seventy thousand dollars, a sum which would more than liquidate the State debt; and as their value principally consists, at least some portions of them, to a considerable degree in the timber upon them, it is important that depredators should be looked after, and the interest of the State protected. Whether the lands should be sold and the State debt paid with the proceeds, or whether they should be retained for the demand of increasing value, are questions for you to determine.

The statute of limitation of suits, as far as its provisions apply to promissory notes and accounts, operates, I think, adversely to the principles and ends of justice and right, since the fraudulent persons avail themselves of its provisions, while honest men regard them as inapplicable to their business transactions. Men should be permitted to consolidate their business affairs as well as to commence them at pleasure; and to compel them to close their most common business concerns with each other, within a given period of time, under the penalty of forfeiture of the claim, denudes for their leniency, or from forbearing to prosecute their neighbors, seems to me to be wrong in principle and unjust in practice. An honest man holds that a debt once justly due, is ever due until payment is made, irrespective of time, and acts accordingly; while a dishonest man is ever ready to embrace any legal barrier or apology to avoid the payment of his debts, without regard to right or justice. That legislation which operates in practice to favor the wishes and intentions of the dishonest and fraudulent, to the jeopardizing of the rights and interest of the honest and forbearing, should not be tolerated after its practical results are known. In my business transactions, I have never known an honest, fair minded man to avoid the payment of his liabilities by appealing to the statute of limitations; but I have known many of an opposite character to cling to its provisions, as if it seemed to be but the dictate of reason and justice, that all persons should be bound in law to meet their liabilities, irrespective of time, unless they can show they have been once liquidated.

Accidents of a fearful character are not unfrequently occurring on railroads and in manufacturing establishments—accidents of such a nature as not only to be appalling to the feelings, but horribly destructive to life and limb. Railroad corporations are bound in honor, and should be in law, to manage their affairs in such a manner as to afford the utmost protection to the lives, persons and property of those who patronize them. Their roads, their cars, their engines, and all that pertain to them, should be as perfect as skill and attention can make them; and the persons to whom the management and running of the trains are confided, should be individuals of character, skill, experience and responsibility. They deal with powerful agents; their cars are freighted with human life, clothed in symmetrical, beautiful and essentially useful organization, surrounded by sympathies, affections and relations, the sundering of which is unutterably distressing to the soul, and destructive to the tenderest and best interests of society. What can compensate a family or society for the loss of an affectionate, prudent and intelligent father, or for his permanent physical impairment? Can any one estimate? Can compensation be rendered in dollars and cents?—Surely not. And so with a mother, and down to the remotest relationship in the family scale. In the recent terrible disaster on the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad, what a frightful destruction of lives and limbs! What a wandering of the tenderest relations! What a blasting of hopes, and what a laceration of the dearest affections!

Corporations are agencies erected by the people through their representatives, and authorized and permitted to do for them what it would be inconvenient for them to do in their individual capacity. They are artificial servants, created for specific purposes, and liable at any time to instruction, restriction or dismissal, if they fail to work promptly, effectively and safely the objects of their creation. The power that gave the authority can resume it, modify it, increase or diminish it; and it is the duty of the representatives to trust them with careful scrutiny, and to make them subservient to the convenience, safety and prosperity of the people.

In manufacturing establishments, lives by dozens and limbs by scores are not often sacrificed, but a single life or a single limb is not unfrequently; and generally for want of a little care and expense in securing the machinery and the appendages from the contact of the persons or the clothes of the operatives. A shaft, or belt, or gear is left exposed that might have been secured by a sudden or unaccountable puff of air, or some other cause, brings the clothes or the hair of the operative in contact with it; they over-lap; the machinery runs with resistless force, and almost incalculable speed; the operative is drawn by the twinkling of an eye, into the vortex of destruction, and may thank the fates, and not corporate precaution, if an escape is effected with life and mutilated limb.

These things should not be so. Every fly-wheel connected with the water wheel or the steam engine, every part of the water wheel or steam engine, and every hoist or tackle, and every shaft, wheel, drum or pulley by which the motion of the first moving power is communicated to any machinery, should be securely fenced; and every wheel-race should be fenced near the edge, and the protection to these several parts should not be removed while they or any of them are in motion. No child, or other young person, or woman, should be allowed to clean any machinery while the same is in motion; neither should they be allowed to work between the fixed and traversing part of a self-acting machine while the latter is in motion.

I simply and most respectfully submit to your judgment and wisdom whether the Legislature has done all that should be done in the two classes of corporations above recognized and referred to, to secure the personal safety of all parties in interest.

We have just passed through an exciting Presidential election—a contest warm and vigorous, fully exemplifying that freedom of speech, of the press and of action recognized and protected by our fundamental laws and practice; and, although in some features of the party strife, truth and morality have been made to blush and retire before the array of false assertion and personal detraction, and the christian and moralist have been forced to lament the abuse of freedom and the infraction of those laws, and the disregard of those principles which they deem vitally essential to the well being and progress of society and the stability of free government, yet the result, I trust and believe will be for the best interests of the country. The policy of the the general government, by the result, is fixed for years to come, and upon the same basis which has hitherto given us such extraordinary prosperity, extension and happiness at home, and moral power and renown abroad. And under the benign influences of our system of representation, the angry passions and bitter feelings engendered by the infuriated strife of the political contest will all soon be merged and lost in the general progress, thrift and development of our unrivalled country and its unrivalled institutions.

The universal respect paid to the popular judgment, when expressed through the ballot-box, is one of the main sustaining pillars of our political fabric. Is there, in the whole intelligence, virtue and patriotism of our countrymen remain undiminished, unshaken and uncorrupted, no party conflict, however fierce or bitter, can alienate one portion of the American brotherhood from the other, or subvert a republic essentially conservative. But may not the experiment be too often repeated, and too long continued? May not the demoralization at home, and the disgrace abroad, incident to such impassioned personal criminations and canimous party strife, result in a disinclination to commission of liberalizing and enfranchising oppressed humanity the world over?

Within a few weeks, the last of that illustrious trio of American orators, statesmen and patriots, who, for forty years, have adorned our country and filled the most brilliant page of our national history, has passed away to that home to which we all are hastening. The nation mourns, deeply and sadly mourns, for the third time, the departure of her greatest sons. Calhoun, Clay, Webster! three mighty spirits, identified with all that is lofty and profound in intellect, logical and eloquent in oratory, learned and sagacious in statesmanship, and devoted in patriotism. Matchless champions of republican freedom and constitutional right; they yet live in their recorded deeds and their great examples.

The last, Daniel Webster, the country now laments with deepest sorrow; the thrice opened wound bleeds afresh; the recollection of the one mirrors the others, so associated were they in the national councils, in the thoughts of the people, in the great heart of the nation. Stand they will on the ineffacable page of our country's annals, in grand and unapproachable conjunction.

Daniel Webster, was New Hampshire's native son. His mantle broadly covers her entire sphere; he was nourished by the products of her rigid soil; he was developed, mentally, morally and religiously, by her unpretending institutions; all the elements of his greatness were drawn from her bosom, and he was a dutiful, loving child. He went out from her, the great representative of her human production, and to shed lustre and glory on her and on our common country. He stood among men in his towering intellectual grandeur, as the matchless Chamouni amid the mountains, massive, vast, peerless!

New Hampshire has lost another son for whom she and the nation mourn. The lamented Levi Woodbury, alike distinguished as a statesman, logician and jurist—a man of profound intellect, of varied and extensive acquirements, of deep research and of unsurpassed practical application, who filled the bench, graced the forum, adorned the cabinet, and swayed the legislative assembly. He was cut down in the entire strength of his intellect and manhood, in the full tide of a career of honorable fame and eminent usefulness.

Thus has the ruthless Chamouni amid the mountains, massive, vast, peerless! been another link between our revolutionary Fathers and the present generation, leaving to us increased duties and increased responsibilities; leaving to us the great and glorious inheritance bequeathed to them, unmarred and untarnished. May our posterity receive it, transmitted with no less fidelity, and alike untarnished.

Precisely at 12 o'clock His Excellency concluded, and with the Council, &c. withdrew.

On motion, the convention rose and the Senate withdrew.

HOUSE—Afternoon—Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill in amendment of Chapt. 1229 of the Pamphlet Laws.

ONE STORY'S GOOD TILL ANOTHER IS TOLD.

There is abundance of truth as well as poetry in the following pair of stanzas,

BY CHARLES SWAIN.

There's a maxim that all should be willing to mind;
'Tis an old one, a kind one, and true as 'tis kind;
'Tis worthy of notice, wherever it's known,
And no worse for the heart if remembered at home:
If scandal or censure be raised 'gainst a friend,
Be the last to believe it, the first to defend—
Say to-morrow will come, and then time will unfold
That "one story's good till another is told."

A friend's like a ship, when with music and song
The tide of good fortune still speeds him along;
But see him when tempest hath left him a wreck,
And any mean billow can batter his deck.
But give me the heart that true sympathy shows,
And clings to a messmate, whatever wind blows:
And says, when aspersion unanswered, grows cold,
Wait, "one story's good till another is told."

MUNCHAUSEN.—Accidents from camphene are becoming so frequent, that we have thought the world might forget that there was also danger in handling other explosive substances, such as the old-fashioned gunpowder for instance. The singular accident which recently happened at the Sulphur Springs will perhaps tend to put the public on their guard. One of the visitors at the hotel there, who was in the habit of faithfully drinking the water of the springs, partook at night of some saltpetred beef, which had been provided for the evening supper, and, as usual, washed it down with some of the water deeply impregnated with sulphur. On retiring to rest, just afterwards, he brushed his teeth with charcoal powder; and, on turning round to blow out the candle, his head burst asunder with a terrific explosion. A coroner's jury was summoned, which reported a verdict in accordance with the above facts, and added that no blame attached to the dinner.—To-day.

CRACKIT BEFORE.—Mrs. Brougham, mother of the Ex-Chancellor, was a most excellent and thrifty housewife. On one occasion, she was much troubled with a servant addicted to dish-breaking, and who used to allege in extenuation of her fault, that "it was crackit before." One morning little Henry jumbled down stairs, when the fond mother, running after him, exclaimed, "Oh, my boy, you've broke your head." "No, ma," said the future Chancellor with great and humorous readiness, "it was crackit before."

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to purchase a good Stove, will do well to buy a RAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale a stove of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to procure a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the State," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

MADAME SONTAG'S DRESS REHEARSAL at the Melodeon on Wednesday morning presented a novel and interesting spectacle. Upwards of 1200 invitations were issued, a large portion of them to the clergy of Boston and the vicinity, with their friends. The throng was so great that the managers were obliged to exercise a more strict mode of admission than was at first intended.

The able leader was soon at his stand—and the entire bill of the concert of this evening, vocal and instrumental, was given with admirable effect. The utmost delight was evinced by the whole audience.

At the close of the Concert, the Rev. Dr. Sharp, as the oldest settled Clergyman of the city, was requested to present the thanks of the assembly to Madame Sontag. She re-appeared upon the stage and listened with fixed attention and deep emotion to the exceedingly happy address of the venerable gentleman. His words were few, but so perfectly to the point, that nothing more or better could have been desired.

Madame Sontag was deeply moved by the address, as were the whole company. After she retired it was resolved to procure a copy of the Douay version of the Bible, and another copy of King James's version, to be presented to her at a future day, to bear the signatures of the clergy, Catholic and Protestant, who were present. For this purpose they are placed, one at the Catholic Bookstore in Franklin street, and the other at the Bible Depository in Cornhill.

The presence of so many clergymen was a striking feature of the scene, including nearly 400, and embracing those of every denomination.—Boston Daily Adv.

DEMAND FOR LIFE PRESERVERS.—The new steamboat law, which requires steamboats to have on board a sufficient supply of life-preservers, has led to a large increase in the manufacture of these articles. The orders seem mainly to have been sent to the Union India Rubber Company of this city, whose business has in consequence so increased that they have now orders in addition to what have already been executed, for upwards of fifty thousand of this single article. They are at the same time overwhelmed with demands for India rubber fire buckets, piping, and other things, for steamboat equipments. We were in their store in Nassau street, accidentally the other day and were greatly surprised at the extent to which this business had reached.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

THE BIBLE IN SCHOOLS.—They have had a discussion in the School Board of Cincinnati respecting the use of the Bible in Schools. The following resolve (moved by a Catholic), was finally adopted by a vote of 15 to 10.

Resolved, That the pupils in the Common Schools have permission to read such version of the Sacred Scriptures as their parents may prefer, provided, that such preference to any version, except the one now in use, be communicated by the parents to the Principal Teachers, and that no notes or marginal readings be read in schools, nor comments made by the teachers on the text of any version that is, or may hereafter be introduced.

On the evening of the 16th, Barnegat light bearing N. N. W., standing to the northward, the steamer Black Warrior, in charge of a pilot, made the sch. Sarah Emma, bound from New York for Philadelphia, on the port bow standing to the southeast. The B. W. immediately put her helm hard a-port, stopped, and backed the engine, but the schooner standing directly across the steamer's bow came in collision, carrying away her bowsprit and doing other damage. The schooner was cut ne arly to the water's edge. The captain and crew were brought off.

Those who have read Uncle Tom's Cabin, (and who has not?) will remember that the work is merely a series of sketches, the only character running entirely through it being Uncle Tom. Yet a New York artist has so interwoven them, by the aid of an original part for Mr. Warren, that he has produced one of the best plays on the stage, and bids fair to have a run for months in Boston.

WORDS ALTERING IN MEANING.—What a multitude of words, originally harmless, have assumed a harmful as their secondary meaning; how many worthy have acquired an unworthy. Thus, "knave" meant once no more than a lad; "villain," no more than peasant; a "boor" was only a farmer; a "churl" but a strong fellow. "Time server" was used two hundred years ago quite as often for one in an honorable as in a dishonorable sense, "serving the time." There was a time when "conceits" had nothing conceited in them; "officious" had reference to offices of kindness—not of busy meddling; "moody" was that which pertained to a man's mood, without any gloom or sullenness implied. "Demure" (which is des mœurs, of good manners) conveyed no hint, as it does now, of an overdoing of the outward demonstrations of modesty; in "craft" and "cunning" there was nothing of crooked wisdom implied, but only knowledge and skill; "craft," indeed, still retains very often its purely honorable use, a man's "craft" being his skill, and then the trade in which he is skilled. And think you that the Magdalen could have ever given us "maudlin" in its present contemptuous application if the tears of penitential weeping had been held in due honor to the world?—R. Trench on the study of words.

DAILY
PORTSMOUTH:
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1852.

INTERESTED AND DISINTERESTED.

The Boston Daily Chronicle of yesterday, copied and duly credited our article of a previous day, headed "Temperance in Boston," and appended to it the following, among other remarks:

"It is a fair specimen of the character of the articles that designing men are circulating about our city, and it indicates the readiness with which interested men abroad seize upon each, isolated fact or invention to aid them in their purpose. * * *

"Facts," Mr. Chronicle, "are stubborn things;" but inventions are not. And no man, in the slightest manner acquainted with the facts in the case, will believe that the censure is deserved that is cast upon the city government, and especially upon our Mayor; for he has not been surpassed by any of his predecessors, either in his well-directed efforts, or in his success in preventing abuses, and introducing useful reforms."

The inventions were none of ours; but we found them in the Boston Journal and Advertiser—and the latter paper has subsequently stated that the imputations against the city government were not correct—but that on the contrary the city government have greatly diminished the practice of selling liquors on Sunday. But not one denies that of the 123 criminals committed to Boston jail last week, sixty were carried thither drunk, and nearly all of them used strong drink. This is a fact, and not isolated, for New York goes far beyond it, and other cities follow hard after.

We will go no farther in this direction, than to say we are glad to learn that the city government have tried in any way to diminish a crying evil.

But we have a word to say about "interested men" and "philanthropy as a trader," on which subjects our Boston namesake has written something. We are somewhat puzzled to imagine what interest we can have in such a matter, beyond any and every good citizen. We are not aware that the liquor trade takes a ninepence out of our pocket directly, nor have we any reason to believe that its suppression would put one dollar in. We are sensible of the evils of intemperance, and would do what we can to diminish them, lawfully and peaceably. One of the best ways of doing this, in our view, is to publish facts, which we generally seize pretty quick, and lay them before our readers, among whom are many who use and sell strong drinks. We do not know exactly by what rule the Boston Chronicle measures other men's philanthropy, but in its late editorials it has called out the names of John Augustus, Deacon Grant, and John Pierpont, as trading philanthropists who made themselves rich by preaching reforms. It occurred to us while reading these articles that these men might not be less disinterested in their efforts, than is the gentleman who edits the Chronicle—for a consideration. We do not believe he would labor so earnestly in such a cause without pay. We do not blame him for this: he ought to be paid. But such a philanthropist as he is known to be, need not make himself ridiculous by provoking a comparison with men of such eminence—especially in any view of disinterested action. We are very far from thinking that all the true honesty in the community is confined to the friends of the Maine Law—but on the other hand we do not believe that all the disinterested benevolence is monopolised by the Boston Chronicle, its editor and owners.

THE LIMITATION LAW.

Gov. Martin in his Address to the Legislature recommends the repeal of the Statute of Limitations, and gives all the reasons possible against the law, and in favor of its repeal. But he has not stated the simple and very important reasons for its enactment, viz. to induce speedy and frequent settlements—to guard against the almost inevitable disputes arising from partially forgotten accounts—and especially to prevent fraudulent bills being presented against the estates of persons deceased.

It is rather difficult to get over these accounts. The law ought not to be repealed. Probably it will not be.

COUNTERFEIT HALF DOLLARS.—In Philadelphia on Wednesday night, two women were arrested at the theatre for passing a counterfeit half dollar, and from certain developements which they made, the police were enabled to arrest Lewis H. Riggin and William Stetler, the former for passing and the latter for making false coin. At Stetler's house 400 counterfeit half dollars, with moulds and general apparatus necessary for counterfeiting coin. Both were committed. They are old offenders, and have probably furnished the country with a large amount of their wares.

LIFE OF MARK FERNALD.

Elder Fernald, for so we prefer to call him, was once a neighbor, and always (after our first mutual knowledge) a steadfast friend of the writer of this article. And therefore we feel at liberty to speak, not only of the volume before us, his biography, but also of the man, whom we "knew, (as the saying is,) like a book." We knew him better than a book, for he always interested, often amused, and sometimes instructed us. We never went to sleep over him, nor under him—which is more than we can say of most books, or most preachers.

Let no one infer from this that we deemed him a perfect man. We did not; for we understood his defects and deficiencies; and honored and esteemed him, over them and in spite of them, for he had good traits enough to overbalance them all. We went farther, and loved him:—he was one whom a man might love and be beloved in turn—for Elder Fernald was an ardent lover, and therefore might have been, (and perhaps sometimes would have been but for Christian discipline,) a good hater.

As we liked him, so we like his book; in spite of its defects—because it has the great merit of being perfectly natural—it is like him! The picture looks like him; and the book talks like him. The editors, elders Pike and Payne, say in their preface:

"In offering this Journal of Elder Mark Fernald, the publishers feel it a duty to themselves to say, that they have not felt at liberty to change the style or phraseology, to make it acceptable to the polished or finished scholar; or to attempt to make it a work claiming literary merit. They have endeavored to present Elder Mark Fernald, with his own peculiar style, expression, and eccentricities. They hold themselves responsible only as the faithful executors of a journal put into their hands, written by himself. This duty they have endeavored to discharge; and now hope that the work will answer the objects for which the journal was kept. They present it to the public as Elder Mark Fernald conversing with his friends."

Mark Fernald was born in the old mansion of Sir William Pepperell, at Kittery, Me., March 9, 1784—was brought up to labor with little or no opportunity for literary improvement, or knowledge of science or art. At the age of 23, he was baptised; and in 1809 ordained, and became a pastor of a Christian Society in his native place, which office he always held, and in which place he always resided until his death, which took place Nov. 29, 1851. Elder Fernald was twice married; was a good husband, father, brother, neighbor, friend, citizen, christian. He was a preacher, sui generis, one that preached by no one's else rule, and that was in turn no rule nor example for others; yet he was interesting—and above all he was honest and plain.

We think the book falls below the man—yet the stranger who reads it will get from it this grand and true idea; that the author spent himself and was spent in the ministry—and that he loved above all things to preach, and exhort, and travel, and sing and pray.—So he did to the end of life. His biographers say:

"He died, as every Christian minister should die, with his armor girt about him, still willing to do service for God, preferring rather to work than to rest. He never abandoned the cause, or turned his back in time of danger and adversity. He was not double-minded, "carried about by every wind of doctrine."—And though dead, he yet speaketh; and his example and influence will be felt forever."

In temporal and pecuniary matters, he was economical, just and liberal. With small means, he lived well, and left a snug little property, with no man left behind to say he ever wronged him out of a farthing, or withheld when he should have given.

If you knew Mark Fernald, buy the book to remember him by. If you did not, and choose to buy it, you may get some idea of what he was, and what he did. It is for sale in Portsmouth, by Mr. Gilbert, Exchange Buildings, and at Kittery, by Elder Payne.

The Boston Herald contradicts the report of Rev. T. S. King's call to Chauncey Place Church.

THE LAKE GALE.

The Dunkirk Journal gives a few additional partiblars of the late gale on Lake Erie. There is no doubt of the loss of the propeller Princeton with all on board. Her two boats and a part of her papers, together with a large quantity of flour have drifted ashore about five miles above Dunkirk.

The propeller Oneada was capsized off Lake Erie and all hands probably lost. The vessels reported ashore are schooners Sam Hale, Marengo, Arkansas, Somerset, Gold Hunter, brig J. F. Clark, and two propellers, names unknown.

During the storm the water in Detroit river fell two feet, and at Malden near the mouth of the river it fell four feet. Vessels lying at the latter place grounded at their piers where they had to lie for two days for the water to return.

The Imperial government of Brazil is active in the suppression of the slave trade and is preparing for the navigation of the Amazon by a regular line of steamers.

A portion of the property which was discovered a few days since in an unoccupied house in Woburn, has been identified as that which was stolen on the night of the 14th of October from the store of John M. Seward & Son,

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THREE STORY STORES.

An elderly lady corrects for us a statement which was made by an unknown correspondent a few days ago about three story houses in Portsmouth. The store on Pleasant street, next to the North Church, was said to be the first. But the old Pier Stores, now standing, (occupied by Anderson & Emery and others,) as we are now informed, were built before—also the wooden stores on the Pier, burnt in 1813—the Furness house and store in Fore street, gone long since, and some others. But such stores were not common;—and the enterprize of that builder was commendable, though others had before done something of the same kind.

☞ Hon. John P. Hale, U. S. Senator from N. H., was in this city yesterday, and visited the Navy Yard in the afternoon, where he was complimented with a National Salute of Artillery.

☞ Rev. Mr. Willis will preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

New Hampshire Legislature—1852.

NOVEMBER SESSION.

THURSDAY, Nov. 18.

In the House, the following petitions were presented and appropriately referred:—By Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth, of Wm. Lamson and others, for further legislation in reference to truants from schools; by Mr. Wilkinson of Tamworth, of True Perkins and 82 others, for the removal of the Court of Common Pleas from Ossipee to Tamworth.

A new proposition was made, to supply the members with a Daily Paper, but it was postponed indefinitely.

State Agricultural Commissioner.—Mr. Preston of New Ipswich presented a resolution that the Committee on Agriculture be instructed to report a bill providing for the appointment of a Commissioner of Agriculture, whose duty it shall be to visit the several counties of the State, and by lectures and otherwise, promote a knowledge of the various sciences which may aid the farmer and his honorable employment. After a speech by the mover, the resolution passed, 123 to 36.

An act to amend chapter 729 of Pamphlet laws (on School Houses) passed to a third reading, 227 to 5.

FRIDAY, Nov. 19.

Mr. J. H. Wiggins of Dover, in the House, this morning, introduced resolutions to the following effect, which were unanimously adopted:

That the Council and Senate Chambers, and Representatives' Hall be trimmed in mourning in consequence of the death of Hon. Daniel Webster; and that the Executive and Legislature wear the usual badge of mourning during the remainder of the session.

That the Executive and Legislature attend the obsequies at Boston on the 30th inst.

That Judge Perley, of Concord, be invited to deliver an eulogy on the late Daniel Webster, on the 22d day of December, which day should be set apart for that purpose.

SKELETON FOUND IN SAUGUS.—A man while engaged in digging a pot hole, a few days since, in Saugus, after removing the earth, about a foot below the surface came upon a human skull, and after removing the soil about it, soon exhumed an entire skeleton, which proved upon examination to be that of a young man. It had the appearance of being buried in a crouching posture, and with clothes on, as a quantity of decayed matter enclosed it, among which a cent and a silver sixpence were found, the latter bearing date, 1816. The opinion of those who have seen the remains, is that the young man must have met with an unnatural death, and that he was hurriedly crowded into the earth. No little excitement has been occasioned by this discovery in the vicinity of Saugus.—Times.

AN ELOPEMENT.—We are furnished with the particulars of the elopement of an unmarried man with the wife of a friend, which took place in this city one day last week. Mechanics, one married and the other single, came to this country several years ago, and have been at work since in the same shop here. The single man has always been on good terms with the other and his wife, but has never shown any particular attachment for the latter. He is about twenty-five years of age, and the woman some ten years older. It is thought they went to Oswego and thence into Canada, and one of our police is now in pursuit of them in that direction. The eloping parties took with them some $250 in money belonging to the abused husband, and also the best part of his wardrope.—Syracuse N. Y. Star.

On Thursday morning on the Central Railroad a few miles east of Pittsburg, a locomotive and tender of an accommodation train was precipitated down a bank 40 feet deep, badly injuring the Engineer and fireman. The passenger cars fortunately remained on the track, tearing up eight rods of road before they could be stopped. The accident was ceased by the carelessness of the switch tender.

SUPPLIES FROM CANADA.—The high price of some articles of family consumption in the United States has given rise to a movement calculated to correct the evil. A letter from Toronto states that American agents in Canada are purchasing butter, eggs, cheese, beef, &c., for the supply of our large cities, where high prices have prevailed.

The Norfolk Beacon contradicts the report of the death of Capt. Upshur, at Spezzia. It says that he is very ill.

LIFE'S CHANCES.

About eight months ago, a ship-master sailed out of Boston, bound for the port of Rio; he was accompanied by his wife and child, and his brother. Since the sailing of the vessel, nothing has been heard from her, and it is almost certain that she is lost. Some four or five years since, the captain effected an insurance on his own life of $3000, and one on the life of his wife for $2000, in the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company; and up to the time of his sailing on his last voyage, the premiums had been promptly paid as they fell due, but at that time she remarked that it was a useless expenditure of money, and ordered it stopped. He thought not, after having paid so much money and getting no equivalent, and accordingly renewed the policy. A few days ago, the captain's father, who resides in Maine, having business in Boston, called upon the agent of the Company, Mr. J. B. Prince, to ascertain whether the policies were still good. Being informed that they were both good, he proceeded to a store to make some purchases; and while examining some goods in the third story, incautiously made a step backward, and was precipitated through two scuttles to the lower floor, receiving such severe injuries as to cause his death in an hour.

LATEST NEWS!

Washington, Nov. 18.—Mr. Strong, superintendent of the Capitol extension, has resigned, not being inclined to accept office under the incoming Ministration. The resignation is to take effect from the 22d inst.—Another lot of workmen numbering two hundred are to be discharged on Saturday.

HAVANA NEWS.

FROM HAVANA.—On board of her H. B. M. Steamer "Highflyer," a grand Ball was given on the 9th. Nothwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a great number, of ladies were on board, "the flower of the aristocracy," and of the beauty of Havana. Captain Matson had taken great trouble to decorate his ship,—weaving together the flags of all nations, but giving the Spanish the post of honor. The officers of the French vessels of War were all invited on board,—among them the officers of a French steamer. The "Diario" expresses the hope that they will all remain to await the celebration coming for the Spanish sovereign.

The Gov. General received on Sunday at his table the Senior Commandants of the four English and French steamers in the Port,—not only to express the kind feelings the Spanish sovereignty feel for their illustrious nations, but also to express the cordiality with which the Governor General welcomes the society of such accomplished officers.

A grand Ball was to be given on the 19th prox., "in the palace," in honor of Her Majesty, the Queen of Spain, which was the chief topic of talk in the fashionable circles of Havana, Milliners, Costumers, and Tailors are hard at work; the greatest expenditures incurring, and there was to be a very grand display.

LATER FROM HAVANA.—The latest intelligence from Havana is quite pacific. The steamship Isabel has arrived at Charleston, having left Havana at 5 P. M. on the 15th, and Key West on the 16th, at 2 past 5. She saw the Crescent City near the entrance of the harbor of Havana; also saw a Spanish steamer bearing down upon her for the purpose of informing her that she might enter the port without any further trouble. This matter has caused considerable uneasiness at Havana in consequence of her non arrival when due, and it was thought she had been ordered not to touch there. It is said that the Captain General will not interfere further against her.

This looks well on the Spanish side—and purser Smith's protest looks as well on the other. The Cuban authorities have not been quite so wise as Solomon in the management of the whole matter.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ASIA.

The steamship Asia, Capt. Long, arrived at New York yesterday morning from Liverpool, which she left on the 6th, bringing London and Liverpool advices from that date, and 80 passengers. Among the passengers is Mr. Wm. Murc, British Consul at New Orleans.

ENGLAND.—Both Houses of Parliament met on Thursday. The Commissioners to represent the Queen in the House of Lords, were the Lord Chancellor, the Duke of Northampton, the Marquis of Salisbury, and the Earl of Lonsdale.

FRANCE.—The Senate met Thursday, for the purpose of settling the preliminaries for the establishment of the Empire. About all the public know, is, that ten members voted that the people should be consulted.

It is stated in Paris as certain that the Senatus Consulte will declare the imperial crown hereditary in the person of Louis Napoleon and his male descendants; and in the event of his not leaving male heirs, then in the person of his adopted son; should the latter die childless, afterwards in the person of Ex-King Jerome and his family.

Abd el Kadir continues to be the lion of the day. He had a second time visited Louis Napoleon, and was entertained with a review of cavalry.

The Council of State has lately had a number of questions brought before it relative to legacies bequeathed to the clergy, and in particular to Jesuits. One point appears decided upon, that whatever gifts or legacies may be authorized, the Government will not sanction any donotion of real estate.

Scott, that there had been such a thing as a Presidential election, in which he had been in the least interested.—Savannah Republican.

THE PRICE OF BUTTER.—At a cheap boarding house on Pearl Street, where board was at two dollars and a half a week, there was a huge feeder, who "earned" the price of a week's board in three days out of seven. Butter was extravagantly high, and of this he was especially fond, preferring it

"thickly spread"

On corresponding "chunks of bread."

One day the landlady, whose patience had become exhausted, said to him:

"That butter, Mr. ——, that you are eating, and appear to like so much, cost two shillings and sixpence a pound."

"Did it though?" asked the gourmand; then reaching out his knife, he took up a big lump, and putting it upon a little piece of bread, he rolled it round in his mouth appreciatingly, saying, "Well, now I should say the butter was really worth it!"

Count Pulsky has written to the Cologne Gazette, indignantly denying that he had sought a reconciliation with Austria. He says "Austria" does not treat with rebels, and I do not treat with despots."

It is said that Park Benjamin expects a large fortune soon, from certain decisions lately made in settling the estate of his Jewish ancestors in England.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the fines enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines the useful improvement that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. It is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if the operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered te the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted for the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—completed in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

FRENCH WOMEN.

We extract the following from "Parisian Life and French Principles," a very readable work recently published by the Harpers:

"A female rights orator" has asserted, that if women had more of the occupations of men, they would be more virtuous. By that rule the women of France ought to far exceel in that respect, their sisters of America. I will say nothing of their laboring in the field, their driving huge cars through the streets of Paris, and other rude labors, which soon rubs out of them all female softness, but confine myself to the more agreeable duties which they usurped from man. Indeed, a man is but a secondary being in the scale of French civilization. The "dames a comptoir" are as essential to the success of a Parisian cafe as the cook himself. More hats are doffed at their shrines than before the gayest belles of the metropolis.

My boot maker, for the head of the establishment, is a woman; my hatter, also; my landlord is a dignified specimen of "fair, fat and forty;" my porter is of the same sex, older in years and worse in looks; my butcher, milkman, and the old clothes woman, newsboy and rag gatherer beneath my window, ditto. They are waiters at the balls, doorkeepers at the theatres, ticket-sellers, fiddlers, chair letters of the churches. They figure in every revolution and have a tongue and arms in every fight; in short, they are at the top and bottom of everything in France. They have so pushed aside the lords of creation, that for some time my sympathies were really alive to know what men had left to do, until I finally discovered that they had the resource of becoming chambermaids.

But their is one discovery the reformist of the sex can make in Paris, to which I beg particularly to call their attention, and that is, how to preserve the freedom of their "limbs," and their petticoats also. Bloomerism has no chance of success. A French lady, by a sleight of hand in lifting her dress, can cross the dirtiest streets, promenade through mud and mire, and bring home unsullied, the whitest stocking and purest skirt. She does it, too, with a natural grace and modesty which is perfectly charming.

THE BROADWAY RAILROAD.—The committee of the New York Common Council to to whom the various memorials for and against the construction of a railroad in Broadway were referred, has finally reported in favor of the project. The committee propose to invest a company with the right to build a railway with a double track from the South Ferry to Fifty-seventh street, and also, hereafter, to continue the same, from time to time, along the Bloomingdale road to Manhattanville, whenever directed by the Common Council. The conditions of this grant make due provision for the convenience of the public. No higher rate of fare than five cents to be charged. The company to pay a license for each car for the term of ten years—after that time, such further license as the Common Council may prescribe; surrendering the road in default thereof. The company to be a joint stock corporation.

It is reported that the omnibus proprietors have withdrawn their opposition to the railroad, and will run in connection with it on cross routes.—Boston Jour.

AT IT AND THROUGH IT.—We heard an anecdote a few evenings since, which is too good to be confined to private circles. It is as follows:

"A negro preacher was holding forth to his congregation upon the subject of obeying the commands of God. Says he "Bredren, whatever God tells me to do in dis book, (holding up the Bible,) dat I'm gwoin to do. If I see in dat I must jump troo a stun walll, I'm gwoin to jump at it. Gwoin troo it 'longs to God—jumpin' at it 'longs to me!—Richmond Enquirer.

THE MATRIMONIAL LOTTERY.—No man ever knows when, where, or whom he will marry. It's all nonsense planning and speculating about it. You might as well look out for a spot to fall on, in a steeple chase. You come smash down in the very middle of your speculations, some times.

It was in Hornby that the above affair occurred. The same town long sent that well known democrat, Captain Peter Biddle to the Legislature. On election days, the moderator used to get up, and say,—Fellow citizens, you will now proceed to bring in your votes for Captain Peter Biddle for town Representative;" and they were brought in, and Captain Biddle thus put in. It was a very harmonious way of doing business, and, where practicable, we would recommend its adoption.—Boston Times.

Miss Rebecca Bulwer has been arrested in Fall River, on a charge of haying set fire to several buildings in Medford.

Rev. Mr. Pollard, rector of St. Ann's (Episcopal church,) Nantucket, Mass., and formerly associate pastor with Rev. E. M. P. Wells, of St. Stephen's church, in Boston, has recently been received into the Catholic church by Rev. Dr Forbes, of New York.

"BUT AFTERWARDS REPENTED."—A week ago, Charles Hager, of this city, attempted to commit suicide by taking poison. He got the stuff into him, but repented of his purpose, made the fact known, and the poison was extracted through the exertions of a physician and a stomach pump. Caused by love, it is said.—Charlestown Advertiser.

VENERABLE CRAFT.—The bark Maria, 70 years old, was, on Thursday, hauled up for repairs, on the Fairhaven Railway. She has been engaged in the sperm whale fishery for 60 years, and was the first vessel that displayed the American flag in the Bristol Channel.

The Boston Times gives those Whigs who voted for Pierce, and who expect to hold their offices for thus voting, to understand that they must make up their minds to vacate very soon after the 4th of March next.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The opinion of the Judges of our highest Court in this State, expressed in obedience to a call from the Senate, is a more decisive death blow to the Maine Law, so called, in this State, than could have been inflicted from any other quarter. If the General Court, without this opinion, had rejected or postponed the law, the people of the State, would have elected a body of legislators who would pass such a law as they desired. But as the matter now stands, the bill will be indefinitely postponed; and future action on temperance will take some other form than a prohibitory law, in New Hampshire.

The effect of this opinion will not be confined to this State. It must act on Maine and Massachusetts;—and if the eight points recited are sound in law, then the law in Maine itself will fall to the ground,—and in Massachusetts a similar decision will soon be made.

It is, however, a remarkable circumstance that no judge in Maine has made a similar discovery there,—and quite as remarkable that so many lawyers as belong to the Massachusetts Legislature should have remained in the dark.

In giving their opinion, our Judges say:

"We feel it due to ourselves in justice to say that whatever opinions we might express upon this bill, must be regarded as impressions by which we should not feel ourselves bound, if the bill should become a law and if the rights of a citizen should depend on its construction."

OPINION OF N. H. SUPERIOR COURT ON THE LIQUOR BILL.

The opinions of the Bench of Judges of the Superior Court, respecting the constitutionality of the Liquor Bill, were read in the Senate on Friday morning. They state generally that it is very apparent, even upon the most cursory reading, that the bill is drawn without reference to the State Constitution, and they specify the following points of conflict:

First. The bill confers on justices an extent of authority the Constitution does not sanction, particularly in respect to the power it gives them to pronounce a sentence of forfeiture on liquors seized for a violation of the law.

Second. The bill provides for no trial by jury, or for appeal and trial by jury before a higher court. The Constitution provides that in all controversies concerning property the parties have a right to a trial by jury.

Third. The seventh section of the act conflicts directly with the Constitution of the United States. This section provides that no action can be maintained in any court in the State, either in whole or in part, for intoxicating or spiritnous liquors sold in any other State or country. No law of this State can deprive a citizen of the United States of the right to enforce a claim of debt before the tribunals of this State.

Fourth. Liquors are property. The law in recognizing them as such in the fourth section, when in the hands of town authorities for sale and mechanics for use, cannot, by the force of a few phrases, make property lose its character when in other custody.

Fifth. Double or increased penalties in cases of conviction under appeal, because it operates as a penalty upon the party claiming an appeal, conflicts with his rights to an appeal and cannot be supported by the Constitution.

Sixth. The bill is designed by its provisions to demand excessive bail and render it difficult for the accused to procure sureties. If it had been added that the accused should not have the benefit of counsel to defend him, the parallel between the present law and the practice in England in former days would have been complete.

Seventh. The conviction of a principal through any act of an agent is held to be unconstitutional. The accused should be confronted with the witnesses against him, says the Constitution, but the liquor bill says no; and it is therefore opposed to the constitutional rights of the citizen.

Eighth. The people have a right to be secured against all unreasonable search of their dwellings, et cetera, and all search-warrants must be under oath, according to the Constitution. But searches may be made according to the bill, without warrants on oath, and it is thus unconstitutional.

The judges wind up by stating that some of the objections are of the most serious character. The opinion is signed by Judges Gilchrist, Woods, Eastman and Bell.

THE MAINE PEOPLE DO NOT DRINK—OH, NO.—A day or two since, while walking through the streets, we observed a large load of New England rum, marked for the State agent in the city of Augusta. Of course it is perfectly constitutional for him to sell it. The fact is, the people of Maine consume double the quantity of liquor now, that they did before the passage of the law.

So says the Boston Chronicle,—or whose ipse dixit we are called upon to believe the statement of double drinking. To us it is simply incredible—but we copy it as we find it, leaving any one to believe it who can.

NAMES.—The Boston Chronicle of Saturday styles the ardent advocates of the liquor law, "Maineacs,—desperate and unprincipled men, and temperance saints";—and calls the movement "moral fanaticism." Hard names are not argument.

HOLLIS ST. AND CHAUNCEY PLACE.

Having given first a report that Rev. T. Starr King had been called to Chauncey Place Church, and secondly a contradiction of that report, we come now, thirdly, to give an explanation of both, which we find in the Boston Chronicle of Saturday, and which runs thus:

"An attempt has been made on the part of a few members [of both churches, we take it] to unite the Hollis Street Church with the Chauncey Place Church, and both be under the ministrations of Rev. Mr. King. But, as in other unions, the course of love does not seem to run smooth. The meeting of this [Chauncey Place?] society on Sunday evening last, to consider the subject, was the first intimation that many of the Chauncey Place society had, to their great surprise, received of the proposed union of both congregations under one pastor in Chauncey Place.

We learn that this whole matter originated with a statement made by Mr. King to his Society that he was not able to go on with that enterprise at Hollis street, and must leave. The fact is that Chauncey Place is vacant and Hollis street is too feeble to go on. But no action has been taken by Chauncey Place Society upon either the call of Mr. King to that charge, or the union of the two Societies. We state this on the best authority."

THE LEMMON INDEMNITY FUND.—The Journal of Commerce has subscriptions to the amount of $2135, to reimburse Mrs. Lemmon for the loss which she sustained by the decision of Judge Paine. Among the subscribers who gave $100 to the fund are Jacob Le Roy, James Boorman, and Jonathan Sturgis.

As we supposed. There is a great soul somewhere, and large liberality also, among the merchants of our large cities; and of our small ones also. When a runaway slave is returned to his bonds, the merchants who knew him, make up a purse and buy him back to liberty and home. And now, when the tables are turned, the same class of men (we suppose not abolitionists in either case) tax their pockets to remunerate the master and mistress. This is a tax which free cities and free merchants pay to slavery.

Most of these contributors say little or nothing about their own philanthropy—but it is not therefore the less real, nor the less valuable.

STEAMBOAT SEATS.—Capt. Tewksbury, of Boston, has invented and patented a steamboat chair, ornamental, durable, and buoyant enough to float seven men. It is said to be worthy of adoption by every boat.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The election of Representatives to fill vacancies, takes place to-day, and decides the political character of the state for the coming year.

ECCLESIASTICAL.—Rev. Arthur B. Fuller of Manchester, N. H., has received a cordial, and we believe unanimous invitation, to become the pastor of the new North Church in Boston.

The Right Rev. Dr. Connolly is making great exertions for the erection of a Roman Catholic Cathedral in St. Johns, N. B., which is to be on a magnificent scale, and will cost £10,000.

LARGE FARES.—The fisherman of Swampscot, on Wednesday night, landed 80,000 weight of fish, for which when cured, at present prices, they receive 6 cents per pound. Never before since the remembrance of the oldest inhabitant, have the fishermen of that place been so eminently successful as during the present season.

DEEP SOIL IN WISCONSIN.—Nicolas Le Prevost of Racine has left on our table a parsnip measuring nearly four feet in length, and a carrot about thirty inches long. If any one after this can say that we have not sufficient depth of soil in Wisconsin, he must be wilfully obtuse.—Racine Advocate.

The Bartlett Steam Cotton Mills Company at Newburyport, have declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 1-2 per cent., payable on demand; the previous dividends were 3 per cent.

SAD AFFAIR.—We learn from South Merrimack that Mr. Jacob Mc Indoe was found dead in his own house Tuesday morning.—There were bruises upon his head, and he was found lying in a corner of the room in his own blood. A correspondent states that he walked to Litchfield on Monday, where he procured a jug of rum, and came home intoxicated. His wife was also intoxicated at the time he was found.—Amherst Cabinet.

POPULATION OF BRITAIN.—The London Times of November 4 states that for the first time, perhaps, within man's memory, the population of Great Britain is rapidly diminishing. There were at least sixty thousand fewer people on the British isles on the 29th of September, than there had been on the 24th of July.

A REVOLUTIONARY VETERAN.—One of the veterans of the Revolution was present at the Webster obsequies on Tuesday. His name is Samuel Thomas. He resides at Amherst, Mass., and is now in the ninety third year of his age. Mr. Thomas was with General Washington at White Plains, at the attack upon Ticonderoga, and in most of the battles by which our freedom was won. He is hale and hearty. Mr. Thomas is uncle to Mr. Thayer, Public Administrator of this city, with whom he is now staying upon a visit.—N. Y. Express.

The Vermont Legislature has passed an act remitting to the University of Vermont its claim against the institution for about $5000, borrowed some years since from the surplus fund assigned to Vermont from the general government. The University is required to pay about $900 interest.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

LAUNCH.—We understand a fine ship is to be launched to-morrow about high water (between 10 and 11 o'clock A. M.) from the building yard of Capt. Samuel Hanscom on Eliot neck. This clears all our ship-yards of vessels—and we believe there is not a frame up nor a keel laid in any of them. There have been nine ships launched here this year, most of them large. This ship is the tenth,—and her burthen is 650 tons. The tonnage of the whole is about 9000.

ALMOST A FIRE.—The disturbing of Sunday evening's quiet was caused by an alarm of fire at the South End, and the ringing of the Old South bell. The old "Fernald house," so called, on the hill at the head of Mt. Vernon street, opposite Whidden street from Pleasant street, was a little scorched in the rear—but the burning was chiefly confined to the dead grass on and near the banking, where it originated. It must have been the work of an incendiary or of boys at play, as the old house has been unoccupied for a long time.

☞ We understand that the Portsmouth Lyceum is to be opened for the winter, at the Cameneum on Tuesday evening, November 30. But we have received no direct information (or intimation) that such is the fact—and therefore can't vouch for it.

N. H. Legislature,—Nov. Session, 1852.

FRIDAY, Nov. 19.

Senate.—The resolutions of the House, directing the Governor and Council, and the Legislature, to attend the funeral pageant of Daniel Webster at Boston—were taken up and passed.

Yeas—Messrs. Hoitt, Wells, Tuttle, Whittemore, Taylor, Bennett, Williamson, Merrill, Rix—9.

Nays—Messrs. Shannon, Freeman—2.

House.—Mr. Weeks of Canaan, from the special committee on the apportionment of Public Taxes, reported a bill entitled "an act to establish a new proportion for the assessment of Public Taxes," which was read a second time; and, on motion of Mr. J. H. Wiggins of Dover, the usual number of copies were ordered to be printed. Adjourned.

AFTERNOON.—The bill to amend chapter 729 (relating to school districts) came up first in order, and was read a third time and passed.

Invitation to the President elect.

Mr. Bartlett of Portsmouth, offered the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the select committee upon the resolutions relating to the death of Daniel Webster be instructed to invite Gen. FRANKLIN PIERCE to unite with the Legislature of this State in attending the obsequies of Daniel Webster, to be celebrated at Boston on the 30th inst.

Mr. Bartlett, in a few observations made prior to the passage of the resolution, said that Gen. Pierce, having been a staunch friend of the great statesman deceased, would probably esteem the invitation to join the Legislature in the excursion to Boston, as a mark of respect to himself.

Votes for President.

IN CONVENTION, the votes for Electors were canvassed, and declared as follows, free soil 6,568; whig 15,540; democratic 28,884.

Resolved, That Henry Hubbard, Samuel Jones, Jabez A. Douglass, Samuel Webster and Nathaniel B. Baker are duly appointed Electors of President and Vice President of the United States, for the State of New Hampshire.

At 4 o'clock, the House adjourned to Monday at 3 P. M.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE AND THE WEBSTER OBSEQUIES.—Concord, N. H., Nov. 20.—The Constitution of New Hampshire provides that the Electors of President and Vice President shall meet at 10 o'clock on Tuesday Nov. 20th, and give notice at 12 o'clock to the Legislature, of the number of electors who accept office, so that vacancies, if any, may be filled. Tuesday being the day for the Webster obsequies at Boston, the Legislature will not, therefore, be able to attend, as they have resolved. A liberal delegation may be possibly sent.

ALBERT BARNES.—Accounts from Rev. Albert Barnes, now in Europe, are again discouraging. Eminent occulists in Berlin advise him to return immediately to this country, and rest a year at least. Mr. Barnes ruined his eyesight, by night labor. He was a very industrious man, as his theological works show. His celebrated "notes" were written in the morning before the great multitudes of his city had begun their tasks. He had a study in his church, away from the reach of men; and unless he chose to be seen, no one could get access to him. He would lock his iron gate in front of his church; lock the doors to the main entrance, traverse a back vestible, and then lock his study door, and be as quiet as he chose.

It is said that soon after his settlement in Philadelphia, he was found by the watch at 3 o'clock in the morning, about to enter the church. They arrested him and were about to take him to the watch-house. His account of himself was far from being satisfactory. He said he was the clergyman of the church, and was about to enter his study. But the sturdy guardians of the night gave him to understand that the clergymen of Philadelphia had better customs than to be prowling about churches at 3 o'clock of a winter's morning. But in doing thus, the doctor violated the laws of his nature, and has probably ruined his eyesight forever."—Boston Chronicle.

ELECTORS OF PRESIDENT.

By an act of Congress of March 1, 1792, the electors are required to meet in their several states and give their votes for President and Vice President, on the first Wednesday in December.

The electors hold a meeting on the day preceeding, for the purpose of organizing themselves and verifying their credentials.

The law establishing a uniform time for choosing the electors throughout the United States, was enacted January 23, 1845.

The votes of the electoral colleges are to be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate before the first Wednesday in January following.

The votes are to be opened and counted in Congress on the second Wednesday in January.

The messengers appointed by the electoral colleges to carry the votes to Washington are allowed a mileage of 25 cents.

A CURIOUS SIGHT.—A few miles from Boston on Friday morning, a curious sight was seen, being a drove of turkeys, not driven, but led or coaxed by a man with a basket of corn. He occasionally threw out a handful, and the turkeys marched after, not reflecting on the many hungry appetites they were destined to satisfy on Thanksgiving. There were 750 in the drove, and they came in that novel manner all the way from the northern part of Vermont, where live turkeys are worth from 8 to 10 cents per pound.

Mr. Choate's eulogy on Daniel Webster, before the faculty and students of Dartmouth College, is to be pronounced on the fourth of July next.

LATEST NEWS!

NAVAL MATTERS.—Annapolis, Nov. 18.—The steamship Mississippi weighed anchor at 5 P. M. to-day for Norfolk, where she will remain until the arrival of the Princeton, when the long talked of expedition to Japan will sail.

Important despatches were received to-day by Commodore Perry, from the navy department.

BROADWAY RAILROAD.—New York, Nov. 20.—The Broadway Railroad project passed the Board of Aldermen last evening—yeas 16, nays 3.

THE JAPAN EXPEDITION.—The steamer Princeton, now at Norfolk, will sail in a few days for Madeira en route for Japan.

THE LOBOS QUESTION.—The Washington Republic says the Lobos Islands difficulty has been settled satisfactorily, —the American Government having unreservedly acknowledged the Government of Peru, and Peru in return stipulating to supply the American vessels already chartered for guano, on highly advantageous terms.

THE MEXICAN INSURRECTION.—Papers received at Baltimore on Friday, contain particulars of the Mexican outbreak at Matamoras. It appears that Gen. Cardenas, on assuming the governorship, established an armed military police force, against which the Ayuntamiento of Matamoras protested.

Gen. Canales undertook to uphold Cardenas, but was hissed and hooted out of the room. He then presented himself at the doors of the town hall, surrounded by a military guard, and informed the members that they were all under arrest, and would be sent to Victoria. The willing tools of Cardenas were substituted for the deposed members, and upon this the National Guards crossed the river to the American side, almost en masse, and after receiving arms and ammunition, recrossed the Mexican frontier, and marched towards Victoria, with the intention of driving out Cardenas. They were pursued by Canale and Avalos, whereupon a battle ensued, in which the National Guards were victorious, driving Canales and Avalos off the field, and capturing their arms and artillery.

STRIKE AMONG STEAMBOATS—HIGH WAGES.—The steamer Magnolia, whose usual hour of leaving port is five o'clock on Tuesday evening, was not, as we learn, enabled to leave port until an early hour yesterday morning, in consequence of the exorbitant wages demanded by white crews. The boat had been paying sixty dollars wages for some time past, and when on the point of leaving port the crew struck with a demand of one hundred dollars per month. They were offered sixty-five dollars, refusing to take which, the captain determined to have a crew of blacks, and accordingly shipped them at two dollars and a half per day If things should continue after this fashion, the situation of deck hand on a packet steamer might be well worthy the attention of the unemployed. —New Orleans Crescent.

The correspondent of the Woonsocket Patriot still adheres to his assertions in relation to JennyLind's insanity,and the difficulties with her husband. He says his letter of last week "was written on sufficient authority and is no fabrication."

THE LEMMON FUND.—New York, Nov. 20.—The subscription of $5000 to indemnify Mr. Lemmon for the loss of his slaves will probably be all made up to-day. It is understood the counsel for Mr. Lemmon intend taking the matter by certiorari before the Supreme Court.

DANIEL TUCKER, who has been so often warned to "get out of the way," is said to have been run over by a train of cars in Arkansas.

Madame Henrietta Sontag has received by the last steamer the gratifying intelligence that her eldest son, 23 years of age, has been appointed Attache of the Sardinian Legation in Paris. Her husband held the same office when about the same age ; and after his marriage filled the several offices of Minister to Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg.—Boston Journal.

Three boys were recently bitten in the hand by a copperhead snake, near Liberty, Va. Their hands in a few minutes commenced swelling, when a physician dosed them with liquor until they were drunk, and they shortly recovered. A negro in the same vicinity was bitten by a copper-head, and in the course of half an hour he drank a quart of whiskey, and recovered from the effects of the bite.

At Pittsburgh, Pa., on Saturday, a man named Benjamin Fox was so severely beaten at a tavern by four men, that he died. Two of the assailants, named Jackson Cupples and John Hall, were arrested.

"YOUNG IN YEARS, DEEP IN GUILT."—The jury, in the case of young Howlett, charged with the murder of Baxter, a watchman, on board the ship Thomas Watson, at New York, brought in on Friday evening a verdict of guilty. The prisoner is but 19 years old. He had boarded the ship for the purpose of robbery, and to avoid the punishment of the lesser crime, steeped his hands in the blood of his unfortunate victim.

"Who Gin' that Vote ?"—The Providence Journal tells the following old story in so agreeable style that we cannot help copying it:—

It is recorded that in one of the upper plantations of Maine, where the vote had long been almost unanimously Democratic, a single vote for the Whig candidate was once found in the ballot box. The astonished and indignant moderator of the town meeting held it up, and called in a loud voice, "who gin that vote ?" The Whig, whose situation our friends can have no difficulty in appreciating, did not venture to come forward. Again the moderator called forth, "who hove in that Federal vote ?" Still no answer. "Nobody owns it," said the moderator, "and it is rejected." So the vote of the plantation was returned as usual, all on the Democratic side.

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market.
THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.
These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.
Portsmouth, Sept. 9th, 1852.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE.
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.
As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.
And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.
Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.
Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.
THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.
The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.
All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or not sale.
We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.
This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either, coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.
We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.
Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumpe; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.
All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

MR. PERKINS PERPLEXED,

OR THE BENEFITS OF ADVERTISING.

"I can't see how it is! There's Tewksbury; he's been off again, down to Newport with his wife, two children and a servant! Where under heaven he gets money to spend in this way is more than I can tell. He hadn't a cent when he began, five years ago. Look at him now—lives out of town, keeps a horse, drives in and out every day. His expenses must be large—yet he seems to pay as he goes. I hope there is nothing wrong about Tewksbury. Then look at the money he spends for advertising! Why, that is enough to ruin any man, I don't care how rich he is. I have been in business for thirty years, and I can't afford any of these things. Wouldn't I look well taking my wife down to Newport, and staying there eight weeks?—eight weeks, indeed! I sent her on a cheap excursion—but I couldn't go myself, I can't afford it—don't take in money enough to do it.

And then to see a man spend his money, just to let people see his name in the papers—and sending cards and bills all about the country. Tewksbury bleeds freely for his vanity, I must confess! They don't catch me in that trap, no how. It don't do no good; I got a lot of cards and bills printed five years ago, and there they are in the desk now! Nobody ever calls for them. And then I advertised four weeks in a newspaper—money thrown away—wasted! Tewksbury is a fool, and he must fail sooner or later! I'm sorry for him—he was naturally a clever fellow. It must cost him more to advertise than all the money I take! I wish somebody would buy me out—trade is so dull!"

All he said about Tewksbury was true enough, with the slight exception, that Tewksbury was in danger of failing. The very thing that Perkins thought would fail him, was that which kept him up. He began business with nothing but his brains; he let the people understand, through the newspapers of the country, where he was and what he had to give them for their money, and he got a great run of trade, which is constantly increasing.

Perkins lost his business just as fast as his old customers died off or went off—he took no steps to get new ones, and the consequence is that he is just living upon what he made twenty years ago. He had better shut up his shop than try to live.

Reader, are you following in the tracks of our friend Perkins? If you are, either shut up your shop or pitch into this great public—if you don't do the latter your creditors will pitch into you and shut you up.—Boston Daily Mail.

NEWSPAPERS ARE CHEAP ENOUGH FOR ALL TO SUBSCRIBE.—There is a fact of some interest, which may not be generally known to the readers of our columns, and which we therefore will very briefly advert to, for their benefit as well as our own. It is that newspaper borrowers, who loaf about offices and stores for the purpose of getting an early grab at the paper as soon as delivered, and pertinaciously peruse its columns, even when the owner, the man who pays for it, is waiting to read it, are most intolerable bores to those they visit under such circumstances; and they are a moth to the printer, by sometimes causing men to stop their papers rather than be thus annoyed and vexed.—Bangor Courier.

A CHINESE FRAUD.—One of our city merchants, an importer of teas, showed us this morning a specimen of the ingenuity and boldness of the Chinese in defrauding even the sharp-sighted Yankees. He purchased in New York a quantity of tea, for one box of which, of a fine quality, he paid seventy cents a pound. The box had never been opened since it left China, and was opened only when it reached here. Its entire contents, much to the surprise and anger of our friend, were not superior "Imperial" tea, but the husks and shells of the grain of rice, mingled with a light, friable, clayish colored earth. A decided cheat.—N. O. Picayune.

THE AMERICAN BONAPARTES.—Most of our readers are aware that Jerome Bonaparte, the youngest and favorite brother of the great Napoleon, married, while under age, a young American lady, Miss Patterson of Baltimore. This, if we mistake not, was in 1803, and young Jerome was at the time in command of a frigate cruising in these latitudes.—Soon after the marriage the Prince sailed with his bride for Europe, hoping, but scarcely trusting, we presume, that his imperial and imperious brother would sanction the connexion. Napoleon's action in the matter was very summary. He sent the lady from France, and his compliments to Pius VII., requesting him to declare the marriage null and void. But the Pope, who had a conscience, refused; whereupon the Emperor took the responsibility of pronouncing a divorce himself, and, by way of clinching the matter, wedded Jerome out of hand to a daughter of the King of Wurtemburg, and afterwards made him King of Westphalia.

Miss Patterson, to all moral and religious intents and purposes the real wife of Jerome, had a son, Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, who now resides on a noble plantation in Maryland, and is comparatively a young man. He, too, has a son, who graduated with distinguished honor at West Point this year, and has entered the U. S. army. It is said that this young officer has a face of the Napoleon mould, and possesses a high order of talent. We have given this brief sketch of the origin of the American Bonapartes, because we have frequently been asked what degree of relationship existed between young Bonaparte of West Point and the Prince President of France. They are second cousins.—Sunday Times.

A Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:

"Passing near the old race-course to-day, I saw Rufus Porter's Flying Ship and all his machinery. The ship is nearly complete, and is to sail for Baltimore, wind and weather permitting, in a fortnight. The saloon contains accommodations for four passengers. The scheme is visionary in the eyes of every one but the projector."

PORTSMOUTH:
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1852.

CUBA—WORTH CONSIDERING.

1. The Spanish rulers of Cuba want nothing from us, covet nothing we possess, and only ask of us that we let them alone. They have no conceivable motive for insulting our flag or ill using our people,but the most obvious and weighty inducements to avoid any thing of the kind.

2. Many of our people, on the other hand, notoriously do covet the possession of Cuba. They mean to wrest it from Spain by fair means or foul. And, in order to ensure the success of this project, they are most anxious to involve our government in their quarrel.—They have every incentive to instigate a broil —every inducement to exaggerate any disrespect which may be shown us, or slight put upon us by the Spaniards. They are morally certain to be eager witnesses of any such offence, and to be careful to make the most and the worst of it.

3. Nobody believes that Gov. Canedo and his functionaries have any other motive for their repugnance to the free coming and going of "Mr. William Smith," than their belief that he is an agent and go-between of the Filibusters in and out of Cuba. The Spanish officials mean to hold Cuba for their sovereign and country to the last—can we blame them for this? And have our Filibusters any fair claim to judge authoritatively of the nature and extent of the precaution which those functionaries may justly take against the sleepless exertions made by our adventurers to take the island from under their feet?

4. The calm judgment of the civilized world will brush away any cobwebs behind which we may seek to hide our national cupidity. If we get into a row with Spain in the premises, the main cause will be that our people want Cuba, and the Spaniards won't peaceably give it up to us. There may be ever so many pretexts, but this will be the real bone of contention.

Americans! countrymen! there are some things which seem pleasant to do, yet which history must censure and eternity reprobate. Is not this whole Filibustering crusade against them!—N. Y. Tribune.

We consider all this—we assent to most of it—but we know that the Filibusters one and all have denounced the present administration on account of Cuba—and that the democratic orators and newspapers generally did the same thing pending the late contest. Some of the speakers, in our hearing, drew a contrast between Scott and Pierce as to what each would do in regard to our relations with Spain and Cuba. We do not believe that the incoming administration has given any pledges of aid in subjugating Cuba—but it is quite safe and fair to say that it will do no more to prevent Filibuster expeditions than the outgoing administration has. It will probably do less. Several whig papers have expressed the opinion that Pierce and King will be moderate and conservative: and so they will no doubt in some respects. Perhaps they will be so in regard to Cuba, as far as proclamations go—but the Filibusters regard the change as in their favor—and their exertions will be redoubled now that the whigs are defeated.

Now it is the part of true wisdom to look at matters as they are, and take measures accordingly. If any one point in our policy can be considered as settled, it is that of large and indefinite extension. Mr. Jefferson began it by the purchase of Louisiana, confessedly extra-constitutional and probably unconstitutional—but the people sanctioned it, and it became a precedent.

As a quid pro quo, we relinquished the Old French Claims, so called, to France; but have never yet paid our own merchants the first red cent of damages.

Gen. Jackson entered Florida, took and hung Arbuthnot and Ambrister, and after matters were pretty well mixed up, we bought from Spain all her right and title to her colonies of East and West Florida.

Years afterwards, in the memorable administrations of presidents Tyler and Polk, we "re-annexed" Texas—and then got into a war "by the act of Mexico," in which we sought "indemnity for the past and security for the future." Finally, we closed our contest and controversy with Mexico, by paying the indemnity ourselves, and a few millions besides. The people—the democracy—the majority have sanctioned this also. We shall not stop here to say whether we deem this right or wrong. We only assert now, that the people choose to have it so, and they have shown it by voting for an annexationist to be their next President. It may be said, to be sure, there was no such plank in the platform. But there were a few "ten-penny nails" put in to make it bear the candidates triumphantly into the White House—and these were Filibuster and "manifest-destiny" votes, every one of which went for Pierce and King.

But will there not be a party which will oppose extension, and endeavor to keep the Filibusters within bounds? No doubt there will, and its defeat will be about as certain as its organization. The questions about the remainder of Mexico and the whole of Cuba, are those of time and manner. That they are to be swallowed up, by and by, in our immense republic, seems to be "their destiny"—or at all events it seems to be ours to try for them by any means, fair or foul.

We deem it a dictate of wisdom for our government to enter into seasonable negotiations for an amicable purchase of the Island of Cuba, at a round price of one or two hundred millions, and are persuaded that a considerable portion of the annexationists would assent to such a move. On the other hand, a party which should oppose annexation at all hazards would be likely to ensure and precipitate the occurrence which they should deprecate and would defeat.

The latest news from Cuba (in another column) looks as if the Cuban authorities were determined to get into a difficulty if possible.

DREADFUL CATASTROPHE.—At half-past 12 o'clock yesterday morning, a fire broke out in the County House, Worcester, Mass. by which four insane men were burnt to death or smothered. The fire occurred in the new north wing of the prison, and in the basement beneath the lower tier of cells where the furnace is located. It was communicated to the air-box of the furnace, and thence to the surrounding wood-work. [Another case like the Maine Asylum, where life is sacrificed and property lost, by trying to save ninepence in building a wooden flue.]

Before any thing could be done to arrest the flames or release the persons in confinement, the smoke and heat had ascended thro' the iron gratings to the cells above, causing the doors and fastenings to expand so that it was impossible to open them. The doors were forced open as speedily as possible, but not until four insane men had been smothered to death by the dense smoke and heat which poured through the gratings into their cells.

There were 5 men and 24 women confined in the building, 15 of whom were insane; the remainder were confined for various offences. All but the four above mentioned were rescued.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.—In Salem, yesterday, we learn, five Whig Representatives were chosen. In Newburyport three Whigs. In Boston it was supposed that seven Whigs who were on the Union ticket were chosen,—and probably no others, leaving five vacancies. In Marblehead no choice. In Ipswich no meeting.

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD.—There are at present nearly one thousand men employed upon the U. S. ship Vermont, the steamer Hancock, and other work going on at this yard, and every thing indicates that there will be more business done there than for many years past.

Report says that the Franklin is to be repaired and fitted ont for a sea voyage, and is to be sent to this yard for that purpose.—Boston Daily Adv.

The report in the latter paragraph cannot be correct. Orders have been received here to take up the Franklin and place her on the Railway at the Navy Yard in Kittery; and the workmen are now busy in executing this order, which will be completed in a week or ten days.

It is not likely that the Navy Commissioners would order a ship to be placed on a railway at one station, to be repaired at another.

The Senate of New Hampshire has voted to supply itself with fifteen copies of the Daily Patriot. The House, it will be remembered, refused to furnish its members with the same paper.

PERSONAL.—A correspondent of the Lowell American gives the following letter from Mr. Austin Willey, editor of the Portland Inquirer, in answer to a query whether M. Hale Smith lectured in favor of the Maine Law, in that city:

PORTLAND, Nov. 14, 1852.

Dear Sir:—I have but a moment to answer yours of the 10th. Matthew Hale Smith did attend a great Maine Law Celebration in this city, last year, and I rode with him in the procession. In the evening he made a good speech in favor of the Law, in the City Hall. I had free conversation with him, and he appeared to be sincere and earnestly in favor of it.

Yours truly, A. WILLEY.

REV. T. STARR. KING.—On Sunday afternoon the following vote was passed at a meeting of the Proprietors of the Church in Chauncy place Boston.

Voted, That the Proprietors of the First Church are ready and desirous to invite the Rev. Thomas Starr King to be their Pastor, as soon as they are assured that such a step would meet the harmonious concurrence of the society in Hollis street.

INSANITY FROM DISAPPOINTMENT.—A letter received in Bangor within a few days, from a young gentleman of that city, now in California, mentions the fact that a young friend of the writer had been confined in the insane hospital ever since his arrival in the country. The letter says that, "the cases of insanity from disappointment are very numerous. Young men come here expecting to find ready employment in the cities and plenty of gold in the mines, but they find hundreds seeking work, and the mines crowded with people who can find nothing to do. Many take to drinking and gambling, the two most prominent vices in the country."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

CONCERT.—We invite attention to the advertisement of a grand Concert in the Cameneum to-morrow evening, when Mr. T. P. Moses and Mr. Kingsbury as players, Mr. and Miss Wheelock as singers, and others talented artists, will exhibit a musical treat of uncommon excellence, in its selection, arrangement, and execution.

MECHANICS' SEMI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.—The Mechanics' Association of this city will celebrate their fiftieth anniversary today by a procession and address in the afternoon, and a supper at the Piscataqua House, in the evening. The address will be delivered at the Middle street Church by Charles W. Brewster, Esq., editor of the Portsmouth Journal. Services will be public.

☞ The Universalist Society in this city on Sunday last, voted to invite Rev. Lemuel Willis to settle with them as their pastor.

Capt. Baker of the U. S. Marines, is going out to New Orleans in the ship Frank Pierce, Capt. Marcy, with his family.

The following advertisement, in which many of our citizens are interested, appears in the New York papers:

AMERICAN ART-UNION.—The Court of Appeals having decided that the distribution by lot, of paintings and other works of art, among the members of the Art-Union, would be contrary to the existing statutes of the State, notice is hereby given that the paintings and other works of art will not be distributed.

The committee of management having,in behalf of the members, carried this litigation to the Court of last resort, and the questions involved therein, so far as the mode of distribution is concerned, being settled, they will proceed at once to adjust and close the business of the Association for the year 1851. For this purpose the paintings will be sold at public auction at the Galleries of the Art-Union, on the 15th, 16th and 17th days of December next.

THE NEXT MISTRESS OF THE NATIONAL MANSION.—The Buffalo Courier says:—

We heard a young lady, the other day, 'endorse' Mrs. Pierce in the most enthusiastic manner. She occupied a place in her Sabbath School class in Washington, while Gen. Pierce was Senator, and thought her one of the most lovely women she had ever seen, with the intelligence, grace, and dignity to adorn and honor the White House.

In regard to Gen. Pierce, the Richmond Despatch says, the following is an extract from a letter written by a gentleman at Concord, N. H.:"The new Eagle tavern was opened yesterday. A splendid dinner was given to about 50 invited guests, among whom was General Pierce. The General will board at the Eagle during the winter. You probably see various newspaper accounts of his intention to spend the winter in Portsmouth, N. H., in Virginia, &c. They are all untrue. I have it from his own mouth that he will reside here this winter."

RAILROAD IN BROADWAY.—The New York Board of Aldermen, 17 to 2, have passed resolves allowing the company—composed principally of the present city omnibus owners—to build a double track road' in the centre of Broadway, from South Ferry to Fifty-ninth Street, the extreme space over all the track to be not more than 12 feet 6 inches; the cars and horses not to exceed 45 feet in length.

The Council is to direct the time and other arrangements for running the cars, and the parties are to keep the pave ment between the rails in repair, sweep all the streets below Union Park every morning, and north of the said Park twice a week. The fare not to exceed five cents. The license tax is $20 for each car, though it is said the city was offered $1000 a car by other parties. It is understood that an injunction will be issued to stay proceedings until the higher rate of tax is given. The omnibus men are to take off their carriages when the road is finished.—Boston Courier.

COMMUTATION OF DEATH SENTENCE.—At a meeting of the Governor and Council of Massachusetts, on Friday, the sentence of death passed upon Richard Walkley for killing his father, was commuted to imprisonment for life in the state prison, at hard labor.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Friday evening last, a little girl aged nine years, named Mary O'Connell, was run over in South street Boston, by a team driven at a rapid rate, and almost instantly killed. The driver of the team drove off at an increased speed, and refused to stop when requested to do so. Coroner Sanborn held an inquest and a verdict in accordance with the above was rendered. It is to be hoped the driver will be traced out and arrested.

SUICIDE.—Silas Metcalf, Esq., of Newport N. H., committed suicide by hanging himself to a bed post, while his wife was preparing breakfast, on Tuesday last. He had for a few days previous shown symptoms of insanity, but nothing serious was apprehended by the family. He was about 60 years of age, and had for a long series of years been the leading Democrat at Newport, and had represented the town for some time in the State Legislature. His decease spreads a general gloom over all classes of citizens who knew him.—Boston Times.

The Siamese twins, Chang and Eng, are the owners of a large number of slaves, in North Carolina, and are said to be very severe task masters. They are married, and what is singular, Chang is said to be a Pierce and King democrat, and Eng is something of a Hale abolitionist. Both are married, the former having six children, and the latter five. Eng's wife weighs 220 pounds; the aggregate weight of the twins is but 219.

AUSTRALIAN GOLD.—A recent letter from a gentleman, formerly of Columbus, Ohio, but now in Australia, gives a glowing description of the products of the Australia mines.—He states that just before,his letter was written, a convoy had come in with the proceeds of a week's digging in one locality, consisting of one hundred and twenty thousand ounces of pure gold, being over two millions of dollars in value. The project of importing Chinese laborers had been abandoned.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS COOKING STOVE.

FOR COAL OR WOOD.

THE attention of all in want of a COOK STOVE is respectfully solicited to a consideration of the merits of this most beautifully modeled pattern; equally adapted for coal or wood, and warranted to operate successfully with either,—which is now offered to the public as the

Most Complete and Efficient

Cooking apparatus ever before introduced in this vicinity. It is an elegant model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. The oven, (for it is the most important part of a cooking stove,) in front, of capacity, and in regard to its operation, is unsurpassed by that of any other stove now in the market, it being lined with fire-brick to retain and equalize the heat, and provided with valves for the escape of steam, &c. arising from the roasting of meats—rendering it in this respect superior to the old fashioned but universally admired Tin Kitchen.

The broiling apparatus is constructed on an entirely new and original plan, and will not fail to recommend itself at the first glance, as no smoke or gas arising from that culinary process can escape into the room. The sliding hearth is an improvement not to be found in any other stove.

The popularity of this over all other stoves now in the market, may be inferred from the fact that since its first introduction the last season, over THREE THOUSAND have been put into successful operation in New England and New York City.

Every stove is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction to the purchaser or the money refunded.

Each stove is warranted not to crack for twelve months from date of purchase. It is believed that this stove combines all the improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth. And though its price is higher than any other stove offered in this market of late, it is without question the cheapest in the end. All intending to purchase are respectfully invited to give this an examination before purchasing elsewhere.

Also, for sale cheap, Cook, Parlor and Office Stoves, which are offered low.

IMPORTANT FROM HAVANA.

New York, Nov. 22.—The Crescent City arrived here at quarter past three this morning, from Havana, having left that port on the afternoon of the 16th.

The C. C. arrived off the Moro Castle on the 10th inst.' after sunset, and had to remain outside until the next morning. The Spanish steam frigate Isabel Secundo, which was cruising off the port, spoke the Crescent City, and after learning her name and destination passed on. After entering the port, to which no objection was made, the Captain of the Port came along side, and informed Captain Davenport that all persons on board could land except Purser Smith.

Upon Captain Davenport expressing himself pleased at the termination of the difficulties heretofore existing, the Captain of the Port assured him that it was only for this trip, but should Mr. Smith return in the Crescent City, no communication with the shore would be allowed. Capt. D. expressed his regret at this determination,and remarked that the difficulty was becoming more complicated by this measure, and that although it might be right to exclude any individual from the island whom the authorites consider prejudicial to its authority, which was not denied—he could not concede the same right to the Captain General to prohibit the entrance of passengers and the mails, simply because one person on board was obnoxious to his Excellency. To this no reply was made.

On the eve of sailing, Capt. D. received a note from Messrs. Drake & Co. enclosing a copy of one to them from Martin Galeano, Political Secretary of the Captain General, which will be found below.

Judge Sharkey, U. S. Consul, called on board the Crescent City, and had a long conversation with Capt. D. upon the state of affairs in Havana.

Political Secretary's Office, Havana.

GENT: Notwithstanding there remains in full force and vigor an order of his Excellency the Governor and Captain General, which I communicated to you on the 4th of September last, relative to its being forbidden that Mr. Smith, an employee on board the American steamer Crescent City, should return to the Island; and also forbidding the entry of the said vessel in this port should, she convey him: As a special concession made by his Excellency, on the last voyage of said vessel to New Orleans, and on her return to this port, which she has effected to-day, might be interpreted in a doubtful manner,—it being a concession founded on special reasons, of which his Excellency the Minister Plenipotentiary of her Majesty at Washington,—his Excellency instructs me to say, that in future the said order will be enforced, so that, being informed of this particular, you may communicate information to whom it may concern, and thereby avoid that, through bad intelligence, third parties be injured.

REPLY.

U. S. Steamship Crescent City,
Havana, November 16.

GENTLEMEN:—I am in receipt of your favor of this date, inclosing an official letter from the secretary of the Captain General, by which I learn that this ship will not be permitted to enter port on her return from New York, should Mr. Smith be on board.

I was in hopes that this matter was settled. However, I can assure you, that Mr. Smith will return in the ship, and the consequences, whatever they may be, the Spanish authorities will be answerable for.

H. R. DAVENPORT, U. S. N.,
Commanding Crescent City.

FRUIT TREES IN CALIFORNIA.—The raising of fruit in California promises to be an easy and profitable business. The great difficulty heretofore has been, to get young trees there; but from a letter which now lies before us, we learn that the difficulty is not unsurmountable. Capt. Morgan, who went from Topsfield, we believe, about a year ago, took out with him some 1500 young trees of various kinds, carefully selected and packed by the Messrs. Lake of Topsfield, and succeeded in getting them in California all in good condition.

He has a farm some three miles from San Francisco; and the writer of the letter referred to, says, that on visiting the farm about the middle of September last, he found these imported trees in a most thriving condition, many of the apple trees having grown from 2½ to 3 feet the first season; and adds—"It is the finest country I ever saw for growing fruit." He thinks that there will be no difficulty in sending out trees from New England, provided they are selected with the same care and packed in the same way that Capt. Morgan's were.

A NEW SPECULATION.—We learn that some of our Hallowell neighbours are forwarding apples to California. They are packed in a manner entirely different from the usual mode of sending apples, and one we should think might prove effectual in preseving them from rot. Each apple is wrapped in paper and then placed in the barrel, in layers. Between every two layers of apples is a layer of powdered charcoal. The apples are thus prevented from coming in contact with each other, and from the anti-putrescent qualities of the charcoal the rot, even should it attack a part of the fruit, will be prevented from communicating to the remainder. This plan we should think a good one for preserving fruit when sent to any foreign country.—Maine Farmer.

"I served," says Jefferson, "with General Washington, in the Legislature of Virginia, before the revolution, and, during it, with Dr. Franklin, in Congress. I never heard either of them speak ten minutes at a time, nor to any but the main point, which was to decide the question. They laid their shoulders to the great points, knowing that the little ones would follow of themselves."

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove in several particulars improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.
Portsmouth, Sept. 9th, 1852.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE.

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.
As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that has been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.
And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.
Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscriber, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.
The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.
All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.
We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and SHORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operation more complete, and its pates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels bound in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.
This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with a very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.
We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner" "Eagle" "States" "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.
Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.
All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

THE LAW OF LETTERS.

We published, some days ago, an article from some eminent legal men, stating, that "it has been settled by the decision of eminent judges both in England and this country, that private letters belong to the writer and his representatives, if they choose to claim them, and not to the recipient." The New York Atlas replies to this by saying:

"It is not true. We deny that any such decision was ever made, in this country or in England, or in any country in christendom. The moment a letter passes from the hands of its writer, into those to whom it is addressed, it becomes the property of the latter, as much as if it were a chose in action, which it assimilates. If the writer wishes to withdraw the contents, he may do so, through the courtesy of the party addressed. After the letter passes into the hands of the party addressed, the writer of it possesses no power over it; and, if he should accidentally come in possession of it, and break its seal, he would be just as liable to prosecution for actual felony, as he would if he had not written it.

It has been decided in this country and in England, that he who receives a letter has no right to make use of it to promote the injury of its author. For instance, if Mr Webster had, at any time in his life, written a letter to a confidant, in which he admitted that the whole connexion he had with the Lobos Island affair was a swindle, and a meditated fraud on this Government; and the party to whom it was addressed should subsequently make that letter public, he would be liable in an action for libel on the dead, no matter how true the letter might be.

The common law of England, which still, to the disgrace of this country, obtains favor in some of these United States, recognizes the axiom of, "the greater the truth, the greater the libel." Under that construction of the law, it has often been decided that confidential letters cannot be published to promote the disadvantage of those who write them, if the design be to gratify a malicious propensity. And that is the sum and substance of all the decisions that have been made on the subject referred to."

The Lowell Courier adds:

It may not be amiss to say in this connection that when the biographer of the late Judge Story applied to Mr. Webster for such letters of his as remained in Mr. Webster's possession, or copies of such as were adapted to illustrate his life and character, the request was altogether refused by Mr. Webster, together with his injunction against the publication of any of his own letters to Judge Story which might then remain in the possession of his executors and biographer.

SINGULAR FACT—A WIFE NOT KNOW HER OWN HUSBAND.—A Southern journal has the following:—

"In Saturday's Constitution, a paragraph appeared, stating that an inquest had been held on the body of a man named Wm. Duke, a carpenter, who was drowned in the Mardyke stream. While the body lay at the bridewell, poor Duke's wife and daughter called to see it before the inquest, and left the bridewell with tears and lamentations. They returned home, and the inquest was held—the coroner thinking it unnecessary to call for the evidence of the mourners—and the jury came to a verdict that the deceased Wm. Duke was accidentally drowned. When the wife and daughter returned home, what was their astonishment to see him whom they thought they had just seen dead, alive and well, warming himself comfortably by the fire. The frightened women for some time refused to believe the evidence of their senses; and it was not until some neighbors called in and effected a mutual understanding between the parties, that anything like quiet was restored. At length, after some explanations, it appeared that the deceased was not Wm. Duke, who had been away from home, and had only that evening returned. Who the deceased really was, no one knows.

MR. WEBSTER'S TEMPERANCE.

DR. JEFFRIES of Boston, who was Mr. Webster's physician has come out in the papers with an article defending Mr. Webster's memory from the charge of intemperance. He says, at a late medical dinner

"I took occasion after a brief statement of his case, to make some remarks calculated to remove an aspersion upon his moral character; and particularly to show that the assertion was false, that he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor on the occasion of his public address in Faneuil Hall on May 22d, 1852. A declaration to this effect I had heard several times emanating from persons of intelligence and influence. I did not intend to vindicate the character of Mr. Webster—it needed no defence. I meant by a simple relation of circumstances under my own observation to show that the charge was entirely untrue."

He then states several facts in regard to his medical attendance on Mr. W. for several days previous to May 22, and on that day, adding:

"At his request I went with him to the Hall, and am fully convinced that he had not on that day, or for some days preceding, taken even the smallest amount of stimulating drinks. I admitted that Mr. Webster was in the occasional use of wine, and sometimes of other alcoholic drinks, and gave as a probable reason that it was much more the custom in Washington than in this city; but I confidentially expressed the opinion that no man could be produced, who could show that he knew—although many might erroneously presume, as in the instance above referred to—that his great intellect was ever clouded by stimulants; or that he was unfitted at any time, even for the production of State papers."

ORTHOGRAPHY.—It is announced that Mr. Putnam, in his forthcoming magazine, will not adopt the Websterian innovations in the mode of spelling English words. By the immense influence exercised by interested publishers, these innovations have been widely introduced in popular use. But to our best scholars and men of letters they seem to be eminently distasteful. In some few of his 'innovations, as in the rejection of the u from such words as candor, honor, Webster did but follow the current of sentiment among scholars; but many of his orthographical mutilations are unfounded in any good philological reason. An extensive publisher, like Mr. Putnam, has it in his power to do much to counteract the adoption of the current Websterian barbarisms.—Boston Transcript.

DAILY
PORTSMOUTH:
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1852.

SEMI-CENTENIAL CELEBRATION.

The New Hampshire Mechanics' Association celebrated its fiftieth anniversary in this city yesterday, by assembling at the Court House, where the members present were formed in procession, and marched to the music of the New Castle Brass Band, through several principal streets to the Middle Street Church.

Here, after a prayer by Rev. Dr. Peabody, an address was delivered by Charles W. Brewster, Esq., in which he noticed some of the changes which have come over the Mechanic Association, the mechanic arts, our own country in various aspects, and the world in some important particulars. He noticed the gratifying fact, that several of the original members of the Association are living, and some were present, although all the members were of twenty-one years of age at its formation, and some of them twenty years older than that. Pertinent allusion was made to the introduction of the steam engine, the steamboat, and the railroad; to the gas lights, steam presses, and magnetic telegraphs of today, which had no existence in the day when this Association was formed.

Honorable mention was made of the men who laid the foundation on which the Association now rests, and whose watchful care had made the funds do the work for which they were established, viz. to relieve the widow, aid the orphan, and help the unfortunate brother, and yet had preserved them not only unbroken, but gradually increasing.

The orator described the Association as having well answered this purpose of its formation. At the time when it was formed, there was nothing else of the kind here, except the Masonic Fraternity. And though many others have since arisen, none seem to promise more durability or cheaper usefulness than this.

Notice was taken of one unfulfilled purpose of the Association, viz. to encourage and foster the useful arts, and thus promote invention, ingenuity, skill and finish of workmanship.

Associations of similar character, on each side of us, younger than this, have gone largely into this branch of usefulness, though their circumstances are so widely different from ours, that the duty of this association in this respect, may yet be far in the future.

The address was well written, and would be read with interest by hundreds who did not hear it.

In the evening, many of the members with their wives and friends, as well as the widows of a few deceased brethren, partook of a supper provided by Col. Hadley at the Piscataqua House, and spent a social and fraternal evening.

It ought to be added that the supper was most excellent, and was highly enjoyed by as happy a company as can be gathered any where on any occasion.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.—The town meetings on Monday failed of a choice in over 100 towns. In those which did choose, 37 whigs and 25 others were elected. These, added to those formerly chosen, make the House stand 188 whigs, to 125 of all other parties, including 15 anti-coalition democrats. They will, of course, fill the vacancies in the Senate with whigs, and elect a whig governor.

This seals the fate of the Coalition in that State. It will be most popular and profitable for the present, to be Union Democrats, and the Freesoil party will be comparatively quiet.

☞ The Boston papers of Monday contained columns of contradictory criticism on the New Music Hall and the Concerts therein. There was a grand Secular Concert in it on Saturday evening, when the house was pretty well filled—and a Sacred Concert on Sunday evening, when it was full. Rev. Theodore Parker preached there (as he is to do regularly hereafter,) on Sunday in the day time, when it was densely crowded. The novelty, beauty, and magnitude of the Hall, will "draw" for some time.

DEATH OF GOV. SHULTZ.—Ex-Governor Shultz, of Pennsylvania, died on Friday morning last, at the age of about 80 years. In 1810 he entered the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, and in 1822 the Senate. He was elected Governor in 1823 and 1826. He was a man of respectable although not commanding talents. The only surviving ex-Governors of Pennsylvania now, are Hon. Joseph Ritner, Hon. David R. Porter, and Hon. Wm. F. Johnston.

Butter commands from 26 to 28 cents per pound in our market, and prospects are favorable for a further rise, or at least for continued high prices. Lard is enormously high also; we must naturally conclude that there is a short crop of hogs, as well as a short crop of butter.—Boston Chronicle.

YANKEE THRIFT.—The ice trade of the United States, it is said exceeds in amount the wine trade of Bordeaux.

REV. R. W. CLARK'S WRITINGS.—The Boston correspondent of the Newburyport Herald, states that Messrs. J. P. Jewett & Co., of Boston, have in press a new gift book entitled "Heaven and its Scriptural Emblems," by Rev. Rufus W. Clark. This work is intended to be a suitable gift book to present pastors, teachers, Superintendents of Sunday Schools, or friends in affliction. It will be illustrated with five original steel engravings, designed by Billings. The work will be published at a great expense and will make a superb volume. The literary reputation of Mr. Clark, the enterprise of his publishers, and the genius of the artist, Mr. Billings, are sure guarantees that the book will be in every respect worthy the patronage of the public. I am induced to allude to this volume before its publication, in order that the numerous friends of the author in your vicinity may be apprised that a work of so desirable a character will soon be for sale.

It will also doubtless interest many of your readers to know that the American Tract Society are now publishing an abridged edition of the memoirs of Rev. John E. Emerson, by Mr. Clark, which they intend to scatter throughout the Union.

HONORS TO MR. WEBSTER.—The State Capital Reporter, speaking of the late vote in our House of Representatives to go to his funeral in Boston, says:

"We are quite willing that every proper thing should be done, to honor the memory of the great man of whom New Hampshire feels so justly proud—but we much doubt the propriety of the whole State government going in a body into a neighboring State for any purpose; and when the Legislature passed the vote, it struck us as taking the one step, from the sublime to the ridiculous, although it was done with the best of motives. We do not see what else the Legislature can do, under the circumstances, than to send a committee to represent the State government on the occasion."

We have supposed, from first to last, that our Legislature has no right to spend its time and our money in this way at all. Nor do we see any propriety in the movement of sending either a delegation or a house to Boston. We are to have a public display (at the cost of the State) in Concord, and that is right; but there is no more propriety in our Representatives' going to Boston than in going to New York. Let us, as a State, pay honor to the memory of an eminent native son of our soil—and let us pay it on our soil.

THE MAINE LAW IN VERMONT.—We learn, through a gentleman direct from Montpelier, that the liquor law which has been under consideration in that body, (similar to the Maine Law) passed the House of Representatives in Vermont, by 1 majority, on Monday evening. It had previously passed the Senate. The Legislature was to adjourn yesterday, previous to which strong efforts were to be made to reconsider the vote.

LOSS OF THE PROPELLOR ONEIDA, ON LAKE ERIE.—There is no longer any doubt of the loss of the propellor Oneida, and but little hope remains that any of those on board her were saved. It is supposed that there were seventeen persons in all on board, and it is rumored that besides the crew, there were two passengers. We have been unable to ascertain the names of the crew, but we believe the names of the officers were: W. S. Rich captain; Samuel Hulgate, first mate; Charles Williams, second mate; E. B. Sherwood, clerk; —— Ferry, engineer, and Henry White, steward. Mr. Hulgate was a resident of Ohio City, where he had many friends, and leaves a family who were solely dependent upon his exertions for support. Mr. Sherwood was a resident of this city and much esteemed. He had been married but a short time, and the probability of his sudden and unexpected death is a crushing blow to his wife. Mr. White also resided in this city, and leaves a wife and one child. We understand that the Keystone State passed the Oneida, keel up, and that for nine miles above Dunkirk the beach is strewn with portions of the wreck and cargo, but no bodies have yet been found. The small boat, with the books and papers of the Oneida, had come ashore; also the provision box; and at Erie, flour from the wreck had been found.—Cleveland Herald.

MORE PARTICULARS OF THE LOSS OF THE BUCKEYE BELLE.—D. Zinsmaster, of Zanesville, was one of the killed. Senator Covey was sitting in the ladies' cabin, and in the crash the stove, near which he was sitting, was thrown upon him, and broke his leg. A young lady of our acquaintance, Miss Charlotte Stone, of McConnellsville, manifested great presence of mind. By her exertions she removed the hot stove from Mr. Covey, and took him from the cabin wreck to the guard of the boat. She then procured a mattrass, and put him on it till he could be removed. The hot stove, with its burning contents, was on the floor, and would soon have set the wreck on fire. She took blankets and sheets from the berths, and plunging them in the water, threw them on the stove and floor, and thus avoided the danger. A number of bodies have been found, more or less mutilated.—Ohio State Journal, Nov. 16.

EXPLOSION OF A GRINDSTONE—FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Friday morning Mr. Frederick Burlem, a German, employed alone in the Saw Grinding Factory of Michael Schwartz, of Bangor, Me., was instantly killed by the breaking of a very large grindstone. He was forcing the speed of the stone to a high rate, when the centripetal force, or tendency to fly off, became so great as to cause the stone to fly into fragments, and one portion of it tore off all the lower portion of his abdomen.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

TEMPERANCE WATCHMEN.

Eureka Club, No. 16, Temperance Watchmen, has just been organized in this city. The order had its origin in Maine, and Clubs are multiplying rapidly throughout New England. The design is the promotion and diffusion of true Temperance principles, by legal and moral means. In its regulations it is not unlike the Mechanics' Association, and the Sons of Temperance—no pecuniary benefits directly accruing to any member. The officers chosen at the organization and installation, a few evenings since, were as follows:

John Christie, S. O.;
John Dame, J. O.;
William W. Dow, R. S.;
Araba C. Slater, C. S.;
Rev. A. R. Bradbury, Chaplain;
William M. Conant, T.;
Thomas Varrell, M.;
Charles C. Cushman, A. M.

THE CONCERT THIS EVENING, will be no ordinary affair, and richly merits a crowded house. Mr. Moses has spared nothing to make a beautiful concert room—and has got it; he has labored and spent much to give a "grand concert" this evening—and he will also do that. For as fine a selection of music as was ever sung in Portsmouth, see programme—for execution as fine, visit the Cameneum early to-night. He will have a full house.

N. H. General Court—Nov. Session, 1852.

MONDAY, NOV. 22.

Senate.—Mr. Bennett moved a reconsideration of the vote adopting the resolutions in relation to Daniel Webster—which motion was laid on the table, on motion of Mr. Williamson.

House.—During the recess from Friday afternoon, the Representatives' Hall was tastefully dressed in mourning, in accordance with the vote passed on Thursday last, in memory of Mr. Webster.

Agreeably to the request of the House, the Senate sent down a copy of the opinion of the Judges of the Superior Court on the Liquor bill.

The clerk was directed to procure the usual number of printed copies for the use of the members.

We learn by a gentleman from Concord last evening, that to-morrow at eleven o'clock is the time appointed for the election of a U. S. Senator, in place of Hon. John P. Hale. Hon. Charles G. Atherton will doubtless be the man.

The House of Representatives, yesterday afternoon, after an eloquent and impressive speech in favor of the motion, from Col. Bartlett, ananimously voted to attend the Webster obsequies in a body, at Boston on the 30th inst. They have been tendered a free passage to Boston, by the Superintendent of the Concord Railroad. The report of the electoral college will be made the day previous.

SHOCKING DEATH BY FIRE.—A young lady, aged about twenty-five, the daughter of Mr. John Cutler, of Lima, Livingston county, came to her death in a very distressing manner on Tuesday evening last. Mr. Cutler's house was on fire, and while burning, he ran up into the deceased's bedroom, and found that she had been burned to death. The fire originated, we believe, in the deceased's bed-room, and it is not ascertained whether the conflagration was accidental, or the work of the ill fated young lady. The cause for the latter suggestion of Miss Cutler having set the room on fire, is, that she for a year or more, has been melancholy, and it is considered partially insane. She was a beautiful girl, and her death severely afflicts her relatives and friends. —Rochester Advertiser.

THANKSGIVING IN WASHINGTON.—John W. Maury, Esq., Mayor of the City of Washington, has issued his proclamation, in compliance with a resolution of the Aldermen and Common Council of the City, appointing Thursday, the 25th day of November inst., to be observed as a day of General Thanksgiving and Praise to Almighty God, and recommending that all secular employments be suspended on that day. The day has been appointed for the same observance in sixteen states.

HORRIBLE DESTITUTION.—The Boston Journal says an Irish woman and two small children were found by a police officer, Saturday, in a dwelling house, corner of Commercial and Henchman streets, in a most deplorable state of destitution. When the officer entered the room, which was densely filled with smoke from a smouldering stick of wood in the fireplace, he found the woman lying nearly naked in one corner, she being so sick and weak as to have lost all power to help herself or little ones. A girl of four years of age sat in another corner, endeavoring to eat a raw potato; while lying before the hearth, and upon the bare floor, was an infant two weeks old, naked, and nearly dead from neglect. Not a vestige of furniture of any description could be found in the room, and had it not been for the timely entrance of the officer, the mother and babe would unquestionably have died before many hours. The infant was kindly provided for by a benevolent lady at the North End, and the woman and girl were sent to the House of Industry. It is difficult to conceive of such a heartrending picture as the above presents, at almost the very doors of affluence and plenty.

PAUPERS.—There are at Deer Island and South Boston Alms Houses 1400 paupers and criminals, nine-tenths of the number being foreigners, mostly Irish. The Lunatic Hospital at South Boston contains 250 inmates, two-thirds of the number being foreigners.

At the examination of the houses, owned by the Great Falls Manufacturing Company in this village, on the 15th inst., numbering over one hundred and fifty tenements, and containing between twelve and fifteen hundred inhabitants, only three cases of sickness were found. This speaks well for the health of the town, and also for the cleanly manner in which the Company's houses are kept.—Great Falls Journal.

A RICH CROP OF BANK BILLS was gathered yesterday, in Front and Lafayette streets.—Capt. Turner, of a Newburyport coaster, had several hundred dollars, in a handkerchief, tied around his body. The handkerchief becoming loose, the bills escaped, without his knowledge, and were picked up by several individuals.

After some hunting the right owner was found, and the whole was restored to him, excepting about thirty or forty dollars, which are still missing, and which if found, will be taken care of by our City Marshal.—Salem Register.

LATEST NEWS!

THE JAPAN EXPEDITION.—We learn from the correspondence of the Journal of Commerce, that there is much doubt whether the contemplated expedition can ever be got ready for Japan, or for any other destination. Many things may happen before next May, to render it politic to retain our trifling naval force within reach, if not to augment it. The expedition cannot possibly be got off till next May or June, and the next administration may not approve of the policy that has suggested it.

ANOTHER PULL BACK.—The Baltimore Patriot learns on reliable authority that the steam frigate Princeton will not be able to proceed to Japan, her boilers having been condemned by chief engineers Sewall and Williamson.

PURSER SMITH.—A number of gentlemen in New York on Monday, were endeavoring to get up a meeting in the Exchange, on the subject of the Crescent City, in the hopes of persuading Mr. Law to withdraw Purser Smith from that ship.

It is not at all likely he will do so.

Lieut. Davenport, recently the commander of the steamship Crescent City, has been ordered to the Frigate Macedonia on the Japan expedition.

THEFTS.—Troy, Nov. 22.—Two men were arrested last night in the act of robbing a grave in the Catholic burying ground. The body of a female was recently found in a lot near by. The prisoners are in jail in this city, and will be examined to-morrow.

Two to three hundred dollars worth of silver spoons were stolen from the Mansion House, in this city, last night.

ELECTIONS.—The official vote of Ohio gives Pierce 169,160, Scott 152,526, Hale 31,782.

The official majority of Tennessee for Scott is 1811.

LATER FROM MEXICO.

Additional details of Mexican news have been received at New York, from Vera Cruz 4th inst.

Judge Conklin and Mr Smith, with the rest of the Gardiner committee, were passed on the 2d, on the road between Vera Cruz and the capital. Count Ravusset and his French companions in Sonora were causing great uneasiness to the government—the latter taking a hostile attitude, and supposed to be supported by the French Minister.

Ravusset has raised 250 men, supposed for the purpose of resisting Gen. Blanco, who had been sent against him. Government had fallen in arrears with its English creditors, for interest, nearly one million and a half; the Minister of Finance had asked Congress to take measures to supply the deficiency.

A pronunciamento was attempted on the midnight of the 28th, by an officer named Victori; the conspirators failed with loss of life. The chiefs and others gave themselves up. It is said that orders had been sent from the capital to shoot Victori.

The Minister of War recieved information that Gen. Magna was near Guyagato with 4000 men and 400 pieces of artillery, with the intention of attacking that capital. A force has been sent against him, but he has gone to Penjamo, and will, we presume, join Bahammond in Michoncan.

It was reported in Mexico, 29th, that Arista intended to resign.

Several citizens have been arrested at Tamaulipas for being concerned in the revolt of the 11th Oct.

The Grand Jury in the case of Representatives investigating charges preferred by the Legislature of Puebla against Signor Aguirre, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has decided, 64 to 18, against him—in consequence of which he resigned. An offer of resignation from Pristo followed, which President Arista refused to accept.

THE FRENCHMEN IN SONORA.—The French expedition from California to Sonora, Mexico, to work the abandoned silver mines of that country, has been signally disastrous. The emigrants encountered sickness, starvation and death, and were also disappointed in finding the mines, except in one case, and there they were excluded by the decision of a Judge.

FROM BRAZIL advices to October 3d have been received from Rio Janeiro.

The commercial classes of Rio evince much interest in the agreement entered into by large importing houses, by the regulation of transactions between importers and jobbers; the subject was regarded as of great importance. A protest had been entered by the British Consul against the action of the merchants.

Senor D. A. Fonseca, a prominent merchant of Rio Janeiro, generally suspected of participating in the slave trade, had been ordered to quit the Empire within thirty days.

Advices from St. Domingo to Oct. 3d state that vague rumors relative to the expedition in this country to go to St. Domingo, for a while caused considerable excitement in the latter republic, but at the last accounts all had become quiet. The people appeared to be impressed with the belief that currency was given to those unfounded reports by persons whose interest it is to foment intestine trouble and assist in schemes to destroy the government.

Paez, Dominician President, has issued a manifesto, forbidding foreigners to disembark at any ports in the republic except St. Domingo, Puerk, Plata, and Azua, except in case of shipwreck, &c. La Romana and Samana are to be closed for six months. Importation of fire-arms, ammunition, &c. is prohibited.

NOVA SCOTIA.—"The Railway" almost absorbs the attention of the newspapers.—Messrs. Sykes & Co., have offered to build the road in Nova Scotia for £4000 sterling per mile, which is £1500 per mile less than Jackson's contract in New Brunswick.

DIVORCE.—In the Superior Court at New Haven, Conn., during the October term, no fewer than twenty-one divorces were granted.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE.
FOR COAL OR WOOD.
THE attention of all in want of a COOK STOVE is respectfully solicited to a consideration of the merits of this most beautifully modeled pattern; equally adapted for coal or wood, and warranted to operate successfully with either,—which is now offered to the public as the

Most Complete and Efficient
Cooking apparatus ever before introduced in this vicinity. It is an elegant model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. The oven, (by far the most important part of a cooking stove,) in point of capacity, and in regard to its operation, is unsurpassed by that of any other stove now in the market, it being lined with fire-brick to retain and equalize the heat, and provided with valves for the escape of steam, &c. arising from the roasting of meats—rendering it in this respect superior to the old fashioned but universally admired TinKitchen.
The broiling apparatus is constructed on an entirely new and original plan, and will not fail to recommend itself at the first glance, as no smoke or gas arising from that culinary process can escape into the room. The sliding hearth is an improvement not to be found in any other stove.
The popularity of this over all other stoves now in the market, may be inferred from the fact that since its first introduction the last season, over THREE THOUSAND have been put into successful operation in New England and New York City.
Every stove is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction to the purchaser or the money refunded.
Each stove is warranted not to crack for twelve months from date of purchase. It is believed that this stove combines all the improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth. And though its price is higher than any other stove offered in this market of late, it is without question the cheapest in the end. All intending to purchase are respectfully invited to give this an examination before purchasing elsewhere.
Also, a variety of cheap Cook, Parlor, and Office Stoves, which are offered low.

FATAL RESULT OF FOLLY.—An interesting little girl of ten years of age, in Nashua, N. H. was so badly frightened recently by a man disguised in a mask, at a wedding she was passing, that an affection of the brain ensued, of which she died.

The man who attempted to make a fence out of beef steaks, has just obtained a patent for a machine to take the kinks out of pigs tails. He voted the fig wicket at the late election.

Sugar cane of very good quality, has been produced in South Carolina, and the Charleston Mercury calls the attention of the planters of that State to its cultivation.

The Buffalo Rough Notes says—"It has been discovered that where a lot of boarders are fed for some time on sausages exclusively, they begin to grow!"

Why was Adam like a sugar planter? Because he first raised Cane. The Albany Evening Journal perpetrated that.

Every man thinks that Cæsar's wife ought to be above suspicion, but he is far less particular as to what Cæsar himself ought to be.

"Lord Brougham says—"a lawyer is a learned man who receives your estate from your enemies and keeps it himself."

LETTER THIEF.—Letters containing money having frequently miscarried of late between Richmond and Baltimore, Mr. Mc Guire, special agent of the post office department, mailed a decoy-letter in Virginia, addressed to a hawking house in Baltimore. It contained worthless bank bills and a marked quarter of a dollar. The Agent on Saturday last traced the possession of the coin to Harry Waightman, a clerk in the Washington post office, who says he received it in change. He has hitherto sustained an irreproachable character. He was held to bail.

HENRY C. BAIRD has recovered a verdict of $2065 against the Philadelphia Insurance Company, on a policy against losses by fire on books "in the bindery of J. E. Ducomb, in the third and fourth stories of Hart's building." The company refused to pay because the books were in the fourth and fifth stories. Judge Lewis ruled that if the risk was not increased by the actual position of the bindery so that a higher rate of premium would have been charged, the plff. could recover, and the jury so found.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less coal, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other stoves being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c., for sale cheap for Cash. Store on

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any Stove of this kind marketed as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The fires are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted for the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Reverse Magic Light, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shades, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

SHIPS' APPRENTICES.

SCARCITY OF SEAMEN AT NEW YORK.—A great number of ships for California and Australia, together with a great demand for the Navy, have risen seamen's wages at New York to $20 per month.

SEAMEN.—A great scarcity of seamen is felt at New York at the present time. Some of the packet ships for Liverpool have been detained for want of sailors, and very high rates of wages are paid. The scarcity is mostly attributed to the increased demand for them in the California trade; the ships engaged in that business, from their heavy tonnage, requiring a larger number of men to work them than in any other service.

Congress might do much towards keeping up the supply of American seamen, by requiring vessels to take apprentices, according to their tonnage. On our line of seacoast, there are many thousands of idle and vagrant boys, who might be saved from becoming pests to the community, by being placed on board ship, where all could become able seamen, and many officers, and most valuable citizens. At present, ship-masters in general are averse to taking boys; but we have heard many of them express the opinion, that a law compelling the employment of a certain complement of apprentices, would be highly beneficial to our commercial marine, and also to the community, by reducing the number of those who would otherwise become nuisances through idleness.—Salem Register.

UNDERVALUING FOREIGN LUMBER.—Mr. Ketchum the collector of Buffalo, N. Y., recently followed 73,000 feet of Canada lumber, from Oswego, where it had been entered, to Troy, and seized it for undervaluation. There has been much complaint, because lumber could not be entered so favorably at the port of Buffalo as at Oswego, to the injury of the lumber trade of the former, but the collector would not submit to a fradulent valuation, and took this mode of testing the correctness of the valuation at Oswego. A verdict was returned in favor of the United States. The above decision makes the important rule that goods imported at an under valuation, are liable to forfeiture, whenever afterwards they may be found.—Boston Courier.

LARGE LIQUOR SEIZURE.—On Saturday forenoon, at Bangor, Marshal Farnham, furnished with a precept, visited the schooner Eclipse from Boston, discharging at Ricker & Jewett's wharf, and took possession of sixteen barrels of American liquors, rum, gin and brandy, and two quarter pipes of excellent Pelevoisin brandy, bearing the Custom House brand of F. Webster, Boston. Some of the barrels were directed on the cards appended to town agents. The good liquor had small labels "Frankfort" upon them. The cheap liquor was stored in the watch-house, and the good in the Marshal's office.

THE OUTRAGE IN STAUNTON.—The reader will recollect the particulars of a brutal outrage by four Irishmen, in Augusta county, some time since, upon the person of a young lady who was on her way with her betrothed to the marriage altar. The principal offender was tried last week, at Staunton, found guilty, and sentenced to forty years confinement in the penitentiary. The accessories in the horrid crime are to be tried separately. The young lady was subsequently married to the young man who was in company with her at the time of the attack, and they now live together as man and wife.—Fredericksburg, (Va.) Herald.

A PRESENT.—A few nights since, Tiger Ensign Company 6, of Dorchester, was presented by Wm. B. Callender, Jr., Esq. with the skin of a hunting tiger, of Africa. It is valued at $100, and will be placed in the hall of the Tigers.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE SESSION.—Hotel keepers, boarding house keepers, gambling house keepers, and all sorts of keepers, are making extensive arrangements in Washington for the coming session. It is the short and merry one.—N. Y. Herald.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—The First Baptist Church, which was burnt at Chicago, caught fire from a spark that fell from a pipe which a laborer was smoking. The building was entirely destroyed, leaving nothing save the naked wall standing. Several persons came near losing their lives by the falling timbers. The Church was one of the best in the city, cost $8,009 or $9,000, and was uninsured. Rather an expensive smoke for a day laborer! and the roof of a Church, amidst shingles and shavings of pine, an unsafe place for a man to regale himself with a pipe. But so long as men will stimulate with alcohol or tobacco there will be the attendant loss of property, health, friends and reputation.—Western Evangelist, Detroit, Mich.

AMBITIOUS DESIGNS OF NATIONS.—England is now seeking to annex Burmah; Russia, the Moldavian provinces; France, more of northern Africa; the United States, either Cuba or the northern part of Mexico; and Prussia, a slice from Switzerland. Men with their millions do not hesitate to cheat their boot-black out of a sixpence. Why should nations, governed by men, neglect the acquisition of more territory?—N. Y. Herald.

A NEST OF SCOUNDRELS CAUGHT AND CAGED.—In Philadelphia the police have arrested J. H. Viner and S. Huser, for a series of forgeries upon various banks, principally in New York, Boston, Louisville, and Memphis, since April, 1850, amounting to $11,500, of which $7000 were on banks in Philadelphia.

Forrest S. Sturdivant and Joseph Brown are said to be implicated in the same forgeries, and are imprisoned in Boston. Viner and his companion have been committed by the Mayor in default of $10,000 bail being procured for each.

NICKNAMES.—The slang language of the day is rather a stumbling block to foreigners. The Revue des Deux Mondes translates the soubriquet which has been disrespectfully applied to General Scott, "Fuss and Feathers," by "l'homme au grand fracas et aux grands plumets." The same journal some years since translated "Rough and Ready," by "l'homme brusque et prompt."—Boston Daily Advertiser.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1852.

HOW THE MORMONS LIVE.

The Milwaukie News has the following interesting letter from a young gentleman of that place, travelling overland to California. The letter is addressed to the writer's mother, now living in Milwaukie, and gives a clear view of some domestic matters.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 26, 1852.

I arrived here before a grand jubilee of the Mormons. They were celebrating the anniversary of the arrival of the pioneers who first planted their colony, and I believe, first discovered the valley. The procession was magnificent. I will give it to you as I saw it: Marshal of the day presiding, followed by flags, band, and a large painting exhibiting the pioneers of 1848, crossing the upper ferry of Platt River. Pioneers then followed—Pen and scribe (every sermon is taken down in short hand, and inscribed in the Big Book,)—men with the different implements and tools, of almost every art and profession in the world; forty old men and flag; forty old women, representing Mothers in Israel, their flags being inscribed with—"Our Children are our Hope; twenty-four young men with their banner—motto, "Union and Liberty;" twenty-four boys; twenty-four girls; band, soldiers, and eighteen bishops, bringing up the rear. I am quite confident there were seven thousand persons present; and taken altogether, it was a sight well worth seeing, ont amidst these hills. In the evening, balls and parties prevailed all over the city.

Yesterday, Orson Pratt, one of their Apostles, gave us quite a sensible sermon. Brigham Young is the Prophet, Seer, Revelator, and head of the Church. He is assisted by two Councillors, twelve Apostles, and eighteen Bishops. The Prophet (and under Whig rule,) the Governor, was present with some of his wives, who came and went in a large, elegant open carriage. He has living with him in the city, in one house, sixteen wives and thirty children. Each wife, with her progeny, lives in her separate furnished apartment, and spins, sews, weaves, &c., &c. All this is true; I went over the premises with a view to entertain you for an hour, and I believe saw pretty much everything.

The person I board with has two wives.—Dr. Richards, a councillor, has six, and all of them good-looking, healthy women. Thus, you see, polygamy is openly allowed and supported by these Mormons. A man, having a right to as many wives as he can find and support, takes a fancy, goes to justice and swears he is able to support her, and the marriage comes off with due ceremony—and so it goes on, as he grows richer, without limit.

A Mormon moving into the Valley, gives one-tenth of his property to the church, and one-tenth of his productive industry, yearly, whatever it may be.

The city contains a population of six thousand souls, and, in the whole valley, there are probably fifteen thousand, which will be largely increased this season.

There are warm and hot springs here the last at boiling heat. Salt is manufactured from the Lake water, which yields one bowl of salt from three of water. There are also mines of coal and iron. Lumber is scarce—$50 per M. The city is watered by more than one hundred streams, brought from the neighboring mountains, of the purest water.

This country is certainly as beautiful and fertile as any I ever saw. They raise all we do in Wisconsin and in far greater proportion. Vegetables are peculiarly excellent, and after the hard bread and bacon of the plains, taste very well, I assure you.

The Mormons I find quite kind and obliging. Brigham Young is a fine looking man, resembling Judge H. His wives are mostly pretty, and the little legitimates, whom the people here call young prophets, are all good looking and well dressed.

Polygamy is as clearly a domestic institution in Utah as slavery is in South Carolina And superstition in the former, appears to be as much of a finality there, as one branch of the famous compromise is elsewhere. All sorts of usages nestle and hatch in this "great country."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—The Postmaster General is making his arrangements for the transmission of the President's annual message, in order that through the Postmasters of the principal cities it may be delivered to the editors immediately after the reading has commenced in the halls of Congress.

THANKSGIVING.—This day is Thanksgiving in sixteen States, and among them are Maine and Massachusetts, one on each side of us.

LOSS OF DEDICATION DINNER, &c.—A gentleman writing from Sudbury, Mass., date of Nov. 23, 7 A. M., says:

The dedication of the Wadsworth Monument in this town to-day, has met with a serious hindrance. The fall of snow this morning has been sufficient to prostrate to the ground the large tent of Mr. John Wright, of Boston, erected for the occasion. The dinner must prove an entire failure on this account. We understand tables were spread for fifteen hundred persons, and yesterday men were engaged in cooking meats, &c., on a large scale.

The monument was originally erected in 1730, by President Wadsworth, of Harvard College, to commemorate the memory of Captain Samuel Wadsworth, and other officers and soldiers in the service of the colony, who were slain in the defence of the town against the Indians, April 18, 1676. The monument was erected on the spot where they fell. The remains of the brave men—twenty-nine in number—whose gallantry it commemorates, were found in a remarkable state of preservation.

CIDER MAKING.

The other day we published an item about shipping apples to California. Our namesake, the Boston Chronicle, publishes the same thing, and adds:

"Our farmers will have to send their apples to California, and run all the chances of a safe arrival, now that they are forbidden to manufacture cider. Pack apples as well as you please, in charcoal or other material, it is an enormous risk to run to ship them to California. The passage through the tropics generally affects them in such a manner as to cause them to rot very rapidly. But this is now the only outlet for the surplus crop of Massachusetts."

Well done—this is news, that the California apple market is the only outlet for the surplus of the orchards of Massachusetts! Having had a pretty large experience in raising and barrelling apples, and some in shipping them and manufacturing cider and vinegar—we can say very safely, that not one apple which now goes round Cape Horn would ever be made into cider if it staid at home; and the same thing is true of the large quantities which go across the Atlantic. We can also say that if all the cider made or likely to be made in New England were made into vinegar, every gallon of it would sell readily. Cider making as a branch of farming, is now regarded as a small business in all this region—and so far as our knowledge extends, not one orchard for cider has been set out in Rockingham County for twenty years, for the reason chiefly that it will not pay. A few refuse apples, however, do and will continue to be ground up for cider, and a small quantity of it will be drank and used in cooking, law or no law.

MYSTERIOUS.—Coroner Day, of Worcester, commenced an inquest over the bodies of the three men who were smothered by the fire in the Worcester County prison. The testimony went to show that the fire commenced in the air box of the furnace; but how it originated seems to be a mystery, as no defect was known to exist in the construction of the air box. The investigation was not concluded when the jury adjourned.

If mysterious fires get into wooden air boxes, the remedy is to make them of zinc or iron.

The Alta California states that a contract has been completed by the State authorities, with F. Vassault, formerly of New Bedford, and other parties, for building a State Prison, for the sum of one million and thirty-four thousand dollars, in seven per cent. bonds.—The building is to be 400 by 500 feet.

These are big figures for such a building.—Possibly there may be some mistake about them, as the building would hold a very large population.

The New York Times says that the Whig party "was never in easier circumstances than it is at present."

That's so! Little to "see to" and no danger of it's spoil-ing at present.—Clinton Courant.

The N. Y. Tribune persists in styling the Whig party "the late Whig party."

THE SPOILS.—Nine candidates are already in the field for the Dover Post Office, and twenty-five for the Collectorship, and more preparing to start. It is stated that there are eight applicants for the Great Falls P. O., and about a dozen for that at Nashua.—Dover Enquirer.

FLORIDA.—The official majority in Florida for Maxwell, Dem., for Congress, is 22—47 ballots cast for him having been rejected for informality.

FROM THE CANARY ISLANDS.—The dry season had been severe, injuring the crops to a great extent. The drought had been severely felt by the inhabitants, there being a scarcity of water occasioned by it.

GOLD IN CANADA.—A letter from Toronto states that gold has been found at Rennsta, a few miles south of Owen's Sound. At the last accounts 150 men were working the mines, and many others were preparing to leave Owen Sound for the diggings.

ST. DOMINGO.—The N. O. Picayune asserts that the St. Domingo colonization movement is still on foot in this country, and active; that vessels are clearing from several Atlantic ports for St. Domingo; and that by late arrivals reports are received that extensive preparations are being made there for the reception of several hundred men from the United States.

CLAIMS ON PORTUGAL.—The Washington Republic publishes a notice to claimants under the Convention with Portugal, that the second instalment is now ready for distribution.

A WELL KNOWN BOSTONIAN, DROWNED.—On Monday evening, about 6 o'clock, as Col. Amasa G. Smith, a military and business man, was sitting inclined against a railing of the Lowell Railroad Bridge, Boston, waiting for vessels to pass through the draw, he unfortunately lost his balance, and being near the edge of the bridge, fell into the water and was drowned. Every means was resorted to, to save his life, but with no success. He was on his way to his residence in Somerville, and had been in the habit, by permission, of crossing the bridge. His body has not been recovered. He leaves a family.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER.—A daring attempt at murder was made at Hindsale, N. H., on Friday evening last. Pliny Smith, a farmer of some wealth, was in his barn, foddering his cattle, when he was shot through the barn window, the charge taking effect in the side of his head. Mr. Smith crawled to the house, and will probably survive. While he was down his pocket-book and money were stolen from him.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE CONCERT LAST EVENING at the Cameneum, by Mr. Moses, was fully and fashionably attended, and the audience were highly delighted with the performances. Mr. and Miss Wheelock, with the assistance of Mr. Moses and the other performers of last evening, will give a Concert at the same place this evening, with a new programme.

SAILED.—The splendid clipper-built ship "Red Rover" Capt. Wm. O. Putnam, which was launched by Messrs. Fernald & Pettigrew on the 27th ult., sailed from this port last evening about 6 o'clock, for New York—thence for China. She is about 1100 tons burthen, and another standing (or rather swiftly moving) monument to the fame of her already celebrated builders. A stiff nor'wester took her down the river and out of the harbor in grand style. Good luck to her where'er she goes!

NAVY COMMISSIONERS—A CORRECTION.—In correcting an error about the place of repair for the Franklin, the other day, we committed the singular inadvertency, of putting the ship and yard under the orders of the board of Navy Commissioners, which exists only in history. We were aware of the existence of the several Naval Bureaus, but supposed that all this valuable furniture was gathered together in some Chamber where the Navy Commissioners lodged. But as the several Bureaus take all the powers and duties of the former Commissioners' Board, the latter was abolished when the former were created—about ten years ago.

N. H. General Court—Nov. Session, 1852.

TUESDAY, Nov. 23.

In the Senate, the vote of 79 towns on the liquor bill was reported; majority against the bill 1455.

A resolution from the House in relation to Presidential Electors was read twice.

In the House, among the petitions presented and referred, was one by Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth, of the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council of the city of Portsmouth, for the removal of the Justice of the Police Court.

A resolution was read three times and passed unanimously, to suspend the operation of part of the law prescribing the duties of Electors of President. The design of this measure is to remove the legal obstacles which would prevent the legislature from going to Boston on the 30th, to attend the obsequies of Hon. Daniel Webster]

Portrait of Hon. Levi Woodbury.

Mr. Chase of Conway asked and received leave to present a joint resolution for a committee to consider the propriety of procuring a full length portrait of the late Hon. Levi Woodbury, to be placed in the Hall of the House of Representatives. The resolution was unanimously passed.

ABDUCTION OF A WOMAN AND CHILDREN. There was considerable excitement at Harper's Ferry on the 19th inst. on account of the abduction of a colored woman and two children. It is supposed that they were induced to run away by a white man in the town. The woman is about twenty eight years old, and the children four and six years of age. There is great interest manifested for their recovery.

Rutland, in Vermont, says the Troy Post, is getting to be a great place. It has not only four railroads, but it has turned out a million dollars worth of marble the year past.

GREAT NAMES.—The celebrated John Smith was before the Boston Police Court, Friday forenoon, charged with an assault on John Wesley. Smith was fined $5 and costs.

Mr. Hugh Johnson, of Belfast, Me., fell down stairs a few nights since, in a state of inebriation, and broke his neck. He was found dead next morning on the sidewalk, having fallen through an open doorway leading into the street.

At an Irish merry-making in Nashua, N. H. on Thanksgiving night, Daniel Roake bit off the nose of John Early. The biter was bound over in $100 to appear for trial.

Lord Nelson's funeral in 1809, cost about seventy-thousand dollars; William Pitt's thirty thousand. The Duke of Wellington's will probably cost as much as both together.

PARRICIDE—A young girl named Adaline Phelps, of Northfield, has been arrested and committed for trial, on a charge of poisoning her father by putting mercury or arsenic into his milk.

Some eight or ten inches of snow fell in Rochester, Syracuse, Auburn, and Little Falls, on Saturday week. The sleighs were out.

A young man named John Tracey had some difficulty with the brakeman on the New Haven Railroad in New York, when he was pushed out of the cars, run over, and so much injured that he cannot recover.

☞ Rev. Samuel C. Bartlett, late Professor in the Western Reserve College, has been installed pastor of Franklin Street Church, in Manchester, N. H.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been translated into German, and published in Leipsic with an introduction by Elihu Burritt. It is published in thirty numbers, with forty illustrations. It is highly praised in the German papers.

COURT MARTIAL.—A Naval Court Martial has recently been held at the Memphis Navy Yard, for the trial of Commander Nicholson, Surgeon Woodward, and Lieut. Noland.—The two first named officers were tried on charges made by Lieut. N. The trial against the Commander has not been concluded. The charges against Surgeon Woodward have been dismissed.

The excess of females over males in England, is 400,000; in Scotland, 150,000; and in Ireland, 120,000.

CUBAN AFFAIRS.

LIEUT. DAVENPORT CENSURED.—Washington, Nov. 23.—Passed Midshipman Davenport, for his recent course of conduct at Havana, has been severely censured by the government. He has been removed from the Crescent City and ordered to the Vincennes, now fitting for a three years' cruise in the Pacific.

A special meeting of the Cabinet was held this afternoon on the Crescent City affair, but more probably respecting the President's Message.

THE PURCHASE OF CUBA.—The National Intelligencer publishes a correspondence between James Buchanan, when in President Polk's Cabinet, and Romulus M. Saunders, then Minister to Spain, authorizing the latter, on behalf of the President, to offer Spain $100,000,000 for the purchase of Cuba—which offer appears to have been promptly declined.

IMPORTATION OF SLAVES INTO CUBA.—Havana letter writers state that recently, two, and probably several, cargoes of slaves have been landed in Cuba. On one of them, it is stated that the Captain General received a bribe of $17,000.

THE RECENT SLAVE CASE.—Gov. Johnson, of Virginia, has called the attention of the Legislature to the recent slave case in New York. He does not recommend any specific legislation, but says when he obtains a certified copy of the proceedings in the case, he will make it the subject of a communication.

THE LATE SLAVE CASE.—The Richmond Whig states that Mr. Ashmead, Clerk of the steamship Richmond, has been removed from that vessel for practising deception toward Mr. Lemmon, the owner of the slaves recently set free in New York.

The Richmond Despatch recommends to the Legislature to make reprisals on New Yorkers until the statute of the State by which slaves brought into it voluntarily by their owners are freed, is repealed.

OFFICIAL VOTE OF NEW JERSEY.—The official vote of New Jersey stands, Pierce 44,293; Scott 38,540; Hale 259; Broom 813.

FROM MEXICO.—The New Orleans Picayune has received letters from the City of Mexico, which state that Arista has demanded to head the troops himself against the revolutionists. Gen. Uraga, who has joined the latter, asserts that should they prove successful in the overthrow of the Government he will accept no public office as a reward. The French Minister at Mexico has received his letters of recall. The Tehuantepec Commission has it appears finally left its proposals to the decision of the Government.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

Steamer America arrived at Halifax on Tuesday, and the telegraphic news came round to Boston by way of Quebec. The Liverpool dates are to the 13th.

The Cotton markets are unsettled and dull, with a declining tendency. Since the Asia's departure all qualities have declined 1-4 a 5-16ths, and there are now more sellers than buyers.

Wheat has advanced 1d. Flour 6d. White Corn is worth 33s 9d; yellow do 33s.

The Liverpool Provision Market is unchanged, and a limited business doing at previous rates. Lard of all qualities has considerably declined, and is quoted at 63s.

The session of the English Parliament commenced on the 11th inst. The speech from the throne was read by the Queen in person, and extended to over one thousand words.

She says that frequent and well founded complaints on the part of the North American colonies of infraction by the citizens of the United States of the fishing convention of 1818, induced me to despatch, for the protection of their interests, a class of vessels better adapted to the service than those which have been previously employed. This step led to a discussion with the government of the United States, and while the rights of my subjects have been firmly maintained, the friendly spirit with which the question has been treated, induces me to hope that the result may be a mutual and beneficial extension and improvement of our common intercourse with that great republic.

From the zealous efforts of Brazil for the suppression of the slave trade, stringent measures on the part of England have been suspended, and it is hoped that a recurrence to them will be unnecessary.

In France the Empire is formally announced, agreeably to the programme, Louis Napoleon takes the title of Napoleon III.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—It is estimated that upwards of 100 lives were lost by the gale last week, on the north east coast of England.

Dakin & Co. the celebrated tea dealers No. 1 St. Paul's Churchyard, London, have let their premises, on the occasion of the Duke's funeral for £1000. Other shopkeepers in the neighborhood have let single seats for £6 and £7. One tradesman has disposed of his drawing room window, for the day, at a price of sixty guineas.

The small-pox continues to rage at Corfu with great virulence, and is rather on the increase. From the 14th to the 20th, the number of new cases was 271, and of deaths 41. This disease has also made its appearance at Paxo and Cephalonia.

FATAL ROPE DANCING.—A dreadful accident occurred on Sunday afternoon, at the Arcues Nationales. A rope on which two rope dancers were performing, at a height of thirty yards, suddenly broke, and they were both precipitated to the ground; one was killed on the spot, and the other was so dreadfully injured that he died an hour after. The performances were stopped, and the public, who seemed greatly moved, left the place.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE.
FOR COAL OR WOOD.
THE attention of all in want of a COOK STOVE is respectfully solicited to a consideration of the merits of this most beautifully modeled pattern; equally adapted for coal or wood, and warranted to operate successfully with either,—which is now offered to the public as the
Most Complete and Efficient
Cooking apparatus ever before introduced in this vicinity. It is an elegant model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. The oven, (by far the most important part of a cooking stove,) in point of capacity, and in regard to its operation, is unsurpassed by that of any other stove now in the market, it being lined with fire-brick to retain and equalize the heat, and provided with valves for the escape of steam, &c. arising from the roasting of meats—rendering it by far superior to the old fashioned but universally admired Tin Kitchen.
The broiling apparatus is constructed on an entirely new and original plan, and will not fail to recommend itself at the first glance, as no smoke or gas arising from that culinary process can escape into the room. The sliding hearth is an improvement not to be found in any other stove.
The popularity of this over all other stoves now in the market, may be inferred from the fact that since its first introduction the last season, over THREE THOUSAND have been put into successful operation in New England and New York City.
Every stove is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction to the purchaser or the money refunded.
Each stove is warranted not to crack for twelve months from date of purchase. It is believed that this stove combines all the improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth. And though its price is higher than any other stove offered in this market of late, it is without question the cheapest in the end. All intending to purchase are respectfully invited to give this an examination before purchasing elsewhere.
Also, a variety of cheap Cook, Parlor, and Office Stoves, which are offered low.

How to "Finish" a Daughter.—For the attainment of this end, Punch gives the following directions:

1. Be always telling her how pretty she is.
2. Instil into her mind a proper love for dress.
3. Accustom her to so much pleasure that she is never happy at home.
4. Allow her to read nothing but novels.
5. Teach her all the accomplishments, but none of the utilities of life.
6. Keep her in the darkest ignorance of the mysteries of housekeeping.
7. Initiate her into the principle that it is vulgar to do anything for herself.
8. To strengthen the latter belief let her have a ladies' maid.
9. And lastly, having given her such an education, marry her to a clerk in the Treasury upon £75 a year, or to an ensign that is going out to India.

If, with the above careful training your daughter is not finished, you may be sure it is no fault of yours, and you must look upon her escape as nothing short of a miracle.

Fire.—In Cincinnati, Nov. 21, Geo. W. Shillito's candle manufactory with several adjoining buildings were destroyed by fire. Loss $75,000 including Mr. Shillito's amounting to $55,000, of which only $35,000 was insured.

A Pretty Idea.—"Lost, yesterday, somewhere between sun-rise and set-set, two golden hours, each set with sixty diamond minutes. No reward is offered, for they are gone forever."

Why was Samson the greatest actor that ever appeared on any stage? Because he "brought down the house" when the audience was composed entirely of his enemies.

Said a young man indignantly, when addressed as a boy—"Don't call me boy; I've chewed tobacco and drank whiskey these three years!"

If Franklin tamed the lightning, as has been said, Professor Morse taught it the English language.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as
in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.
These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.
Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make it more complete and more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STOVE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.
This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.
We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the Station," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Pearls," &c., which we will sell for PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

From the New Orleans Delta.

AN HOUR WITH BILLY BOWLEGS,
THE SEMINOLE CHIEF.

Editors Delta:—I was in Tampa Bay when Billy arrived from his Northern tour, and being desirous of knowing how he was pleased, I invited him to call on me the next morning. At the appointed time Billy arrived at my office, and after giving him something to drink—which, if you should happen to omit, you would be very sure to incur the displeasure of Billy—I asked him to describe his trip to me; and he commenced:

"Well," said Billy, "in our trip from Fort Meyers to Savannah I saw nothing but what I had been accustomed to see every day, and I began to doubt if all the tales I had heard about the great cities were true, but when I arrived at Savannah I thought to myself that the white people were not such great liars, after all; and when I got to Charleston and other cities, as I proceeded, I found out that I had not been told half.

"I like the steamboats," said Billy, "when they go on smooth water; but when they go on the big water they make me feel bad. And the railroads, how fast they go—you can't see the trees hardly; but I think I had a pony before the war that could run with them. Oh, yes! the railroads run fast; but I think my pony could beat them.

"When I got to Washington I saw the Great Father. I had always understood that he was an old man, and I was surprised to see him look so young. The Great Father has white hair, but his cheeks are round, like mine; I think he is about the age of myself. I told the Great Father that I came there for justice, and I didn't want him to suppose that I came there to beg. I told him he was a great man, and I was a great warrior. Oh, yes! I saw the Great Father, in the White House. I told him that no one would scare me from Florida; if I wanted to go, I would; if I did not, I would not.

"I saw plenty of squaws. They all looked very pretty, but they all looked alike. I went to New York. ——What a big place! So many people and wagons."

"Any children, Billy?" asked I.

"——don't talk; there is nothing but children. I like Washington better than New York; in Washington there is plenty of room to walk; in New York the road is full of people, just like grass. The Great Father and every body gave me presents, but I could not bring half."

After he had finished about the journey, he said—

"I told the Great Father I would see my people, and leave next spring. I told him I wanted to stay in Florida this winter."

He dislikes any one to question him about the number of warriors in his tribe. Some asked,—

"Billy how many have you in your tribe?" He immediately answered—

"Myself, five more, and old Abraham," (the negro interpreter)—meaning the delegation.

When it was time for him to leave, he shook hands, and said—"You must give me another drink." As Billy never lets an occasion to imbibe pass, we were obliged to "pour out."—After visiting some more of his friends, Billy became so unmanageable that Gen. Blake thought it best to send him down to Fort Meyers. Just as he was embarking, a crowd gathered round to see him. Some one said—"The Cow-boys will be after you, Billy, if you don't move soon" "——the Cow-boys," said Billy; "one of my men can whip a dozen of them!"

Billy is very abusive when intoxicated, and cursed every one who happened to be in his way. He was sitting down when the boat left, when some one asked him to give the war whoop; he jumped up, and gave some of the loudest yells I have ever heard from an Indian. Billy Bowlegs is about five feet eight inches in height, rather stout, and has an expression one never forgets.

He is said to be possessed of more cunning than any other Seminole Chief that ever lived. General Twiggs tried several times to entrap him, but always failed. It is my opinion he will never leave Florida untill driven out by an army. I am certain he will not go next spring. Yours, M.

THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD.—The following extract from a letter in the Maysville, Ky. Eagle shows that the slaveholders have good reason to fear that Kentucky will shortly become a free State, for the reason that their slaves escape.

"I understand a mass meeting, consisting of the slaveholders of the counties of Mason and Bracken, are to meet at Minerva, on the 16th inst., to take some steps for the further protection of slavery in the two counties. I cheerfully concur in the propriety of the proposed meeting, and trust you will urge, through your paper, a general attendance.

"Reports from through Ohio, thence to Canada, in part of fugitives, has enabled me to collect such information as is calculated to excite our alarm for the safety of our slaves, and for the great importance of some well matured and disciplined code of procedure in pursuing and arresting them. During a part of the week, I remained in Sandusky, upwards of thirty fugitives crossed the Lake.—On my way to Malden, the captain of the Arrow, running from Sandusky to Detroit, told me that in the last two months over two hundred had crossed from the State of Kenecuky alone. I have just received a letter from Mr. Scroupe, upon the border of the Lake, who states that the number crossing is nightly increasing, and on Monday night last, eighteen crossed at a single trip. The same week forty odd crossed at Cleaveland.

"Take the losses of the counties of Mason, Bracken, Pendleton and Boone, amounting to some seventy odd slaves, and you will readily perceive, giving a fair allowance from other counties, what an immense loss the State has sustained within the last two months. Out of the seventy odd slaves from the above counties, I believe only three have been taken in the State of Ohio.

PORTSMOUTH:
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1852.

THE CHRISTIAN SOCIETY.

Not many weeks ago, the editors of our American papers were making themselves merry with the blunders of a French writer, respecting our religious sects in this country, their statistics and their doctrines.

Now we perceive a case of misstatement, hardly less obvious, in one of the most accurate of our papers, the Boston Journal.

The Christian Society in Summer street, Boston, have sold their meeting house, to build elsewhere. [And by the way this was announced as a sale by a Baptist Society.]—Their minister, Elder Edmands, preached on the occasion of leaving the old house, and a reporter sketches the sermon for the columns of the Boston Journal. In statistical matters the report succeeds pretty well. That denomination commenced operations about 1800, and Elder Abner Jones began to preach in Boston about 1804. In regard to doctrines, we will let the report speak for itself.

"The Christians have no written creed; their belief approaches to orthodoxy in respect to a future state of reward and punishment, and regeneration; they believe in the atonement, the divinity of Christ, and in baptism, and they hold to the union of Christians of the various denominations."

If any one should form his notions of that church from this summary, he would be misled. The Christian Society are Unitarian in their views of "the divinity of Christ,"—and their belief in regard "to a future state of punishment" differs from "orthodoxy," inasmuch as they believe in the absolute destruction of the wicked, and not in an endless state of woe.

THE RELIGIOUS TEST.—The Concord, N. H., correspondent of the N. Y. Herald writes, "Some of democratic newspapers here propose that the Legislature, at the present session, shall order the assembling of a new convention to consider this subject exclusively, and blot it from the constitution if possible. As a two-thirds vote of the people is requisite to ratify the action of the convention, it is proposed that the vote shall be taken and recorded by the yea and nay of each voter. Under the plan now proposed, which will doubtless be adopted, we shall be enabled to see who is who."

This, if true, is a new kind of democracy.—The old stand-up-law of Connecticut, was so odious to the people there, that it contributed to defeat and destroy the federal party there, many years ago. Yet that was far less odious than this yea and nay vote would be. The coalition in Massachusetts, composed of free-soilers and democrats, passed a law requiring secret or sealed ballots, to the end that the voter might not be known and marked. Here it is now proposed to make him vote yea or nay, that he may be known and marked. But these are days of progress.

There is another singularity in the above extract. Our Legislature cannot order a Convention as proposed. They can call for the sense of the people to be taken on the question: Is it expedient to call a convention?—and indeed are bound to it once in seven years. They have power to put this latter question any and every year, if they please. But they have no power to call Conventions.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE ALMS HOUSES.—The Commissioners under the pauper establishment act of the Massachusetts Legislature, have advertised that sealed proposals will be received from Monday Nov. 29th to Thursday Dec. 9th, for building the three State almshouses and barns authorized by that act. Each house is to accommodate five hundred inmates. One of them is to be located in the town of Monson, at the Palmer station, on the Western Railroad; one in Bridgewater, at the Titicut Station, on the Fall River Railroad; and one in the town of Tewksbury, at the Junction of the Salem & Lowell and Lowell & Lawrence Railroads.

The New York Day Book proposes that $330 surplus of the fund raised in New York, should be given to the poor blacks who have been robbed of a good home and kind protectors. They will need it all.

This is decidedly cool. These same "protectors" a week ago could not protect themselves, because they had lost all their property—now the property needs protection because it has got at liberty.

Two men were arraigned before the Police Court in Newburyport on Wednesday morning, on the charge of stealing a turkey from the cart of a countryman. They were found guilty and fined $4.50 each, which they paid. Probably the gentlemen never paid so high a price for poultry before.

NAVAL.—Dr. Jonathan Cowdry, the oldest surgeon in the United States Navy, died at Portsmouth, Va., on Saturday, of apoplexy.

The U. S. ship Pennsylvania, Commander Saunders, saluted on Saturday, the broad pennant of Commodore M. C. Perry, which was returned by the Mississippi, at Ports nouth, Va.

N. H. General Court—Nov. Session, 1852.

(Abridged from the Patriot.)

WEDNESDAY Nov. 24.

Senate.—The Resolution from the House, changing the day for counting votes for Presidential Electors, was read a third time and passed.

House.—Petitions were presented and referred, by Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth, of J. M. Tredick and others, merchants of Portsmouth, for alteration of the statutes concerning pilotage.

By Mr. Bartlett of Portsmouth, of Elijah Munroe and others, for amendment of the law so as to give $2 per week for the support of prisoners in jails, instead of $1.50 as at present.

Petitions were also presented by two or three persons, severally, for liberty to erect a Hotel on the Summit of Mount Washington.

Mr. Bartlett of Portsmouth, gave notice that, on a future day, he would ask leave to introduce a bill in relation to the Portsmouth & Concord railroad.

Liabilities of Corporations.

Mr. Flanders of Manchester, moved the following:

Resolved, That the committee on the Judiciary be instructed to report a bill repealing the several statutes in this State imposing personal liability upon members of manufacturing and railroad corporations.

The indefinite postponement of the resolution was moved, but withdrawn.

After some observations by Mr. Bartlett of Portsmouth, in favor of delaying to take action on the resolution at this time, on motion of Mr. Chase of Conway, the resolution was laid on the table.

Bill introduced.

Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth, in terms of previous notice, presented a bill, entitled "An act relating to foreign insurance companies," which was ordered to a third reading and referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

Notice of a bill.

Mr. Knowlton of Hopkinton announced that he would ask leave to-morrow to present a bill providing for the taxing of Piano-fortes and other musical instruments, when their value exceeded $25.

Portrait of Daniel Webster.

Mr. Dodge of Nashua proposed the following resolution:—

Resolved, That the committee appointed to consider the propriety of procuring the portrait of the late Levi Woodbury, be instructed to consider the propriety of procuring a similar one, for the same purpose, of the late Daniel Webster.

Mr. Dodge made a very eloquent speech in favor of the resolution, and was followed by Mr. Eaton of New Ipswich, also in its support; after which the resolution was unanimously passed.

Invitation to Hon. John P. Hale.

Mr. Gale of Concord offered the following resolution:—

Resolved, That the select committee upon the resolutions relating to the death of Daniel Webster, and which has been instructed to invite Gen. Franklin Pierce to unite with the Legislature of this State in attending the funeral rites of Mr. Webster, to be celebrated at Boston on the 30th instant, be also instructed to extend a like invitation to the Hon. John P. Hale.

Mr. Weeks of Canaan moved that the resolution be laid upon the table, to which the House assented—only three having voted against the motion.

Codification of the Public Laws.

Mr. Metcalf of Newport, on the part of the Commissioners appointed to compile and codify the public laws, presented their report, which was read; and, on motion of Mr. Bartlett, of Portsmouth, was laid on the table, along with the accompanying documents.

An invitation was received (through the Governor) from the sons of New Hampshire in Boston, for the Senate and House to join with them as a distinct body in the Webster obsequies.

U. S. SENATOR.

Hon. Charles G. Atherton has been nominated by the Democratic Legislative caucus of New Hampshire for Senator in Congress for the next six years, to succeed Hon. John P. Hale. Mr. Atherton was Senator in Congress from this State from 1843 to 1849.

The vote in caucus was for Atherton 89; Wells of Exeter, 69; and 2 scattering.

P. S.—We are informed by a gentleman from Concord last evening, that Mr. Atherton was elected Senator yesterday. In the House the votes stood as follows:—

Necessary for a choice,	135
Ichabod Goodwin had	1
Moses A. Cartland	1
Joseph E. Bennett	1
Charles H. Peaslee	1
John P. Hale	4
J. S. Wells	4
John Preston	27
Ira Perly	81
Charles G. Atherton,	148

and was declared elected on the part of the House.

The Senate concurred in the choice.

ROBBING CLOTHES LINES.—The police of Charlestown, a night or two since visited the house of a suspected person, and found a large lot of stolen goods, most of them robbed from clothes lines. When the Marshal visited the house, the occupant was just entering the dwelling with a lot of wet clothes tied about him, and his coat and a clothes line in his hand.

The young girl who was so badly burned about ten days since, in Newburyport, died on Tuesday.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

City Council—Nov. 25.

In Board of Aldermen a petition was presented from Messrs. Grant and Mr. Sewall, for permission to introduce gas pipes into the Brick Market, at their own expense. Granted.

Several bills were passed for payment.

Thomas Tredick presented a bill against the City for boxes which, were taken from his premises and burnt at the late bonfire on Market Square. Referred to Committee on Claims.

The Mayor presented the Seal of the City, which is faithfully and neatly executed.

Capt. Towle presented the bill from the Artillery, for firing minute guns in honor of Hon. Daniel Webster. The amount was $55. Referred.

Sundry bills were presented for damages occasioned by firing salute, amounting to $57.97—which, with a report accompanying them, were referred to the Committee on Claims.

The Committee on Claims presented a report on the bill of the Police Justice, stating that the sum of $50 will be due him after he shall have paid over sundry monies now in his hands, agreeably to the City Charter.

The Committee on city lands and buildings reported that the city should build a fence parallel with the fence now standing on the easterly side of the Court House. Adopted. A minority report was rejected.

A petition was presented from several merchants, requesting the City Council to memorialize the Legislature to pass a bill authorizing the city to appoint commissioners to examine the qualifications of pilots, and regulate pilotage. Agreed to, and sent down for concurrence.

TWO CONCERTS.—It is seldom the citizens of Portsmouth have such artistic performances in their midst, as entertained them Wednesday and Thursday evenings, at the Cameneum. Mr. Moses is entitled to many thanks—as well as a more substantial reward—for his untiring efforts to gratify his fellow citizens. It is worth the price of at least one ticket, to spend an hour in such a perfect little concert hall as the Cameneum is under his supervision. The whole performances were uncommonly fine, and the parties engaged in them made a very favoraole impression upon their audiences at both concerts.

SHIP "FRANK PIERCE" sailed from this port yesterday morning, about 7 o'clock, for Mobile. She is from the yard of Messrs. Fernald & Pettigrew, of 1400 tons burthen, full built, and commanded by Capt. Daniel Marcy. The lady of the master, and Capt. Baker of the Marine Corps, with his family, are passengers. It was said the Frank Pierce and the Red Rover were both detained below by adverse winds, but at noon yesterday, the glass revealed nothing of either of them this side the Shoals. If this packet ship makes as successful a voyage as her distinguished namesake, we presume all concerned will be satisfied.

SMASH UP.—Yesterday, the locomotive on the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad's morning train down, was damaged about $50 by collision with the engine-house. The passenger cars are usually switched on to another track, and the engine goes into the engine-house with the freight. In this case the great weight of the freight overruled the engine, and despite its holding back, thrust it so far through the side of the building as to incapacitate it for further use till repaired, thus delaying the afternoon train several hours.

George Raynes, Esq. of this city, has contracted with Messrs. Oliphant' Sons, of New York, to build a California and Canton clipper of 800 tons, to be called the Stranger.

DOVER COLLECTOR.—The Dover Enquirer says that there are nine candidates in the field for the Dover Post Office, and twenty-five for the Collectorship of that port. Now when we reflect that the whole duty of the collector of the port of Dover, consists in his going to Portsmouth once every three months and drawing his fifty dollars, we don't exactly blame the cats for jumping at this kind of game. Run you coons, the cats are after you!—Gt. Falls Journal.

MAN MISSING.—Mr. John G. Abbott of Concord, left his home on Thursday the 18th inst., and has not since been heard from.—He is of sandy complexion, with reddish beard and whiskers growing about the chin; is over six feet high and 47 years old. He wore a blue coat, brown fur cap, pants striped black and white, gray fulled cloth vest, and thick boots. He had been insane for nearly six years, talking mostly on religious matters, and expressing a great desire to preach. Any information relating to him will be thankfully received by his afflicted family, and can be left at the Patriot office.

FIRE AT FRANKLIN.—On Wednesday the clapboard and shingle mill belonging to N. S. & A. G. Morrison, in Franklin, was destroyed by fire, which originated from a small stove, while the occupant was gone to dinner, and made such rapid progress that on the return of Mr. M. after an absence of about 20 minutes, no one could enter the mill; nor was it possible to save all the sawed lumber outside the mill. The loss of mill and lumber (the mill being considerably decayed by age) is about $300.—Concord Patriot.

LIQUOR LAW—MISAPPREHENSION.

The people of New Hampshire have treated with great neglect the proposition of their Legislature to take a vote on the adoption of a Maine liquor law. It was acted upon in only 79 towns, and the vote on it in them was small. In those towns 4627 votes were cast in favor of the bill, and 6032 against it. Majority against the bill, 1455.—Newburyport Herald.

This is a mistake. The Legislature made no such proposition. The Senate alone did—but the people having before numerously signed petitions for such a law, were inclined to let it pass unheeded, as having no authority. It was the Senate alone, too, which called for the Judges' decision in regard to the law—and they received only "opinions."

THE FIRST RIFLES.—The two new Rifle corps in the vicinity of Newburyport, have been organized into a Battalion, and placed under command of the senior captain until a Major shall have been chosen.

On Thanksgiving morning the Battalion paraded for the first time, completely equipped, and in fatigue uniform. They marched to church, attended divine service, and dined with their commander. Target practice concluded the day's duty.

MARRIAGES.

LATEST NEWS!

NEW YORK, NOV. 24.—Railroad Collision.—A despatch has been received in this city, stating that a collision took place between two engines on the Erie Railroad, between Tioga and Corning, by which an engineer and fireman was instantly killed.

John Jones of Boston, a seaman on board the ship "Broughton," for Liverpool, fell overboard on the 22d and was lost.

It is reported that the Crescent City will not leave again for Havana.

THE BRITISH FLEET AT HAVANA.—The presence of a powerful British fleet in the harbor of Havana, in he present somewhat uncertain relations of Cuba to the United States, naturally enough gives rise to surmise and speculation. The fleet is enumerated in a late Havana paper as follows:

Frigate Highflyer, mounting 20 guns, with Paixhans.

Sloop of war Dauntless, 22 guns, with Paixhans.

Frigate Vesta, (capacity not stated.)

Corvette Calypso, 7 guns.

Besides these vessels, the line of battle ship Cumberland was in the harbor—the only vessel belonging to the regular West India squadron.

MILITARY RIOT AT NEWPORT.—The Newport (R. I.) Daily News says, that there was a serious riot in that town on Friday night last, caused by some drunken soldiers from the United States garrison, at Fort Adams. The watch attempted to arrest the soldiers, but were violently resisted, and the authority of the sheriff was also disregarded. There were sixteen or eighteen soldiers in the affray, and one of them used a hatchet. They all escaped into the fort, but some of them were recognized, and measures will be taken to bring them to punishment.

"QUATTLEBUM."

The annual message of the Governor of South Carolina, alludes to the proceedings of the British Consul, relative to the imprisonment of blacks arriving in the ports of that State in British ships. Self respect, the governor says, demands that not a jot or tittle of the law should be abated. The present political calm relative to the rights of the South, he fears will not be of long duration, and hopes that the Southern States on the recurrence of further aggression, which he thinks will undoubtedly come, arise in their majesty and strength, and in conjunction with South Carolina, take their place in a Southern confederacy among the nations of the earth ! !

A collision took place between an omnibus and a hack on Washington street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon, whereupon the driver of the former vehicle made free use of his lash upon the back of the back driver, for which he was arrested, but the police being unable to learn the real cause of the trouble, and finding it to be partially the result of previous difficulties, released him.

Mr. Peter Cole, of Alleghany county, N. Y., was badly victimized in New York by the mock auction men and their confederates.—As usual in these places, a person wanted Mr. Cole to bid off a watch, stating that he had left his money at home, and after the sale, by going with the stranger to his hotel, he would make $10 for his trouble. Mr. C. bid off several watches at extravagantly high prices. A pretended friend of Mr. Cole also managed to swindle him out of $208 while showing him around the city.

ENGLISH GAME.—It is no uncommon thing for English game to be sold in the New York market. Some of it is brought out for the use of the English steamers, and the surplus sold on their arrival here. We heard of five pairs of English pheasants sold on Saturday for five dollars a pair, and English hares at $1.50 each. The pheasants are natives of Asia. They have a beautiful plumage, elegant forms, and delicate flesh, and are a choice bird with epicures. The English hare is no better than the American rabbit, and to the taste of many not so good. The animals are very like each other, except that the hare is said to be more sagacious. The rabbit has become a very common American food.

THE NEW "IRON DUKE."—The English papers state that the Marquis of Douro, who, by the death of his father, has just succeeded to the title of Duke of Wellington, is an old roue and toper, lacking both genius and talent. He drives away cruel by the highly interesting amusement of flogging his wife, and does not possess half as much morality as the law allows him.

The Rev. Andrew Quinn, a Roman Catholic Clergyman, is to take his trial at the next Sligo assizes, for flogging a young woman, towards whom, it appeared from the evidence adduced before the magistrates, he had conducted himself improperly. The young woman repelled his advances, and he resorted to the horsewhip.

Franklin Pierce is the youngest man who has ever been elected President of the United States. He is 48 years of age, Washington, John Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams and Van Buren, were each 58 ; Jackson, 62 ; Harrison, 68 ; Taylor, 66 ; Polk, 50.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE.
FOR COAL OR WOOD.
THE attention of all in want of a COOK STOVE is respectfully solicited to a consideration of the merits of this most beautifully modeled pattern; equally adapted for coal or wood, and warranted to operate successfully with either,—which is now offered to the public as the
Most Complete and Efficient
Cooking apparatus ever before introduced in this vicinity. It is an elegant model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. The oven, (by far the most important part of a cooking stove,) in point of capacity, and in regard to its operation, is unsurpassed by that of any other stove now in the market, it being lined with fire-brick to retain and equalize the heat, and provided with valves for the escape of steam, &c. arising from the roasting of meats—rendering it in this respect superior to the old fashioned but universally admired TinKitchen.
The broiling apparatus is constructed on an entirely new and original plan, and will not fail to recommend itself at the first glance, as no smoke or gas arising from that culinary process can escape into the room. The sliding hearth is an improvement not to be found in any other stove.
The popularity of this over all other stoves now in the market, may be inferred from the fact that since its first introduction the last season, over THREE THOUSAND have been put into successful operation in New England and New York City.
Every stove is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction to the purchaser or the money refunded.
Each stove is warranted not to crack for twelve months from date of purchase. It is believed that this stove combines all the improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever offered to Portsmouth. And though its price is higher than any other stove offered in this market of late, it is without question the cheapest in the end. All intending to purchase are respectfully invited to give this an examination before purchasing elsewhere.
Also, a variety of cheap Cook, Parlor, and Office Stoves, which are offered low.

ALLEGED BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT WITHDRAWN.—The suit for an allegedt breach of promise—a $6000 damage—brough by Emily Macomber, of the Macomber Singing Troupe, against Dodge, the Museum editor and vocalist, has been withdrawn by the fair one. This termination of the affair shuts down the gate, and stops the flood of romance, through which reporters, lovers, and those hoping to be loved, expected to swim in delight. But we are happy to learn the result, and suppose that Dodge is now "open to conviction."

A western farmer, being obliged to sell a yoke of oxen to pay his hired man, told him he could not keep him any longer.

"Why," said the man, "I'll stay and take some of your cows in place of money."

"But what shall I do," said the farmer, "when my cows and oxen are all gone?"

"Why, you can then work for me, and get them back."

A fair correspondent asks, what is the difference between seventeen and seventy? Because the former is careless and happy, and the other hairless and cap-py.

This seems to be a fac-simile of the sick-family joke.—To-Day.

A practical illustration of a man carrying the punishment for a sin along with him, is related of a fellow in Cincinnati, who lately ran away with two married women.

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING AND PARLOR INVOICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c., for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.
THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING

STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when broiling.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount or fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchanging their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Bunker," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shade, Table Oil cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

SALEM CITY MISSION.—STREET BEGGING, &c.

Mr. Ball, the city missionary of Salem, Mass., has published a very interesting annual report, from which we make the following extracts—applicable as well to this city and every other city in our land, as Salem. His expenditures, during the year, on the charitable objects of his mission, amounted to $1691 and some cents. The evil effects of indiscriminate charity to street beggars, is too well known and admitted, to require the following proofs of it, which Mr. Ball adduces:

Efforts are continually being made to put a stop to begging; but, so long as the kind hearted will give indiscriminately at their doors, so long will this evil exist. Often, the clothing and articles obtained in this way, are converted into means of intoxication.

That I may not be thought severe, I will state a few facts, which will prove that charity bestowed in this way is of doubtful benefit.

A woman and her husband arrived here last autumn, from a neighboring city, where they had lived for a few years. The woman soon came to me in distress, stating her husband was away, but that he was a temperate man, and that she was strictly temperate. I declined assistance until I could visit the premises and judge from enquiry. I found her room not only occupied by her own family, (her husband was at home,) but also by a widow and three children. Both families eloquently pleaded poverty and distress. Upon enquiry, I ascertained that the wife was out daily begging, and that a portion of the stores, garments and fuel given her, she sold for liquor, and both her husband and herself were intoxicated every day. In addition to this method, they enticed well dressed men into their house, and, after selling it for one-tenth of its value, with the avails purchased more liquor. These families lived on charity through the winter and a portion of the spring, when they removed from the city.

In another instance, an old man, miserably clad, the personification of poverty, applied for assistance several times. He related a pitiful story, that himself and children could get no work—that he was suffering beyond measure. One person had given him a pair of trowsers; another a decent coat, with orders never to put his rags on again; but the good garments were soon laid aside for the tattered ones, that he might the more easily excite sympathy. Not long after his eldest daughter was married, and during the merriment that followed, the mother boasted that she had given the daughter sixty dollars, and had nearly fifty then in the bank—I ascertained this to be the fact.

When the old man again came to show his ragged pants and worn out boots to excite my pity, I advised him to draw five or ten dollars from the Bank, and purchase what he wished. He pretended to deny that he had money there; but, finding that I knew it to be true, he left and has not troubled me since.

I will relate one more instance, that of a woman who called at a house and begged earnestly for clothing for her three children, making use of my name. As the ladies had none on hand, they took her name and place of residence, and promised to send her some useful garments in a few days. As soon as they were completed they went in pursuit of the family, but could not find it. The clothing was then brought to me, with a request that I would, if possible, find the woman. After a diligent search, no person or family answering the description could be found. Had the woman obtained the clothing upon her application, it would have been sold for liquor.

These are but few of the multitude of cases of imposition and begging combined, that I could give; but they are enough to prove that the effect of indiscriminate alms giving is injurious, as it not only leads the recipients to rest wholly on such support, and thus takes away all dependence on their own efforts, but too often furnishes them with the means of gratifying their depraved appetites, and makes greater burdens upon the public.

The following was certainly, as Mr. B. remarks, a "very industrious woman,"

One of the recipients, of a stated monthly bounty, a widow, eighty-two years of age, a native of Salem, washes for a family once a fortnight, and for the last nineteen years has sawed and split all the wood she has used. Since I ascertained this fact, I have employed and paid a man to do the work for her. She is a very industrious woman.

Another widow of eighty-nine years, still continues to do her own work, never had any one to assist her. She is nearly as active as a person of fifty or sixty.

The following extract may furnish a hint to our Overseers of the Poor.

Included in the item of fuel is the expense of sawing and splitting.

As many to whom wood is given, have neither the ability nor the means to prepare it for use, I have employed poor men in want of work, to do it for them, and thus benifitted both parties.

A MASON EXPELLED.— At a called meeting of Cleveland (Ga.) Lodge No. 134, held at the Masonic Hall in the town of Cleveland, Ga., on Saturday evening Oct. 23d, it was Resolved, That Cleveland Lodge, 134, of Free and Accepted Masons, do hereby expel Charles J. Price, a Master Mason of said Lodge, from all the rights and benifits of Masonary, for gross unmasonic conduct, viz: entering the house of Mr. John Jackson, of Monroe County, Ga, on the night of the 12th inst., and robbing the said Jackson of six thousand five hundred dollars in specie, in company with four other accomplices.

Resolved, That all newspapers in the United States be requested to copy the above, that the ends of justice may be met, and the country relieved of such a man. We deem it proper to say that a reward of one thousand dollars has been offered for his apprehension in the State of Georgia. By order of the Lodge. F. A. CARTER, Sec'y.

OUR CAT STORY of a few days since has brought another, even more surprising than the first. A lady who resides in Bond Street, kept in a closet in her bed room a plate of crackers for her children, and upon several occasions had unlocked the door and given one of the crackers to a favorite cat. A few days since while the lady was making her toilette, pussy came into the room, but her mistress being occupied paid no attention to her mewings. Presently the cat scrambled to a basket on the table, and took from it a key, which she brought to her mistress and dropped it before her. Taking the feline hint, the lady picked up the key, unlocked the door and gave pussy the sought for cracker, after which the cat left the room, satisfied. The story is true; can anybody give us the key to it as correctly as puss gave it to her mistress. Have cats souls to their bodies as well as to their feet. We paws for a reply.—Cleveland Herald.

Recollections of Old Acquaintance.

TRADERS IN OLD PAVED STREET.

There was a time when the only paved street in Portsmouth, N. H., was Market street, and this was not the whole of the street which now bears this name, but only that part of it which leads from Market Square to Bow street, near the Spring Market, and which is not more than five hundred feet in length.—For a wonder it was perfectly straight through this distance; and, what was no strange thing in one of the older towns in New England, it had been quite narrow. It would seem that our forefathers grudged the land for a highway when the land was worth next to nothing in a pecuniary point of view—and Market street formed no exception to this rule. From the fact before mentioned that it was the only paved street in the place, and from the further fact that the country people would call it so, it went by the name of Paved Street, and not one person in a hundred called it any thing else in the days of Uncle Toby's childhood. The carriage-way in the middle, which was paved with pebbles, was wide enough for two carriages only; and the side-walks, of moderate width, were paved with granite flagstones, of irregular shape and size. By the fire of 1802, familiarly called the First Great Fire, all the buildings were swept off clean from both sides of the street. Taking this favorable opportunity for improvement, the fathers of the town widened the street by adding to it ten feet on each side; and as the pavement was pretty good, while the town was impoverished by the fire, it was suffered to remain as it was for a number of years.—This arrangement of the street left the carriage-way like a thread of travel through the centre, flanked by sidewalks of most ample breadth. The ladies, who as a matter of course promenaded there chiefly in fine weather, generally walked on the smooth and cleanly-swept gravel near the stores, while the school-boys, one of the least of whom was Uncle Toby, ran along on the flagstones, looking now at the horses, then at the ladies, and last but not least at the signs, which, like the buildings, were of course nearly all bright and new. And like the boy who wished it were always Winter, then always Spring, and in succession also that Summer and Autumn would last forever, he thought there could be nothing any where more beautiful than that street, and those signs, and those new stores full of new goods, and that busy crowd passing and repassing at high noon, or the quiet stillness that pervaded the clean street and cleaner stores in the early hours of the morning.

The signs were a never failing study. With good taste to design, and a good painter to execute, the signs in Paved street at that day were far better than the average in towns of similar size. None were fantastic or ludicrous, none ill-devised or badly spelled or lettered—all were respectable, and some really elegant. Most of them bore merely the name of the trader or firm—and these names impressed themselves about as indelibly on Uncle Toby's memory, as the gilded capitals that bore them adhered to the signboards where they were displayed. The history of many, and some remembrances of all, the men whose names were there emblazoned, are still fresh in his mind. Several of them still live; but while he writes this, there is one the less, for he is just summoned to the burial of one of the old standards,* and the recent death of another trader who came afterwards, but who has transacted business on that street for almost forty years,† warns Uncle Toby that his turn may come soon, and that if he has any tales worth the telling, or lessons worth giving, he must "be instant in season."

To begin then, with the last, who died but now:—A noble and beautiful looking man was James Rundlett, who sold dry goods near the Parade, as the open square was termed in military parlance, so common in New Hampshire as to name Greenland and Deerfield and Barnstead Parades, which elsewhere would have been termed greens, or commons, or squares. Our parade now, by the way, is called Market Square, but to old fashioned people it is just as much the parade as ever.—Near this our old friend sold dry goods to so good purpose that he built for himself while he was yet comparatively a young man, one of the best and largest houses in the place, finely situated, imposing in its appearance, and an object of envy to many, who predicted with wise nods and sagacious shakes of the head, that so much pride must have a fall, and concluded that he had built his house too high. But they happened to be mistaken. He was one of those thorough men who did not have to do his work twice; his house, built large enough and built right, stands unaltered and needing no alteration, having lasted out the lifetime of its owner, who lived to be four-score, and bidding fair to outlast other generations, unless destroyed by accident. Nor was his house the only object of envy—his coach, his horses, his costly sleigh for winter, dressed out with buffalo skins when these were rare—all these things were observed of all observers. And they did make a grand show. He was a large, well built man, with florid complexion and handsome countenance, never attired as a dandy, but always as a gentleman—and when in a large sleigh or coach, surrounded by as many fine looking children as could sit comfortably, the group was a spectacle of envy to some pedestrians, and of admiration to others.

Twenty or thirty years later, Uncle Toby put him in mind of this grand style of riding, and at the same time remarked as they walked on together, that he now generally went on foot. "Ah yes!" replied he,—"I used to think it a very fine thing to be able to ride; but now I think it a much finer thing to be able to walk."

The war of 1812 greatly cut up the dry goods business; but like a live Yankee as he was, he turned the change of circumstances to his own advantage. The country plunged into war in a hurry, and among other things that were not thought of before hand, there was no broadcloth to make soldiers' clothing. Such cloth had been wholly imported from foreign countries, mostly from England.—Importations ceased when the war began, and while prices doubled, the supply dwindled away to nothing. There were no manufactories of this kind—but blue broadcloth must be had for uniform coats—and James Rundlet, in connexion with Mr. Worthen of Amesbury Mills, put in operation the first extensive manufactory of broadcloth in New England—and out of the pressure of the times they were said and supposed to make money.

Taking some ideas from this manufacture, Mr. Rundlet built and set in operation the Salmon Falls Woolen Factory, which he afterwards sold out to a company,—and for a number of years before his death was but little engaged in business.

He was, however, always ready to converse on business topics, and with his abundant resources of every day knowledge could be a most amusing companion when he chose. He was a staunch believer in physical and artistic progress; and although no one ever accused him of wild speculation, he did not worship the past and fear the future.

Travelling with him in a stage coach some years before railroads came in fashion, we took in a passenger who was a gun-maker, having a large contract for government muskets. He seemed to be a business man, but was ultra conservative, and withal a croaker. He had some how got the notion in his head that the stages were altogether too numerous, that people then travelled too much, and that the business of the country could not support such extravagance. Mr. Rundlet first reasoned with him and then laughed at him for this strange crotchet, but all to no purpose. He was in earnest,—and after dinner began anew his anti-stage lecture, as soon as we had taken our seats—but now his antagonist assented to one proposition after another, and seemed a convert to his opinions. Having gone thus far, Mr. R. took another step in the same track, and remarked that some other things beside stages were carried to extremes—that there were too many factories, the country was filling up with goods, and by and by people would get such a stock of shirts that they would buy no more for years, and so the factories must fail, and the business be given up. The gun-maker had heard all and swallowed the most of what he heard, till he came to this. "Are you in earnest?" said he. "No indeed!" was the answer,—"I was talking nonsense, exactly as you did about the stages." "But you seem to know something about factories." "Yes: I have built two, and was the first man who made broadcloth in New England—I see no prospect of any diminution either in travelling or manufactures, but rather of a great increase in both."

The gun-smith laughed heartily at this ruse, and croaked no more for forty miles at least.

Industry, energy, skill and endurance were the strong characteristics of this veteran trader—this architect of his own fortune,—this pioneer of American Manufacturers.

Notices of other traders may be expected in due time.

N. H. General Court—Nov. Session, 1852.

(Abridged from the Patriot.)

THURSDAY, NOV. 25.

HOUSE.—Mr. Metcalf, from the Judiciary committe, reported a bill raising the rates of payment of the board of prisoners in jails from $1 50 to $2, which was ordered to a second reading.

P. & C. Railroad.—Mr. Bartlett of Portsmouth, on leave, presented a bill, entitled "An act relating to the Portsmouth and Concorb Railroad," which was ordered to a third reading and referred to the Railroad committee.

Another Liquor Bill.—Mr. Pillsbury of Henniker gave notice that to-morrow he would introduce a bill for the suppression of drinking houses and tippling shops.

Taxation of Musical Instruments.—Mr. Knowlton of Hopkinton, pursuant to previous notice, introduced a bill providing for a tax upon piano fortes and other musical instruments exceeding $25 in value.

The house divided on the question of ordering the bill to a second reading, when it was rejected by a vote of 119 to 33—the vote, however, not including a quorum.

Mr. Carleton of Chesterfield then moved the indefinite postponement of the consideration of the bill, to which the House gave its assent.

"THE CHRISTIAN SOCIETY."

Messrs. Editors:—In the Chronicle of this morning under the above caption, I find a statement respecting the doctrinal views of the Christian Society, which ought not in justice to that Society, to go further without correction. The statement is as follows:

"Their belief in regard to a future state of punishment is far from orthodoxy; inasmuch as they believe in the absolute destruction of the wicked, and not in an endless state of woe."

This statement I conceive to be a very great mistake. An extensive acquaintance with that denomination prepares me to state with perfect assurance that such is very far from being a prevailing notion among them. A very few of their earliest ministers preached that doctrine and a few of their earliest members believed it, but instead of its prevalence increasing among them it has diminished from the first.

I do not now know a minister among them who either preaches or believes it. On the other hand they preach openly and faithfully the deathless nature of the human soul and endless retributions in the future "according to the deeds done in the body."

Elder Elijah Shaw, than whom few have been better qualified to make a reliable statement in the matter, in a pamphlet entitled "Sentiments of the Christians," published in 1847, says:—

"It has been said, by some who wish to make the Christians appear to great disadvantage before the world, that we believe in the future annihilation of all the wicked. This report is not true. Very few ever appeared among us who taught the utter end and destruction of the wicked. In the course of our existence as a people two men have appeared among us who taught and published that doctrine. Should the views and teachings of two or three individuals be received as the doctrine of a large community scattered from Canada to Florida? Surely not. I know not a single man who teaches this doctrine in our whole connection. The doctrine of everlasting punishment and eternal damnation is believed and preached, so far as I have any knowledge, throughout the whole body of our people, as the final destiny of those who live and die impenitent."

THOMAS HOLMES.

Portsmouth, Nov. 26, 1852.

[We stand corrected, and the reportrer for the Boston Journal stands approved, by the above communication from a minister of the Christian connexion. We derived our knowledge of the doctrines referred to chiefly from Elder Elias Smith, who was one of the two to whom Elder Shaw refers. Mr. Smith was unquestionably both a Unitarian and a destructionist.

We have also been acquainted with many laymen in the denomination, who cherished similar opinions. Indeed the writer of the above informs us that more members in this town and vicinity profess to believe these doctrines, than have been found elsewhere.]—Eds. Chron.

"UNDER WHICH KING?"

"The Democratic papers call us a 'neutral whig,' and the whig papers a 'neutral locofoco.' This reminds us that we succeed admirably in maintaining our independence."—Great Falls Journal.

The difference between a "neutral" and an "independent" paper, is not generally understood or kept in view. The neutral paper has literally no opinion—is neuter; the independent paper claims the right to express its own opinions on any and every subject.

The Chronicle has frequently been subjected to remarks similar to the above—has been styled "neutral," "federal" and "locofoco"—so we think we may still call ourselves "independent."

SALT RIVER.—It is suggested by some of our cotemporaries, that all vessels sailing on Salt River this year, should keep a good look out ahead in order to avoid collisions. We submit that if the two tardy old crafts that are now navigating the stream, the one coming down and the other going up, do come into collision, there is no need of fearing any harm, for it would be infinitely better for the country to have them both sunk in salt or some other river.—Great Falls Journal.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE CHRONICLE.—We have endeavored this morning, to furnish every family in Portsmouth with a copy of our to-day's paper. This is manifestly to the advantage of our advertising patrons—we hope it may tend to our own. See our liberal offer of terms in editorial columns.

The Chronicle has now been before the public nearly four months, and is permanently estab'ished—and we hope many who have not yet subscribed, may think it worth while to do so now.

☞ Rev. Mr. Fields, of Brewer, Me. will preach in the North Church to-morrow.

☞ Rev. Mr. Pomfret of Amesbury, will preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

In Frankfort, Thomas Snow, Esq. aged 61. Mr. Snow was an intelligent, upright, kind-hearted, and worthy man. About two years ago his eldest son, a young man of great promise, was murdered in California. This awful blow almost broke the father's heart; and his body, too frail to bear the mind's burden, wasted away till it peacefully sunk to its last repose. He died in full faith that he was going where "the wicked cease from troubling and the weary be at rest."

At Franconia, Mrs. Lucinda, wife of Rev. G. T. Wells, aged 48.

LATEST NEWS!

THE HINSDALE ATTEMPT AT MURDER.—Yesterday we gave an account of an attempt to murder Mr. Pliny Smith, of Hinsdale, by shooting him in his barn.

Now it appears, by the Keene Republican, that one Charles Platt, the son-in-law of Mr. Smith, has been apprehended for the crime, and is in prison for trial. The motive seems to have been the desire to get suddenly into possession of the old gentleman's property, by descent at his death. Circumstantial evidence is very strong against him.

CUBAN MATTERS.

PURSER SMITH GOING TO HAVANA.—*Washington Nov.*25.—The Administration has received despatches from New York, stating that the Cherokee instead of the Crescent City, will leave New York on Saturday, with Purser Smith on board.

The news again embarrasses the Administration. The Administration will never mix itself with the illegal effort to force Purser Smith upon the Cuban authorities against these remonstrances. The publication of Passed Midshipman Davenport's letter to Messrs. Durkee & Co., at Havana, was offensive to the Administration and was also embarrassing. The Secretary of the Navy, therefore, relieves him from future service in mail ships, and he will probably join the Bherings Straits Expedition.

The President has directed Mr. Secretary Everett to present through the American Minister in Madrid its news as to the exclusion of mails &c. from Cuba; but under no circustances will it vindicate the right of any party to crowd Purser Smith into or upon Cuba.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE—WATCHMAN BURNED TO DEATH.—By an extra from the office of the Lowell News, we learn that the flannel mills of Stott & Crosby, in Belvidere, were consumed by fire about 4 o'clock Thursday morning. From these mills the fire extended to the bedstead factory of Comins & Crosby—a three story building—which, with its contents and machinery, was also burned. Loss $12,000. Insurance $6,000.

Among the ruins of the mill was found in a shockingly disfigured condition, the body of Mr. James Law, who four years has been employed as a watchman on the premises. His head and feet were entirely burned away, and the trunk discovered among the remains of a lot of flannels which had fallen through from the second story. There are many rumors afloat that the deceased was drunk and asleep. The evidence before the Coroner's jury showed that up to 11 o'clock on Wednesday evening he was perfectly sober. The jury rendered a verdict that he came to his death from suffocation from smoke and fire while asleep. Law was about 35 years of age, and has a wife and family. He was seen smoking late in the evening. There are many rumors in circulation in regard to the origin of the fire, but none of them seem to be well authenticated.
